LUTHER N. HURD,

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1855.

TRADE IN LIQUORS.

Among the twenty resolutions adopted by the great liquor meeting in Boston, the four following are the chief.

The first which we copy, appeals to religion.

Resolved, That this law is an impeachment of the practice and character of most of the great and good men of the human race, a palpable and infidel impeachment of the wisdom and word of God, and would, were he on earth, imprison the author of Christianity; that it stamps with the name of felon all who have cultivated, or who do now cultivate, the grape and partake of its fruits; that by it one of the ordinances of the Christian Religion is branded with infamy.

A vast deal of nonsense has been poured out, within 25 years, about the sacramental use of wine. It is well known by those who read the New Testament carefully, that the word wine is no where used in connexion with the Lord's Supper, but always the Cup, or the Fruit of the Vine. Any liquid might be called the Cup—and the unfermented, unintoxicating juice of the grape would be as really the Fruit of the Vine, as if it were 10 years old and as strong as brandy.

There is no need that any church should purchase a drop of intoxicating drink, in order to comply with the strictest letter of the Christian and Apostolic words on the Eucharist. Hundreds of churches have avoided all fermented wines these dozen years. The powder in this resolution, is so much ammunition thrown away.

The next resolution relates to property.

Resolved, That a law, which strikes from the circles of commerce a capital of at least ten millions of dollars in this State, is a measure so radical and demoralizing as justly to alarm every man engaged in trade or commerce; for if one branch of business may be annihilated by hasty and reckless legislation, then no class of merchants are secure in their persons or property.

Here the resolvers are more at home than in the former resolution. If it had not been for the $10,000,000 of money which have been made by the traffic, and are now in it, hoping to make more, we should never have heard of the religious reason above quoted, from these men.

The third looks to the good time coming.

Resolved, That we look with confidence for a return to common sense and justice in the legislation of this State at no distant day.—And in the meantime, while, as good citizens, we will submit to the penalties of unjust laws, if we must incur them, we will use our utmost endeavors to exterminate the whole race of miserable demagogues, who, under the specious name of Temperance, have risen to power, by pandering to the passions of zealots and fanatics.

All very good. Will it not also be a good thing to exterminate those other demagogues, who, under some other specious name, hope to rise into power by pandering to the passions of drunkards and criminals?

The last relates to license laws, and prays for their return.

Resolved, That we are in favor of such municipal regulations of the liquor trade as will place the business only in the hands of honorable, judicious and responsible men, by whom the wants of the community may be supplied, and of such restrictions as will diminish, and, if possible, wholly prevent the evils of excess, unseasonable hours and riotous conduct, that have increased so greatly since the abolition of the license system.

This resolution is as full of fallacies as it can hold. To begin with the last, it assumes that drunkenness, late hours and riotous conduct have increased and prevailed because the license laws have been repealed or not enforced. But no man of much experience believes this, unless he is blinded, either by interest or appetite. It is well known that under our old license laws, which made the deacon a respectable seller of toddy between meetings, every body drank, and drunkenness increased till the land was so flooded that the license laws were overflown.

Then, when the friends of temperance at length awoke, and endeavored to enforce their laws, and to make them closer, they were met by a stern resistance and a howl of indignation from those who felt their craft in danger.

Next, Temperance Societies were formed; and the howling was redoubled. Societies, which were so fanatical as to think that men could live without rum,—and men who were so wicked as to denounce "a good creature of God," and so hypocritical as to pretend not to drink any—were told by the red nosed brethren that they would break up the churches, damage trade, and almost destroy the Union.

Teetotallism came next, and against it more howling. Washingtonianism, lifting up the drunkard, came afterward—and in its rush, the imp of intemperance passed; hid his head for a day; but as he found nobody cut it off, he gradually peeped out again, and encouraged by thousands of emigrant drunkards, there has been, for a few years past, a gradual increase of drunkenness, and consequent disorder.

With all this increase, however, the drunkenness, disorder, and riotous conduct are not equal, (in proportion to population,) to what they were just before the license system was abandoned.

The Sons of Temperance, the Rechabites, and finally the new or Maine law, were the products of the moral measures;—every one of which has been opposed and denounced, in its turn, by "the trade."

Now, the new Massachusetts law, proposes to license agents, for certain purposes, and to restrain all the rest. If this can be done, "the evils of excess" will be greatly diminished.

THE WHIG PARTY.—The St. Louis Intelligencer, a whig paper, formally takes its leave of the whig party, and announces its withdrawal in the following terms:—

"We have renounced the old whig party as dead—DEAD FOREVER! It did not get three hundred votes in St. Louis last April. Its organization is abandoned in Kentucky—abandoned in Virginia—abandoned everywhere. That party can never be revived as a national party. We oppose the whig party as a thing of the past."

All this is intelligible, and not very far from the truth, except the last two sentences. How a thing of the past, and that thing so dead as never to be raised, can be opposed, we cannot see. An ass can kick at a dead lion: and perhaps that is what the editor means.

ELEGANT EXTRACT.—The N. H. Patriot of May 30th, says:

The scurvy puppy who nominally controls the Meredith Gazette, devotes a column of his scurrilous sheet to a violent tirade against the Patriot. The fellow's malignity is utterly harmless, and his ridiculous falsehoods are unworthy of notice.

There is no dispating about taste, we suppose; and therefore we may take the above specimens as model sentences in the Patriot school.

SAM IN VIRGINIA.

The Manchester American discourses on the great victory of the democratic party in Virginia, in the following strain.

The truth is, Sam spent too much time, and that agreeably, at the North, to flourish well South. Here he was born, here bred, and a precocious prodigy as he was, he was always successful. When he stepped over Mason & Dixon's line, he found a different set of customers entirely. Nurtured to freedom at the North, Sam was a jocose myth, who did not hesitate to be adroit occasionally, but who almost always, nay always, came up true as a flint on the side of the great interests of free communities. And he had become known and courted in all the North.—Possibly, when he gets south, he finds jealousy of him and the "fanatical" region from which he comes, and, not quite at ease among the new and exceedingly interesting social phenomena by which he is surrounded, he does not work with the same earnestness as he did here. Sam proclaimed to the men on the prairies, to the farmers upon the hillsides, to the artizans in our manufactories, "Come on, and I will vindicate your rights under the Constitution,—I am a friend to the interests of free labor,—I will wipe away the reeking infamy of the Nebraska Bill."—When he gets south, it is not entirely convenient for him to profess regard extensively for the traffic in wool and ebony. Hence he may fail.

If we (the American party) do not own Virginia, we shall not have it to farm. If the venerable Old Dominion is not one of us, she cannot come to the national council soon to meet in Philadelphia, and demand concessions to Slavery. Withal, this gust from the land of chivalry is an indication where Sam must ground his faith. He knows who can be trusted.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION.—We will not confuse the reader by filling our columns this morning with the almost numberless despatches which reached this city yesterday from various points of Virginia, although the intelligence conveyed in those despatches was of the most cheering character. All our correspondents agree in stating that the Know Nothings have met with a Waterloo defeat; that they have lost their governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, the congressional delegation, and both branches of the legislature.—Washington Union, May 27.

Lost them? They never had them. The same aristocracy which has governed Virginia for a long time, governs it still. That's all.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.—If anybody who is interested wants to be "put out of pain" with regard to the result in Virginia, we can only assure him that Mr. Wise is chosen Governor by a very large majority, and that the Congressmen and Legislature are entirely Democratic.—Boston Courier.

Mrs. Dillon, of St. Albans, Vt., was recently found guilty of twenty five offences against the liquor law, and fined $20 for each offence, making in all $500 and costs. She was also sentenced to four month's imprisonment, making nine months in all. Mrs. D. appealed.

Some of the Boston papers said "a woman was the first victim of the liquor law in Massachusetts." According to this rule, Mrs. Dillon is a great and distinguished victim.—But it occurs to us just now that Mrs. Dillon, by her trade, and also the female dramseller n Boston by hers, must have made many victims, perhaps hundreds.

☞ The Salem Five Cent Savings Bank had been in operation nine days, when its deposits were $4,813.09, received from 331 depositors. Of these, 289 are minors, and their deposits range from 5 cents to $50.

MARRIAGE EXTRAORDINARY.—Tom Thumb, the celebrated little great man, was married at Webster, on Thursday last, to a Miss Vinton, of Bridgeport, Ct.

LOCAL.

☞ Mr. L. D. Mills, of the Brick Market, on Wednesday, P. M., refreshed the somewhat numerous Chroniclers, with Pies, Oranges, Cocoa-nuts, &c., which we take to be only a fair specimen of the table he spreads to tempt visitors. The eatables per Mr. Mills's basket were discussed with great ability by the whole corps, editorial and printorial,—and so thoroughly, that there was not even one basket full of fragments. His is the inner stall,—and perhaps he is in league with the butchers outside him, to inveigle purchasers into the market.

☞ A few days since, Mr. Richard Hilton sent us a sample of the Beer which he manufactures and keeps for sale at his saloon on Islington street; and no one who knew how quickly it was disposed of, could doubt that it was of an excellent quality. Give him a call.

7 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, May 30.

The steamship Pacific arrived here this morning. Her news is to the 19th inst.

The siege of Sebastopol up to May 12 remained almost unchanged.

An expedition of 15,000 of the allied troops had embarked at Kamiesch, and put to sea in the direction of Azoff, but returned without landing. No details known.

Negotiations between Austria and the Western Powers remained unchanged, but between Prussia and Austria are more intimate.

Russia notifies the German State Governments that the Czar will only hold the two first guarantees on condition of the perfect neutrality of Germany.

France and England have presented an ultimatum, which Sweden seems inclined to reject.

The French exhibition was opened. The ceremony was rather dull.

Pianori was executed.

Latest.—General Canrobert has resigned, nominally from ill health, and is succeeded by General Pelissier.

The combat on the night of the 24th, between the Russians and French was a desperate affair. The Russians attempted to dig new rifle pits, and the French partially prevented them; 200 French were placed hors du combat. The French managed to push their sap considerably forward, and mounted several new guns.

A despatch of May 1 says the advances are approaching surely, though slowly.

A despatch from Lord Raglan on the same day says the Russians had constructed a new battery on the left of the Mamelon, and there was every appearance of the establishment of a very large camp on the plateau above the Belkek on the north side, extending towards Mackenzie's Farm.

The Russians made a sortie on the night of the 21th on the advance works of the left attack, but were immediately repulsed with considerable loss.

A short time was granted on the evening of the 10th, to allow the Russians to bury their dead in front of the allies' advances.

Gortschakoff telegraphs that the allies, on the 5th, were occupied in augmenting their batteries and reinforcing their approaches against the central bastion.

Pianori, the would be assassin of the Emperor, was executed at 5 o'clock in the morning, in the prison of Roquette. He admitted his guilt, but refused making any disclosures, exclaiming "Vive la Republique!" just as the knife fell.

MARKETS.—Liverpool.—COTTON.—Messrs. Shipley & Co. report a continued large speculative business, with 1-8 a 3-16d advance. Market closing firm.

BREADSTUFFS, in consequence of a favorable change in the weather, are quiet at last week's prices.

NEW YORK, May 29.—It is stated that contracts have been made by certain grain dealers, to deliver between the 20th of June and the 20th of July, at Chicago, free on board, 35,000 bushels of corn at 70c, 10,000 bushels at 72c, and 5000 bushels between the 20th of July and 20th of August, at 75c.

It is now given out that the 10th of June has been fixed upon for the departure of the Kinney expedition. In the meantime, it is stated that the U. S. steamers Vixen, Corwin, and City of Boston, and a revenue cutter, have been stationed in the vicinity of the dock, where the steamer United States is anchored, prepared at any moment to intercept her, should she attempt to depart.

10 P. M.—The weather indicates a North East storm, at present blowing heavy. We do not expect that either the Pacific or North Star will arrive to-night.

SCENES IN THE BAY.—For a week past our bay has been enlivened with the presence of quite a fleet of vessels and boats, engaged in taking mackerel. They are quite abundant, and the most encouraging fares are realized. Yesterday a fleet of nearly two hundred sail was in sight of our office, and we learn that most of the crews have averaged some thirty barrels per day, for some days past. Persons in boats have, in many instances, taken several barrels, and last week Capt. Ansel Howes, of Dennis, took seven barrels in a single day. These are lucky times for our fishermen.—Yarmouth (Mass.) Patriot.

LIQUOR DEMONSTRATIONS IN BOSTON.—At a meeting of the Board of Aldermen yesterday, thirty-six individuals and firms were appointed agents for the sale of liquors for medical purposes. An order was passed by unanimous vote, prohibiting the illegal purchase of liquors by the city government, or any committee or member of it, for any occasion, and directing the Auditor and Treasurer to refuse to approve or pay any bill for such liquors. This is in the spirit of the new law, and we trust there will be no occasion for us to pronounce the government inconsistent with its professions.—Boston Telegraph.

ROCHESTER, May 20.—While the hundred guns were firing in honor of the election of Mr. Wise, this morning, a premature discharge of one of the guns, dangerously if not fatally injured a man named Hutchinson. Both of his arms were broken, and his head and face were dreadfully mangled.

'MRS. PATTERSON.'—The real, simon pure Mrs. Patterson has been discovered. She is a California widow of Lowell, who has been suspected of improprieties, but against whom nothing tangible could be found until the Hiss affair transpired. On Saturday she was before a court, on some proceedings for divorce, and was identified by the clerk of the Washington House.—Boston Chronicle.

Then you can't be cured too soon. Don't delay until your complaint is incurable, and then mourn when it is too late. Four fifths of all the diseases which people the church yards might be cured by Ayer's Cathartic Pills, if taken in season. Don't go dragging through the Spring, faint, sleepy and listless, because your blood is loaded with bile. Don't wear the headache, heartburn, and their kindred disorders, because your stomach is foul. Don't parade yourself around the world, covered with Pimples, Blotches, Ulcers, Sores and all or any of the unclean diseases of the skin, because your system wants cleansing. Don't show yourself about, lean, haggard, all caved in, because your stomach and bowels need strengthening into healthy action. Ayer's Pills set these things right as surely as water quenches fire. They purify the body and blood, and restore their functions into healty activity which you can feel as quick as they are taken. They are the one great medical wonder of this age, recognized by all who know their virtues, and many thousands know them. ESCAPE FROM LIGHTNING.

About 6 o'clock P. M. of Monday, 14th inst., the house of Capt. David Upton, on Great Chebeague Island, was struck by lightning, the effects of which were fearful. We have the following account from Capt. Daniel Stowell, who was at the scene of disaster half an hour after it occurred.

A neighbor, Mr. Nath'l Thompson, happened to be looking towards Mr. Upton's house and first perceived a ball of fire, apparently a foot in diameter, with a trail some thirty yards in length, descend upon the chimney, and immediately after a volume of smoke began to ascend as if the house was on fire. Hastening to the house, it was found a wreck but not on fire.

It is an old-fashioned, one story frame house, built after the manner of the old farm houses of New England, with one large chimney in the centre. This chimney is completely demolished to the oven, and the materials scattered in every direction.

The family, of six persons, were at supper, and their escape with their lives, is a miracle. Old Mrs. Upton's right arm is cut to the bone, above the elbow, and she is otherwise badly bruised. Her grand-daughter, Marietta Hamilton, six years old, is so bruised as to be purple from the hips to the feet, and is in a precarious condition. David Upton, Jr., is badly bruised about the head and face.—His child in his arms was unhurt; also his wife, standing near, and old Mr. Upton, likewise unhurt.

But the effects of the lightning about the premises are truly astonishing. Old Mr. Upton was eating a bowl of bread and milk, with one hand upon the bowl, the other holding the spoon,—the bowl was broken in his hand, and the spoon has not been found.—Old Mrs. Upton had a cup of tea in her hand, and when she came to herself she was partly under the table, with a piece of cup in her hand and herself covered with the wreck of the chimney, among which was a piece of timber, from the front of the fire-place, 8 feet long, with a flat bar of iron of the same length attached. The granddaughter was thrown from her seat at the table, to the fire-place, and was literally covered with bricks and mortar. Nearly every article of crockery in the house, two clocks, three looking glasses, and two old fashioned oak tables in the kitchen, are smashed. The chair in which old Mrs. Upton was sitting, was broken into twenty-eight pieces—at any rate, that number of pieces belonging to it were found—every chair in the kitchen was broken. Every partition in the house was removed from its position, and more or less shattered.

The fluid seems to have gone through the bottom of a cooking stove, sitting in the kitchen fire place, leaving a hole as if made by a shot four inches in diameter, taking off one leg of the stove, then entering the cellar through the floor, leaving a hole large enough for an ordinary sized man to pass. The kitchen is on the north side of the house, and from the sill on this side a portion has been carried off one foot in length, leaving an appearance as if from the action of powder.—The sills of the house on the south side and east end were sundered and thrown off the underpinning, so that the side and end hung suspended from the roof. The arch in the cellar, making the foundation of the chimney which is of stone masonry, two feet thick, was rent asunder in four different places.—The fluid seems to have passed through the northeast and southeast corners of the cellar wall—the wall, built of stones, two feet wide by one thick, laid flat on masonry, being severed in two from top to bottom, the line of separation being straight and well defined. Here the stones are blackened as if by powder.

The hoops on one barrel of molasses, two soap barrels and one keg were all cut off—a stone jar sitting on a board over one of their barrels, was severed horizontally, and the bottom part unmoved, the top being carried off.

Every window sash in the house is completely demolished, excepting one in the west chamber. Here there is a square of glass with a space cut out as if by the point of a diamond, just the size of a brick—2 inches by 8—showing that a brick had been projected through it "quick as lightning." Five doors in the lower part of the house were shattered to pieces. Most of the materials projected from the house were in a northerly direction—pieces of glass and morter being found sixty feet distant. Between the house and barn are a dozen apple trees—one large tree near the house was untouched, but two others, some six rods distant, were shattered. A large, tight trunk filled with fine clothing, &c., was found locked and apparently uninjured outwardly, yet, on being opened, soot from the chimney lay half an inch thick over the contents, and sifted through in every direction.—Ten pans of milk on a shelf in the cellar were unharmed, yet some empty pans, one within the other, on the same shelf were broken up. The fluid passed through eight different places in the body of the house, besides so affecting those already described. More of its effects might be given, yet enough is told to show how complete was the destruction.—Portland Adv.

TO THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.

HAVING noticed in the Daily Chronicle an advertisement signed by one John Nelson, of Eliot, in the State of Maine, forbidding all persons to pass and re-pass in a certain road laid out across his land, for which road I and one Joseph Dixon have paid full damages as assessed by the selectmen of said town, and said road having been duly laid out by the selectmen and accepted by the town according to law—I would hereby give notice to all my friends and the public generally, that I give my full permission to all persons whomsoever to pass and re-pass in said road so far as I am concerned; and would also notify them that said road is a road which all the public have a right to use as has been decided in the State of New Hampshire and in Massachusetts. Neither John Nelson nor any other man can keep my friends and the public from using the same.—If any one wishes for further information, by calling on me I will give it to them.

The Great Specific of the Age.

OXYGENATED BITTERS!

THE ONLY SURE AND SAFE REMEDY EVER DISCOVERED For the cure of

DYSPEPSIA,

IN ALL ITS VARIOUS FORMS, As well as Liver Diseases, Fever and Ague, Billious Complaints, Bronchitis, General Debility, and all diseases of a kindred nature.

Read the following testimony from Dr. Henry E. Morrell, a leading physician of the city. He says:—"The most effectual medicine to improve the tone and energy of the stomach is that prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and called the Oxygenated Bitters."

The Oxygenated Bitters do not contain a particle of alcohol in their composition, and are, of necessity, highly concentrated, to prevent the injurious action of the temperature of different climates. Each bottle, when diluted according to the directions, makes nearly half a gallon of medicine, as pleasant to the taste as lemonade; and as to quantity, quite the CHEAPEST MEDICINE.

I have employed them in a multitude of cases, and have uniformly found that, when used according to the directions, they gradually, but surely, remove, one by one, the various distressing symptoms which cluster around the confirmed Dyspeptic, restore the stomach to its lost energies, and thus lead the patient back to the enjoyment of permanent health and strength.

It has also been used by the following persons, and received their unqualified approbation:—

Prof. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer, Boston
Prof. E. E. Phelps, M. D., of Therapeutics and Materia Medica, Dartmouth College.
Hon. Myron Lawrence, Ex-President of Massachusetts Senate.
Hon. L. H. Arnold, formerly Governor of Rhode Island, now member of Congress.
Hon. J. F. Simmons, U. S. Senator from R. I.

Hon. H. D. Foster, Member of Cong from Pa.

FRENCH CIRCUS,

COMPRISING the very celebrated TOURNAIRE TROUPE, with all the distinguished artists who have appeared in this country during the last five years, and also those whose performances in Europe have secured to them a world-wide reputation, will exhibit in PORTSMOUTH, on THURSDAY, June 7.

TICKETS 25 CENTS.
Doors open at 2 P.M. and 7 P.M., to commence at 2½ and 7½ o'clock.
It is impossible to do more than simply mention a few of the names of the various artists connected with this magnificent CIRCUS.
There are no supernumeraries—all are brilliant stars—a host individually, and when combined, form a troupe never before equaled in the world. The Proprietors have succeeded in what will appreciate their success in uniting as a company so much acknowledged talent
MADAME TOURNAIRE.—No lady in ancient or modern time, has ever equaled this accomplished Artist in the courage, beauty and skill of her exhibitions. Among other performances, she will ride six horses bare back, bounding from steed to steed, reigning and controling her flying troupe, during their utmost speed, exhibiting feats of courage and horsemanship, never attempted by any female in this country. The fixed eyes, anxious countenances and breathless suspense of the thousands of her audience in Paris, Rome, Vienna, London, New York, and the larger cities of the Union, wherein this magic Artist has performed—attest the high reputation of the greatest Lady Equestrian in the known world: she has never had her equal, nor will she until the Equestrian education of MLLE. JOSEPHINE, her favorite pupil, is completed, whose youthful grace and beauty, as well as talent, give strong promise of sharing the renown of her great preceptress; she will appear and confirm her growing reputation as a model rider.
MONS. REMI—Mr. Rarey the great Trick Rider, will appear in his Gymnastic and Equestrian performances, startling and amusing his audience with his feats of Horsemanship, and Light Balancing on Horseback, Cup, Ball, Plate Spinning, Stick Dancing, &c. &c. This celebrated Artist, known to every child in the United States, as receiving the royal patronage of the Sovereigns of England, France, Russia and Austria, has been secured by B. B. & Co., to add, if possible, to the various other attractions presented.
FERDINAND and THEODORE, in their astonishing and daring feats. Master Theodore is the greatest rider of his age in the world.
Mr. A. F. LYMIDO—The great Flying Cord performer will exhibit his skill in a variety of Æriel Gyrations on the corde volente.
Mr. SAM WELSER—The great Hippocondrical Descriptor, will appear as Clown. This simple announcement is sufficient, for who has not heard of Sam, the original Clown in this country; and among other grotesque fantastics, will introduce his "Magic Hat."
The stupendous Persian feats called LA FERCHE, will be performed by W. A. Smith & Rogers.
Baltoute Leaps and Tumbling by the Company, with a general variety of Entertainments, the whole exhibiting one of the most amusing and instructive Entertainments ever witnessed in this country. my26 d5w2t

THE BATTLE OF BLENHEIM.

The following beautiful ballad was written by the celebrated Robert Southey, the British Poet, and at one time poet laureat of England, upwards of fifty years ago. We learned it "by heart" in our school boy days, and shall not soon forget it. It was incorporated in our school books when we were inmates of the school room of "Gude Master O'Hara," and occasionally were rubbed down with a hickory towel. Its appositeness to the war now raging between Russia, France, England and Turkey, induces us to copy it.

It was a summer's evening,
Old Kaspar's work was done,
And he before his cottage door
Was sitting in the sun;
And by him sported on the green
His little grandchild Wilhelmine.

She saw her brother Peterkin
Roll something large and round,
That he beside the rivulet
In playing there had found;
She came to see what he had found
That was so large, and smooth, and round.

Old Kaspar took it from the boy,
Who stood expectant by,
And then the old man shook his head
And heaved a nat'ral sigh,
"'Tis some poor fellow's skull," said he,
"Who fell in that great victory.

I find them in the garden; for
There's many hereabout;
And often when I go to plow,
The plowshare turns them out;
For many a thousand men," said he,
"Were slain in that great victory."

"Now tell us what 'twas all about,"
Young Peterkin he cries;
And little Wilhelmine looked up,
With wonder-waiting eyes.
"Now tell us all about the war,
And what they killed each other for."

"It was the English," Kaspar cried,
"That put the French to rout,
But what they fought each other for
I could not well make out.
But everybody said," quoth he,
"It was a famous victory.

"My father lived at Blenheim then,
Yon little stream hard by;
They burnt his dwelling to the ground,
And he was forced to fly;
So with his wife and child he fled,
Nor had he where to rest his head.

With fire and sword the country round
Was wasted far and wide,
And many a childing mother then,
And new born baby died;
But things like that, you know, must be
At every famous victory.

They say it was a shocking sight,
After the field was won;
For many thousand bodies here
Lay rotting in the sun;
But things like these you know must be
After a famous victory.

Great praise the Duke of Marlboro' won,
And our good Prince Eugene—"
"Why, 'twas a very wicked thing!"
Said little Wilhelmine.
"Nay, nay, my little girl," quoth he,
It was a famous victory.

And everybody praised the Duke,
Who such a fight did win."
"But what good came of it at last?"
Said little Peterkin.
"Why, that I cannot tell," quoth he;
"But 'twas a famous victory."

THE FATE OF TURKEY.—The North American says with regard to the European complications:—"One thing appears certain, which is, that whoever may get safely out of this eastern question, Turkey will not. Her last hour is near. She began her career with the sword; all she can ask is a burial with military honors. She is at present joining the allies in firing the last volley over her own grave."

BLOOMING EVER.—The old pear tree, corner of Thirteenth street and Third avenue, is again in full bloom. For more than two hundred years this tree has perfumed the springtime with its white blossoms, and perhaps it has borne fruit nearly two hundred seasons. It was planted, if we rightly remember the date, in 1639, by Governor Stuyvesant, at his farm so far out of the city of New York, that wild enthusiasm could not have dreamed then that even the city suburbs would ever reach so retired a dwelling place for Pomona while that tree should live to bear fruit. But now look at that tree in its two hundreth year of bearing, and its surroundings; east, west, north and south, instead of plowed fields, grass lots and orchards, and farm buildings, there is one continued pile of brick and mortar. The city has invaded and obliterated the farm, leaving only this landmark of the olden time. The advancing line of brick walls and busy shops has marched up to the old pear tree, and gone by with its streets and squares and stone pavements, until thousands who live beyond, talk about going down town when they go so far toward the spot that was a town when that tree was planted, as where the old pear tree is now blooming as sweet and fresh as in its youth. Of all that looked upon and called it the old tree when it bloomed the hundredth time, not a single one will look upon its present bloom. It is blooming ever, but they have bloomed, borne fruit—good or evil—and gone forever.—New York Tribune.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 1, 1855.

LAW IN BOSTON.

The Boston Chronicle states that on Wednesday forenoon, agreeably to assignment, the liquor cases of Joseph Drew, H. D. Parker and others, were called in the Police Court, Justice Russell on the bench.

The first case was that of Joseph Drew, who was charged with selling to a person unknown a quantity of intoxicating liquor, on the 23d of May. Defendant pleaded not guilty, Hon. Samuel D. Parker counsel for defence.

Mr. Parker thought that a case had not been made out. It had been shown that Drew formerly kept the place, but there had been no sign there for eight months. It was taken down last July.

The Court said it must be shown by the defendant that he is not now the owner, since it has been shown that he formerly was, and no proof had been offered to show that such occupancy had ceased to exist. No evidence being offered, the defendant was then sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, stand committed to the House of Correction 20 days, and give bonds. He appealed, and gave bonds in the sum of $200.

Another complaint charged Drew with selling one glass of brandy to Thomas Wells, on the 26th day of May. Constable Spoor said he had tried to find Wells, but had not succeeded. Defendant pleaded not guilty, and the case was continued.

Harvey D. Parker and Lewis Rice, pleaded Nolo Contendere; the same sentences as in Drew's case, were passed, but of course the parties appealed and gave bonds.

The cases of Michael Scanlan and Charles Todd were continued to 10 A. M. Friday.

Patrick Crosby was charged with selling half a pint of gin on the 21st of May. Joseph Cochran was the principal witness.

In the afternoon, George Young and Robert McGill were charged with violating the Liquor Law. Similar proceedings were had as in the above cases, and they were sentenced each to pay a fine of $10 and costs, stand committed to the House of Correction, and give bonds not to sell again. They appealed and gave bonds to appear at the Muncipal Court.

Peter B. Brigham, proprietor of the celebrated Restaurant, Concert Hall building, was also charged with violating the Liquor Law, but the case was continued.

An episode occurred to give variety to the proceedings. Benjamin Haskell, Esq., a well-known lawyer, member of the Suffolk Bar, was summoned as a witness in a liquor case, but Mr. H. was indignant and declined to appear in any such capacity; he was, however, brought before the Court and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs. Mr. Haskell claimed an appeal, but this was not allowed, and he therefore "forked over" the cash and left the Court-room.

DRINKING FROM THE ORIGINAL PACKAGE—The first case of carrying out the provisions of the prohibitory law came up yesterday afternoon. A workman near the foot of Dey street, with the aid of a gimlet, took a drink from an original package, but finding it rather stronger than he had been accustomed to drink, he attempted to dilute it by falling into the dock, from which he was taken by the bystanders, and honored with a ride in a coal cart to his lodgings in a celebrated city institution, between Centre and Elm streets.—N. Y. Mirror.

Here comes in Moral Suasion. Men may dodge human laws, complaints may be defective, indictments flawy, and lawyers sharp witted. But the divine laws which regulate all nature, make it impossible for a man to carry coals of fire in his bosom without being burned—and equally impossible for him to deal with wine as if it were not a mocker, and with strong drink as if it were not raging. He that is deceived by them is not wise. But he who is wise enough to let them entirely alone, is sure not to be deceived by them.

GULL AND HUMBUG.—Col. Isaac H. Wright, at the great liquor meeting in Boston, speaking against the liquor law, and especially against town agencies, said:

Is there a child old enough to have the first glimmering of reason, that supposes that this traffic in intoxicating spirits, for medicine, is any thing but a gull and a humbug, compared to the great amount that is sold for that purpose? Every body in the country, who has a grain of common sense, knows that all this trading through town agents, in ardent spirits, under the name, purpose and disguise of 'Medicine,' is but errant and sheer hypocrisy from beginning to end. (Great Cheers.)

No doubt Col. W. being greatly excited, may have said more than he meant here,—and we think more than is true. But if he means what he says, he wishes to be understood that intoxicating spirits for medicine are useless! and at least nine tenths of all that are sold for that purpose, are wasted, or worse.

We have rarely seen any stronger testimony against the whole thing, as a useless, pernicious article. It is certainly useless to the laborer; dangerous and mortal to burn for a light;—and now Col. Wright denounces its medical sale and use as a humbug! It must belong only to the mechanic to dissolve gums, varnish, &c.

GREAT TORNADO IN GEORGIA.—A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, writes from Cedar Town, Ga., May 21, that on the 18th, a severe storm of wind, rain and hail swept across that part of the State, doing great damage to the plantations, destroying the wheat crops, denuding the forests of their foliage, killing fowls and birds, and destroying millions of locusts. Afterwards, in the track of the storm, the hail covered the ground to the depth of a foot, and in places there were drifts three feet deep.

ONE COMMENT MORE.—The Independent Democrat says of Virginia:

The Administration have, at last, secured one victory. Virginia, the "mother of statesmen and breeder of slaves," has endorsed Franklin Pierce and elected the "murderer of Cilley," as her Chief Magistrate. When deserted, abandoned and jeered by "all the world and the rest of mankind," it has happened to 'New Hampshire's favorite son,' to be in the shield of a "renagade Whig," and saved from utter annihilation before his time.—We have no tears to shed over the result.—The Know Nothings of that State, who opposed Wise, claimed to be more proslavery than the Administration; even denouncing Wise and the Washington Union, as wanting in zeal and devotion to the Slave Power!—This attempt to oat-Beelzebub Beelzebub himself, has failed, and we are glad of it. Sic semper tyrannis.

The Boston correspondent of the New York Tribune writes that:—

"The news from Virginia of the supposed election of Wise is welcomed by all except a few of the 'Natives,' who know and serve only the South. The anti-slavery portion of the American party are rejoiced at the success of Wise. It is a significant omen of the future, which Massachusetts Know Nothings well understand."

The Boston Chronicle says, it is rumored in political circles that a large number of the most influential members of the dominant party in that State are about to give up their allegiance to the order of Know Nothings, and to adopt a platform which will do away with all secresy, signs, &c., to embrace the prominent principles of the party, to hold their meetings openly, to discuss political topics, make nominations, &c., in public, with a view of rendering the party measures more satisfactory to those who sympathize in the "American" movement, but object to extra judicial oaths. Such a course would have a tendency to remove nearly all that is objectionable in the principles or discipline of the new party, induce thousands who now stand aloof from it to enroll themselves in its ranks, and to constitute it a permanent political organization, capable of holding and controlling the government of the country.

New York, 31st.—DESTRUCTIVE FIRE.—The building No. 49 Ann street, occupied by John F. Trow, printers, &c., and publisher of the New York City Directory, was destroyed by fire last night, together with all the materials for the Directory, in a forward state for publication. The loss is variously estimated at from $50,000 to $100,000, mostly covered by insurances. Mr. Trow is insured for $44,000, which will more than cover his loss. The insurance is in numerous offices, ranging from $2000 to $5000.

The suit of Emery Matthews against Messrs. Beach, of the Sun newspaper, to recover damages for libel in publishing a police report, five years ago, was terminated in the Superior Court this morning, by a verdict for the defendants. The independence of the press is fully sustained by the verdict.

Baltimore, 31st.—MEXICAN NEWS.—The Southern mail as late as due is at hand. The New Orleans papers contain the details of the latest Mexican news.

It is stated that, after Santa Anna left Morelia in pursuit of the insurgents, no accounts of his progress had been received; but on the contrary, reports, which caused his partisans great alarm, were everywhere current that the insurgents were understood to be prepared to offer an energetic resistance to his operations.

DUTIES UNDER THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.—It appears by an official correspondence, published in the Montreal Gazette, that although flour, lard, pork, and other articles are admitted free into Canada, in accordance with the terms of the reciprocity treaty, yet that a duty of 2 1-2 per cent. is assessed on the barrels or bags in which they may be packed. This certainly appears to be an act of contemptible meanness, and an evasion of the obvious intent of the treaty.—Boston Adv.

Dr. Eldridge of Leory, Ill., druggist, one night recently, went to the shelf to get some morphine, and took instead a large dose of strychnine, causing his death in a few moments.

Wood is becoming cheaper in this market on account of the fall in the price of coal. Speculators in wood lots will not make large profits in their purchases of last winter.—Manchester Democrat.

DROWNED.—The Newburyport Herald states that Mr. Jerry Ryan, one of the hands on board the schooner Joseph, was drowned on Tuesday afternoon, while attempting to board the vessel as she was proceeding to sea. He leaves a wife and family.

Generals Scott and Jessup have, within a few days, expressed the opinion that the Allies cannot retreat from the Crimea without first capturing Sebastopol by a coup de main, or beating the Russian armies of the interior in a pitched battle.

MORE APPROPRIATE THAN AGREEABLE.—While Gen. Canrobert and his army were up to their knees in the spring floods and slosh of the Crimea, the British Government dubbed him Knight of the Bath!

A Russian account of the battle of Inkermann attributes their repulse partly to the use of the Minie rifle. This weapon, it is said, at the distance of 1500 yards, deprived the Russian regiments of their best officers.

RESULTS.—We have received from Fowlers & Wells, publishers, New York, a new pamphlet, entitled Results of Prohibition in Connecticut—which bears a strong testimony in favor of Temperance. It is adorned with Portraits of Lyman Beecher, Henry Ward Beecher, and John Pierpont. Fine likenesses they are, too, worth more than the twenty five cents which the pamphlet costs.

☞ Harper's New Monthly Magazine, for June, is promptly received from Mr. Shores, and Fetridge & Co. An excellent number.

The resolution authorizing the purchase of land for new High School, was postponed to a special meeting of the Board.

The special committee to whom was referred the matter of cleansing the South Mill Pond, reported that they had made an examination, and find that the chief cause of offence is from an individual practice of making the pond a receptacle for filth, and that the removal of the same would be expensive, and that the cause should be first abated. To accomplish this an ordinance was offered, read and referred.

COMMON COUNCIL.—The committee to whom was referred the petition of the Assistant Marshals for increase of pay, reported an amendment to Ordinance No. 18, raising their salaries to $75 per annum—referred to committee on bills on 2d reading.

REFUSED TO DO DUTY.—John Haire and William Smith, seamen on board the schooner Lucy L. Sharp, were brought before U. S. Commissioner Hackett, by U. S. Deputy Marshal Geo. W. Towle, on Thursday, for refusing to do duty and for deserting the vessel. They plead guilty to the charge, and were ordered by the Commissioner to be confined in jail until the vessel should be ready to sail, when they were to be put on board. The men shipped at Richmond for this port and return. J. W. Towle for the U. S.

BEAUTIFUL PAINTINGS.—We noticed in Dr. Preston's store, a day or two since, a large and rare painting in water colors, designed and executed by Mrs. Samuel Lamprey, of this city—which we understand may be purchased for a reasonable sum. It represents many varieties of our native flowers, which are accurately drawn, tastefully arranged, deliciously colored, and finely finished.

Mr. T. P. Moses, from this city, is also engaged, at his studio in Boston, in creating his excellent crayon pictures of every style and variety. A faithful representation of Wachusett Mountain, in colors; and a moonlight view of a familiar scene at the mouth of Sagamore Creek, in black and white, have been on exhibition here for a few days, and may be bought at a low rate.

☞ It will be seen by their advertisement, that Pierce's Ethiopean Minstrels are to give two Concerts at the Temple next week. These are their last in this region, prior to their locating in New York city for the summer, where they are fitting a new hall for their entertainments. They have an engagement at the Montreal theatre, in Canada, for several nights in June.

☞ Westward the star of empire takes its way,—if we may judge from the expressions we sometimes hear from various persons of our acquaintance. Several young men have already gone from this vicinity to the far west, and others express the intention or wish to follow. Not only the young, but the mature age, look to the growing west with longing eyes. Our friend, Geo. W. Towle, among others, is desirous to make his exodus; and with that intent, is anxious to dispose of his large stock of almost all kinds of goods, some of which will be found advertised in to-day's Chronicle. He promises to sell at very low prices.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchitis, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only write it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Democratic movement is gaining ground.

The Queen had commenced publicly to bestow medals on private soldiers, who had returned wounded from the Crimea. The distribution took place at the Horse Guards, where a throne was erected for the purpose—a fine military spectacle was presented. Her majesty handed over 500 medals in the space of an hour; commencing with the Duke of Cambridge, Lords Cardigan and Lucan, Sir De Lacy Evans, and ending with the private men. Great enthusiasm prevailed. In the evening, the Queen gave a banquet in the riding school of Buckingham Palace, to a party of four hundred and fifty, comprising all the non-commissioned officers, seamen and marines, who had been decorated with the medals. The Queen and Prince Albert visited the riding school during the repast.

The bill to abolish Church rates had been carried to a second reading in the Commons, against the Government, by a majority of 28.

Mr. Roebuck has submitted a report from his committee of inquiry.

A notice of inquiry had been given as to whether Russia and the United States enjoy any exclusive privileges of trade with Japan.

Lord Ellenborough's motion of want of confidence in ministers came up in the House of Lords on the 14th. His lordship opened the debate with a bitter speech against the ministry, and with an open admission of the formidable power being wielded by public opinion, and a denunciation of appointments being made by favor, and not by merit.

Lord Panmure replied, and moved the previous question.

Lord Derby and others continued the debate, when upon a division there were 71 for the resolutions and 171 against them.

Mr. Layard's motion of want of confidence comes up in the Commons on the 24th, and Milner Gibson's on the 21st.

The Lord Mayor of London had given a grand banquet to the Ministry.

Administrative Reform meetings had been held at Norwich and other towns, but the Mayors of London and Liverpool refused to accede to the requisitions of the citizens.

BANGOR, May 30th.—The Know Nothing State Convention, which has been in session here since yesterday morning, adjourned this afternoon. No nomination for Governor was made. Strong anti-slavery resolutions were passed with only three dissenting voices, and it is understood that comprehensive ground was taken in relation to the politics of the State, by recognizing the Republican party, whenever practicable. Delegates were elected to the National Council, which assembles at Philadelphia in June.

WASHINGTON, May 30th.—The Secretary of the Navy has appointed Commodore Paulding to the command of the Home Squadron, in the place of Commodore McAuley, whose appointment was only temporary.

TO THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.

HAVING noticed in the Daily Chronicle an advertisement signed by one John Nelson, of Eliot, in the State of Maine, forbidding all persons to pass and re-pass in a certain road laid out across his land, for which road I and one Joseph Dixon have paid full damages as assessed by the selectmen of said town, and said road having been duly laid out by the selectmen and accepted by the town according to law—I would hereby give notice to all my friends and the public generally, that I give my full permission to all persons whomsoever to pass and re-pass in said road so far as I am concerned; and would also notify them that said road is a road which all the public have a right to use as has been decided in the State of New Hampshire and in Massachusetts, Neither John Nelson nor any other man can keep my friends and the public from using the same.—If any one wishes for further information, by calling on me I will give it to them.

WRIGHT'S INDIAN VEGETABLE PILLS direct from the manufactory, by my24 JOHN S. HARVEY & SON.

THE HERO OF LUNDY'S LANE.—A correspondent of the New York Commercial Advertiser denies the story that has been extensively copied by the newspapers respecting Gen. Scott's health and spirits. The writer says that the life of the veteran soldier has been one of intense labor, and in his old age he never passes a day in idleness, which may account for his leading a retired life and seeing but little company. He is never seen at the theatre, opera, or any place of amusment, but always at church on the Sabbath. And as for "walking alone," perhaps the true reason is that very few can conveniently keep pace with him.

AN INCIDENT.—Fazon of the Cairo Times relates the following among the incidents of the late fire in that place, and is personally responsible for them: During the heat of the fire on shore a man was met coming out of Arter's store with his arms full of canisters of powder. He stopped at the door and very coolly remarked, "Here, d—n it, somebody take this powder and throw it into the river; my hat's on fire!" and sure enough his hat was burning briskly. One more: Jim started off from the store with a pretty good sized box which he supposed contained dry goods. When he was told that it was powder his hair raised straight up; he dropped the box, sat down and spread his coat tail over it and commenced yelling lustily for a bucket of water. He got it and poured it on the box, assuring the bystanders that the powder was half burnt up, and that if the water had arrived a moment later he could not have saved a bit of it!

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT

—IN—

Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

FRENCH CIRCUS.

COMPRISING the very celebrated TOURNAIRE TROUPE, with all the distinguished artists who have appeared in this country during the last five years, and also those whose performances in Europe have secured to them a world-wide reputation, will exhibit in PORTSMOUTH, on THURSDAY, June 7.

TICKETS 25 CENTS.

☞Doors open at 3 P.M. and 7 P.M., to commence at 2½ and 7½ o'clock.

It is impossible to do more than simply mention a few of the names of the various artists connected with this magnificent CIRCUS.

There are no supernumeraries—all are brilliant stars—a host individually, and when combined, form a troupe never before equaled in the world. The Proprietors feel confident the Public will appreciate their success in uniting as a company so much acknowledged talent

MADAME TOURNIAIRE.—No lady in ancient or modern time, has ever equaled this accomplished Artist in the courage, beauty and finish of her exhibitions. Among other performances, she will ride six horses bare back, bounding from steed to steed, reigning and controlling her flying troupe, during their utmost speed, exhibiting feats of courage and horsemanship, never attempted by any female in this country. The fixed eyes, anxious countenances and breathless suspense of the thousands of her audience in Paris, Rome, Vienna, London, New York, and the larger cities of the Union, wherein this magic Artist has performed—attest the high reputation of the greatest Lady Equestrian in the known world; she has never had her equal, nor will she until the Equestrian education of MLLE. JOSEPHINE, her favorite pupil, is completed, whose youthful grace and beauty, as well as talent, give strong promise of sharing the crown of her great preceptress; she will appear and confirm her growing reputation as a model rider.

MONS. BENOIT—The great Trick Rider, will appear in his Gymnastic and Equestrian performances, startling and amusing his audience with his feats of Horsemanship, and Light Balancing on Horseback, Cup, Ball, Plate Spinning, Stick Dancing, &c. This celebrated Artist, known to every child in the United States, as receiving the royal patronage of the Sovereigns of England, France, Russia and Austria, has been secured by B. B. & Co., to add, if possible, to the various other attractions presented.

FERDINAND D and THEODORE, in their astonishing and daring feats. Master Theodore is the greatest rider of his age in the world.

Mr. A. F. LYMING—The great Flying Cord performer will exhibit his skill in a variety of Brief Operations on the cords volante.

Mr. SAM WELSER—The great Hippocondrical Decributor, will appear as Clown. This simple announcement is sufficient, for who has not heard of Sam, the original Clown in this country; and among other grotesque fantastics, will introduce his "Magic Hat."

The stupendous Persian feats called LA PERCHE, will be performed by W. J. Smith & Rogers.

Baltoons Leaps and Tumbling by the Company, with a general variety of Entertainments, the whole exhibiting one of the most amusing and instructive Entertainments ever witnessed in this country, m25 d5tw2t

PARTON'S LIFE OF GREELEY.

The publishers, Mason Brothers, New York, sent us a copy of this book, and of Ruth Hall, long ago, when they were first published; but they missed their passage, and went—we know not whither. Now we have a second supply—and have dipped into Horace with much pleasure. For a notice, at this late day, we cannot do better than to adopt the following just and honest paragraphs from the last number of the North American Review.

The history of an American boy, who, with only the advantages the humblest institutions of New England give, works his way, without any patronage, to a position where his influence directly affects more individuals than does that of any other American, must, if well written, have in it a great deal that is very curious and very valuable. This book is singularly well written, and its mingling of private incidents with public history is so managed, that its popularity will not be transient.

The early part of Mr. Greeley's life is wrought up from a great number of authorities, and presents the best picture we remember of the life of a New England youth. It is not slurred over with a few sentimental allusions to "the old oaken Bucket," or "the home of his childhood," but in a matter of fact way, goes resolutely into the details which have so much to do with making the man of after years. This is the most difficult and the most entertaining part of the book, and renders it almost a classic for boys, and men too. The boy, wild for books, and accurate in facts and figures, showed even then the Horace Greeley that was to be. Yet in some things how impossible was it to judge of his future! Eager to attend the spelling school, he never missed at it,—and "that was a lucky side in a spelling match which secured the powerful aid of Horace Greeley." So small, that he would drop asleep as the long evening spelling trials went on; still, when waked by "a nudge," he would spell his word with precision. How horror struck would the sleeping boy have been, if in one of those stolen naps, he had even dreamed that, by any mishap, future times should so circumvent him, that he could be possibly tempted to write of "a traveler leaving his plow, in a season of drouth'—traveling from the center of New Hampshire, and watching the hight of a reveling at a theater!"

The boy becomes a printer's apprentice,—passes through that glorious manual labor college, to which, from Franklin down, this country has owed so many of its best men. And thus, in his connection with the press, the book follows him on, till it becomes a history of that remarkable journal, which wields an influence no quarterly ever dreamed of,—the New York Tribune.

Recommending the Life of Mr. Greeley to general attention, we have to speak in particular commendation of the admirable style in which the author has collected his materials, and wrought them up. The book did not reveal to us the power of Horace Greeley. We knew that before. But we did not know the power in research, in mastery of the English language, and in strong good sense, of Mr. T. Parton, who is its author. It revealed that to us. For, let us own it, we did not know there was any such man.

We have now to say that here is an author new to title-pages, though not new as it seems to newspaper-work, whom we shall hear of with pleasure always, and who by this step, takes a foremost place among our writers. The book is not an ephemeral book,—like the lives of many men more or less distinguished. It is not like a campaign life of Clay, of Taylor, of Jackson; it is a piece of standard English literature. It is an amusing book. It is a brave book. It is, so far as its author can make it, a true book. Thanks for all of this to Mr. T. Parton. And we give these thanks all the more earnestly, because there are in this world so few men who can praise without puffing,—can work hard at a subject, and not show the soil of labor upon their hands,—can make a thorough book entertaining,—can tell the truth, fearing no man,—and with all this, can write good English, too.

It seems that we hear from Mr. Parton every week. We trust he has some other piece de resistance, however, which will present him to the world as a book-author once more.

GREELEY ON NAPOLEON.—Mr. Greeley was in Paris at the time of the attempted assassination of the Emperor; and he says it did not cause one-half the tumult occasioned by Bill Poole's death. He thinks the Empire will not outlast Louis Napoleon. But of him, he seems to have gained a higher opinion by actual inspection of the works of his reign.—He writes;

"Louis Napoleon is evidently master of the philosophy of insurrections, having had large experience in that line. While he no longer recognizes in terms the Right to Labor, he practically concedes it. To keep the Laboring class of mercurial Paris busy and fed is one cardinal feature of his policy. Hence Improvements, gigantic in extent and cost, are constantly in progress here. Since 1851 the Rue de Rivoli, passing by the north side of the Tuileries westward into the heart of the city, has been transformed into one of the finest streets of the civilized world, much as if William St. in our own City had been widened to one hundred feet and cut straight through from the harbor to 4th av. Similar improvements are being made in the leading streets out of Paris westward, in the neighborhood of the Champs Elysees and in other quarters of the city. Many of these were urgently needed—for old Paris has narrower and crookeder streets, with higher houses and worse air, than even Boston; and it is said that these improvements pay. The Government has the adjacent property appraised, takes it at the valuation, makes the required improvements and then sells out. I am assured that merely as a speculation these enterprises have generally proved profitable, while they have given employment to many thousands, and greatly beautified the city. Despotism is bitter, but the despotism of one shrewd man has its alleviations, such as are unknown to the rule of "shoulder hitters" or of the Empire Club.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, JUNE 2, 1855.

REV. MR. LOVEJOY.—This gentleman, who is or was, a minister in Cambridge, Mass., made by far the most eloquent and telling speech, as reported, at the great rally for free trade in liquor, at Boston. A great portion of the address, however, was satire on temperance men, invective against the law, and ridicule of the legislature that enacted it.

The following extract from his long speech, is the strongest argument contained in it, against the law.

But the next point, and it is the last, gentlemen, that I will make—the next point is that this law strikes at a fundamental law, at one of the principles of the Declaration of Rights. Do you know that before any law was made, a Bill of Rights was uttered, and one of the sentences of that Bill of Rights is this:—"Every man has an inalienable right to acquire, possess, and protect his property." (Good.) He has an 'inalienable' right—what does that mean? It means just this, a right that the Legislature cannot wrest from you. It means a right that no casuist can reason you out of. If a man makes a bow and arrow, has not he a right to shoot that arrow; if he builds a house, has he not a right to live in it; if he squeezes grapes into a cup to drink of it, has he not a right to possess, protect, and enjoy it?

If a man makes a bow and arrow, he may shoot the arrow! but where? any where, in Boston! He may of course, make a gun, and cast some bullets, and make some powder, and fire off his charge, from the corner of Congress street down State street, Boston, at 1 o'clock, when the merchants are on 'Change! may he? Let the Rev. Mr. Lovejoy try the experiment, or let some one of his congregation at Faneuil Hall try it;—and he will soon find the difference 'twixt tweedledum and tweedle-dee.

But really, this language of Mr. Lovejoy's about the arrow, is so truly applicable to the trade in intoxicating drinks, that it must be carried out a little farther. The book of Proverbs speaks of a mad man who casts firebrands, arrows and death. Could any thing be more graphic!

The man may build his house in Boston, and live in it. Very true; but he must take care who lives with him and how he lives,—if he don't, in comes the law and puts him in prison, for keeping a disorderly house!

He may have a fire in his house, in some proper place, but if he casts fire brands about the floor, or throws them into the street, the law steps in again, and puts him into the State's prison as an incendiary, or into the asylum as an insane person.

So of the grapes; he may squeeze and drink; but if he happens to get drunk, and like other drunkards becomes noisy and turbulent, the law comes and tumbles him into the lock up, and then sobers him at Deer Island.

If he happens to have a little more grape than he wants to drink himself, he may give away the overplus to a friend, or sell it to the outside barbarians for three or six cents a glass,—may he! But these outsiders are drunkards, and therefore, says the old license law, he must not sell to them,—but if he does, he shall pay a fine!

All these laws,—and all other laws, that deserve the name, ordain that a man may hold and use his property as he will—provided always—that in so doing he neither damages his neighbors, nor shows himself to be a mad man. The moment he does this, the law lays its hand on his shoulder, and says, Stop!

The Gospel says, Thou shalt Love thy Neighbor as thyself—and Paul says, If meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no more meat while the world standeth. While the Old Testament with its stern justice, pronounces a Woe on him who puts a bottle to his neighbor's mouth, and makes him drunken.

These are but broken hints, out of which Br. Lovejoy could make a good sermon,—but we have not the room for a long talk, and so leave the reader to make his own application.

DEMOCRACY TRIUMPHANT.—The Eastern Argus of May 31, says:—

The election which took place in Virginia last Thursday, resulted in the signal triumph of the sterling democracy of the "Old Dominion," and the complete discomfiture of the combined forces of Know Nothingism and Whiggery.

The Argus considers this a death blow to the K. N.'s—and speculates in this fashion:

According to present appearances, the democratic party will be the only national party that will have a candidate for President in the field, and its success will be inevitable. A large number of whigs at the North, who heartily hate fusion sectionalism, will either not vote at all, or support the democratic nominee, &c.

Well, we can wait very patiently, and see how it is. The whig party, it seems, is not quite so dead, after all;—and though a portion are opposed to fusion in favor of liberty, they can fuse in favor of something national, i. e., slavery—can they?

There are more states in the Union, however, than Virginia.

THE REIGN OF WORLDLINESS.

A correspondent of the Boston Herald, writes to that paper a letter from Lowell, in which, among much that is ridiculously false, is some truth. Among other things he says as follows:—

"There are plenty of churches here. I attended services yesterday, at one of the most prominent ones. Dress appeared to be the leading principle among those present, while religion was a mere side issue. The house seemed more like a place of fashionable resort, than like a "temple where a God may dwell."

This remark is doubtless true, though we regret to say it. And yet it is not so true of Lowell as it is of Boston and New York. Fashion does not run to such extremes among us as in some other places. Our neighbors have nothing to reproach us with on that score. And yet we have seen in a few years past, many indications of increasing worldliness in many of our churches. Instead of revivals, they are having fairs, festivals, and all sorts of gatherings, which, though innocent in themselves, are abominable when carried on by Christian churches. Not long ago, one of the churches—one of the Orthodox churches—advertised a frolic, of which the following is the PROGRAMME.

Part First.

1. Festival Waltz; 2. Fancy Dress Party; 3. Agnes Waltz; 4. The Departure of Hagar; (Genesis xxi. 14.) 5. Crystal Palace Polka; 6. Fast Day, or a Catholic family surprised by the entrance of the priest, while eating meat on Friday; 7. Mazurka; 8. Ruth, The Gleaner; (Ruth ii. 8.) 9. Blue's Quickstep.

Part Second.

1. American Quadrille; 2. The Bridal Scene; 3. German Song and Waltz; 4. The Sacrifice, Young Lady taking the Veil; 5. Glendon Polka; 6. The Spirit of '76; 7. Yankee Doodle; 8. The Trial of Queen Catharine—King Henry VIII., act 2d, scene 4th; 9. Gallop.

All this is done in the name of religion, and the proceeds applied to religious purposes. We beseech Christians to stop and think, before they go to such lengths. Piety is withering away; holiness is dying out, and it becomes us all to humble ourselves before God.

We copy the above from the Christian Era, a Baptist paper in Lowell, as a part of the history of the times. It calls for no special remark from us, except that there is an apparent, we think a real inconsistency in speaking of a practice as harmless in itself, and at the same time abominable in a Christian church. We believe there is only one unbending law of moral conduct, and that right and wrong are without respect of persons.

All lawful things may not be expedient,—but they certainly cannot be abominable.

At a meeting of the Grand Junction Railroad Company held in Boston on Wednesday, it was voted that the thanks of the stockholders be presented to the retiring members of the directors, especially to Hon. Ichabod Goodwin of this city, for their faithful and long continued services, dating from the earliest history of the corporation.

☞ The Lowell Christian Era styles Rev. Mr. Lovejoy, who spoke against the liquor law, a Methodist minister. We believe this is an error, and that he is or was the pastor of an Orthodox Congregational Church in Cambridge.

DIVIDEND.—The Portland, Saco and Portsmouth Railroad have declared a dividend of three per cent, payable June 8th to holders May 31st.

The prices of negroes in the extreme south are falling, while in the northern slave States they hold extremely high. Last month, at a sale in Alabama, a girl, a fair seamstress, was sold for $510, a likely man, 30 years old, for $531, and common hands still lower; while in Missouri, about the same date, boys five years old were selling as high as those quoted above, and men at eight hundred and even a thousand dollars.

A Missouri paper commenting on the matter, admits the difference to be occasioned by the distance from the free States. If the border States do occasionally have a slave escape, they are yet so near to where there is business, activity and wealth, that the value of those that remain is enhanced.

The present fashion for ladies' dresses in New York and Boston is just as many flounces as can be tacked on between the waist and the skirt. In fact, a fashionable dressed lady in the street is nearly all flounces. The short mankiller looks like flounce number one, and from its lower edge downward the dress resembles a series of pyramidal steps—a silken staircase up which a cat or a cupid might readily climb. Of course the lower circumference of this mass of furbelows is enormous, and the Lillipusian hat, scarcely visible at the apex of the cone, gives one an idea that the figure has no head—a notion that in some instances is not far from the fact.

The superior court of Ohio has decided that a wife is of no pecuniary value to her husband—that if she be killed in a railroad accident, he cannot recover damages therefor. Mrs. E. Oakes Smith will have a cold sweat at this, and Lucy Stone and her husband must issue another protest.

The pecuniary value of a wife depends on her being a helpmeet for her husband. If she is, on the contrary, a drag or pull-back, the Ohio Court decided properly.

TELEGRAPHIC GLASSES.—Two casks, marked "telegraphic glasses," were brought from Boston in the boat yesterday morning. The officer on the wharf having a curiosity to examine this new mode of insulating telegraphic wires, opened the packages and discovered two twenty gallon kegs of liquor. No claimants have yet appeared.—Portland Advertiser.

LOCAL.

APPOINTMENT.—Maj. Samuel S. Stacey, of this city, paymaster in the army during the Mexican war, has been appointed to a first-class clerkship in the Pension Office, at a salary of $1200 per annum.

Mr. Stacey was also an officer in the army in the war of 1812-15, and is by his experience, knowledge of military affairs, and well tried honesty and faithfulness, one of the best qualified men for such a clerkship, that could be found.

BOSTON AND MAINE AND EASTERN RAILROADS.—We learn that the award of the commissioners, Messrs. William Appleton and John Howe, assigning to the Boston and Maine Railroad the business on its own line, and all places northwesterly thereof, and to the Eastern Railroad the business on its own line and all places southeasterly thereof, has been ratified this day by the two Boards of Directors, to take effect on the 1st day of June next. The intermediate business between the two roads is to become a joint concern to a certain extent. It is understood the rights of other roads are not to be injuriously affected by this arrangement, and that no stipulations are entered into to advance, unreasonably, the rates for passengers and freight.—Boston Traveller.

INCENDIARISM.—The Traveller says that a day or two since, a slow match was found in a barn belonging to the estate of a Mr. Bacon, in Newtonville, Mass. Suspecting that an attempt would be made on the following night to burn the barn, a couple of men were placed inside to watch. At about 11 o'clock two persons made their appearance; one of them said to the other, who was apparently armed—"Shoot him." The watchers, sagely supposing that they were the persons to be shot, took to their heels in one direction, while the supposed incendiaries ran off another.

ITINERANCY IN THE M. E. CHURCH.—At the recent session of the New York East M. E. Conference a resolution was offered recommending a change in that rule of the Church which limits the preachers individually to two years' stay in the same charge or appointment. A change of this kind has long been a subject of conversation among the clergy of the Methodist Church. At the Conference it was ably advocated by some of the leading members, and the resolution after an animated discussion was adopted. So says the New York Commercial Advertiser.

EXTREMES MEET.—The Charleston Mercury, in reply to the Washington Union, in a matter connected with the administration, and its principles upon the slavery question, says—"We are in principle, disunionists." Mr. Garrison says at the anti-slavery convention—"I am a revolutionist.—Though not for combat, I am for secession."

At Swansea 17th, barque Lucy L. Hale, of Boston, 484 tons new measurement, built in 1851, in first rate order, and has just delivered 715 tons of silver ore, for sale.

What is for sale? the silver, or the ship?

The St. Johnsbury Caledonian says that a boy fell into the Passumpsic river in that town, a few days since, and a large dog plunged immediately after him. Both were drowned. When the bodies were recovered, the dog was grasping the boy's coat in his mouth, and the arms of the boy were clasped tightly around the body of the dog.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels; liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

Price 25 cts. per Box—5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The democracy of this city held a most enthusiastic mass meeting at Tammany Hall this evening, to rejoice over the result of the Virginia election. The hall was brilliantly illuminated, and crowded to excess. A large meeting also assembled in front of the Hall, when congratulatory speeches were made by prominent politicians. Guns were fired in the Park, fire-works displayed, and, after an indefinite number of cheers for the Democracy of the country in general, and that of Virginia in particular, the meeting in good order dispersed, perfectly satisfied with the demonstration, which it may not be out of place to state, fell far short in point of numbers to the usual political mass gatherings at Tammany Hall.

Mr. Mortimer Thompson, the author of the celebrated "Doestick's Letters," was accidentally killed while out shooting at a mark with some companions, at Ann Harbor, Michigan, yesterday.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—To-morrow the Pension Office will issue two thousand warrants under the new law, and two hundred per day thereafter. The brokers report the warrants to be worth $1.12 a $1.14 per acre, but they are holding back for a new issue, in anticipation of a lower price.

An order will be issued by the Postmaster General to-morrow, that both postages, British and American, must be prepaid on all letters to Turks Island.

PHILADELPHIA, May 31.—The Democrats fired one hundred guns this afternoon in honor of Virginia. They also held a meeting in Independence Square, at which the Hon. John Robbins presided. Processions came from every part of the city with music and lanterns, and banners, to join the proceedings. The multitude were addressed from the stand placed at opposite ends of the square, by Messrs. Florence, Robbins, Tyler, Carrigan, White, and others.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—Havre DeGrace, Md., May 31.—The locomotive of a freight train on the Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad, exploded this morning at Aberdeen, Md., in consequence of the engineer allowing the water to get too low, and then suddenly applying the pumps. Thomas Morton, the engineer, and Monroe Hinton, fireman, were killed, and Henry Feltner and John Mills were badly, though not fatally injured.

HAVANA.—New regulations have been issued for the disembarkation of passengers at this port. They must go direct from the vessel to an appointed office, and there secure "landing" and "baggage permits," without which no passenger can come to the city, and said permits must be shown on demand to the police.

RICHMOND, C. E., 30th.—A blacksmith's shop was burned at Danville, Canada East, last night, by which two boys were burned to death, and a woman very severely injured.

WINCHENDON, MASS., May 30th—8 1-2, P. M.—The large cotton mill about two miles from this village, is now in flames.

LIFE INSURANCE.—The insurance of life in all cases is wise—in many, absolutely necessary— in some, an imperative duty.—How many of our readers who at this moment possess a comfortable competency, would, in the event of death, leave their families in a state of destitution. How many family circles, the heads of which are in the receipt of a liberal salary, living in handsomely furnished houses, and keeping excellent tables, would by a single death, be suddenly deprived of all, and doomed to penury and wretchedness. How many wives and children have exchanged their happy homes, to become the inmates of union-workhouses, from the neglecting of Life-Insurance by the person through whose means they were enabled to live in comparative affluence. We say then to all persons having fixed incomes, and living up to that amount, it is a duty you owe to your family to insure your life as a future provision for your offspring.—If you deprive yourselves of a few of the luxuries you have been accustomed to enjoy, recollect that it is for the ultimate advantage of those whom you hold most dear in the world, and whom it is your duty to protect.

MEN OF AMERICA—MEN OF THE AGE.—The greatest man, "take him all in all," of the last hundred years, was George Washington—an American.

The greatest Doctor of Divinity was Jonathan Edwards—an American.

The greatest Philosopher was Benjamin Franklin—an American.

The greatest of living Sculptors is Hiram Powers—an American.

The greatest living Historian is Wm. H. Prescott—an American.

The greatest ornithologist was J. J. Audubon—an American.

The greatest remedies known to the world for popular use,—Ayers Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills, were invented by Dr. J. C. Ayer—an American.

The greatest Lexicographer since the time of Johnson was Noah Webster—an American.

The greatest inventors of modern times, were Fulton, Fitch, Whitney and Morse—all Americans.

During the past three months, flour has actually been shipped from this market to some of the Northern cities and towns of this state, and Canadian flour is now actually being re-shipped from Oswego to the principal Canadian markets.

The present high prices of breadstuffs we now see, have no other cause than an inadequate supply. For all other articles offered, those of luxury as well as those of first necessity, would not rise uniformly. However large the crops may have been last season, all over the world, the fact is, the consumption has increased at a greater ratio, and those who look for a return of the cheap prices of two or three years ago, we think are destined to be disappointed.—N. Y. Express.

MEANS OF LIVING.—Corn is cheaper and more nutritious than wheat, and with proper care in the cooking may be made equally palatable, even for a permanent article of food. Yet it is a fact that it is a great deal more used by the wealthy than by those who have to economize.

TO THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.

HAVING noticed in the Daily Chronicle an advertisement signed by one John Nelson, of Eliot, in the State of Maine, forbidding all persons to pass and re-pass in a certain road laid out across his land, for which road I and one Joseph Dixon have paid full damages as assessed by the selectmen of said town, and said road having been duly laid out by the selectmen and accepted by the town according to law—I would hereby give notice to all my friends and the public generally, that I give my full permission to all persons whomsoever to pass and re-pass in said road so far as I am concerned; and would also notify them that said road is a road which all the public have a right to use as has been decided in the State of New Hampshire and in Massachusetts. Neither John Nelson nor any other man can keep my friends and the public from using the same.—If any one wishes for further information, by calling on me I will give it to them.

THE WINE DISEASE.—A letter recently received at the State Department, Washington, from Oporto, Portugal, says that the produce of the wine district, in 1854, has been about 19,000 pipes, although there have been sent to the judges at Regos, samples of 49,000 pipes for approval. More than one half of this wine is that which was refused in 1853 as being unsound, and unfit for transportation. It has since been treated with geroffas and loja, and in all probability much of this noxious stuff will find its way down the Douro in the spring, and be exported to different parts of the world. The Oporto correspondent there have not been 3000 pipes of good wholesome wine made in the Douro this last vintage. The wine known as the green wine, the principal drink of the native Portuguese, has been almost totally destroyed; and in the Vienna district not a pipe has been made.—In the spring of 1854 the vines put forth their shoots and leaves with great vigor, and the growth was very rapid. The show of fruit was greater than ever known in that country before. The farmers anticipated a good vintage, but, as the season advanced, their hopes were blasted. Throughout the kingdom the vines began to show symtoms of the fatal "odium;" by the middle of June the leaves had the autumnal tints, began to curl, and the berries indicated a sickly appearance. Many vineyards had the appearance they usually have in the month of November. In the early part of July many vines put forth a second crop of leaves and fruit, and the berries nearly ripened before they were attacked with the "odium."

Ballard, Bailey & Co.'s FRENCH CIRCUS,

COMPRISING the very celebrated TOURNIAIRE TROUPE, with all the distinguished artists who have appeared in this country during the last five years, and also those whose performances in Europe have secured to them a world-wide reputation, will exhibit in PORTSMOUTH, on THURSDAY, June 7.

TICKETS 25 CENTS.

Doors open at 2 P.M. and 7 P.M., to commence at 3½ and 7½ o'clock.

It is impossible to do more than simply mention a few of the names of the various artists connected with this magnificent CIRCUS.

There are no supernaturalists—all are brilliant stars, each individually, and when combined, form a troupe never before equaled in the world. The Proprietors feel confident the Public will appreciate their success in uniting as a company so much acknowledged talent.

MADAME TOURNIAIRE.—No lady in ancient or modern time, has ever equaled this accomplished Artist in the courage, beauty and finish of her exhibitions. Among other performances, she will ride six horses bare back, bounding from steed to steed, relinquishing and controlling her flying troupe, during their utmost speed, exhibiting feats of courage and horsemanship, never attempted by any female in this country. The fixed eyes, anxious countenances and breathless suspense of the thousands of her audience in Paris, Rome, Vienna, London, New York, and the larger cities of the Union, wherein this magic Artist has performed—attest the high reputation of the greatest Lady Equestrian in the known world; she has never had her equal, nor will she until the Equestrian education of MLLE. JOSEPHINE, her favorite pupil, is completed, whose youthful grace and beauty, as well as talent, give strong promise of sharing the renown of her great preceptress; the one will appear as the confirm her growing reputation as a model rider.

MONS. BENOIT—The great Trick Rider, will appear in his Gymnastic and Equestrian performances, startling and amusing his audience with his feats of Horsemanship, and Light Balancing on Horseback, Cup, Ball, Plate Spinning, Stick Dancing, &c. This celebrated Artist, known to every child in the United States, as receiving the royal patronage of the Sovereigns of England, France, Russia and Austria, has been secured by B. B. & Co., to add, if possible, to the various other attractions presented.

FERDINAND and THEODORE, in their astonishing and daring feats. Master Theodore is the greatest rider of his age in the world.

MR. A. F. LYMING—The great Flying Cord performer will exhibit his skill in a variety of Aerial Gyrations on the cords volante.

Mr. SAM WELKE—The Hippocondrical Describtor, will appear as Clown. This simple announcement is sufficient, for who has not heard of Sam, the original Clown in this country and among other grotesque fantastics, will introduce his "Mayor Mac."

The stupendous Persian feats called LA PERCHE, will be performed by W. J. Smith & Rogers.

Battoute Leaps and Tumbling by the Company, with a general variety of Equestrian feats, the whole exhibiting one of the most amusing and instructive Entertainments ever witnessed in this country. my25 d&w2t

THE FIGURE-HEAD OF THE CONSTITUTION.—Those of our readers whose memory runneth back to the time of Andrew Jackson's reign, cannot have forgotten the excitement created by the "figure head affair." A full length statute, in the wood, of the venerable President, had been put upon the noble old Constitution, and in the dead of night it was removed. An investigation was had, a reward was offered for the discovery of the perpetrator of the outrage, but, so far as the public knew, nothing was ever elicited of a nature to throw light upon the mystery. Jack Downing wrote about it; the papers on one side abused the Whigs for the insult to the hero, and those on the other pronounced the putting the figure-head there in the first place an insult to the people. Even the story writers wove the incident into the web of fiction, and the "figure head of the Constitution" was the title of a tale by one of our best authors. Now, after the lapse of some twenty years, we have the true narrative, given to the public in a letter to the N. Y. Times, which, as a matter of interest, we copy. The writer, whose initials are given as "C. E. J.," dates from Springfield. He says:

"A few years since, in company with a friend, I called on the venerable Mahlon Dickerson, at his residence near Dover, Morris County, New Jersey, and after politely showing us over his grounds and iron mines, he took us through the extensive library, and while giving us a a detail of his books, and the history of many of them, he also laughingly told us the story of the figure-head which was looking down on us from the upper book shelf. He said:

"You know that at the time this occurred I was Secretary of the Navy, and that Government had offered a reward for the apprehension of the perpetrator of the outrage. Well, one day I was sitting in the office when a sailor walked in with a bundle in his hand, and asked if I was the Secretary of the Navy?—He went on to say:

"You offered a reward for the one that cut off the figure-head of Gen. Jackson?"

"Yes."

"I am the man."

"And untying his budget placed before me the head. I am amazed and puzzled to divine what it could mean. I asked him who helped him to do it?"

"Nobody."

"How did you do it."

"I rowed out alone, climbed up the chains and sawed it off through the neck at first, but the saw struck a bolt, and I had to saw it through the mouth."

"How did you manage to escape being seen by the watch?"

"Humph! I swear there was'nt any light nor a man on deck."

"Who got you to do this?"

"Nobody, and nobody knows of it."

"Why did you do it; dont you like Gen. Jackson?"

"Yes, I am a Jackson man and have no objection to his bust being on Old Ironsides, but I don't believe in a whole-length figure-head, and if you put it back again, d—n me if I don't saw it off again."

"In consultation with the President, the question came up, what shall we do with this man? The old General said, as there don't appear to be any political motive in the act, and the man had voluntarily surrendered, and as his story implicated the officers of the Constitution, who had sworn before the Investigating Committee that the lights were burning and the watch set, why we had better let the man go, and hush it up."

"So" said Gov. D., "when I left Washington, I threw the head into my trunk and brought it home, and that is the history of the affair of the figure-head."

A recent debate in the Spanish Cortes, participated in by the leader of the democratic party and the ministers of State, completely substantiates Mr. Perry's statements in regard to the folly of Soule's course, and the [illegible] will of Spain towards the United States.

DEATH'S DOINGS.—Two well-known and welcome faces in London society have just been removed from among us by death—Sir Robert Harry Inglis and the widow of Sir Humphrey Davy. The cheerful countenance of the old Baronet was one that invariably reflected the English gentleman of the Sir Roger de Coverley school; and few saw Lady Davy without thinking of by-gone times, when (as Mrs. Apreece) she was the centre of a circle of fashion—the lively lady who won the heart and hand of the all-accomplished Sir Humphrey Davy. Thirty years and more have glided since Inglis became known as something more than a mere Bedfordshire Baronet; forty and more have passed since Mrs. Apreece was married to Sir Humphrey, and six-and-twenty years have passed by since Sir Humphrey died and Lady Davy was seen in widow's weeds. Both the Baronet and my Lady lived in and for society; and both delighted in literature and literary men. The dinners of Sir Robert in Bedford square, and the "at homes" in Park street of Lady Davy, will long be remembered by all who had the happiness to attend them.—Ill. London News.

PORTABLE TELEGRAPHIC MACHINE FOR RAILWAYS.—An Englishman, writing to the London Times, mentions that the train from Paris to Boulogne having broken down on the 27th ult., the guard in charge of the train descended from his carriage, taking with him a small box, containing, I imagine, a battery, which he at once attached to the telegraph wire at the side of the railway where a post occurred. He was thus enabled to communicate by telegraph with the station master at Abbeville, informing him of the 'break down,' and requesting to have another engine sent immediately. The writer suggests that this system of establishing a temporary telegraphic station, should be adopted in England. It is, if we mistake not, an American invention.—It was noticed in the Traveller, a few months ago; and the inventor was then about to proceed to Europe for the purpose of securing it by a patent.—Boston Traveller.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JUNE 4, 1855.

MR. WISE.

This gentleman's election to the office of Governor of Virginia, has been claimed in this vicinity, sometimes as a triumph of Democracy, but oftener as a triumph of the Democratic Party.

Now let us hear Mr. Wise himself, who testifies that it is neither the one nor the other. In his speech, delivered the other day, from the Balcony of Brown's Hotel in Washington, he says:

Notwithstanding Sam had achieved victories in the North, I knew he could not meet the masses of the people, in primary assemblages, in Virginia. I knew he could not stand before the pibroch and trump of liberty. He might live in the land of secret ballot, but he could not survive the vox populi of the people.

The amount of this trump of liberty, is the trump of intimidation, against which the secret ballot, and indeed all other ballots, are meant to guard.

Mr. Wise supposes that if the voters of Virginia had voted by ballot, especially secret ballot, thus expressing their own private opinions, they would not have chosen him Governor. But they vote viva voce, that is, with the living voice.

The mode of voting in Virginia is this:—the voter announces his name to the presiding officer, and then declares his vote; for instance,—it being the Presidential election, the voter presents himself, gives his name, and says 'Pierce & King,' or, 'Scott & Graham,' as the case may be. Thus many are intimidated at the polls. This is what Mr. Wise means. 'Many would have voted the K. N. ticket had they not been intimidated,' is the substance of his language. Mr. Wise's whole address is inflated and tyrannical, and it is worthy of particular note that it contains a haughty avowal that the election was carried by coercion. We do not call this Democracy—nor do we believe that Virginia has much idea of such a thing. Her aristocracy is old and proud; resting on the basis of slave labor, living on the profit of slave selling, and deeming labor in the freeman a disgrace, it cannot tolerate freedom of opinion in the laborer. Mr. Wise says, a little farther on:

I tell you you have found your master in a purified majority, which consists of the conscientious and conservative men of both the old parties.

Conscience Whigs, and conscientious Democrats in Virginia, fused together, and chose Henry A. Wise, governor; if Mr. Wise can be believed, it is the triumph of a coalition, and not of the Democratic party, nor of any other party.

It is the triumph of Mr. Wise and of the Virginia Aristocracy, over the Know Nothings, who seemed about to break down that aristocracy, and who would have done so, Mr. Wise tells us, could they have used the secret ballot. Let the reader take Mr. Wise's testimony, and weigh it well. An editor in a neighboring State says:

It is interesting and instructive to watch a canvass in any of the slave holding States, as conducted within the past few years. All questions of policy that divided men in the Clay and Jackson era, are buried and forgotten, and the sole issue to be decided between candidates, is that of personal devotion to the interest of Slavery. And as this is claimed equally by all Southern politicians, and belongs equally to all, the question is usually narrowed down to this: who can bring us aid from the North? the party acting under the name of 'Democratic,' or the party opposed to them? * * * *

Such were the argument used by Mr. Wise in every one of the hundred and twenty speeches he made during the canvass. Mr. Flournoy and his Southern Know Nothing backers were just as much opposed to the interests of freedom as Mr. Wise, and they lacked success simply because they could bring no strength from among us of the North, our whole proslavery element being in fast alliance with Wise.

DROUGHT.—The dry time felt here, extends inland. The Concord Statesman says, "the earth throughout New Hampshire is at this time (Thursday afternoon) in distressing need of water.

The Manchester American of June first, says:—

We learn from all this immediate section, and from other parts of the State, that the ground is suffering from an unprecedented drought for the season. Unless rain falls soon, the crops just planted must suffer badly. In some places we have heard that the farmers were planting corn a second time, the first not coming up. The streams are all low. The Merrimac was never known lower at this season of the year. A gentleman from Goffstown informs us that grass does not start in the pastures, and that the feed is already running short.

☞ Our Legislature will assemble at the State House in Concord on Wednesday. The Statesman says: As the time is so near, all speculation as to its procedures may very properly be dispensed with. The election of Senators in Congress will probably take place the second week.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Protestant Episcopal Convention of the Diocese of New Hampshire, was held in Concord last week.

LEGAL DECISION.—In Boston, the Associate Justices in the Police Court have rendered a decision in regard to keeping open barber shops on the Sabbath baing an "act of charity or necessity." The case before the court was that of E. C. Deming, which had been postponed in order that Judge Russell might consult with his associates.

There were two counts in the case, viz.: shaving a man, and keeping open a barber's shop.

On the first, all the justices agreed that if a man was to be convicted of criminality for shaving a person on Sunday, no person could be allowed to shave himself, or even heat water, or cook a dinner on that day, without being amenable to the same action. This was the decision on the first count, so that one man may legally shave another in Boston on Sunday.

The second count was, whether the keeping of a shop open for that purpose was illegal. On this point there was a difference of opinion among the justices, which constituted a doubt, and the defendant receiving the benefit of the same, was discharged. And so we don't know whether it is legal to keep open a barber's shop or not. This is delightful law. But it is easy enough to go round it. Just let the barbers keep their shop doors shut and dark, but windows open, or gas light burning, and shave away according to law!

"A DIVINE FORM OF SLAVERY."—President Lord, of Dartmouth College, in a recent communication to the Vermont Chronicle, proposes a plan for a more "perfect" system of Slavery, than has yet prevailed in this country. The present state of that institution is vastly preferable to none, in his estimation, but is not so complete and divine as it might be. He says:

"I would organize it upon such principles as these: 1. That the slaves should be of such persons as were known to be ignorant, besotted, wild, licentious, disorderly, brutish, hateful and hating one another, who could not be wisely or safely left to themselves, and whom it would not become Christian people, if they could help it, to suffer unrestrained and uncared for, so to efface God's image in man, and reduce the earth to sterility, violence, bestiality and misery. In other words, they should be such persons as the historian describe the hordes of Africa in general. Or, 2. Legitimate captives of war, such as the histories describe those who could not or would not be otherwise disposed of without being put to death. Or, 3. Persons held in payment for debt. Or, 4. Voluntary slaves. Or, 5. Born slaves. 6. The world must be better off in their slavery than in their freedom. 7. They must be better off themselves. 8. If they were decidedly Hamites, that according to Scripture, would be a crowning qualification."

"A divine form of Slavery, only could be perfect. But a divine form could not be perfectly administered by men, as things are in this world; and it might be perverted, like all other good creatures of God, to the worst abuses."

Rev. D. C. Eddy, late speaker in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, is reported in the Christian Era, making the following remarks to his church at the communion season on the sixth inst. No one can call him an "indolent" minister:

"At the commencement of the year, when about to take my seat in the House of Representatives, I told you I should preach you no old sermons, nor be absent from the pulpit, unless in extraordinary cases. The legislature is drawing to a close, and during the four months I have exchanged but one day. My sermons have been studied in the rail car, and written out at midnight. I have, during the same months delivered a course of lectures on Pilgrim's Progress, the preparation for which was previously made, and have also lectured and preached in several other cities and towns. I have attended all your evening meetings, have visited the sick, officiated at several funerals and weddings, and performed to the best of my abilities the duties of the pastoral office. And during the same months I have endeavored to fulfil my public duties in Boston. I have not been absent at the opening of any session, or been a half minute behind my time except in a single instance, and that when a storm prevented the cars reaching the city at the usual time. I have not been absent from the house at any time during the session, except in a single instance, and that on a sorrowful day when I was called home to look upon a child that in the morning I left sleeping sweetly in life, sleeping more sweetly in death."

RATHER QUEER.—A few days since the Massachusetts Medical College of Pharmacy, which is composed of the various apothecaries in Boston, petitioned for leave to sell liquors for chemical and medicinal purposes. Their prayers were answered, but now that they have got a license they don't seem disposed to accept it, and refuse the sale of alcoholic liquids, of whatever nature. A meeting is to be held on Thursday next, to ascertain whether or not they will sell under the license.—Bee.

If this statement be correct, the apothecaries have donkeyized themselves. The city government acted wisely, in granting their licenses—but if the apothecaries act as above related, the city government should revoke theirs, and grant others forthwith.

A TERROR ANNIHILATED.—At a place called "Squabble Hollow," in Derby, Conn., a rattlesnake, nine feet and five inches in length, has been captured, after having been the terror of the neighborhood every summer for a number of years. The New Haven Journal says he used to "take after" any person who approached him, and came near killing a young lady.

LOCAL.

ARRIVAL OF THE CONSTITUTION.

"Old Ironsides," Com. Mayo, the flag-ship of the African squadron, so long expected, arrived at this port on Saturday morning about 7 1-2 o'clock, and exchanged salutes with the Navy Yard. The Constitution sailed from Havana May 21, and from Key West on the 24th, and is now, for the first time, in Portsmouth (lower) harbor.

List of Officers.—Commodore, Isaac Mayo; Commander, John Rudd; Lieutenants, S. F. Hazard, B. M. Dove, Samuel Larkin, C. R. P. Rodgers, A. G. Clary; Fleet Surgeon, M. G. Delaney; Passed Ass't Surgeon, J. L. Burtt; Ass't Surgeon, J. C. Coleman; Purser, J. H. Watmough; Marine Officer, Brev. Maj. N. S. Waldron; Master, Colville Terrett; Midshipmen, W. H. Dana, W. L. Bradford, Æneas Armstrong; Commodore's Clerk, Edward Cobb; Captain's Clerk, W. L. Swazey; Purser's Clerk, Richard Reardon; Acting Boatswain, Extra Chamberlain; Gunner, A. S. Lewis; Carpenter, Lewis Holmes; Sailmaker, W. Bennett; Boatswain, T. C. Berry, (Supernumerary); Master's Mate, T. H. Lawrence, (Supernumerary.)

The "Constitution" has been in commission since the 22d of December, 1852, and has not lost a man by disease, and but one (James Lee of New York) by accident. She sailed from New York on the 2d of March, 1853.

AN INCIDENT.—One afternoon last week, an engine drawing a train on the Eastern Railroad, gave a shriek just as it reached the depot, in this city. This startled the horses attached to the four hacks standing near, and three of the carriages were soon flying down street without drivers, at rather more than a safe rate. One was brought up by the pole striking the gas-light post at the head of Vaughan Street, which, by the blow, was knocked over, and the carriage also somewhat demolished; another, in which was a gentleman passenger, was stopped safely near by the Concord depot—the occupant stating that he feared any attempt to get out would frighten the horses! The third was brought up against the wooden store house at the foot of Deer street, and considerably injured. No person was harmed, but the amount of damage to the carriages was considerable. The hackmen think the whistling was as unnecessary as it was unprecedented—and that somebody ought to pay them for repairs.

☞ Pierce's Ethiopian Minstrels give a Concert at the Temple this evening. Their entertainments are always chaste and agreeable—some of their performances extraordinary. Their concert here a few weeks since, gave good satisfaction, and they will please all who attend this time.

THEATRICAL.—It is generally conceded that the Theatrical Company now playing at the Cameneum, is the best, all things considered, which has ever visited Portsmouth. Unusual attractions are offered this evening. See advertisement.

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY.

Our readers will be glad to know that we are shortly to have a correct Map of Rockingham County. We have examined the plan and a portion of the Map of Rockingham County, which is now in preparation by Mr. J. Coffin, and will be published as soon as completed, by Messrs. Smith and Coffin, as advertised in our columns.

This map will be of great value to the citizens of this county. The publishers have spared no pains to make it accurate, comprehensive, and elegant in its appearance. The body of the map will contain plans of every town in the county, with the roads, rivers, ponds, railroads, and dwelling houses, so distinctly marked out that all local information may be obtained at once. The margin will be ornamented with cuts of the principal public buildings, and the whole work will be completed in a style accordant with the most accurate topographical surveys, and the most skilful designs. We have seen the Map of Essex County, Mass., published by the same publishers, and on the same plan with the new Map of Rockingham. They have been engaged in publishing similar maps of other counties in Massachusetts, and the liberal patronage they have received has been met on their part with care and fidelity in their work. Mr. Coffin is now engaged in exhibiting his plan to the citizens in every part of Rockingham county, and securing such information as will make the map perfect. We recommend him and his project. He is happy to avail himself of such information as those interested will bestow, and his work is in every way worthy of patronage. To every land-holder, and to every man who has the prosperity of the community at heart, the map will be very useful, and highly interesting. The price will be five dollars,—a sum small enough, considering the size of the county, the number of its towns, and the variety of its interests, both upon the seaboard and the interior.

CONFECTIONERY, &c.—Mr. Charles H. Fernald, at the old Dunyon stand, on High St. is constantly supplied with all descriptions of the first quality Confectionery, of his own manufacture, and from the most celebrated manufacturers in the country.—The gum drops advertised by him to-day, are very nice,—comprising many flavors. At his "Granite Saloon" may also constantly be obtained, Cake of all varieties, native and foreign Fruits, &c.

LOW SPIRITS, and the heavy, sleepy feeling so frequent at this season of the year, completely put to flight by one bottle of the OXYGENATED BITTERS, sold by J. H. THACHER, Apothecary, corner of State and Pleasant streets. my31 3t

BUY a Box of AYER'S PILLS, for sale by J. H. THACHER, corner of State and Pleasant streets. my31 3t

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand cures of thousands of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchita, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases you should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

Price 25 cts. per Box—5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. THACHER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m jl d&w

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW YORK, June 1.—The steamship Star of the West, from San Juan, with nearly $500,000 on freight, and 300 passengers, arrived at this port about eight o'clock this evening. She brings San Francisco dates of the 9th ult.

The news is of little interest. Trade had undergone no important change since the sailing of the last steamer.

Large exports of flour and grain continue. The news of the failure of Page, Bacon & Co. was received on the 1st of May; and on the 2d, Page, Bacon & Co. closed their books, after paying out $1400. The concern cannot resume. Several mercantile failures have taken place in consequence; the most important of which was Markwald, Caspari & Co., for $268,000, divided as follows:—New York $5000; San Francisco $43,000; Europe $220,000. Their assets are set down at $218,000. Losses in one year, $309,000.

The failures, it is alleged, have been caused by the depreciation of real property, and the general depression in business.

The United States mint resumed coining on the 8th of May. The amount of dust received on the same day was 18,000 ounces, and of silver 6000 ounces.

The paper of Page, Bacon & Co., is selling at 50 per cent. discount and less.

The Society of Emigration to Sonora, composed of native Californians, has broken up by internal discord, and is considered defunct.

A Jesuit College is to be established in San Francisco.

There was some excitement on the 21st, at St. Barnardino, in consequence of the discovery of gold mines in that city.

The Legislature passed acts, authorizing the city of San Francisco to provide for funding its debt, and to submit the prohibitory liquor law to the people at the next election.

A flare up has taken place between Mrs. Sinclair, manager of the Metropolitan Theatre and the Italian Troupe of Madame Barali Thom. Salaries occasioned the dispute. The company refusing to play without being paid.

The muncipal election in Stockton, took place on the 8th, and resulted in the choice of Fiske, the democratic candidate for mayor. Seven know-nothing, and three democratic aldermen were elected. The harbor master is a K. N.

Mr. George Harrington, formerly of Boston, was dreadfully hurt near the mouth of the Canon, Sierra county, on Wednesday.—He was prospecting some distance below the trail, when a loose rock was started by a passing mule, striking him on the top of the head, fracturing, and smashing in the skull shockingly.

FROM SHANGHAE.—We have seen a letter from a missionary in Shanghae, which, after detailing the distress occasioned by the fighting at that place, says:

Fighting is a horrid business, yet one becomes so accustomed to it after a few months, as scarcely to regard it. I feel troubled to think with what indifference I now witness scenes of blood and suffering.

I have seen much bloodshed—many and many a murdered man. I have seen cannon after cannon discharged into the midst of masses of living beings. I have seen men in all conditions of suffering. Oh, that I could have to see no more! When the war first began here, more than fifteen months ago, I felt exceedingly unhappy at the thought of being in the midst of bloodshed. It still troubles me, but not as at first. I hope it will soon be at an end.

I believe I have told you, in a former part of this letter, that our house is burned to the ground. The Chinese Government pays us for it. I am to receive mine to-morrow. I do not know how much it is, but presume it is enough to enable me to build another. It is difficult to find land in a safe place. Mr. Jenkins has received his. Messrs. Yates and Cabbaniss, of the Baptist Mission, with Messrs. Warden and Carpenter, of the Sabbathian Baptist, all received indemnity for their losses.—N. Y. Com. Adv.

The paucity of cotton supplies at the Southern ports, prevents our receiving any material benefit from the speculations in that article in Liverpool. There is a large amount of cotton in the country, but by the lowness of the rivers, it is rendered as useless in the way of helping our exports and furnishing exchange for the immediate payment of our debts, as if it had no existence. We are so situated, that a rise in what are termed American products, viz.: cotton and breadstuffs, particularly flour and wheat, is only a comfortable assurance, but no real assistance. Our indebtedness for some months will be principally paid in the precious metals; and therefore we may be prepared for a continuance of gold shipments throughout the summer.—N. Y. Express.

THE SEASON IN VIRGINIA.—A correspondent writing from Western Virginia, under date of Friday last, mentions that the weather was delightful in that region. All nature was in her robe of green and flowers. The writer says—The roses have been blessing us with their presence two weeks. The locust trees are in full bloom. The spiral corn is several inches in height, and the winter wheat is beginning to have the appearance of the bearded grain.

POTATOES.—There are large stocks of potatoes in the hands of dealers in Boston, at the present time, notwithstanding which prices are exorbitant. Thousands of bushels will be thrown away, a complete loss, rather than be sold at a price within reach of the poor, half famished creatures who stay in cellars, attics, &c. We are told of one speculator in this article, who said he could afford to lose five hundred bushels, and still would make lots of money.—Bee.

CROPS.—Ohio papers repudiate the idea that there is to be a short crop of wheat in that State, from present appearances, and declare that the wheat fields are in as admirable growth as could be desired.

Four Orthodox churches in Andover are without pastors. Shoemakers' children go without shoes, and the churches in a town [illegible] they make ministers, go without pas[illegible], says an exchange.

TO THE PUBLIC GENERALLY.

HAVING noticed in the Daily Chronicle an advertisement signed by one John Nelson, of Eliot, in the State of Maine, forbidding all persons to pass and re-pass in a certain road laid out across his land, for which road I and one Joseph Dixon have paid full damages as assessed by the selectmen of said town, and said road having been duly laid out by the selectmen and accepted by the town according to law—I would hereby give notice to all my friends and the public generally, that I give my full permission to all persons whomsoever to pass and re-pass in said road so far as I am concerned; and would also notify them that said road is a road which all the public have a right to use as has been decided in the State of New Hampshire and in Massachusetts. Neither John Nelson nor any other man can keep my friends and the public from using the same.—If any one wishes for further information, by calling on me I will give it to them.

Every road to be carefully surveyed by course and distance, and the locations noted of all the Public Roads, Dwellings, Churches, Post Offices, Hotels, Stores, School Houses, Factories, Mills, Shops, Hills, Ponds, Marshes, Streams, &c.

The names of the property holders generally, carefully including all those who order for the work, will be engraved upon the Map, showing the exact location of each.

Extra Maps of Cities and principal villages will be engraved upon the margin of the Map. Also, a Table of Distances, showing the number of miles from each Post Office to every other throughout the County, together with the latest statistical information. A highly ornamented Border, containing Views of Public Buildings, Manufactories, Private Residences, Natural Scenery, &c. will surround the Map.

The Map will be Engraved by the most skilful Artists in the country, handsomely colored and mounted, and will be delivered (to those who order) for five dollars per copy.

We are now actively engaged in forwarding the work, and shall endeavor to give every property holder an opportunity of ordering a copy, and also of examining the work before its final completion, in order to make it satisfactory as to accuracy, &c.

The Map will contain all the information usually found in Town maps, for each of the towns in the County, and it is obvious that the most liberal patronage is needed to sustain us in producing a work of so great magnitude and expense. As it is evidently of such practical utility and interest to business men and citizens generally, presenting so minute and distinct a representation of the County, that even the child may readily acquire a correct idea of each town, village, &c. and their true directions and distances from each other, we confidently solicit and expect the hearty co-operation of the intelligent and enterprising citizens of Rockingham County.

SMITH & COFFIN, Publishers,
BOSTON, MASS.
Address care of IDE & DUTTON, Boston Map Store, No. 106, Washington street.

We, the undersigned, having examined the recent survey and drafts of this County, also a Topographical Map of Hartford Co. Conn., published by Messrs. Smith & Co. take pleasure in recommending the Topographical Map of this County, which is very much needed, being of great practical utility to business men and citizens generally, and from the united testimonials and recommendations they have from distinguished gentlemen where they have made surveys and published County Maps, we feel confident they will furnish an accurate, reliable and useful map and directory well worthy of liberal patronage. We hope the citizens of this County will interest themselves sufficiently in this enterprise that the publishers may engrave upon the margin of the map extra plans of the city and principal villages on an enlarged scale. Considering the expense of such a survey of the whole County, (thirty-eight towns) being, as it is, entirely local work, we think they offer it very reasonable.

SPAIN AND CHURCH PROPERTY.—The Queen of Spain has sanctioned the law by the Cortes, confiscating the property of the Church. The Queen resisted so long as she dared. She resisted until she was told, "If you refuse, 'the Republic' will be proclaimed in Spain to-morrow;" and then, with "her eyes full of tears," she signed the bill. The value of the property released from mortmain by this measure, is estimated as high as $300,000,000, but no accurate statistics are as yet prepared. Probably the Treasury of Spain may not realize an actual benefit of more than from $150,000,000 to $200,000,000.

MONUMENT TO FRANKLIN.—A tasteful granite shaft has lately been erected to the memory of Franklin, by Thos. Dowse, Esq., upon his lot at Mount Auburn, a little west of the chapel, in one of the pleasantest portions of the enclosure,—at once a conspicuous and pleasing object. It is inscribed, "To the Memory of BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, the Printer, the Philosopher, the Statesman, the Patriot, who by his Wisdom blessed his Country and his Age, and bequeathed to the World an illustrious example of Industry, Integrity, and Self-Culture. Born in Boston MDCCVI. Died in Philadelphia MDCCXC."

ANOTHER POINT DECIDED UNDER THE RECIPROCITY TREATY.—The Secretary of the Treasury has written to the deputy collector at Island Pond, Vt., near the Canada line, that hemlock bark to be used for tanning, is entitled with all other species of barks, to free entry under the reciprocity treaty.

Morning Chronicle.

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY, for June. 1855, contains, as its first article, The History and Mystery of Tobacco, with numerous illustrations. It is a well written article, and gives all the good things said about tobacco, as well as the evil things. We copy the close of it.

In conclusion we would say that a curious and instructive work could be written upon the influence of tobacco upon the intellectual character of nations. It makes the French more gay, the Spaniards more grave. It has confirmed the Germans in their speculative philosophies, and made fatalism the constitution, instead of a belief of the Moslem, and weakened the animal activity of all. What was heretofore action is now smoke. The Turks, who, before the discovery of tobacco were the terror of Christendom, have sunk under its enervating influence into second childhood.

The Hollanders, whose ancestors wrested a country from the waves of the ocean, and once swept the seas with a broom, emblematical of their naval prowess, now live upon the exploits of the past, and smoke undismayed amidst all the confusion of the present and the threatnings of the future. But in spite of these sad examples of national lethargy before us, we must confess that we sometimes envy the refreshing calmness of their stagnation, particularly when contrasted with the death-inviting activity of the American character.

The use of tobacco upon our own people is exhibiting its effects by increasing the mental activity at the expense of the physical frame. It is stripping our men of all corporeal weight, and leaving them, like over-trained steeds, to fly across, not travel the field of life. The rising generation is attenuated, but the brain is large—the jaws are shrinking up and crowding the teeth, but the imagination is expanded, and self-confidence knows no bounds. What the future will develop, no one can determine; but if our disregard of natural laws is persisted in—if we cultivate only the intellectual, and forever neglect the well-being of the earthly temple—we must eventually resemble those ambitious steamers whose engines, being too large for the hulls, as a consequence shake themselves rapidly to pieces by the very power that sends them ahead. While contemplating on the evils of such a result, we can but regret that we are not a nation possessed of a slight infusion of that refreshing slowness so peculiar to the Turks and Hollanders—that our immense consumption of tobacco should not calm our nerves—that its smoke should not encourage us in the occasional practice of quiet aspirations. If this were the case, then tobacco, "well-qualified" and "opportunely taken," would indeed be a "virtuous herb," and its enemies become as silent as are the ashes that fall from Uncle Toby's pipe.

The June number of Harper begins a new volume. Its success is great and increasing.

Lord Lyndhurst, ex-Chancellor of England, in a speech recently delivered in Parliament, presented an educational contrast that gives food for reflection. When he entered public life he found, he tells us, that the majority of the members of the House of Commons had been educated in one of the Universities; now he finds that not more than one-sixth, or at the most, one-fifth, have been so educated. No wonder, then, that Latin quotations in the House are now so scarce.

ARREST OF BAKER.—The Washington Star of Thursday, remarks, that those who think that the arrest of Baker out of the territory of the United States, by United States law officers, was illegal, are mistaken. He had at no time gone beyond the jurisdiction of the United States, as he had constantly been on an American vessel, under the American flag. If he succeeded in landing on the Canary Islands, the arrest would have been illegal.

INFLUENCE OF SLAVERY ON FREE LABOR. Philanthropy, when it contemplates a slave holding country, may have its first sympathies excited for the slaves; but it is a narrow benevolence which stops there. The needy freeman is in a worse condition. The slave has his task, and also his home and his bread.—He is the member of a wealthy family. The indigent freeman has neither labor nor house nor food; and divided by a broad gulf from the upper class, he has neither hope nor ambition. He is so abject that even the slave despises him. The interest of the slave holder is diametrically opposite to that of the free laborer. The slaveholder is the competitor of the free laborer, and by the help of slaves takes the bread from his mouth. The wealthiest man in Rome was the competitor of the poorest free carpenter. The patricians took away the business of the sandal makers. The existence of slavery made the opulent owners of bondmen the rivals of the poor—greedy after the profits of their labor, and monopolizing those profits through their slaves. In every community where slavery is tolerated, the poor freemen will always be found complaining of hard times.—Bancroft.

COUNTERFEIT GOLD COIN.—Among the curiosities of this city, the Sub-Treasury possesses peculiar attractions; and perhaps in all its departments nothing strikes the stranger with more wonder than the facility with which Mr. Birdsal, the tester of coin, detects a spurious or counterfeit piece. This morning a pile of half eagles were undergoing his scrutiny, and as he rattled the coin through his hands, with more rapidity than most persons use in counting, he threw out one of the pieces. On examination it proved to be a counterfeit, tolerably well executed. We had the curiosity to inquire whence the money came, and learned that it was from the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia! Of course it was not coined there, very probably paid into the Treasury from the Collector's office; but we should think the Treasurer's Cashier ought to be sufficiently expert, and familiar with the genuine, to detect a base coin. If the payments by the Treasurer of the Mint cannot be relied on as a guaranty of genuineness, we must all go into the study for our own protection.—N. Y. Jour. Com.

TUESDAY, JUNE 5, 1855.

RUM RIOT IN PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, June 2.—Anticipating the action of the city government on the question, Neal Dow bought $1600 worth of liquor for the city agency, which arrived two or three days since. The city council not purchasing it at their meeting on Thursday night, it remained on his hands, and to-day some citizens entered a complaint, and have had a warrant served upon him for having liquor with intent to sell. In the mean time the board of aldermen assembled in the afternoon and purchased it of him. Some curiosity is felt by the citizens as to the termination of the matter.

June 3.—About 10 o'clock last evening a mob assembled around the building occupied as the city liquor agency, and attempted to break in for the purpose of destroying the liquor. The police stationed inside were unable to disperse the mob, and two military companies were called out.

At a later hour, the mob succeeded in breaking in the door, and then the military, drawn up on the other side of the building, fired through the shop, killing one man named Ephraim Robbins of Eastport, second mate of the barque Louisa Eaton, of Portland, and wounding several others; some severely. A detachment of the Rifle Guard then charged bayonets round the building, scattering the knots of citizens and wounding an old gentleman of seventy, passing the square on his way home, and who was too old to run. After a few arrests the crowd dispersed. Another man is said to have died this morning.

We had observed some paragraphs in the rum papers at Portland, a day or two previous, which seemed to threaten some trouble of this kind.

If Neal Dow, or any body else, has broken the letter of the law, let him take the consequences.

Since the above was in type, we have read three long accounts of the matter, from the three daily papers of Portland, published on Monday. They add many particulars, but confirm most of the above statements.

The three accounts also differ considerably in relation to facts, and very widely as to the distribution of blame.

The State of Maine newspaper on Saturday stated that Alderman Ring announced the arrival of liquors for the City Agency, which had not been established, and inquired who the purchaser was—that Mayor Dow acknowledged he had purchased them for $1600, which he had paid, that they were his private property, and did not belong to the city, and so were liable to seizure—and that no appropriation had actually been made, and the liquor was in the sole ownership of Mayor Dow, and in his possession.

The Argus of the same day had a similar article, in which it called upon the police "by virtue of Neal Dow's law, to seize Neal Dow's stock of liquors and pour them into the street."

The Advertiser states, that on the third day of May, the Board of Aldermen passed a vote appropriating a room in the City Hall building to the agency for the sale of liquors, and chose a committee consisting of the Mayor and Aldermen Brooks and Carleton, to make all the necessary arrangements for putting the agency into operation. To facilitate matters against the time when the room should be ready, and as being strictly within the line of their duties, the committee negotiated with an importer in New York for the purchase of liquors in the original packages, stating in what capacity they acted. The liquors were finally sent, invoiced to the "City Agency of Portland," which invoice has been accepted by the Aldermen. Whatever has been done by Mr. Dow, has been done under this vote of the Board of Aldermen, passed May 3, 1855, as a member of the committee appointed by the Board, and in conjunction with the other members. He neither bought the liquors on his own account, nor paid the money for them, nor kept them in his own possession—but he acted throughout as a member of this committee regularly appointed by the Board of Aldermen. Thus the liquors were obtained in the manner required by law, were received and taken in possession as the law provides, and for the use and benefit of the city.

The other proceedings are briefly but fairly given in the telegraphic despatches, as above.

We have not room to-day for the comments of the three papers—but merely remark that the State of Maine newspaper and the Argus throw the blame on "Mr. Dow and his minions," while the Advertiser bestows it upon the ringleaders of the mob and such designing men as set them on.

It is supposed by the police, says the Advertiser, that Robbins, the man who was killed, was the ringleader of the mob around the door, as after his fall they missed the leading voice.

He was the only man killed, as it appears from the Argus, which gives the names of the wounded. He was not killed by the military, but by the police, and was close to the door.

The whole affair will be investigated in the Courts.

DROUTH BROKEN.—We had gentle showers here on Sunday.

In Boston, the same.

In Cincinnati, June 25th, a despatch says: It has been raining finely here since yesterday. Crops of all kinds are doing well.

AN OLD SKIPPER IN A NEW CRAFT.—We have seen a humorous article in a Gloucester paper, dated from Fishtown. It represents a large crew of fishermen choosing a skipper, and building a new vessel on shares. Then, just as they were ready for sea, some old salts raised a question whether the skipper knew how to dispose of the fish. One old salt stuck to it that all the fish were predestined to go in certain ways; and because the skipper would not say Yes, yes—he raised a mutiny, and called fifteen skippers of other crafts, who threw the skipper overboard.—He proved to be a good swimmer, however, and did not drown. Some of the crew of his own vessel picked him up, directly, and most of them are going a fishing with him yet, as soon as they can get a new craft. What is to become of the first vessel, now lying at the wharf, is uncertain.

The story seems to be an allegory. Fishtown is Gloucester; the skipper is Rev. Mr. Hatch; and the old salt is Deacon ——. The fifteen skippers are the council, and their result is the throwing overboard. The crew that picked up the skipper and are going to get a new craft, are supposed to be a majority of Mr. Hatch's former hearers, who meet in Magnolia Hall, and hear him the same as ever.

FOLLY AND SUICIDE.—A New York despatch of Sunday says a man named Thomas Bailey Pussum, formerly Register of San Francisco, and occupying a high position in that city, blew out his brains at a house of ill-fame, in New York, Saturday night, because one of the inmates refused to marry him. He attempted to poison himself about a month ago on the same account.

By a despatch from Philadelphia, we learn that Pussum, who committed suicide on Saturday night in Leonard street, formerly kept a tailor's shop in that city, and was appointed by General Taylor collector of the port of San Francisco, which office he held until removed by General Pierce. His wife is a Philadelphian, and was deserted by him about a year ago, when he returned to San Francisco, with his eldest daughter, leaving three younger children dependent upon their grandmother. It is reported he left San Francisco with $30,000.

His life was horrible; his death appropriate to such a life. He flies "to the pit; let no man stay him."

INDICTMENT FOR MURDER.—The Grand Jury of the Municipal Court, Boston, on Saturday morning returned a true bill of indictment against Aaron Sias, for the murder of his wife at the St. Lawrence House, Causeway street, in March last, by strangulation. Some forty witnesses were examined by the Grand Jury, and the evidence is of a strong circumstantial character.

The case will be duly certified up to the Supreme Judicial Court, where the defendant will be arraigned, and the time for trial fixed. S. D. Parker and John T. Paine are counsel for the prisoner.

BOUNTY LANDS.—The Commissioners at Washington have decided that Engineers, Firemen, and coal heavers, are entitled to bounty lands, only when employed at sea.—The number of applications received for bounty lands during the month of May was 45,000. The total number of applications received is 158,000. The total number acknowledged, 75,000, and total number of warrants issued, 1,290.

WEST POINT.—The annual examination of the Cadets at West Point commenced on Friday last. The graduating class is now composed of only 34 members. It started four years since with over 50. The class contains only one New Hampshire name, E. Gay.

FOURTH OF JULY IN BOSTON.—The Boston Evening Gazette says:—

Both regiments composing the 1st brigade, have voted not to accept the invitation of the city government to do escort duty on the 4th of July. We take it, that by this vote, no disrespect is intended, but there is a general disinclination to parade on that day, especially in the 1st regiment, the members of which have other occupations, more in accordance with their taste, for that day. Last year the weather was so extremely hot, that many who paraded suffered very seriously from the consequences. It is useless to call out six or seven hundred men to escort fifty or sixty, and the procession at best is useless. The money offered to the military, can be appropriated to other purposes from which the people will derive even greater amusement than looking at a couple of regiments of closely buttoned up, sweltering, hot and suffering soldiers.

Useless, is it? Do we understand the Evening Gazette, that all Fourth of July parades are useless or worse? Shade of John Adams! Spirit of Yankee Doodledom! What will become of the country?

A CHEERFUL PHILOSOPHY.—The following truthful passage occurs in one of Frederica Bremer's book:

There is much goodness in the world, although at a superficial glance one is disposed to doubt it. What is bad is noised abroad, is echoed back from side to side, and newspapers and social circles find much to say about it; while what is good goes at best, like sunshine, quietly through the world.

Three hundred babies, to which Barnum's show is limited, have been registered, and the Exhibition will open on the 5th of June.

LOCAL.

☞ At a special meeting of the Board of Aldermen, held on Monday evening, the resolution from the Common Council, authorizing the purchase of the "Wentworth Estate" on Daniel street, was passed in concurrence.

The committee to whom was referred the subject of establishing a Municipal court, reported adversely, and the matter was laid on the table.

PIERCE'S ETHIOPIAN MINSTRELS gave a capital concert at the Temple last evening—and announce their last entertainment in this city on this (Wednesday) evening, with change of programme. They are hard to beat in their line.

☞ The annual meeting of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad, was held on Monday at North Berwick, and the old board of Directors re-elected without opposition—as follows:

Messrs. Ichabod Goodwin of Portsmouth, Albert Thorndike of Beverly, Southworth Shaw of Boston, Thomas West of Haverhill, Josiah Calef of Saco, Charles E. Barrett of Portland, and John D. Lang of Vassalborough.

WASHINGTON, June 4th.—The National Intelligencer learns by letters from Paris, that Mr. Perry has obtained from the Spanish government an entirely satisfactory statement of the "El Dorado" case, as well as that of our vice consul at Sagna La Grande. The Lieut. Governor, who arrested Mr. Thompson, is to be dismissed. Such instructions have been issued to cruisers as will prevent a recurrence of any difficulty.

M. De Cueta, the Spanish Minister, returns home at his own request.

Two large distilleries are going up in Charlestown, Mass., for the manufacture of rum. The failure of the grape harvest abroad, and the prohibition of the distillation of grain in Europe, in connection with the demand for the allied army, have given a great impetus to the business, and made its profits very large.

An Alabama paper gives the particulars of a trade between two men in that State, which comprehended nothing less than an exchange of wives. The whole performance had the sanction of the women, and one of the men gave the other a cow and calf as boot.

A NATIVE AND YET A STRANGER.—Under this head the New Bedford Mercury of Thursday announced that there arrived in that city on Wednesday, in the good steamer Eagle's Wing, from Nantucket, Mr. Charles Folger, a native of the island, now in the 76th year of his age, who, during a long life of activity and industry, has accumulated a handsome property; but who, strange as it may seem, had never before set his foot upon the continent. Shortly after his arrival, Mr. Folger was invited to join in an excursion by the New Bedford and Taunton Railroad Company to Taunton, and upon returning he was accompanied by Hon. Joseph Grinnell, Wm. T. Russell, Esq., and other distinguished citizens to several of the more prominent points of interests which New Bedford offers to the inspection of the visitor. The wonderful performance of the "iron horse" over the railway track, conveying his burthen with the velocity of more than 20 miles an hour, of course excited no little surprise when seen by our septuagenarian for the first time; but even this was surpassed by the surprising result produced by the same superhuman power as exhibited at the Wamsutta cotton manufactory, the extent of the buildings, the gigantic power of its vast machinery, and the ease and simplicity by which it is rendered entirely subservient to the will of the operative in its various departments, as a substitute for manual labor, in producing as it were by a single operation a superior fabric of cloth from the raw material. Mr. Folger returned to Nantucket on Friday, highly delighted with the civilities tendered him, and with what he had seen on the continent of America, during an absence of thirty-six hours from his "island home."

We learn that there is yet another individual, a native of Nantucket, a year older than Mr. Folger, who has never been off the island, and we have no doubt that Capt. Cromwell, "of the good steamer Eagle's Wing," would be most happy to tender him "the freedom of his ship," if he could be persuaded to leave his native isle. It surely is worthy of special mention, that we have a native born citizen of Massachusetts, who has resided in the United States ever since the adoption of the Federal Constitution, and although he has been in the country for seventy-seven years, has never visited the continent of America.—Boston Transcript.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

Memories of Youth & Manhood,

BY SUSAN WILLARD.

THIS work contains a short biographical account of the Author's progenitors, from the first emigrants to Massachusetts Bay, to Joseph Willard, President of Harvard College, of whom it contains a full memorial. Also the Author's personal memories, beginning with the earliest, and extending in the order of time until his resignation of his Professorship in Harvard College in 1831.

In these several periods the Author has more to say of his cotemporaries and associates, of his instructors, of his fellow-students and class-mates, their studies, amusements, customs, habits, societies, &c. than of what pertains mainly to himself.

The work was undertaken at the urgent request of the Author's friends, and embraces notices of many celebrated persons.

HORRID MURDER IN HOPKINTON, N. H.—A letter to the Herald, dated Hopkinton, N. H., June 1st, says:

"A man by the name of Stephen Washer was murdered in the neighborhood of Clement's Pond, in this town, yesterday afternoon, by a mulatto named Haskell, and a paramour of the latter, who says the deceased insulted her. The body was shockingly mangled, the head being chopped away with an axe, and the abdomen cut away with the same instrument. Coroner Eastman of Concord is holding an inquest. Haskell and the negro woman have been arrested, and confess the murder, which was also witnessed by a negro named David Francis. The parties have borne a very bad character."

NEW ORLEANS, May 30.—Mr. Soule publishes a letter stating that there is not a word of truth in the recent letter of Mr. Perry, Secretary of Legation at Madrid, and says that the baseness of the impudent writer is only equalled by his hypocrisy and cowardice. He also says that he is preparing for the press a picture of Perry's doings, during his (Mr. Soule's) mission to Spain.

A beautifully harmonious legation.

The Board of Health has declared the cholera epidemic in New Orleans. The deaths last week were quite numerous.

STRANGE CAUSALTY.—About the 20th of April last, Mr. Hiram Harmon, a gentleman residing near Erie, in Iowa, and well known to the most of our citizens, mounted his horse towards evening to hunt his cattle. During his absence a thunder storm came up, and we are informed that nothing more was seen of Mr. H. till the next morning, when he was found by some one in search of him, wandering near his residence in a state of utter imbecility or insanity. His horse was found dead, apparently from a stroke of lightning, and it is supposed it is from the effect of the same that Mr. H. is suffering. He was still, at last accounts, unable to give any information in relation to the manner in which he was injured, and there appears to be but a small prospect of the speedy recovery of his reason. This is one of the most singular occurrences of which we have ever heard—Chicago Tribune, May 29.

ACCIDENT.—A serious accident occurred on the morning of the 30th of April, near Plummer's store on Dry Creek, California, caused by the falling of a bank in a hydraulic claim, killing one man almost instantly, and severely injuring another. The name of the deceased was John Millinon, from Dubuque, Iowa. He leaves a wife and two children in Galena, Illinois. The name of the wounded man is John Fiske, of Concord, New Hampshire.

THE DROUGHT IN LOUISIANA.—There has been rain everywhere, except in this unfortunate section of the Union. Here the drought is without precedent in our history. The earth has been baked to the hardness of burned clay; vegetation has been at a stand for many weeks; the trees have not vigor to put forth their leaves, and have a dull, faded aspect; the creeks and bayous are all dry; the cisterns have been for weeks forgotten; the cattle have been driven from the interior to the river, to find water to assuage their thirst, and many have perished in the boggy swamps and creeks, from which they have not had strength to escape. The cane crop is nearly ruined; the stalks which ought to have been waist high, have barely struggled above the surface of the earth, and in many places the planters have turned the cattle into the corn fields.

For nine weeks there has not been half an hour's rain. Never in the meteorological annals of our country has there been such a drought.

This drought not only damages seriously the prospective crop, but it operates most embarrassingly on the transportation to this market of the crop of the past year, large accumulations of which have collected at the head of the several streams communicating with the Mississippi and the lakes.—N. O. Delta.

There have been received at the patent office, several bushels of forty days' maize or Indian corn from the south of Spain, reported to ripen six weeks after planting. It is designed to be distributed for experiment in the higher latitudes of the United States, as well as on the elevated districts of the Alleghany and Rocky mountains. From its analogy to some of our own varieties of corn, there is a probability of its succeeding in any of the warmer parts of the country.

A DESPERATE LEAP.—Friday night as the 10 o'clock outward train from Newton was passing this side of Cambridge Crossings at a lightning rate, an Irishman, in order to make a 'short cut' for his dwelling, leaped from the cars. When the train arrived at the crossing the engineer put back, expecting to find the lifeless body of the Irish Sam Patch, but lo! and behold, he had received only a slight cut upon the head. On being asked why he made the jump, he replied—"An' shure can't a man jump when he plases in this fray counthry?"—Boston Herald.

BAD HABITS.—It appears that certain Methodist ministers chew tobacco and spit over the floors of their hospitable entertainers during the good time of Conference. We presume this is not confined to the Methodists in question, nor exceptional as to time or place.

'Sister Gifford'—bless her tidy heart—as it seems from a letter of the Rev. Rufus E. King, of West Martinsburg, was ready to accommodate at her house three preachers of the Black River Conference who did not use tobacco, and Mr. King tells the brethren they do not know the trouble they cause the kind families who entertain them, by not being like the three.

Squirting tobacco juice is emphatically not apostolic. We read of the primitive teachers of Christianity doing coarse hard work, but we never hear of their forgetting good manners. Indeed, Bishop Hooker calls St. Paul a gentleman. But imagine the apostle taking a quid out of his mouth and then expectorating a shower of nasty saliva, before he began his famous oration! And is it less improper for the preacher of the Gospel now-a-days to chew and spit? Figure him at a Conference where he rises to enforce with oratorical generalizations the great interests of the Church and humanity, and prefacing his discourse by spitting out the nastiest of poisons! Shame on such clerical uncleanliness! It may befit felons and rowdies—but gentlemen and Christians never!—N. Y. Tribune.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT

Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, crooked or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

JAMES A. WOODBURY.

FRENCH CIRCUS,

COMPRISING the very celebrated TOURNAIRE TROUPE, with all the distinguished artists who have appeared in this country during the last five years, and also those whose performances in Europe have secured to them a world-wide reputation, will exhibit in PORTSMOUTH, on THURSDAY, June 7.

TICKETS 25 CENTS.

Doors open at 2 P.M. and 7 P.M., to commence at 2½ and 7½ o'clock.

It is impossible to do more than simply mention a few of the names of the various artists connected with this magnificent CIRCUS.

There are no supernumeraries—all are brilliant stars—a host individually, and when combined, form a troupe never before equaled in the world. The Proprietors feel confident the Public will appreciate their success in uniting as a company so much acknowledged talent.

MADAME TOURNAIRE.—No lady in ancient or modern time, has ever equaled this accomplished Artist in the courage, beauty and finish of her exhibitions. Among other performances, she will ride six horses bare back, bounding from steed to steed, reigning and controlling her flying troupe, during their utmost speed, exhibiting feats of courage and horsemanship, never attempted by any female in this country. The fixed eyes, anxious countenances and breathless suspense of the thousands of her audience in Paris, Rome, Vienna, London, New York, and the larger cities of the Union, wherein this magic Artist has performed—attest the high reputation of the greatest Lady Equestrian in the known world; she has never had her equal, nor will she until the Equestrian education of MLLE. JOSEPHINE, her favorite pupil, is completed, whose youthful grace and beauty, as well as talent, give strong promise of sharing the renown of her great preceptress; she will appear and confirm her growing reputation as a model rider.

MONS. BENOIT—The great Trick Rider, will appear in his Gymnastic and Equestrian performances, startling and amusing his audience with his feats of Horsemanship and Light Balance on Horseback, Cup, Ball, Plate Spinning, Stick Dancing, &c. This celebrated Artist, known to every child in the United States, as receiving the royal patronage of the Sovereigns of England, France, Russia and Austria, has been secured by B. B. & Co., to add, if possible, to the various other attractions presented.

FERDINAND and THEODORE, in their astonishing and daring feats. Master Theodore is the greatest rider of his age in the world.

Mr. A. F. LYMING—The great Flying Cord performer will exhibit his skill in a variety of Æriel Gyrations on the cordo volente.

Mr. SAM WISBE—The great Clown, Hippocondrical Describtor, will appear as Clown. This simple announcement is sufficient, for who has not heard of Sam, the original Clown in this country and among other grotesque fantastics, will introduce his "Mary Hat."

The stupendous Persian feats called LA PERCHE, will be performed by W. J. Smith & Rogers.

Morning Chronicle.

ATCHISON MAKING ANTI-SLAVERY MEN. The outrageous conduct of the gang of outlaws in Kansas, has done more to further the speed of Anti-Slavery sentiment than any thing that has ever happened. Mr. Atchison's secret society will prove the worst enemy the slavery interest ever had.

Sam Houston was right, and the true friend not only of the South but of the whole country, when he opposed the Nebraska bill. His forethought showed the Statesman. He said, in the Senate:

"I cannot believe, from what we have witnessed here to-night, that this will be the exclusive arena for the exercise of human passions, and the expression of public opinions. If the Republic be not shaken, I will thank Heaven for its kindness in maintaining its stability.

This is an eminently perilous measure, and do you expect me to remain here silent, or to shrink from the discharge of my duty in admonishing the South of what I conceive the result will be? I will do it in spite of all the intimidations, or threats, or discountenances that may be thrown upon me.

If this bill passes will there be no shock?—Depend upon it, Mr. President, there will be a tremendous shock; it will convulse the country from Maine to the Rio Grande. The South has not asked for it. I, as the most southern Senator upon this floor, do not desire it. If it is a boon that is offered to propitiate the South, I, as a Southern man, repudiate it. I reject it. I will have none of it."

Well would it have been for the South, and the country, if other Southern Senators had followed Houston's example. The country is now beginning to feel the shock.—America's Own.

THE OTHER SIDE.—A New York correspondent of the Albany Express gives the following picture of that city, which is somewhat different from those drawn by the New York papers:

"One does not see that New York, under the administration of Mayor Wood, differs much from New York as governed by Kingsland or Woodhull. There has been a great cry of reform, but the evidences of its practical operation are not striking. Broadway is as gay and wicked as ever. The gin palaces are no less splendid and enticing than they were before the coronation of King Fernando and his triumphant inauguration of his new era in morals. Gay Lotharios, in all the different stages of thirst, crowd as of yore around the marble altars, and sacrifice to Bacchus. Nor are the rites of Venus neglected. Her votaries throng the streets, and flaunt themselves after nightfall in an endless procession of painted misery. The Mayor's crusade has been a failure. A non-resident visiting the city looks in vain for the tangible proofs of reform so pretentious and so much glorified."

Probably the Mayor has not wrought miracles—nevertheless he has done well, in spite of great obstacles, maugre the carping of a correspondent.

THE TREMONT TEMPLE.—Mr. Gilbert, in a communication to the Christian Reflector, says that the estimate of the architect of the cost of rebuilding the Tremont Temple was $48,487. It was thought by the trustees that by the use of the old material, a structure could be erected for about $50,000; but the architect now demands a commission on an expenditure of $105,000. "This unexpected result," Mr. Gilbert adds, "has created a debt, on account of which we see no alternative but to sell the property.

This is certainly making a close estimate on the expense of erecting a building. We learn that the cost of Rev. Dr. Wales' Church, (built by the same architect,) has exceeded the first estimates by several thousand dollars. Who is to blame?—Boston Bee.

A TROUBLESOME CHURCH MEMBER.—Spending a night in a certain neighborhood of A——, we inquired of our host a fair Christian man, how the church got on, for we passed a neglected frame chapel at the cross roads.

'O, poorly,' said he, 'poorly enough.'

'Why, what's to pay? You are in a thick settlement of intelligent people, able to keep a congregation and support the gospel.'

'Just so,' sighed he, but one troublesome man has broken up the society, and keeps it broke up. It was an unlucky day for the church when he moved here. Yet he is a person of good parts, and of an interesting family. Before he came here he had troubles in the same way.

We suggested that perhaps the troublesome man's peculiarities were not consulted; indulge him a little. It may be that he wants to lead.

O, as to that, we've tried him in the lead, and every way. He is not satisfied with leading, but turns round and butts the wheel horse.

We gave it up. Our host was a farmer, and the illustration cut like an argument.—David had a few of this kind in his mind when he wrote the 12th Psalm.

Philadelphia is by far the largest manufacturing city in the Union; her factories of cotton, woollens, carpets, iron, glass, and fine shoes, employ thousands of hands. One element of her prosperity consists in the employment given to hand-loom weavers, a speciality of this labor being the finest ginghams made in the country. Labor of all kinds is 25 per cent. lower than with us in Boston; for instance—porters in warehouses receive 15 cents an hour; and one dollar and a half per day is the maximum for journeymen mechanics. The expenses of living here are in the same ratio, and house rent is only one half what it is in Boston.—Cor. Boston Transcript.

ORNAMENTAL CORNICES AND CENTRE PIECES.
LUTHER N. HURD,
NO. 38 and 40 State street, continues to make and put up Ornamental Cornices, Centre Pieces, and other Stucco work, much cheaper and vastly more beautiful than ornaments of Papier Mache. Many specimens of his work may be seen in buildings in this city and elsewhere.
He has lately added to his stock by purchasing that of Mr. Samuel Reynolds; and would respectfully invite the customers of both, and the public generally, to call on him for work in the line of Stucco Ornaments, Plastering, Coloring and Mason Work generally. j5 6m

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 6, 1855.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

This honorable body meets at the State House in Concord this day; and enters upon the work of legislation under circumstances of no little interest. The members have been elected to places by a remarkable revolution in the political aspect of the State,—and are expected, both by those who hope and fear such a result, to depart from the beaten track of their illustrious predecessors.

The organization of the Judiciary is a work of great importance, and is loudly demanded. But inasmuch as the public voice does not say so distinctly what it would have, as what it wishes to be rid of, viz.: some great defects and delays in the present system,—it may be a difficult task to satisfy the legislature itself, in executing this task.

They are expected to pass, and no doubt will pass, a new liquor law, modeled from the Maine and Connecticut laws.

They have to choose two Senators to represent New Hampshire in Congress—good men and true, we hope.

They are expected to reform the State Senatorial Districts, according to the Constitution of the State. No doubt they will do it.

They may also perhaps re-enact a personal liberty law, with improvements. And when we make proper allowance for the usual amount of business, public and private,— we must look for a busy session, and not a very short one.

There is said to be a fair amount of talent in both Houses,—and we hope it may be judiciously employed.

FURTHER PARTICULARS.

As many readers wish for more particulars of the great Rum Riot in Portland, we give the the following items, condensed from the Advertiser's account.

The selling of intoxicating liquors in Portland, for a beverage, is now chiefly done by the Irish—and they have been stirred up by designing men to oppose the law.

On Saturday afternoon, immediately on the opening of the Police Court, Royal Williams, Joshua Stevens, and Alvin S. Dyer, appeared before the Court for the purpose, as Mr. Williams stated, of making a complaint against Mayor Dow for having liquors unlawfully in his possession. They were accompanied by an officer, (Mr. Brady) and there soon appeared in the Court Room a dozen or fifteen citizens, well known as opponents of the liquor law. The judge immediately put the complainants under oath, and inquired if they could conscientiously swear that they had reason to believe and did believe that the specified liquors were kept by Mr. Dow, and were "intended for sale within the State in violation of the law?" They hesitated at first, but Mr. Williams finally said they were ready to take the requisite oath and sign the complaint—and these three men then made the solemn oath and signed the complaint.

The judge at once proceeded to make out the warrant, and gave it to officer Ring, against the protest and demand of Mr. Williams, who wished to take it himself and give it to Mr. Brady. Ring went to the City Hall and took the liquors, but did not remove them, as Brady would probably have done,—and as the mob no doubt expected. They gathered round, angry and grumbling at their disappointment, but beyond threats, did nothing till evening.

At an early hour in the evening there was a large crowd around the building. A little after 8 o'clock, the Marshal, with some six or eight of the police armed with pistols, entered the room where the liquor was stored. About half past 8, the mob began to throw stones against the door on Congress street, breaking out the glass in the upper part of the door.—The Marshal then gave orders to the police to keep on either side of the door, so as to be out of reach of any stones that might come in, and not to fire their pistols until some one should attempt to enter. In the meantime, the Marshal repeatedly cautioned the mob to desist upon peril of their lives—and in the course of the evening they were ordered to disperse by the Sheriff of the County and also by the Mayor. At length one man, who appeared to be a ringleader in the mob, came to the door, swearing horrible oaths, and using most insulting and violent language towards the police in the room. He called them "a pack of damned cowards,"—challenged them to fire, and taunted them by saying they did not dare to fire. Then he harangued the mob, urging them to come on, assuring them that there was no danger—that the police were cowards and had only blank cartridges, and dared not fire upon them if they had.—The Marshal again warned him upon peril of his life not to attempt to enter the room. But, under his leadership, the mob made a violent rush for the door, which, however, proved too strong for them. The police then fired, but intentionally aimed over their heads, hoping to frighten and thus avoid the necessity of killing. This checked them for a few minutes, but the same voice was again heard rallying the mob, assuring them that nobody was hurt—that they were only blank cartridges, and another rush was made for the door, the leader reaching in and attempting to unbar it. The police then fired with effect. One man, named Robbins, as we are informed, a mate of an Eastport vessel, fell dead or mortally wounded close by the door, and it is supposed he was the man who had been so busy in inciting the mob, as that voice was not again heard during the evening. Of this, however, the police are not certain, as they were not able clearly to distinguish objects in the darkness and confusion. Prior, however, to the firing by the police, a military company, "The Light Guards," or a portion of the company, marched through the crowd and took a position in front of the door on Congress street, when the mob began to pelt them with stones, and several of the soldiers were severely injured. An order was given to them to fire, thinking that the order itself might possibly terrify the mob. But the order was not executed, and the company finally retired to their armory, somewhat in confusion.

The "Rifle Guards" were then called upon, and promptly responded to the call. Mayor Dow with Aldermen Carleton and Brooks (the committee appointed by the Board of Aldermen) put himself at their head—they marched into the armory of the Light Guards and took their guns, (as their rifles were without bayonets) secured some cartridges and then marched down through the crowd, and into the room, through the door on Middle street. Orders were then given for them to fire through the door on Congress street, in squads of four. This order was executed, and six or seven men wounded, more or less severely.—A few rounds sufficed to drive the mob from the door, and gradually, at about 12 o'clock, the mob dispersed, leaving the police, the military and city authorities in quiet possession of the room, with the consciousness that they had discharged their duty, and that law and order had prevailed against a lawless mob—a mob, too, gotten up entirely without cause or provocation, and as despicable in all its features as any that ever assembled on the face of the earth! The rumseller would force every citizen who may need spirituous liquors in sickness, or for any proper purpose, to either purchase of him at his low groggery, or to be compelled to do without them. Hence the bitter opposition of every rumseller to a "City Agency"—a feeling which is generally manifested also by all rum-sympathizers and bitter opponents of the liquor law. And, as we have before said, the traffic in this city being now confined almost exclusively to the Irish population, this feeling is strongest and most violent with them. They form the nucleus around which it all centers. The ignorance and excitable character of many of them, render them easy dupes of the more designing, and ready to be pushed forward into any scene of violence in opposition to law and order—and in this city, they seem banded together in large numbers, acting with a defiant air that would indicate a consciousness of being, at least indirectly, upheld and countenanced by some authority which they consider a "higher power" than the law of the land. It remains to be seen whether this spirit of lawless violence among the ignorant and brutal, thus appealed to by the designing, the unprincipled and reckless, shall reign triumphant in our midst, or whether law and order shall prevail, and our authorities be protected in enforcing the laws of the State.

INQUEST.—The State of Maine newspaper, of June 5th, says:

The coroner's inquest was concluded last evening. The following are the names of the Jurors, the inquest being held by Coroner Kimball:

Daniel Winslow, Foreman; Dr. O. E. Durgin, L. M. Heath, Dr. John Lord, Wm. Hase, Nahum Libby.

The following is their verdict:

Deceased came to his death by a gun shot wound, a musket, pistol, or revolver ball shot through his body by some person unknown to the inquest, acting under the authority and by order of the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Portland, in defence of the city property, from the ravages of an excited mob, unlawfully congregated for that purpose, near the City Hall, on Saturday evening, June 2, 1855, of which he, the said John Robbins, was found to be one."

The Argus says:

It is proper to state that the committee appointed by citizens, to attend before the above inquest, decided that it was not advisable to do so under existing circumstances.

Another inquest will undoubtedly be held, before which the whole proceedings of Saturday night, and the legality of the course pursued by the authorities, will be fully and fairly investigated.

The proceedings of the citizens' meeting, as reported in the State of Maine, were very spirited. Mr. F. O. J. Smith made a fiery speech, but Mr. J. B. Brown differed from Mr. Smith, and condemned his course; Mr. Sweat spoke on Mr. Smith's side, and then Mr. Staples cooled off again. Mr. Clifford closed by giving notice of the funeral of the deceased victim—Robbins,—and the meeting adjourned.

MEETING AT PORTLAND.

PORTLAND, June 4—2 1-2 P. M.—A public meeting was called to-day to investigate the proceedings of the city government on Saturday evening, Judge Wells presiding. The meeting was very full, and many were unable to get into the hall. Several leading citizens addressed the meeting. A committee of nine was appointed to investigate and prosecute the charges against the authorities, and also ordered to wait upon the Mayor, and request him, on behalf of the citizens, to resign his office. The funeral of Robbins took place about 6 o'clock this evening, and was attended by a large concourse of citizens. A large number of special policemen are on duty to-night, and no signs of further disturbance appear.

No; there will be no more of that movement. One victim, with the wounded, will suffice.

NEW HAVEN, June 4.—The New Haven city election took place to-day. For Mayor, Alfred Blackman (Dem.) was elected by a plurality of 300—one hundred majority over all opposition. The First Ward elected a Whig, the 2d, 3d and 4th, Democrats. The entire general ticket of the Democrats was elected.

LOCAL.

☞ Rev. Rufus W Clark, of East Boston, is expected to deliver a discourse on Temperance, on Sunday evening next, at the Temple in this city.

DROWNED.—A young man named Card, son of Mrs. Frances Card, a widow lady of Newcastle, fell overboard from Schooner Wm. Penn, bound for Boston, on her passage down the river on Tuesday, and was drowned. His body has not yet been recovered.

PINE APPLES.—Capt. Clark, under the Chronicle office, has just received a lot of very nice Pine Apples, which are for sale at moderate prices. He also has all the seasonable fruits and confectionery.

MARY WILLIAMS.—Our pauper girl and infant, who were sent off in the Daniel Webster, from Boston, are to be brought back again in one of Train's packets, as free second cabin passengers. People in Boston have authorized an advance of $200, for food, clothing and comforts. The same people have guaranteed a purse of $1000, if needed, to support the mother and child, on their arrival.

PAUPER EXTRADITION.

This is, peculiarly, Massachusetts business. But it concerns humanity; and therefore it is also our business. The Boston Transcript has an article on the subject, from which we extract some paragraphs.

Several months ago, the Commissioners of alien paupers for 1854, in their annual report, alluded to the custom of returning paupers to their former homes, and one of them earnestly advocated a change in, or a repeal of, the present law on the subject—calling attention to the fact that since the commencement of the present year a number of lunatics had been removed, and arguing that the law might be the occasion of serious abuses. * *

And now facts are leaking out in relation to recent cases of extradition, which are really appalling, and are well calculated to disgrace the Commonwealth in the eyes of the civilized world, and which most certainly must detract from the force of our protests against and opposition to the slave law.

A young woman, who had never been a pauper until she required some assistance at a time when none but brutes would refuse it, is taken with her little baby, a native born citizen of Massachusetts, and notwithstanding her protestations and prayers, is hurried on board an emigrant ship, and is to be landed abroad, poor, friendless, and utterly forlorn! Why, if the case could have been known in State street for only the period of time occupied by the Nunnery Committee in their visitation in Roxbury, we venture to say that money enough would have been raised to place this unfortunate creature beyond want until she could have supported herself; and we hear it intimated, and hope intimation is true, that the women of Boston will take measures to have one of their sex so cruelly removed, returned to this country, and receive at their hands that assistance which this great and rich Commonwealth refuses to give.—Very often subscription papers are circulated for the purchase of some fugitive slave; why not have a white lion now and then, as well as so many black ones?

And now we were informed by the Advertiser of yesterday, that in the same vessel which took out this poor woman, there was sent a lunatic, who had taken out his first naturalization papers—who had resided in the country thirteen years—had paid taxes—who had friends able to support him, and who were entirely ignorant of his removal until he had been absent eight days!

In the name of a true humanity—a humanity broad enough to protect all colors—we hope and trust we shall have a Legislature next year which will find time enough to look into this subject, and save us from any further disgrace in this respect.

We hope so too. And we have one or two thoughts to add, in this place.

One of them is, that the friends of this lunatic, who were able to support him, ought to have been doing so, and not let him hang on the State, to run this dreadful risk. If they feel badly about it now, they ought to have done something about it before.

We are glad to hear that the women of Boston mean to do something for this poor Irish girl in her trouble,—for then we shall have a good plea for American girls in a similar trouble,—and that too, whether white or black.

The various little inuendoes, on this matter, aimed at the K. N.'s and abolitionists, are not in the best of taste. Neither of them made the offensive law;—but their sin herein is one of omission, viz., that they did not repeal or modify a law which was made by others to prevent a great abuse, but which was made somewhat too sweeping.

We say, let humanity be visible in all our laws.

THE LIQUOR PROSECUTIONS.—In answer to many inquiries (says the Boston Chronicle) that have recently been made of us on the subject, we would state that the prosecutions now on foot against many of our first class hotel keepers and merchants, for alleged violation of the liquor law, have in no instance been pushed by any temperance men or body, but that the cases have been procured and the charges made solely by the police, acting under the especial order of Mayor Smith.

That is pretty nearly the same way in which other police regulations are enforced.

The Hartford Times denies the report that the author of the "Doesticks" letters is dead.

The Pills are used as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Purge out the diseases which ferment on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only write it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

In these several periods the Author has more to say of his cotemporaries and associates, of his instructors, of his fellow-students and class-mates, their studies, amusements, customs, habits, societies, &c. than of what pertains mainly to himself.

GREAT FIRE IN SOUTH BOSTON.—Twelve houses and three factories burned. On Saturday morning, a fire broke out in a pile of hemp as is rumored from a man's throwing a lighted match upon the heap, which he had used to fire his pipe—near the ropewalk of J. S. Burton, quickly consuming that building, and thence extending and burning a block of eight houses, on Quincy street; then destroying the Decoction mill of Ward & Booth, and the varnish factory of King & Dexter. Next three dwelling houses were consumed, on Fifth street; and Harding's block of four tenements were more or less injured. The total amount of property may not be very large, but the loss falls upon mechanics that cannot afford it. A man named Donnavan fell from the roof of a burning building and had his head badly cut; and a woman was severely injured in jumping from one of the consuming houses.

The late rain has been most thankfully received by farmers and gardeners in the region around the cities of New England.—From the Southern country, we hear that the drought, which had sent horror through the land, had been relieved by most prolific rains. In Arkansas the continued stream of rain had caused a general jubilee, and the whole country was in a flood of water, which was greatly desired. The Arkansas River was navigable. The rain has extended North to Washington city and its neighborhood. The Wilmington (N. C.) Herald of Saturday says—"The windows have indeed opened, and the rains descend. In fact, it has been raining all the week, but this morning caps the climax."

THE CAUSE.—The Manchester Mirror contains a minute account of the murder of Washer, at Contoocookville on Thursday May 31st. Cornelius Haskell the murderer is a mulatto; the murderess, whom he calls his wife, is white.

Till now, we have been puzzled for a motive for the murder,—but now it is all out. The Mirror says,

The night before they had got a fresh supply of rum, one gallon, probably of the "fighting" kind, and on Thursday afternoon only two quarts of it remained. So that four of them had a good chance to get into a fighting mood.

We can find no cause for the murder except suspicions raised and set on fire by rum, although the wife says that the deceased insulted her—a thing considered impossible by those who know her.

No doubt the case is wilful murder, caused by rum.

The onion, it is said, destroys the attractive power of the magnet. It has the same effect with young ladies.

About sixty gallons of liquor were seized yesterday by the police, at the steamer Boston's wharf—concealed in a variety of modes, and mostly directed to imaginary individuals. —Bangor Whig.

☞ The Newburyport Mackerel catchers are very successful this season, says the Herald.

AN APPROPRIATE DAY.—The new law of Massachusetts abolishing imprisonment for debt, except in cases of fraud, goes into operation on the fourth day of July next.

BALTIMORE, June 4th.—Virginia Election. The official returns received reduce Mr. Wise's majority below 10,000. The election of Lewis, the democratic candidate for Congress in the 11th Distaict, is in doubt.

A marriage party from Washington county, Md., were poisoned by eating custard in which arsenic had been placed. Some 25 are not expected to live, the bride among the number. All the servants were also sick from eating the custard.

WASHINGTON, June 4th.—City Election—it is conceded on all sides that the American ticket is elected by a small majority. The election passed off very quietly. The vote cast was small.

ST. LOUIS, June 3rd.—Steamer burnt and Loss of Life.—The steamer "Keystone State," bound hence for Peoria, Ill., has been burnt to the water's edge in the Illinois river. Five persons perished in the flames and a number of others were injured. The boat and cargo proved an entire loss. She was owned by a company in St. Louis.

GRATITUDE FOR WHAT?—The display of British gratitude for successes on the Crimea, reminds one of the Thanksgiving proclaimed by his majesty, George the Third, after the American war. "For what," asked a Scotch clergyman, "are we to give thanks? Is it for the loss of two hundred thousand of your Majesty's subjects in battle?" "No." "Is it for increasing our national debt five hundred millions?" "No." "Is it for losing our American Colonies, the brightest jewels in the British crown?" "No." "Then for what in conscience and reason is it."—"It is," said his Majesty, "because things are no worse."—Bee.

We have a rarity in Concord: a clergyman sustaining the pastoral relation, who has so much estate that he could sustain his household upon its income. He came into possession of this property by inheritance in right of his wife and children, and it would, to human view, be well if more of this world's goods fell into the lap of men who, like him of whom we speak, dispenses liberally of their substance. No just person will look with envious eyes upon property which takes such a direction as that to which allusion is here made.—Statesman.

The whole number of Orthodox Congregational churches in Massachusetts, is 469, which are all self-supporting but 35. Sixteen years ago the whole number was 375, and 80 of those required assistance to maintain preaching.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT

Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for heavy work, or for planing very thin, crooked, grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

FRENCH CIRCUS,

COMPRISING the very celebrated TOURNIAIRE TROUPE, with all the distinguished artists who have appeared in this country during the last five years, and also those whose performances in Europe have secured to them a world-wide reputation, will exhibit in PORTSMOUTH, on THURSDAY, June 7.

TICKETS 25 CENTS.

Doors open at 2 P.M. and 7 P.M., to commence at 2½ and 7½ o'clock.

It is impossible to do more than simply mention a few of the names of the various artists connected with this magnificent CIRCUS.

There are no supernumeraries—all are brilliant stars—a host individually, and when combined, form a troupe never before equaled in the world. The Proprietors feel confident the Public will appreciate their success in uniting as a company so much acknowledged talent

MADAME TOURNIAIRE.—No lady in ancient or modern time, has ever equaled this accomplished Artist in the courage, beauty and finish of her exhibitions. Among other performances, she will ride six horses bare back, bounding from steed to steed, reigning and controling her flying troupe, during their utmost speed, exhibiting feats of courage and horsemanship, never attempted by any female in this country. The fixed eye, anxious countenances and breathless suspense of the thousands of her audience in Paris, Rome, Vienna, London, New York, and the larger cities of the Union, wherein this magic Artist has performed—attest the high reputation of the greatest Lady Equestrian in the known world; she has never had her equal, nor will she until the Equestrian education of MLLE. JOSEPHINE, her favorite pupil, is completed, whose youthful grace and beauty, as well as talent, give strong promise of sharing the renown of her great preceptress; she will appear and confirm her growing reputation as a model rider.

MONS. RENOIL—The great Trick Rider, will appear in his Gymnastic and Equestrian performances, startling and amusing his audience with his feats of Horsemanship, and Light Balancing on Horseback, Cup, Ball, Plate Spinning, Stick Dancing, &c. This celebrated Artist, known to every child in the United States, as receiving the royal patronage of the Sovereigns of England, France, Russia and Austria, has been secured by B. B. & Co., to add, if possible, to the various other attractions presented.

FERDINAND AND THEODORE, in their astonishing and daring feats. Master Theodore is the greatest rider of his age in the world.

Mr. A. F. LYMING—The great Flying Cord performer will exhibit his skill in a variety of Æriel Gyrations on the corde volente.

Mr. SAM WELSER—The great Hippocondrical Descriptor, will appear as Clown. This simple announcement is sufficient, for who has not heard of Sam, the original Clown in this country; and among other grotesque fantastics, will introduce his "Magic Hat."

The stupendous Persian feats called LA PERCHE, will be performed by W. J. Smith & Rogers.

Battoutel's Leaping and Tumbling by the Company, with a general variety of Entertainments, the whole exhibiting one of the most amusing and instructive Entertainments ever witnessed in this country, m25 d6tw2t

LIFE IN SAN FRANCISCO.

The San Francisco correspondent of the New York Journal of Commerce, under date of May 9th, in announcing the receipt of the news of the failure of Page, Bacon & Co. of St. Louis, says:

It created a profound sensation throughout our community. The friends and endorsers of Page, Bacon & Co., at once assembled in the Banking House for consultation. Among others who entered the Bankers' office, was a poor woman who held a certificate of deposit for $1,800. She insisted upon its immediate payment, stating that she had been a heavy loser by the failure of Adams & Co., and she was determined to have her money before leaving that night. Her cries and sobs elicited the sympathy of a gentleman present, who offered to pay the debt himself, and draw his check on another bank. This she refused to take. The result was, she stayed in the office until, by her importunity, the teller was forced to open the vault, and pay her the hard dollars, when she took her departure. The Cashier of the American Theatre was on the wharf at the time of the steamer's arrival, and hearing that Page &Bacon had failed in St. Louis, rushed up the street at the rate of 2.40, and went to the Banking House of Page, Bacon & Co., (who had not themselves heard the news,) and he made such representations, that they consented to cash his check for about $10,000, though after bank hours; and thus he saved his "bacon" by being a "fast man" for the times.

During the night many attachments were served on Page, Bacon & Co., and by the break of day the sheriff succeeded in getting the cash for the sum of 40,000 dollars. At 9 o'clock (the usual banking hour,) the doors of the Banking House were partially opened, to admit but one at a time of the immense crowd in attendance; and another door was opened for the egress. It was soon apparent that the immediate friends and patrons of the House were the ones to be benefitted by this unexpected and unwarranted opening of the doors; after it was known that the partner in St. Louis (H. D. Bacon) had made a full assignment of their effects, and that the opening could not be otherwise than temporary.—However, the Bank was opened, and the few who were privileged to enter came out with well-filled bags, and not a few with their ten and fifty thousands, who had made large deposits to help them at a start. We noticed the agents of the P. M. Steamship Company particularly active in removing their deposits amounting to about $76,000; also, the agent of the Nicaragua Transit Company, $46,000, and others well known in the city as fast and firm friends of the house. We are glad, however to see that the women are generally favored, and were allowed admittance at the side door, not even excepting two colored women, who managed to get out well filled stockings of gold.

Wells, Fargo & Co. succeeded in getting on their exchanges, which nearly cleaned them out of gold and silver. One bag of $200, consisted of 3, 5, 6 and 10 cent pieces. The next man, who presented his check for $900, was a cartman, who had one hundred dollars offered him by the owner, if he would go in and draw the money. He went at once to the side door, and by paying a fee of twenty dollars got in. The teller paid him on account thirty-four dollars, saying that was all: but to be sure of it, the cartman went behind the counter, and into the vault, and being satisfied that it was all, departed.—The next and only applicant inside the door, was a woman holding and presenting a check for two hundred dollars. Mr. Francis W. Page told her the money was all gone; but in the fullness of his heart pulled out his gold watch and chain, and told her to take that, as her security, which he would eventually redeem. This she took and departed.—On closing the door precisely at 12 o'clock, there was no disturbance, although the crowd was great. Quietly and silently they all dispersed, and the iron doors remain to this day closed, the glory of the house having departed.

The Banking House of Page, Bacon & Co. heretofore considered invulnerable, has failed, and creditors have already attached property to more than four times the present market value.

Business generally for the week past has been inactive, although a good many goods are being shipped off daily to the interior.

Our auction marts are crowded with Chile and domestic flour; cargo after cargo is offered under the hammer, to be sold to the highest bidder. The lowest sale of a good article of superfine has been at $5 1-2 per barrel. Only half the parcel offered was sold, the balance withdrawn.

Several of our large hardware dealers are selling off their entire stock of shelf goods, &c., under the hammer. These extensive sales are advertised to come off this week, which, judging from a similar sale effected last week, will not average over 37 1-2 to 40 cents on the dollar of Eastern cost.

A SMART OLD LADY.—There is residing in the town of Durham, Maine, a lady by the name of Parker, who is one hundred and ten years old!—having been born in 1744. She was married in 1790, and is now a widow. Our informant who saw her a few days since, says she is an active old lady—going to bed and rising without help, and taking care of herself generally very well.—Argus.

Lewis Sanders Noble, a soldier of the Revolution, and a trooper in Marion's legion, died on the 10th of April, in Clinch county, Ga., at the advanced age of 104 years. Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1855.

DOW'S TRIAL.

PORTLAND, June 5th.—The trial of Neal Dow for having liquors in his possession, with intent to sell, commenced this afternoon in the Police Court. Between 7 and 8 o'clock this evening the Court adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock this morning.

The military were out by order of Gov. Morrill.

The Boston Times had a reporter in the Court, whose despatch agrees very well with the full reports of the Argus and Advertiser.

Dep. Mar. Ring testified to serving the precept and seizing the liquor—one lot of casks was marked Portland Agency, Portland, Me.; some were marked Samuel H. Sawyer, some, S. H. S., some indistinctly, and some not at all.

Alderman Ring, principal witness against Dow, testified as per Argus report:

At meeting of Board, of which I am one, on evening of 31st May, Mr. Dow said, "We're deliberating about an agency." I said, "Mr. Mayor, how came those liquors here?" The reason I asked that question, was because I was absent one evening, and did not know but there might be a committee to procure them. Mr. Dow said, "I ordered them here," or "I got them here." I asked by what authority he got them. He said he had not any authority as he knew of.—* * * * Asked him what amount there was. His reply was $1600 worth. I said, "You got them on your own hook, then, did you?" He replied, "I suppose so." I asked if he thought he would make a good speculation out of it. He said he should, or did not know but he should, I am not positive which. I asked him why they were not seized. He replied they were seized and carried up to the City Hall as soon as they came here.

Cross-Examined.—Did not understand from the conversation of Mr. Dow, that the liquors were procured for the agency, but had no doubt he intended them for the agency. Mr. Clifford objected to this testimony. Mr. Fessenden.—This is a question of intention, and we should be allowed to have the witnesses' opinion. (The Court ruled it not admissible.) * * I said something about selling at auction. Mr. Dow asked me if I would be auctioneer, and I at first said I would. He asked me again, and I said I would not under present law. This was said in reference to the liquors he bought.

Wm. Boyd, city clerk, testified to the Records that the Board of Aldermen, May 3, authorized the use of the shop under the City Hall, for the Liquor Agency, and appointed the Mayor and Aldermen Brooks and Carleton to arrange for the establishment of the Agency.

Capt. Peter Graham, a packet master between Portland and New York, presented the bill of lading of the liquors, they being shipped to the "Portland agency, or their assigns." He could not tell who shipped it, or where it went to when in Portland, as he was absent at the time. No one had agreed to be responsible for the freight before they were taken, and he has not got it yet.

This closed the testimony for the prosecution—clearly making out no case at all, except for the defendant.

For the defence, (per Times report):—

Ald. Libby and Mr. Boyd, city clerk, testified that they were present at the conversation between the Mayor and Alderman Ring, and it appeared to be of a sportive character, particularly that relative to the auction. In regard to the question as to the speculation, Mr. Boyd said the Mayor's reply was, that he did not know as to that. Aldermen Jones and Carleton testified to the same effect.

(As per Argus report):

Alderman S. L. Carleton testified.—The liquors were bargained for by Mayor and myself, as agents of the city and committee of the Board of Aldermen, with the concurrence of Alderman Brooks. They were ordered for the City Agency, with the express agreement that if they came up to his recommendation; they were to be the property of the city. I was acting under the authority of the Order passed May 3rd. No personal responsibility was undertaken by the Mayor or myself.—They were ordered by me for the purpose of lawful sale by the city, under the law of the State. None of the liquor came into the possesion of myself, Brooks, or Dow. I ordered the man to get the liquors insured.—They were not to be for the city if not pure and in original packages. We gauge the order in black and white, Dow wrote it—did not sign it. Dow delivered it to Bronson.

Joseph Ring testified: Considered the conversation serious. Asked for information.—My proposition to sell at auction was not serious.

Ring also testified (per Advertiser report,) "I did have the impression they were acting without authority. We were joking the whole evening."

The defence also presented the record of the Aldermen, dated June 2, accepting the liquors and ratifying the doings of the committee.

[The Argus remarks that Mr. Dow "appeared much jaded and careworn." We have no doubt of it; he must be either more or less than man if he did not.]

☞ Neal Dow, Mayor of Portland, was acquitted on Wednesday, of the sham charge brought against him, for keeping liquors with intent to sell illegally—as we saw he must be from the testimony.

In the Connecticut house of representatives the proposition to allow only those who can read to vote was adopted, 156 to 56.

CALIFORNIA NEWS.

The Northern Light, at New York, brings California news to the 16th, 415 passengers, and $524,000 on freight. Much gold in passengers' hands. Flour and grain were being shipped by whole cargoes, for New York, Liverpool and Australia.

☞ About midnight on Tuesday night, as the express train from New York was running at full speed, about two miles before reaching Worcester, the whole train suddenly bounded off the track, causing a frightful smash-up, but providentially no person was seriously injured. Some miscreant had pried up the rails, and large stones inserted, on purpose to destroy the train and people.

A NEW AMERICAN NOVEL.

We have just received from Fetridge & Co. of Boston, via J. P. Shores, jr., of this city, Blanche Dearwood, a Tale of Modern Life. We find it a spirit stirring, enchanting, enchaining novel—that is to all who can be so enchained. Of this volume, the New York Express speaks as follows:—

In the plot and conduct of the story we do not recall another American work of the kind which displays so skillful a development, or so much art in elaboration. From the first pages to the end, the interest is graduated with accelerating intensity—and that interest is so mainly dependent on the masterly yet delicate disposition of the materials, that we are compelled to concede the highest merits in these respects to the author. The characters are few, but completely fill the scene, and they are contrasted with equal strength and harmony in the grouping.

Whether we may regard it as a delicious love story (and we unhesitatingly commend it to "all true lovers"), or a well knit intrigue skillfully managed with a view to intensity of interest, happy conclusion, pleasant description and incident, or any of the usual excellencies of a work of fiction, we are prepared to accord to it our vote and sanction—as the best new novel before the public, and as likely to continue so for a long season. It will have a splendid run here, and will, undoubtedly be re-printed and read in England.

The New York Times calls it the best American novel of the season.

☞ Frank Leslie's Gazette of Fashions for June, 1855, contains a plate of four elegantly dressed ladies, with stout arms, shoulders and necks, but with hour glass waists. The dresses, some with nine flounces and others in nine stripes, are graceful and very beautiful; but such waists are not fit to be seen; and they could not possibly support such substantial heads and shoulders as are pictured above them.

Published by Frank Leslie, New York.

THE NATIONAL MAGAZINE.—The June number of this excellent religious and Miscellaneous Monthly, has just come to hand; and as it closes the volume, contains the title page and table of contents.

In this number is a republication of Goldsmith's Deserted Village, illustrated by twelve beautiful wood cuts. There are also illustrated articles on the Dead Sea, Caucasus, &c.—a good discussion (as far as it goes) on the Sabbath—and a great variety of other matter.

Carlton & Phillips, publishers, New York. $2 per annum.

MERCHANTS EXCHANGE HOTEL, BOSTON.—We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this Hotel in to-day's paper, by which it will be seen it is hereafter to be conducted on the European plan. Its location is most convenient for our business men.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5th.—Nothing has leaked out to day in regard to the proceedings of the K. N. convention that can be relied upon as being definite. It is said the Massachusetts delegation was not admitted on account of a refusal to adopt the third degree to stand by the Union at all hazards.

Senator Brodhead strenuously opposed Know Nothings and abolitionists last night at the Mauch Chunck democratic meeting.

Gov. Reeder, on a visit to this city, was serenaded this evening. He made a speech in which he declared his determination to uphold the purity of the ballot box in Kansas at all hazards.

RAIN.—We have had a most refreshing rain for the last two or three days. It came slowly at first, then in short dashing showers, and this (Monday) afternoon, it has cleared off, leaving verdure washed and refreshed.—There has been rain enough fall to wet the ground thoroughly, and it must have been heavy to the northward, as the river has risen three feet at this place.—Manchester American.

A LITTLE GIRL KILLED.—A heart rending accident occurred at Warner last Wednesday. A hired man of George Foster, Esq., was returning from hauling manure into the field, and as he was passing into the yard, one wheel went over a stone, tipping the cart over against the fence and throwing out three children belonging to Mr. Foster. The eldest one, a girl 9 years old, was so much injured that she died soon after; the legs of another were broken, and the third was severely injured.—Manchester Amer.

LOCAL.

OLD IRONSIDES.

Yesterday the Frigate Constitution, Commander Rudd, bearing the broad pennant of Commodore Mayo, was inspected by Commandant Joseph Smoot, and Lieut. C. W. Pickering of this Navy Yard, and Wm. R. Taylor, Inspector of Ordnance. The several manœuvres of assaulting the enemy with the batteries, boarding, repelling boarders, &c., were performed with energy and despatch. The boarding pikes, sabres and small arms, were put in active use, and the distant hills returned the sound, as section after section of the ship's broadsides were discharged in quick succession. While this was being performed an alarm was given signifying "the ship is on fire!" and with the least possible delay and without confusion, the men were rapidly flying to all parts of the ship, and up the rigging with buckets. The examination was highly satisfactory, and much praise is due Com. Mayo, Capt. Rudd, and the officers, for the manner in which their ship has been returned. The discipline and neatness every where apparent, shows the faithfulness and energy of the officers, and "Old Ironsides" now floats in youthful vigor, although her timbers have visited almost every clime, and her prow been wet by the waters of more than fifty years.

While on her way home, and having nearly reached her port of destination, Commodore Mayo learned there was difficulty apprehended at Cuba. He promptly turned for the Island to render his country any service in his power, but on communicating with Com. McAuley ascertained that his guns were not needed, and turned again for Portsmouth. The whole cruise of 27 months has been performed without accident, and with the loss of but a single man, by sickness or otherwise. Com. Mayo, it is to be regretted, returns with health impaired while on the African coast; and although he was informed by the surgeon that a visit to Cuba might be fatal to him, still, deeming it his duty, he did not hesitate to go. While on board we were politely shown all parts of the frigate, and with pride we trod the decks of this time honored faithful ship. We hope the time may be far off when it will be necessary for her many mouths to speak with words of iron.

☞ Ballard, Bailey & Co.'s Great French Circus perform in this city, this afternoon and evening. From their advertisement on the fourth page of to-day's Chronicle, we infer that the company is one of great talent, and a good performance in equitation may be expected.

☞ By reference to our advertising columns a change will be noticed in the time of commencement of the performances of the theatre.

☞ Our citizens should be on the lookout for pickpockets and scoundrels of every description, as a large delegation of them from Boston and other places are now in the city. They probably came here for the purpose of fleecing the sailors on board the Constitution, who will soon be paid off and discharged.

CONCORD, N. H., June 5th.—Our State Legislature meets to-morrow. At caucuses this evening the democrats nominated Samuel Herbert of Rumney, for Speaker, and Anson S. Marshal of Concord for Clerk. The Americans nominated John J. Prentiss of Claremont, for Speaker, and N. Goodale of Manchester for Clerk. They also selected Mr. Hale of Hinsdale for President of the Senate, and George L. Barton of Concord for Clerk.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—In the Senate, Hon. William Haile of Hinsdale, American Whig, was chosen President, receiving every vote but one. George L. Barton, Burke Democrat, was chosen Clerk, and Calvin May, Assistant Clerk.

The House organized temporarily by choosing Jonathan Kittredge of Canaan for Chairman, when they proceeded to ballot for Speaker. Samuel Herbert of Rumney, dem. had 82, Hon. John J. Prentiss, of Claremont, Am. whig, had 218, scattering 4.

John H. Goodale of the Manchester Democrat, freesoil, and Henry O. Kent, Am. whig, were chosen clerk and assistant clerk.

THE STATE FAIR TO BE HELD IN MANCHESTER.—The Directors of the State Agricultural Society have voted to hold the next State Fair in Manchester, provided that the city will subscribe one thousand dollars, for the benefit of the Society. A paper has been started by Ex-Mayor Smyth, and about six hundred dollars have been subscribed. The one thousand dollars will be made up without difficulty, and without doubt the Fair will be held in Manchester.—American.

CURIOUS STATISTICS.—The Journal of the Academy of Medicine, at Turin, contains some curious statistics of human life—among others, the statement that married men live longer than bachelors, and tall men longer than those of short stature. The two months of the twelve in which most marriages are celebrated are June and December.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a purgative remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

FROM EUROPE.

By the arrival of the steamer Africa, we have Liverpool dates to the 26th of May.—Breadstuffs quick at last week's prices;—and cotton very active. Brown & Shipley's report says of the Cotton market:

This week's business is the largest on record. Since the departure of the last steamer there has been much excitement in Cotton, the business of the week reaching the unprecedented quantity of 153,000 bales, including 76,000 on speculation, and 7000 for export, at an advance of 1-4d on low and mid, and 1-8d on higher qualities of Am.

It is said that preparations were in progress for a renewal of the negotiations for peace, and that a preliminary meeting would be held on the 26th ult., and another on the 28th, The Austrian Minister would propose a modification of the third point.

The recent arrival in the Crimea of the French reinforcements, swells the number of the allied troops to about two hundred thousand. Gen. Pelissier's appointment to the command of the army, is said to be very popular with the troops, and a new plan of operations is looked for. It is thought that an attempt will be made to cut off Gen. Liprandi's army, encamped in the rear. Omar Pacha has proposed to take and hold Simpherophol, if the French will sustain his advance.

There has been considerable fighting about Sebastopol. The Russian sorties were of unfrequent occurrence, but as usual appear to have been unsuccessful. Large losses are reported on both sides. The French had attacked a Russian entrenched camp, near the Quarantine battery, and on the second day carried it by assault.

The allied fleet in the Baltic had taken several prizes. It is stated that all the Russian vessels of war at Cronstadt were ordered to be sunk, except eight ships of the line.

In Parliament an interesting debate had taken place on a motion of a want of confidence, introduced by M. D'Israeli. The Government was sustained by majority of 100. Both Houses of Parliament have adjourned to June 4.

The Siege.—The correspondence from the English camp up to May 8th represents the army being well supplied with luxuries as well as necessaries, but some cholera still prevailed.

Many improvements have been made at Balaclava harbor.

Hired laborers were abundant.

May 10.—A severe combat took place along the right attack. A musket and bayonet fight continued one hour and a half; then the Russians retired under the cover of batteries of the city, and the allied batteries kept up a hot fire about two hours longer.—The loss was considerable, but the number is not reported.

May 11.—Another Russian attack—night was very dark, and the fight lasted nearly half an hour.

May 12.—Another sortie against the left attack during a severe rain storm and darkness. The Russians charged up to the British trenches, and some leaped over the parapets, and were bayonetted.

The Russians fought desperately. The rain had damaged their ammunition. They attacked with rockets. Their loss was severe. The British loss was one captain, and over 100 killed and wounded.

May 19.—Gortschakoff telegraphs,—"The enemy's fire is weak, our losses are moderate. Both sides are repairing and erecting batteries. Severe battles before the walls."

Gen. Pellissier telegraphs May 24th:—A very lively combat directed against our important position, has lasted all night. We obtained a complete success. The enemy's loss was enormous, and ours considerable.

The Paris Patrie gives further particulars stating that the French attacked the Russian entrenched camp, near the quarantine battery on the night of the 22d, and again on night of the 23d, when they carried it by assault.

London, May 26, P. M.—The Moniteur of to-day contains a despatch from Gen. Pelissier, dated May 25th, stating that the French, on the 25th of May have occupied a large place d'armes, between the central bastion and the sea, where the enemy would collect large forces. The enemy having enormous losses on the previous day, ceded more easily.

It is expected that, by the 20th of June, every available man in Great Britain, belonging to the Infantry Regiments, will have embarked for the seat of war.

English cruisers had brought several prizes to Elsinore. The bulk of the English fleet was at Nargen.

The bill for the suppression of Convents is voted by the Senate of Sardinia.

Russia.—Russia has just annexed four districts of country belonging to the Mogul tribes on the frontier of China.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The recall of Mr. Perry, Secretary of Legation to Madrid, was necessarily delayed until his successor could be appointed. His letter addressed to the President, recently published in the National Intelligence, was the immediate cause of his removal. Buckingham Smith, his successor, held similar appointment under Mr. Letcher, Minister to Mexico.

In our election yesterday, the Americans lost six Councilmen and gained four Aldermen. They have a majority of fifteen on the joint ballot. The average American majority on the general ticket was 553.

The Union of this morning publishes the instructions given to Commodore McAuley. They speak of the firing upon the Eldorado as the exercise of a right; but that visit and search will not be tolerated by the United States, and if approved of by the Spanish authorities, it is likely to disturb the present friendly relations.

CHICAGO, June 5th.—The majority against the prohibitory liquor law in this city is 698, as far as heard from, and Caton for Judge of the Superior Court has 964 majority. The complexion of the returns throughout the State, indicate the success of the prohibitory liquor law by a large majority.

A BABY SHOW.—Dianora Salviato, who lived in Florence some 300 years ago, was the mother of 52 children, of whom never less than three were produced at a birth.

Memories of Youth & Manhood,
BY SIDNEY WILLARD.
THIS work contains a short biographical account of the Author's progenitors, from the first emigrants to Massachusetts Bay, to Joseph Willard, President of Harvard College, of whom it contains a full memorial. Also the Author's personal memories, beginning with the earliest, and extending in the order of time until his resignation of his Professorship in Harvard College in 1831.
In these several periods the Author has more to say of his cotemporaries and associates, of his instructors, of his fellow-students and class-mates, their studies, amusements, customs, habits, societies, &c. than of what pertains mainly to himself.
The work was undertaken at the urgent request of the Author's friends, and embraces notices of many celebrated persons.

The new guano island mentioned the other day, as having fallen into American hands, is not the Bird Island which is claimed by Capt. Sheldon, in opposition to the adverse claim of the State of Venezuela.

The new island is now nameless, and the location of which is a secret at present, and which was brought to the notice of the Farmers' Club of New York very recently by Mr. A. G. Benson. We have now further information in regard to this newly discovered island, and are assured that the deposits of guano are richer and more abundant than those of the Chincha islands. The island is a recent discovery by Americans, and by them is now actually possessed. It is not laid down on any chart. It belongs, and is claimed by no organized goverment. It is uninhabited, and may be considered as a derelict. The quantity of guano upon it is estimated at over two millions of tons, and it can be brought to our ports and sold at twenty dollars a ton, or less than half the price of the Peruvian guano, to which it is equal in every respect as a fertilizer.

The American owners have made arrangements to acquaint the Government, confidentially, with the value and locality of the Island, and solicit adequate government protection.—Baltimore Sun.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

FRENCH CIRCUS,

COMPRISING the very celebrated TOURNIAIRE TROUPE, with all the distinguished artists who have appeared in this country during the last five years, and also those whose performances in Europe have secured to them a world-wide reputation, will exhibit in PORTSMOUTH, on THURSDAY, June 7.

TICKETS 25 CENTS.

Doors open at 2 P.M. and 7 P.M., to commence at 2½ and 7½ o'clock.

It is impossible to do more than simply mention a few of the names of the various artists connected with this magnificent CIRCUS.

There are no supernumeraries—all are brilliant stars—a host individually, and when combined, form a troupe never before equaled in the world. The Proprietors feel confident the Public will appreciate their success in uniting as a company so much acknowledged talent

MADAME TOURNIAIRE.—No lady in ancient or modern time, has ever equaled this accomplished Artist in the courage, beauty and finish of her exhibitions. Among other performances, she will ride six horses bare back, bounding from steed to steed, reigning and controling her flying troupe, during their utmost speed, exhibiting feats of courage and horsemanship, never attempted by any female in this country. The fixed eyes, anxious countenances and breathless suspense of the thousands of her audience in Paris, Rome, Vienna, London, New York, and the larger cities of the Union, wherein this unique Artist has performed—attest the high reputation of the greatest Lady Equestrian in the known world; she has never had her equal, nor will she until the Equestrian education of MILLE. JOSEPHINE, her favorite pupil, is completed, whose youthful grace and beauty, as well as talent, give strong promise of sharing the renown of her great preceptress; she will appear and confirm her growing reputation as a model rider.

MONS. BENOIT—The great Trick Rider, will appear in his Gymnastic and Equestrian performances, startling and amusing his audience with his feats of Horsemanship, and Light Balancing on a Horse's back, Plate Spinning, Stick Dancing, &c. This celebrated Artist, has been every child in the United States, as receiving the royal patronage of the Sovereigns of England, France, Russia and Austria, has been secured by B. B. & Co., to add, if possible, to the various other attractions presented.

FERDINAND AND THEODORE, in their astonishing and daring feats. Master Theodore is the greatest rider of his age in the world.

Mr. G. LYMING—The great Flying Cord performer will exhibit his skill in a variety of Aerial Gyrations on the cords volente.

Mr. SAM WELSER—The great Hippocondrical Description Actor will appear as Clown. This simple announcement is sufficient for those who have heard of Sam, the original Clown in this country; and among other grotesque fantastics, will introduce his "Magic Hat."

The enormous Persian feats called LA PERCHE, will be performed by W. J. Smith & Rogers.

PULPIT ECCENTRICITY.

Messrs. Editors:—We happened to hear, a few days since, of a certain rather eccentric minister, who was quite famous at one time for introducing such expressions into his sermons as one does not often hear given from the pulpit, and we thought that, perhaps, they might amuse some of your readers, and accordingly noted down a few of them.

At one time, giving full scope to his imagination, he startled his congregation by saying, "When the beautiful expanse of Heaven shall tumble down," &c. On another occasion he said, "I am going to read a hymn"—then he stopped and cast his eyes all over the house; after which he continued—"and I wish somebody would sing it. Now it is very unnatural for us, when the amphibious animals—those feathered songsters that are warbling, are coming,—to cease our notes."

And again, "Now, brethren, this is a regular mustard seed kingdom. Brethren, some folks will pray, but their prayers wont go higher than the smoke of a baked potato."

* * "Now, brethren, such hopes are a hypocrite's hopes—and, brethren and sisters, a hypocrite's hope is like a spider's web. I suppose you all know what a spider's web is; you have all seen one, I suppose; if you have not there is one in the corner"—pointing at the same time to a huge one behind them, and causing the entire congregation to turn half round.

And in conclusion he said, "But I am exhausted. Brother C——, come up here and pray a while." OUTIS.

SOMETHING FOR THE LADIES.—The London Gazette contains some important information for the ladies in regard to the manner of placing their lips when they desire to look amiable, dignified, &c. It says that when a lady would compose her mouth to a bland and serene character, she should, just before entering the room say Besom, and keep the expression into which the mouth subsides, until the desired effect upon the company is evident. If, on the other hand, she wishes to assume a distinguished and somewhat noble bearing, not suggestive of sweetness she should say Brush, the result of which is infallible. If she would make her mouth small, and pretty, she must say Flip; but if it be already small and needs enlarging, she must say Cabbage. Ladies when having their daguerreotypes taken, may observe these rules with some advantage.

AVOID DEBT.—The youth of this country should be taught to avoid debt, as the bane of their lives. Pay as you go—is a golden maxim. It should be the rule of private life.—True economy would make it the governmental practice. Its wisdom could be properly inculcated in our institutions of learning, in lieu of a portion of some other things upon which American scholars waste so much time and money.

Joshua Bowden, of Marblehead, fishing alone in his dory on the Middle Bank, had a tremendous bite, and was obliged to let the halibut run six different times to the bottom before he could secure it. He took the fish into Salem, where it was found to weigh 310 pounds—274 pounds when dressed—and was 7 feet 4 inches long, 5 feet broad, 1 foot thick, very fat, and pronounced the finest halibut landed. He also had 700 lbs. of other fish on his boat at the time.

The Pawtucket Gazette says that on the morning of the 29th, a little daughter of Mr. James C. Aldrich of Pawtucket, was found lying upon her bed inhaling the odor of a bottle of chloroform liniment, which had been left within her reach. It was taken from her, but some of its contents were spilled, and she lay down with her face upon the saturated bed clothes, and was found half an hour afterwards, dead.

A GOOD NOTICE.—The Woonsocket Patriot, in noticing Welcome Farnum, Esq., who has lost $200,000 in railroad enterprises, and is still a smiling man, says:

He has the ambition of Napoleon, the will of Cromwell, and the 'final perseverance of the saints.'

PRECOCITY.—A venerable young gentleman of our acquaintance, four years old, recently threw his maternal relative into a fit of admiration by the following speech—

"I like most all kinds of cake—pound cake, sponge cake, and jelly cake, but I don't like stomach-ache!"

VIRTUE REWARDED.—Dr. Dick, the distinguished Christian philosopher, has received from the Lords of the Treasury a pension of £10 per annum. We trust the doctor will not be lifted up by his fortune.

In New York, on Wednesday last, a German named Frederick Smidt killed himself by ridiculously discharging the contents of a pistol into his mouth. Disappointed love was the cause.

A gentleman in Buffalo says that he now is going to renounce politics, that he has worked hard for his party for twenty years, and all he has ever got, was the inflammatory rheumatism.

Dianora Salviati, who lived in Florence some 300 years ago, was the mother of 52 children, of whom never less than three were produced at a birth. [Large story!]

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 8, 1855.

REMARKS OF THE ARGUS.

On Wednesday we gave from the Portland Advertiser of Monday, a condensed account of the Rum Riot, and a few remarks by the editor of that paper.

To-day we give the following remarks from the Argus of Monday.

As to the principal causes which produced this unhappy result, there can be but one opinion. The course which Mr. Dow has pursued in the execution of the new liquor law; ruthlessly searching private dwellings, and packages coming by steamboat or express, and disregarding what have ever heretofore, been regarded as the sacred rights of citizens, has done much to irritate and excite hostile feeling against him and his officers. They have seized liquor wherever they could find it, without warrant, and have treated it, and its owners, as if the article was entirely outlawed; as if the formalities of law were of little importance in disposing of it. * * *

Then came the development in regard to the wholesale purchase of liquor by Mr. Dow, and the attempt of the Aldermen on Saturday to cloak the transaction after the Warrant had been obtained for its seizure, and before it was served. The impression was pretty strong that the law was thus to be cheated; and that both Mr. Dow and the liquors were by unfair means to escape the penalty meted out by him with a high hand in other cases.

There was a pretty strong current of feeling, that no great moral or legal wrong would be done by letting Mr. Dow's liquor into the gutter (the common receptacle for the article here, and no doubt the best one when properly get into it,) and it was this feeling on the part of a few; and curiosity on the part of others, which caused the assemblage on Saturday night. The worst that any one of those assembled had in view, was the spilling of a little liquor, which is hardly regarded as property; and with those unable to make the nice distinctions between beverage and medicine, is not a crime of a very serious nature. Whatever of violence there was exhibited on the part of the crowd, was directed wholly against this liquor.

This rum drinking mob wished to destroy liquor, did they? Why? Not because it made drunkards! not because it was contrary to law—but to indulge their hatred of Neal Dow and the Agency.

The desire for the destruction of liquor seemed to have become an epidemic. The position of parties, however, was singularly reversed; the people wished to destroy, and the Police, with Mr. Dow at their head, were defending it. We do not believe however, if Mr. Dow and the military had kept away, that any serious harm would have been done.

"The people"—that is the rum people, fired up by those scheming demagogues who used them,—wished to destroy—but after all they would not have done it, would they! had they not been opposed!

A few panes of glass broken, and some other injuries done to the door of the liquor store, would have been all, and the crowd would finally have quietly dispersed of themselves, or a reasonable spirit from any prominent citizen would no doubt have dispersed them any time during the evening.

Why did not some prominent citizen do it then? Why did not some opponent of the law infuse a reasonable spirit into the misguided crowd?

But the presence of Mr. Dow, brandishing his sword, and accompanied by soldiers, exasperated the crowd to make a more violent attack upon the store. These acts were unlawful and unjustifiable on the part of those who committed them, but they did not, in our judgment, call for, or justify the shedding of blood. The loss of the liquor would have been of little consequence, compared with human life, which we confess, it seems to us, was most wantonly sacrificed in this case. If it shall turn out on the trial to which Mr. Dow and his confederates will have to submit themselves, that the firing upon the crowd was not required by the exigencies of the case; and not authorized by law, they will be found guilty of murder.

Truly, every thing turns on this tremendous if.

If it shall turn out, on the other hand, that the mayor and police were in the right,—and that the mob and those who spurred them on were wrong,—then who is guilty of the murder?

On this account, it is well that a committee was appointed by the indignation meeting, to prosecute the mayor, police and military, and to make as severe a trial as possible.

TWO MISTAKES.

The origin of the Portland Rum Riot was a grand mistake! Some persons and papers there, opposed to Mayor Dow, took it into their heads, that he, in purchasing liquors for the City Agent, did an illegal act, and rung changes on this supposition.

Even since the sad affair, the State of Maine newspaper of Monday says,

"The law evidently contemplates a purchase by the Agent, out of the State; the manufacture of liquors in this State being expressly unlawful."

The Argus of Tuesday says,

"It is in vain for the Advertiser to say that he was authorized to purchase the liquor, and that he did it in accordance with law."

But the Advertiser quotes the following extract from the law itself.

"He (the Agent) shall sell only for cash, and shall keep an accurate account of all purchases made FOR HIM by the Selectmen, Assessors, or Mayor and Aldermen, of his city, town or plantation, with the date, the quantity and price of each purchase or parcel."—[Maine Liquor Law, approved March 16, 1855.

The Advertiser of Tuesday says,

"We close with some additional facts—and we wish it distinctly understood, that they are facts to which we challenge the severest investigation.

For nearly two hours the City Marshal, with six or eight of the police, remained in the room where the liquors were kept, exposed to the insulting jeers and the dangerous missiles of the crowd. His men were placed on either side of the door for their own protection, and were distinctly ordered not to fire until there should be an attempt to enter the room. In the meanwhile, not only the Marshal repeatedly cautioned the crowd to desist, but members of the police department went among them, stating that the Marshal's police corps were armed and would surely fire, and advising and ordering them to disperse to their homes. The glass and door were broken through, the police were wounded with stones in several instances, and a pistol or musket was discharged at them from the crowd, BEFORE the first order to fire was given, which was to fire over the heads of the crowd. Since the event, more than two bushels of stones—some of them weighing more than twenty pounds—have been gathered in the room where the police were, and which were thrown in by the crowd before the arrival of the Rifle Guards. In addition to the above warnings, before the police began to fire, similar and reiterated warnings were given by Mayor Dow and Sheriff Baker. Before the firing, also, several arrests were made in the crowd, in some cases of which the arrested persons were rescued by their confederates, and in others the individuals were taken off and are still in custody.

Therefore, every statement which has been made with the design of convicting Mayor Dow and the Police and Rifle Guards, of rashness and wanton destruction of life, is utterly exploded."

It is quite clear, that, whatever error or illegality might exist in any previous action, the mob made a very serious mistake, in assailing the building and assaulting the police. This mistake number two, cost one poor man his life, and of course plunges his relatives in sorrow.

For the Chronicle.

REFORM SCHOOL.

Messrs. Editors:—One of the most important questions that can engage the attention of our Legislature at its present session, is that of the State Reform or Farm School; and I wish you would call upon your readers to urge upon our Representatives from Portsmouth the great importance of using their influence in its behalf.

A State Reform School is one of the great necessities of New Hampshire. I have been led to think more upon this matter lately, from being acquainted with some of the cases of truant boys in Portsmouth, and with the severe treatment to which they have been subjected—that of being confined in the dark, close cells in the House of Correction at our city farm, a place, to my mind, hardly suitable for adult criminals, much less for the youthful offender. The worst of consequences must be apprehended as the result of such discipline.

A State Reform School is what we need and must have, before we can hope to discharge our duty to this unfortunate class; and a portion of the responsibility rests with the people of Portsmouth, to say whether this question shall be decided during the present year. If our our people will only feel this responsibility, and do what they can to secure this great good, the blessings of many now ready to perish shall fall upon them; for "he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death, and shall hide a multitude of sins."

Will you, Messrs. Editors, give a short ssatement in your paper, showing how the question was left by the last Legislature?

PHIL.

☞ Some recent cases of juvenile crime in this city, have not yet been prosecuted, because the sufferers by the crimes, and the officers, did not wish to send mere children to the State's prison.

HISS.—The Boston Herald of Thursday says:—

A very small audience assembled in the Music Hall last evening, to listen to the lecture of Mr. Joseph Hiss, upon the last Legislature of Massachusetts. About six ladies were present. We noticed Mr. Griffin, of Charlestown in the audience, a member, who, it will be recollected, was very active in procuring Mr. Hiss's expulsion.

From all accounts, the lecture was as small as the audience—dirty, abusive and vindictive, evidently revised by somebody different from Hiss. The Boston Chronicle says:

He closed about nine o'clock, and as the audience withdrew, it seemed to be generally admitted that the Hiss affair was settled. As the cholera has appeared in the West, and as we should take sanatary measures to prevent its appearance here, remembering the vulgar adage—"The more you disturb and agitate the particles of a stench the greater the emanations of fragrance." It is hoped that the affair will remain settled for the season at least.

GOOD BEGINNING.—It will be seen that the House have voted to supply the members with three daily papers each, at the expense of the people. This is is the first step, we suppose, in that march of reform which we have been promised!—Concord Daily Patriot.

No better step could be taken. Truly a good beginning,—to let the members see a report from all sides daily. Excellent beginning.

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.

THURSDAY, June 7.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—Petition for widening Fleet street from Congress to Hanover street—referred.

Of John Simpson and others, to have road to Greenland straightened by an exchange of land—referred.

Of J. Wesley Mosee, for liberty to lay a side walk in State street—granted.

Of John Rider, for a license to retail spirits—referred.

The Board of Engineers asked for an alteration in the ordinance, to prescribe the day of Annual Meeting, and to fix the pay of the Stewards—referred to Committee on Fire Department.

The special committee on revision of City Charter, made a report, suggesting the following amendments:

1st, That all officers of the city shall continue in office until their successors shall be chosen and qualified.

2d, That the office of highway surveyors be abolished, and that the roads, &c. out of the compact part of the city be under the supervision of the street commissioner.

3d, That the Sup't of City Farm and the City Physician, be appointed by the Overseers of the Poor.

This provision was amended so as to provide that the Overseers should be chosen by the Board of Aldermen.

4th, That the Marshal and Assistants be chosen by the Board of Aldermen.

5th, That, provided there should be no election of Mayor by the people on the first ballot, there should be a second ballot, then, should there be no choice, the election should be made by the City Council.

The report as amended, was adopted.

COMMON COUNCIL.—The annual appropriation was adopted, without amendment.

The special committee on pilotage reported a bill in amendment to Chap. 128 of the Compiled Statutes, for the action of the Legislature, which shall release all vessels of 150 tons and under, foreign or American, from the necessity of taking a pilot in the harbor of the Piscataqua.

The Common Council concurred in the 1st and 5th proposed amendments to the City Charter, and non-concurred in the 2d, 3d and 4th.

The Council then adjourned for two weeks.

ST. JOHN'S DAY.—The most complete arrangements are being made to celebrate the festival of St. John the Baptist, (24th of June) on Saturday, the 23d, in this city. The procession will be large, and the regalias are very showy, some of them magnificent.

The celebrated Portland brass band will be in attendance, and probably give our citizens an opportunity of hearing some of their fine playing at a Concert on the previous evening; and other bands will without doubt be present. The private exercises for the Order, the Dinner &c., will doubtless be in keeping with the outward show.

☞ By the advertisement it will be seen that the celebrated actor and preacher, Elder Adams, has been engaged for this evening at the Cameneum—where he will appear as Richard in Shakspeare's Tragedy of Richard III. He will probably preach at the same place on Sunday.

☞ Rev. S. P. Fernald, of Northwood, has accepted an invitation to become pastor of the Free Will Baptist Church, on Hanover Street, in this city, and will enter upon his pastoral duties on Sunday next.

☞ Rev. Rufus W Clark, of East Boston, is expected to deliver a discourse on Temperance, on Sunday evening next, at the Temple in this city.

☞ The yacht Sea Ranger, of forty-five tons burthen, under command of Capt. James W. Goodwin, is to run between Portsmouth and the Isles of Shoals the present season.

☞ The frigate Constitution came up to the wharf at the Navy Yard, on Thursday afternoon, from the lower harbor.

☞ We expected to be able to present to our readers this morning, the first Annual Message of Gov Metcalf, as he had promised an advance copy by the State Printer, but from some cause it has not been received. The document is long for a New Hampshire message, and would probably fill six columns of our common reading type.

CONCORD, N. H.—In the House this morning, Wednesday, the 13th inst., was assigned for the election of a U. S. Senator for six years from the 3d day of March last, and immediately after having a choice, for proceeding to elect a Senator in place of the late Charles G. Atherton. Mr. Clark of Manchester gave notice of an intention to introduce a bill to re-district the State for the choice of State Senators.

Quite a number of bills for the incorporation of banks will be introduced to-morrow.

Gov. Metcalf will be inaugurated this afternoon at 3 1-2 o'clock.

DECLINED.—We learn from the Manchester American that Hon. W. H. Seward, of New York, and Hon. John M. Botts, of Virginia, each of whom have been invited to deliver the next annual address before the N. H. Agricultural Society, decline the invitation,—the first on account of professional engagements, and the second because he thinks himself unfit for the duty.

NEW ORGAN.—The Musical Review recommends the Organ Harmonium, invented by Messrs. Mason & Hamlin, melodeon manufacturers in Boston. It has the power and variety of a $1000 organ, and costs but $350—is much more portable, and less liable to get out of order.

☞ The Boston Herald has new type, and looks as bright as a new pin.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause—. There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchita, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Every body needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no rehfulom statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

Price 25 cts. per Box—5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON. J. H. THACHER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m jl d&w

CALIFORNIA NEWS.

PER STEAMER NORTHERN LIGHT.

In California business generally was dull, although there had been some large sales of flour and grain for shipment to New York, Liverpool and Australia.

The ship Charmer sailed for New York on the 16th, with 704 tons of wheat, 204 tons of barley, and 172 tons of flour.

The Flying Arrow would follow with 1000 tons of wheat and flour.

Chili and California flour quoted at $6.—There had been a sale of 2000 barrels superfine Gallego, at the low price of $10, at 30 and 45 days.

There had been a good deal of rain, but the crops looked well.

The mines were yielding abundantly, but money was scarce.

The ship John Land had arrived from Tabiti with a number of her crew in irons for mutiny. She was immediately libelled by the whaler "D. M. Hall" for salvage. An examination of the charge of mutiny was gone into the U. S. District Court, when the Judge decided that as the captain of the vessel had virtually abandoned her, and lost all control, the crew had a right to select their own captain, as they did, by vote. They were therefore discharged.

A Know Nothing paper called the "citizen" has been started at San Francisco.

A union of the Democratic party had been attempted in opposition to 'Know Nothingism, but without success.

Four convicts broke from the Penitentiary on the 13th, and one named White was killed by the guard.

A Miss Annie Alexander, a school teacher of Sacramento, and Mr. John Adams, of Yolo County, were drowned opposite Sacramento on Sunday, a steamer having run down their skiff.

The San Francisco municipal election under the new charter was to take place about the end of May. No nominations had been made. The struggle promised to be purely Know Nothing and Anti-Know Nothing.

BALTIMORE, June 6.—The election of Carlisle, the American candidate for Congress in the 11th district in Virginia, is confirmed.

Only one death has resulted from poisoning of the wedding party thus far—a number are still sick—the poisoning is supposed to have been accidental.

POLICE COURT, PORTLAND.—Major Kelley was on Wednesday afternoon found guilty of being one of the rioters at the City Hall, Saturday night, and committed for want of bail in $500, for his appearance at the next term of the S. J. Court. There are other customers waiting.—Argus.

CHOICE AND LIBERAL.—The Shepherd of the Valley, an influential Catholic paper of the West says, "Protestantism of every kind, Catholicity inserts in her catalogue of sins; she endures it when and where she must; but she hates it, and directs all her energies to effect its destruction."

Rather a poor Shepherd, this one in St. Louis; and with such a public avowal we should judge that only black sheep were beneath the influence of his crook. We may be mistaken however—perhaps it is the shepherd that is black.—Charlestown Adv.

NEW YORK, 6th.—Special despatches from Philadelphia mention that the Massachusetts Delegates to the Convention were ultimately admitted, after some trouble.

EFFIGY OF NEAL DOW.—Wednesday morning, an effigy of Neal Dow was found hanging on a telegraph wire, near the Russell House, Charlestown. A placard was attached to the back of the figure, with an inscription upon it. It hangs forty or fifty feet from the ground, and about 100 feet from any house. The figure was dressed in blue pants and a snuff-colored coat; in the right hand was held a demijohn, and on the left arm was displayed a copy of the Maine Law.

NARROW ESCAPE.—As Mr. Daniel Silloway of Newburyport, with his three children, were driving down State street, on Tuesday evening, one of the shafts of the chaise in which they were seated, broke off, and the vehicle made a complete summerset. The horse kept on for a short distance, the children being in or under the chaise, while the affrighted animal was furiously kicking to disengage himself. The children were fortunately rescued, without being seriously injured, to the great surprise of the spectators, who were attracted to the spot by the accident. —Herald.

Some of the Irish emigrants, anxious to return to the "Auld Country," are taking advantage of State action for the re-shipment of foreign paupers; and with pockets full of "rocks," are passing themselves off as utterly destitute. A well-dressed Irishman was inquiring about Newburyport within a week, for "the man that sends Irishmen back." He pretended to be miserably poor and destitute, and expected to get his passage paid by those representations.—Herald.

TRUTH NOT A LIBEL.—Judge Bosworth's ruling in the recent libel suit brought against the New York Sun has the following among other notable passages:

"The law allows a man to publish anything of another, providing it is true, and it is a complete defence, that the article is true."

Some papers of the North have asserted that Col. Doniphan, a distinguished whig in Missouri, was a leader and participator with Atchison & Co, in the recent outrages in Kansas. The St. Louis Republican denies the allegation, and says that he was at the time in Clay Co. Mo. attending to his own legitimate business. He has no connection with the ruffians, and does not approve of their conduct.

ARTESIAN WELL.—The Charleston (S. C.) Courier mentions that the Artesian well there has now reached 1240 feet in depth. On Tuesday of last week the drill finally pierced a rock 2ft. 8in. thick, and pure water gushed up in a steady supply, which soon reached the quantity of 30 gallons per minute.

The Queen of England is now the temporal monarch of more Roman Catholics than the Pope, and of more Mussulmen than the Turks.

FEAR NOT DEATH.

Why call we death to man a foe?
Why should we fear to die?
Does heavenly wisdom teach us so?
Let us the question try.

Is he of independent might?
Does he himself sustain?
These questions if we answer right,
Will make our subject plain.

See yo his scythe, his dart, his spear?
Who placed them in his hand?
Know this, and give the winds your fear;
Dauntless before him stand.

Death only comes when he is sent,
Commissioned from on high;
And all his weapons, too, are lent,—
Why fear we, then, to die?

Death comes, a friend to mortal man,
To set his spirit free;
Nor he, nor any creature, can
Reverse the blest decree.

Had death on us an evil eye,
Would he our pains remove,
And set our spirits free to fly
To peaceful realms above?

Teach not your children, parents dear,
To dread what God may send;
Nor fill their tender hearts with fear
Of Him who is their friend.

—IN—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without cutting them so as to pinch with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,
JAMES A. WOODBURY.

GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE.

To the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives:

Pursuant to the requirements of the constitution, you are now assembled, clothed with the legislative power of the State. With that sacred instrument for your guide, and limited only by its provisions, the people have committed to you and to all those assembled with you, their important interests and their dearest rights, and they may reasonably expect from you a faithful and impartial discharge of the duties involved in the sacred trust. To them, and to them alone, are you accountable on earth for the manner in which you may see fit to discharge those duties, and I have no doubt but you are all entering upon the high responsibility you have assumed, with a firm resolve that, in all your doings, you will be influenced by no other motive, with no other object, than to promote the happiness, the welfare and prosperity of our common constituents; and that, in aid of these purposes, you will hopefully rely upon the favor of an all gracious Providence, and, in sincerity of heart, earnestly implore him to impart to you and to all those associated with you, that wisdom from on high, so far above man's wisdom, and without which we can feel but little assurance of success.

Our State of limited territory and no great variety of conflicting interests, has not asked for much legislation, and has been the recipient of less, local legislation. It has ever been her policy not to indentify or entangle herself with any system of local improvements or expenditures, and, therefore, she has never, like some of her sister States, become involved in difficulties, the extent of which a final relief must seem all but hopeless. By this judicious course, she has afforded no just cause of complaint to any section, made no hazardous investment of public funds, tried no experiments upon the public credit, offered no occasion for extensive speculations upon the public treasury, and imposed no grievous taxation to burthen the people; and, in consequence of this sound policy in aiding the economical and industrious habits of her citizens, she has escaped the pecuniary embarrassments that periodically fall upon many parts of the country, have usually passed over us with but little serious injury; and while we shall conform ourselves to the legitimate objects of legislation, and continue to have in so great a degree but one common interest, we may reasonably hope to escape from the evils of partial legislation.

The most important interests of a State, are its agricultural. The productions of the earth are the basis of all wealth. Commerce, manufacture, and the mechanic arts are all dependent upon what the earth first yields to the labor of man, and so connected with it are all other branches of industry, that whatever encouragement may be given to agriculture will prove an encouragement to all other occupations, which again favorably react upon agricultural interests. No one of our industrial interests can long prosper alone.

The natural soil of New Hampshire, or of New England, we must confess to be, in general, less productive than the soil of many other States; and we have not other advantages, which, if properly improved and duly appreciated, will counterbalance the scale? We can by no means undervalue the vast resources of wealth spread over the 'boundless West.' What that extensive region, still in its primitive portion, still—untenanted by man, will become in the course of time is, perhaps, only to be limited by the limits of the imagination. But with all its present allurements and anticipated prosperity, it has its wants and its disadvantages. To the surprising fertility of its soil, the mildness of its climate and the abundance of its agricultural productions, we can offer as a set-off to our sons at home, a healthy and invigorating climate; a hardy, industrious, frugal, well informed and moral community; well endowed literary institutions, school houses dotting the whole State, and a well devised system of common schools; our established churches; our charitable institutions, supplying the destitute and relieving the unfortunate; our public highways, traversing every town in the State; our manufacturing establishments of all varieties, and our never-failing water-falls, sufficient, if improved to the utmost capabilities, to furnish motive power for machinery enough to manufacture for half the globe, and numberless other advantages and conveniences that add to the pleasures, and enter into the comforts of life, which, if to be found there at all, are not to be found to the extent and perfection in which they already exist among us.

If those of our people who, for some cause or other—often more imaginary than real—feel dissatisfied with their lot in life, and are desirous of seeking their fortunes and a new home in the "West," before they finally resolve to forsake forever the place of their birth, the scenes of their childhood, the graves of some of their youth and the friends of maturer age, would but visit the new States and Territories, and carefully study, search out, examine and compare all the advantages and disadvantages of the East and West, I would fully believe that the spirit of emigration, now so excited, would soon subside, and many less of our farms and workshops than at present would be offered for sale or abandoned as comparatively worthless.

Notwithstanding the rigidity of our soil, and the ofttemimes cheerless and forbidding aspect of our climate, we might, by the adaptation of the means at our command to the end we desire, soon double the agricultural productions of the state. Various ways and means have been offered and suggested by aiming this desirable object. The press is affording its invaluable aid; science is developing our resources for replenishing the soil; the mechanical arts are daily improving the implements of husbandry, thus lessening the expenses of tillage. Our agricultural schools are annually bringing together the experience of practical, and the theories of speculative farmers, all of which are related, compared and discussed, and the facts, the inferences and results are soon disseminated from one end of the state to the other.

The attention of the Legislature has been almost annually called to this subject by my predecessors, and its serious attention invited to our agricultural interests. The Constitution of the State makes it the duty of the legislature to encourage agriculture, and the agriculture and the arts, all of which will be promoted by whatever shall promote or increase the productions of the soil.

I would, therefore, suggest as a matter within your province and well worthy of your consideration, whether an appropriation for the encouragement of Agricultural Societies and the Mechanic Arts, and also to provide for the appointment of a Commissioner well qualified to disseminate useful knowledge throughout the State, by lectures upon husbandry, agricultural chemistry, and such other subjects as are connected herewith, and by such other ways and means as would be most available and beneficial to agriculturists, would not be a judicious appropriation and good political economy for the State, by contributing to the increase of the productions of the soil, and thereby, its wealth.

Another branch of industry giving profitable employment to thousands, and a source of great wealth to the State, is our various manufactures. Our natural advantages for pursuing the business are not surpassed by those of any other State, and the enterprise and capital of our citizens are judiciously directed to improve them.

The manufacture of cotton alone, five years since, amounted to but little less than ten millions of dollars a year, being exceeded in this branch, by no other State in the Union, save Massachusetts. Our woolen manufactures, at and for the same time, amounted to but little less than two millions. They have, doubtless, increased since. but to what extent I am unable to say; yet, I believe it is generally understood by those conversant with the facts, that these branches, from various causes, have been, for the last few years, somewhat depressed, for I have been credibly informed, that the demand for both woolens and cottons, has, within a few months, been more animated, and, therefore, a gradual improvement and a further extension of the business may reasonably be anticipated.

There are numerous other branches of manufactures, less imposing and pretending, but not less useful, carried on in our houses and workships, in secluded villages, as well as flourishing cities, by individuals and individual enterprise, the operations of which are scarcely visible, and the effects but little observed, yet the value of these, at the last census, exceeded the value of the cotton and woolen together, by more than a million of dollars; and their increase has probably been much greater than the increase of the latter. These literally home manufactures are seldom duly appreciated, when considering the employment and direction of labor; and when viewed in connection with our larger establishments and our other industrial interests, we cannot fail to see within our borders sure and unfailing sources of continued wealth and prosperity.

In republican governments, corporations have ever been looked upon by the people with a degree of apprehension and distrust. In monarchical governments, where sovereign power is vested in a single person, the granting of corporate rights and privileges to subjects is withdrawing so much power from the crown and conceding it to the people. In this country, where the sovereign power is vested in the people, the reverse is the effect; the people part with just so much of their sovereignty as is granted to corporations, and corporations would therefore naturally be viewed with more suspicion and less favor in republican than absolute governments. Still the course of legislation in the states generally, by the frequency of grants of such charters, is evidence that they are deemed publicly beneficial if not absolutely necessary. Through their agency many highly important objects of public utility have been accomplished, which individual enterprise would seldom have presumed to attempt, and many of which must, in their progress and completion, have offered far more flattering prospects of public benefit than of private remuneration. For many years the legislatures of this state have freely though not indiscriminately, yet perhaps not always judiciously, granted them, with but little objection to the principle.—The chief diversity of opinion was not in granting the favors, but as to what extent it was necessary to guard the rights of the people against them, and in what way it might be most effectually done. It is a matter more of regret than surprise, that corporations should sometimes, perhaps frequently, exceed the limitations of their grants, and pervert their authority. When this is designedly done or persevered in, the legislature should promptly exercise the right they have judiciously retained—the right at any time and without ceremony to amend or repeal their charters. Whether the guards and checks now imposed are sufficient to restrain them within the limits of their authority, and whether the powers granted, or, perhaps assumed to be granted or implied, are too extensive, and conflict with the rights of the people, so that farther legislation is necessary or expedient, is deserving your consideration.

Religious societies and many other voluntary associations may, by the act of the associates, become bodies corporate with all the rights and privileges of chartered corporations, so far as is necessary for the transaction of business. This power, it seems to me, might be safely extended, and would relieve the legislature from numerous applications for special acts of incorporation.

Our common schools, so well adapted to impress on youth the republican principles of equality; where the children of the rich and the poor, of the highly educated and of those less favored, all meet upon common ground and upon equal terms; where the great principle of universal education is first applied in practice, and where the lessons of virtue and morality are early impressed on the tender mind and the elements of education first taught and received, that when well improved and properly directed, may authorize any one to aspire to the most useful and honorable stations in private or public life, are always entitled to the favorable consideration and fostering care of the representatives of the people. Much money has been expended, and much time, care and ability devoted to the improvement of the system and the extension of its benefits. Great success has been attained in these laudable efforts, but in these days of progress and reform, it would, indeed, be singular, if the system was not open to improvement.

It is highly desirable that all the capacities of our common school system for usefulness, should be as fully developed, and as equally spread as possible.—There are often complaints made, and, I imagine, seldom without some reason, of frequent changes in class books, in our district schools, and the great variety of and deficiency in their numbers. Such causes must of course be an impediment to the progress of a school, both individually and collectively; but this inconvenience may in a great degree be lessened, if not wholly obviated. When a uniformity of class books shall be definitely prescribed throughout the state, as there should be; if it shall be made the duty of the superintending committees or the selectmen of towns, to furnish at the expense of the town all such books as are prescribed for use in the study of such branches as are required to be taught by statute in common schools, it would remedy these difficulties. To these might properly be added a copy of that great American standard of language, Webster's Dictionary.

The general education of all classes, so far as our common schools can further it, is a matter of public interest and for the public good. The wealthy are far more interested in this than the poor, for the personal rights and liberties of both classes are equal, while the rich hold their wealth at the hazard of the consequences of a neglect to provide for the means of well educating the masses. The stability of our institutions would be weakened, their permanency endangered, and all that is valuable and dear to us jeopardized by such neglect. It is, therefore, proper that the expense for this necessary object should be borne, so far as possible, as other public expenses are borne, by direct taxation. The statutes prescribe what shall be taught in our common schools, and the public authorities prescribe the books that it shall be taught from. They are deemed necessary as a teacher, and as much a part of the expense of the school as the pay of the teacher, and, in my opinion, it should be defrayed in a similar way. The law now requires selectmen of towns to furnish "any poor children attending a district school, who are destitute, with necessary class books, upon application therefor." But this statute does not meet the necessities of the case. The term "poor" is a relative term, and the discretion and judgment of the selectmen must often be severely tested in deciding upon the "poverty" of the applicant, as contemplated by the statute. While improper applications will often be made, delicacy, a fear of refusal, and sometimes pride, will often prevent their being made when proper.

The expense of school books, at any, often imposes a heavy tax upon parents with numerous children and small means of support, which, when added to other necessary expenses, they find it difficult to meet.—Provisions for the care and preservation of the books may be made in the bill, and the expense would be purchased at wholesale prices, the cost of a supply would be far less than the cost of a supply would be as now purchased, and it would be borne by the public instead of individuals, very many of whom are illy able to bear it, and are obliged to sacrifice the benefits of the school.

In 1851, the Legislature provided for a commission to select a site, and furnish plans and estimates of the costs of suitable buildings for a State Reform School. Able and judicious commissioners were accordingly appointed, who attended to the duties thereof, and made report to the Legislature at the June session, 1852. The report was referred to a select committee, who reported in favor of establishing the school, but the subject was postponed, without any definite action, from one session to another, till the last session of the Legislature, when a bill establishing such an institution, passed the House of Representatives, but was postponed to the present session by the Senate.

The importance of some institution of the kind, combining restraint with instruction, and calculated to reform juvenile offenders, before they become insensible to moral impressions, hardened in transgression and familiar with crime, must commend itself to the favorable consideration of all. Ideas such a school in substance as is contemplated in the report referred to, would greatly tend to this effect, we have little reason to doubt from the moral and reforming influence, that our common and Sunday schools seldom fail to have upon tender minds; and in addition to this, we have accumulative testimony of their moral effect from all the States that have tried the experiment.

A potent reason why some decisive action in this matter should be had without unnecessary delay is, that a worthy and highly esteemed citizen of the State, the Honorable James McKean Wilkins, late of Manchester, deceased, has by his will, after several specified legacies, devised and bequeathed the residue of his estate, to certain trustees, to be by them passed over to a board of trustees of a "House of Reform for juvenile and female offenders, in case such an institution shall be established and put into operation within five years after his decease." The trustees of the legacy will, doubtless, present to the Legislature, a memorial on the subject agreeably to a request of the testator expressed in his will.

The Asylum for the Insane is daily expanding its benificent care and usefulness. During the past year, a new wing for the reception of patients has been nearly completed, and other extensive and permanent improvements have been made. Still the high reputation the institution has deservedly attained, invites more applications for the admittance of patients to its benefits, than it has or will without further improvement, have the means of accommodating.—Detailed reports from the trustees, overseers, superintendent and treasurer, will soon be laid before you, from which you will learn the operations and condition of the institution for the last year—an institution that is fast repaying under its admirable management, the favors it has always generously received from the people and their representatives, by alleviating the misery of hundreds, and many of the plaints of the most unfortunate and bereaved class of the community.

By the report of the State Treasurer, of June, 1854, it appears that the State debt, at that time, was about forty-one thousand dollars. That debt has been but little diminished during the past year, primarily by reason of the liberal appropriation to the Asylum for the Insane, by the last Legislature. The current expenses of the State, also, have exceeded those of the preceding year, by about seven thousand dollars, which excess may, in a great measure be accounted for in the protracted session of the Legislature. With a due regard to economy, it may be hoped that the existing debt, will, in a short time be extinguished, without resort to increased taxation.

Changes in the laws should be avoided, unless a change is necessary to remedy an evil or supply a defect. Law is intended to be founded in reason and justice, but when the former no longer exists and the latter fails to be produced, legislation should step in and effect such a change in circumstances and the progress of society may have shown to need correction. When a law is found to fail in its purposes, or to operate partially, unjustly or oppressively, though honored by time and sanctioned by usage, a change must be desirable.

I have long thought that some change for the better, and more consonant to the prevailing sentiments of humanity, might be made in our laws for the collection of debts. Happily the day is past when the honest debtor has the fear of imprisonment because of his inability to satisfy the claims of a creditor. But there still remains a provision in our code more offensive in its operations, more severely felt, and frequently applied, which has as little claims upon the intelligence of the age and the benevolent feelings of the heart as imprisonment for debt. I refer to the law allowing a prior lien by priority of attachment on writs of mesne process, a process that seizes the property of a debtor and takes it from his possession before any debt is legally shown to be due, a process unknown to the Union except in New England. By this writ the property of a debtor, even not usually insolvent, frequently goes to satisfy the claim of a single creditor, generally the most wealthy and vigilant, if not the most lenient and merciful. A word of suspicion against the solvency of a debtor, however assiduous and groundless, may be followed by others, each striving in the race to obtain priority. The unfortunate debtor is at once stripped of his property, broken up in his business, and prostrated in his credit, and his chattles soon sold on execution at half their value, with additional costs; one or two of the more watchful, and therefore the more lucky creditors are fully paid, and the demands of the others, equally just, often more meritorious, press like an incubus upon the unfortunate debtor, paralyzing his efforts and crushing all hopes of relief.

If all priority of attachments were abolished, there would be no inducement to lead the chase; it would be sufficient for all practical purposes to be in time to share the spoils. Security in property and ruin in business, would be less frequent and less repulsive. All of a man's property liable to attachment, should be held responsible for his debts, but it is no more than just that it should be equally distributed in some way among his creditors in proportion to their just claims. The debtor should be permitted after attachment, as he may now, before, to assign all his attachable property for the benefit of all his creditors.

Compositions between insolvent debtors and their creditors, which generally benefit both parties, would be more frequently made, and debtors voluntarily discharged, when each creditor has his share of the debtor's effects, and thus many of our most enterprising business men would be restored to usefulness and energy of action, who are now borne down with a load of liabilities under which they can neither struggle with hope or lie still with ease.

The statute of limitations is intended for a statute of repose, but unfortunately it falls far short of its aimable intentions. Many causes of action that have slumbered more than six years over their maturity, are awakened to a hearing in court by an allegation of a new promise. The laudable objects of the statute would be far more fully accomplished, and much litigation avoided, if the new promise, relied on, to take the case out of the statute, should necessarily be in writing.

For years past, the traffic in spirituous liquors has been felt by nearly all, and conceded by a majority of the people of the State, to be an alarming evil. No offence punishable by our laws short of a capital crime, spreads so wast a desolation, or more overwhelming misery upon the community, as the sale and use of intoxicating drinks. Larceny, forgery, counterfeiting and their kindred crimes, are limited in their operations, and confining in their consequences, when compared with those resulting from the sale of spirituous liquors. Most other offences are but the fruits of this. But few can be found that cannot be directly traced to it as the prime cause. The sale as a beverage, is a public nuisance, and the public have a right to protection from its consequent evils and dangers, as from other nuisances.

To abate it by the extinguishment of the traffic, comes within the province of legislative power and duties. Various mild laws have been enacted, designed to suppress such sales, but they have failed of the desired effect. Persuasion has been tried in vain. Both have been found impotent against the passions of the buyer, and the cupidity of the seller. It may be that legal enactments can never totally prevent the offence. The same may be said of all other crimes, even of those, for which nothing but the life of the offender can satisfy the claim of public justice.

The numerous and widely extended evils resulting from the pernicious practice, are within the observation of all; and in addition thereto, the evidence of plain, undeniable facts, logical arguments and eloquent appeals to the hearts, have been diffused over the country and filled the halls of legislation, the churches of the land and the habitations of men, from the mansions of wealth to the rustic cabins.

The necessity of some law to suppress so far as possible the entire sale of spirituous liquors, except, perhaps, for some specific purposes, is too evident at this day, to be a matter of argument; it is "fixed fact." It has moved to efficient action the Legislatures of all our adjoining, and several of the other States; and the representatives of the people to whom was confided the power to afford relief from the grievance, have manfully met the emergency, and their action has generally been sustained by the people. The onward movement has been now ere retarded by a reaction. The people of this State are not wont to be dilatory in the march of progress and reform, and I trust that their hopes and expectations of a radical change in our license law, will be no longer doomed to disappointment. A new law prohibiting the sale, with very limited exceptions, if any, are advisable—a law which will protect the legal rights of all persons, but be clothed with ample powers to effectually enforce its provisions, and, as fully as possible, answer its intents and purposes—a law, the penalties of which shall be commensurate with the offence—such a law, I have no doubt, is expected and demanded by the people of New Hampshire. The welfare and prosperity of the State demand it; social and domestic relations demand it; morals and religion demand it; the hopes of the rising generation demand it; patriotism demands it, and I cannot believe that these demands will be slighted by a legislature elected under circumstances peculiarly propitious for a full knowledge of the wishes and wants of their constituents, and free from all associations and prejudices tending to embarass independence of action favorable to promoting them.

Owing to the failure of the last Legislature to elect, we have no Senator in the Congress of the United States. It will become your duty to fill the vacancy; one for four years from the fourth of March last, occasioned by the death of Mr. Atherton, the other for six years from the same time, when the time for which Mr. Norris was elected expired.

As one of the sovereign States of the Union, New Hampshire has a common interest, with others in the administration of the affairs of the general government. However local its legislation may be, or may be designed to be, every portion of the country must feel its influence. Not long prior to the last session of the Legislatnre, the Congress of the United States passed an Act establishing two new territories, Kansas and Nebraska. By provision was incorporated in the act, repealing what has long been known as the Missouri Compromise, by which slavery in the territories was limited to a certain latitude. In this compromise, the free States had always in good faith acquiesced, though at the time it was agreed upon, it was far from being acceptable for the reason that the advantages of the compact were unduly favorable to the slave States.—Still, they felt morally and practically bound to adhere to it, and they did so without any attempt to annul or evade it. But the slaveholding power, retarded in its advance by the blighting effects of its peculiar institution, and feeling the loss of political influence by the broad extension of the area of freedom became dissatisfied with the compact and demanded its repeal. The demand was acceded to, many members of Congress, doubtless, voting for the concession, with a full belief that its practical operation would not be injurious to the cause of Freedom; as it was generally said and believed at the time, that those territories were not adapted to the interests of slavery.

This repeal, the people of the free States, justly deem a violation of faith and the infliction of a great wrong upon themselves. They find that the aggressive demands of the Slave Power are insatiable. Even the repeal of all laws prohibiting the foreign slave trade, is already agitated, far more openly and earnestly than were the first faint and timid whispers uttered of a design to repeal the Missouri Compromise. Kansas is evidently already doomed by violence to the curse of slavery, and all our vast territory is now open to its conquest. Acquiescence in these aggressions is not a virtue, and a firm resolve to resist by all legal and constitutional measures, the further extension of slavery, and to insist upon the restoration of the Missouri Compromise is not only the right, but the imperative duty of the Free States.

The great influx of foreigners to this country has of late become a matter of deep interest and alarming anxiety to the people. No one subject has more generally pervaded the minds of a great portion of the community of late than this, and no one presents more imperious claims upon our cool, deliberate, unprejudiced and impartial consideration, than in the adoption of a judicious policy toward the vast mixed population that is annually freighted to our shores from foreign parts. At this time, half a million of aliens, most of them, we regret to say, ignorant and uneducated, are annually added to our numbers. Often destitute of the means of subsistence, without friends and without habits of continued industry, they are landed here with a vague impression that plenty, wealth and honor await them without effort or delay, and that liberty, abridged by no law, and restrained by no authority, is the glory of America. Exceptions among this crowd of numbers may, without doubt, be found, but too many, whether of them, emptied from the poorhouses, the hospitals and prisons of Europe, are transported here with no definite purpose, but destined to fill from want or crime, similar positions to those they left at home. Probably more than half the direct taxes of the people of this country are made necessary by the pauperism and crime of the foreign population. Born and grown up where their political rights are but little if any superior to those of the slaves of this country, where the policy, doubtless the safety of despotism, is to keep the masses in gross ignorance and degraded subjection, they come here necessarily ignorant of all the duties incumbent on them as members of a free and enlightened community, and of all obligations due to the laws of the country of their refuge. All their propossions and partialities naturally incline to their native land, and what little they may have chanced to learn, is prejudicial and hostile to the institutions of the country they have sought for a home. Arriving here at an age when it is equally difficult to eradicate error and to inculcate truth, it must require a long sojourn for even the most moral and intellectual to school themselves so as to discharge the duties of an American citizen with credit to themselves or with safety to others.

In addition to this, with some exceptions, the religion which they have been taught from their birth, which "has grown with their growth and strengthened with their strength," is a religion acknowledging a foreign power for its supreme head, teaching and requiring its adherents to passively submit their consciences to the keeping of the priesthood, to seek no higher source for spiritual instruction and consolation than that order; a religion that excludes the Bible from the common people and allows its subjects to owe no allegiance, spiritual or temporal, to any power but what the sovereign Pontiff may at any time, and upon any emergency, annul and dissolve; a religion that pronounces all creeds heresy but its own, and boldly avows that it "flourishes most when watered by the blood of heretics."

A numerous population, scattered from one extreme of the country to the other, guided and controlled by one mind, and that mind solely directed to one object, the extension of the dominion, the influence and the power of the Church of Rome, and to subject to its control all other religious sects and denominations, must be a dangerous and pernicious element in a republican government. Such a population, thus ignorant and prejudiced, thus illiberal and bigoted, thus controlled and directed, are now in our midst and daily increasing in alarming numbers; and before they have a "local habitation" or can speak a language understood by our native citizens, or can understand our own—without knowledge, and without volition—they claim all the rights of citizenship, and not only to decide who shall make and administer the laws of the country, but claim that right for themselves, often before they can speak the name or read it on the printed ballot, which by order or contract they deposit in the ballot box. By the facilities offered by the laws and construction and practice of some of the courts, naturalization has become a matter of but little difficulty. The foreigner, let loose from prison in Europe on condition that he will come to America, and thus free them from his troublesome if not dangerous presence, thinks, too often has reason to think when he arrives here, that he confers a special favor upon the country by condescending to accept of the honors of citizenship. In most other countries citizenship is deemed the greatest favor, the most precious boon that can be conferred upon a foreigner. It is seldom bestowed but for important services or high intellectual attainments. In Great Britain nothing short of an act of Parliament can confer it. So jealous are the people there, that the right may be abused, and its frequency prove dangerous, the power to bestow the favor is withheld from the Crown, while in this country the most inferior court of record can bestow it. This alien element is now rapidly insinuating its wiles, maturing its schemes, and extending its influence over the country, more sure of success from the very fear to whom is entrusted its direction and control. With great ease and increasing numbers they are acquiring all the rights, privileges and immunities of the citizens of our native land, and in some places they are already supplanting them.

It is not within the jurisdiction of a State to change the laws of naturalization. That power is delegated to the general government. But the voice of a State may be heard in both branches of Congress, and it would be proper for you to take such action as you may deem expedient, tending to induce an amendment of the laws of naturalization. Were they to require of aliens a residence in this country equal to the years of minority of the native born, it would not seem to be either an act of injustice or a hardship. Foreigners who have been naturalised or given notice of their intention to be so, should not, and probably could not, be interfered with.

It is however, the right of the State to determine the qualifications of its voters, and of their eligibility to office or places of trust, and car laws may be so amended as to require a longer residence of foreigners in the country than five years to entitle them to vote where they have not been already naturalized. Provision may likewise be made for the examination of papers, that fraudc, if any, may be detected.

In taking these precautions for safe-guards of our own rights and the liberties of all who breathe our air, we proscribe no man, we make no war upon race or creed. When a foreigner seeks an asylum in our country, that he may enjoy freedom of thought and and of action, protection from all oppression, the free and undisturbed enjoyment of life, liberty and property we would most cheerfully award to him all these blessings equally with ourselves. He should be always welcomed with open hands and generous hearts. His right to worship God unmolested, in any manner he pleases, when he pleases, where he pleases, is not to be questioned or disturbed, and that right we will protect and defend, even against himself.—Man is not accountable to man for the faith that is in him; he may kneel at the shrine of Rome or of Mecca, as free and unmolested as at the simple shrine of our Saviour, but before he should be entitled to all the privileges of the native born citizen, he should acquire and manifest an attachment to our institutions above all others, must learn their character and spirit, must acquire and partake of our national feelings, must adopt even our national foibles, varieties, pride and prejudices, and become thoroughly Americanized in his whole character.

The native Americans will be, and should be held responsible, that all who seek with us a home and protection, all exiles of tyranny or oppression, whatever their race or creed, shall here forever enjoy unimpared the blessings of free institutions. That they meet these responsibilities, that they may retain the power to discharge their duty to foreigners to themselves, to their Country, to freedom, and to Heaven, they must not, they cannot in safety delegate or entrust the administration of an American government to those who are not Americans by birth, who are strangers to our people, our constitution and our laws, strangers to our tastes, manners and customs, to our modes of thought and action, whose predjudices are against us and ours, whose feelings are not, and for a long time cannot be interwoven and sympathetic with our own, to strangers who are the devotees of a religion that pays no deference to the civil or religious rights of others at home or abroad, a religion entirely incompatible with freedom and self government. To them does not belong and they should not ask or expect, the administration of the government of America. To Americans and to Americans alone can that be safely trusted.

It is the moral as well as the constitutional right and the imperative duty of freemen and patriots to place the executive legislation and judicial power of the country in the hands of those whom they believe will with the most fidelity administer the government within the provisions of the constitution and in a manner best calculated to effect its original object and perpetuate our republican institutions. The legitimate exercise of the elective franchise, the right of which cannot be surrendered but with our liberties, is the only means that the people of a free country need, ask or desire, to place in the hands of those whom they feel that they can most safely trust the administration of the government and laws. No man proscribes another by refusing him his vote, when he believes his principles, political or religious, would if carried out in practice, be destructive to the welfare or dangerous to the liberties of the country, and when freemen from the fear of being thought or called proscriptive, shall be restrained from the propriety of voting as their principles or their conscience shall dictate, the elective franchise will be only a shade.

Thus, gentlemen, I have offered to you such suggestions as have occurred to me as proper and pertinent to the occasion. Many other important matters of legislation will of course come before you, and which will receive your serious attention, and I again repeat that I have the fullest confidence that in the performance of your public duties you will allow no other considerations to operate upon your action but the desire of promoting the public good; and in this, so far as may province shall extend, I can safely promise you my cheerful co-operation. RALPH METCALF.

SATURDAY, JUNE 9, 1855.

DIED AWAY.

The Portland "State of Maine" newspaper, of Thursday, June 7th, informs its readers that

But few persons were present at the City Hall yesterday morning, when the session of Court commenced at 9 o'clock, the interest and excitement having in a great measure died away.*

We should think they would, after hearing the testimony of the day before—on which no justice in New England would send a man across the street.

And yet the statement that the interest and excitement had mostly died away, is an extraordinary admission for that paper to make.

It was known that Mr. Clifford, the Chairman of the Citizens' Committee, who was chosen, first to prosecute Mayor Dow for murder, and then to invite him to resign,—was about to make an eloquent special plea against said Dow, on the liquor case, and other matters which Mr. Clifford knows how to introduce. Yet, with this knowledge, there were but few present,—and these few applauded when the judge decided that the purchase, by the Mayor and committee, for the agency, was legal, that no unlawful sale was intended, that the defendant be discharged, and that the liquor be returned to the agency.

Another article in the same paper, says "Neal Dow is on trial before the country." Truly he is so, in the newspapers, in the streets, and everywhere. But we would respectfully ask the Citizens' Committee, by its chairman, who is a lawyer, to tell us why he is not on his way to a trial by a Grand Jury, to see whether they will indict him for murder or manslaughter? He has neither hid himself nor fled. "He was frightened," said the Argus, when the mob came, and when he "stood charged before the community, and a warrant actually issued upon the charge, with a gross violation of law."

The question whether a certain purchase was legal or not, sinks into insignificance when compared with that other question, whether a known and proved homicide was justifiable or murderous.

The Committee of Investigation or Prosecution, who were chosen by the Citizens' Meeting, owe it to themselves, to the mayor, aldermen and police, and above all, to the public, to prosecute Neal Dow for murder or manslaughter, if they believe him guilty of either—or for a misdemeanor or malfeasance in office, if they think he broke the peace! If arming the police was illegal, punish him for that. If calling out the militia was illegal, punish him for that! Let him not escape.

No dodging, gentlemen; no backing out. Mr. Clifford, your chairman, says truly in his plea on the liquor case, "Justice cries from the ground—cries unto us in blood—and cannot be stifled." He adds, as reported in the Advertiser—"except by the hand of God." No, No: God will not stifle justice; and man should not. Somebody is guilty of the blood of this poor victim Robbins. You—your papers—your meetings—and your echoes abroad, charge it upon Neal Dow. But if you back down and don't prosecute him—you virtually pronounce him not guilty, and thus throw the guilt upon the presses and demagogues who stirred up the mob.

*Note.—There is a most remarkable discrepancy between the above quotation from the "State," and the following, from the Argus of the same morning. The Argus says:

At the hour to which the Court adjourned, quite a large audience was in attendance, and which gradually increased until the City Hall was filled.

It is not our business to reconcile the contradiction.

☞ Falsehood runs a league, they say, while Truth is putting on her boots. We never saw this better verified than in the accounts of the rum riot in Portland. Nor have we ever seen a much larger bundle of misrepresentations about one affair. Courts and juries will set them right on the spot; but thousands of readers will never see the corrections of the errors.

☞ A heavy rainstorm occurred in Baltimore on Thursday, unroofing houses, blowing down one, and injuring four persons.

LOCAL.

Police Court.—On Friday morning, Joanna Lairey and Jeremiah Donnovan were brought before Justice Parker, on complaint of officer Willey, for a violent assault upon one Mary Flynn. It appeared in evidence that the affray was commenced by Joanna, and that Jeremiah stood by and made room for them "to fight it out."

A complaint was afterwards made by Joanna against Mary, for a similar assault upon her.

After the first complaint was heard, the Justice proceeded to the trial of the second, reserving his decision of the former, until the testimony on the latter should be heard; and, as in most similar cases heretofore tried by him, discharged all the parties.

Immediately following these cases, another complaint was presented against Jeremiah Lairey, for assaulting and obstructing officer Willey in the act of arresting the above named Donnovan. This case was postponed for one week, by request.

We are informed that when officer Willey arrested Donnovan, Lairey seized Willey by the throat and struck him two or three blows, whereupon Willey was obliged to use his "billy" to protect himself, and be enabled to arrest Donnovan. P.

Vultures.—It is well known that the large crew of the frigate Constitution is to be immediately paid off and discharged, at this naval station; and many of the men will receive considerable sums of money. This has attracted to our city, a horde of the most despicable, debauched, rascally-looking brothel-keepers and pimps, that ever disgraced any respectable community. They are mostly from Boston, though a couple have come from New York—and the notorious Albert J. Tirril, under an alias, is said to be here. Of course they are watching to pounce upon the unsuspecting or degraded among the sailors, and take them 'home' and 'do for' them.—The old ship has now more man-eaters in her wake, than ever followed her briny course; and of all descriptions of the monsters, the land-shark is the most to be feared. So look out for 'em, Jack! The whole pack deserve to be warned off, and if need be, "run" out of these precincts. We have full enough scamps of our own.

Bon Bons.—We were favored on Friday with an opportunity of testing a couple of mammoth "sticks of molasses candy," from the confectionery establishment of Mr. Chas. H. Fernald—big as—need be—and good as—could be.——We omitted to state, in mentioning Mr. Mills' "treat" a few days since, that he manufactures excellent and popular beer, which may always be had, iced, at his nice stall in Jefferson market.——Mr. R. Hilton has purchased the fixtures formerly used in beer-making by Mr. Whitcomb, and is prepared to fill orders for the best quality of sarsaparilla beer, which he also furnishes at his saloon on Islington (otherwise and better Congress) street, and circulates 'about town.'

☞ Rev. Charles Spear will preach at the Universalist church to-morrow. His discourse in the afternoon is to be on the Causes of Crime and the best modes of prevention.

Josiah Tobey Jr. of Kittery, has been appointed keeper of Boon Island Light House; and Hiram Tobey and Charles H. Tobey assistants.

☞ Jones & Cogswell of Concord have sent us a copy of the Hunker's Lament, a serio-comic political poem for the times, with notes, descriptive and illustrative of papers and politics in New Hampshire.

For sale by J. P. Morse.

Important to Holders of Bounty Land Warrants.—Mr. Thomas Pember, No. 15 Doane street, Boston, advertises to purchase warrants, at an advance upon the Government price. See his advertisement in another column.

☞ By a recent decision of a Court in Boston, it appears that the law against large wooden buildings exists there, and can be enforced by the Mayor and Aldermen—but that in a case where they had legal notice of a man's intention to build, it was their duty to see that he built legally—and inasmuch as they did not do it in a given case, the man's great wooden house may stand, and the Court will issue no injunction against it.

So it becomes every man, especially every Alderman, to look out, and not let bad usage erect itself into a bad precedent.

A Son of New Hampshire.—Horatio J. Perry, U. S. Charge at Madrid, whose wisdom and firmness prevented Mr. Soule form involving the country in a war with Spain, and compelled that functionary to return in disgrace to the United States, is a native of New Hampshire, and son of the late Gen. Justin Perry of Keene.—Dover Enquirer.

The Oldest Minister in U. S.—Rev. John Sawyer, of Garland, Me., the oldest minister in the United States, being in his 100th year, arrived at Boston, Wednesday evening, in good health. He is able to preach, and often travels quite a distance from his home.

Fast.—Gov. Metcalf's Message was sent to the printer at Concord on Wednesday at 3 o'clock, and no printed copy was to be had before Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock—making 26 hours to set up about 25 thousand ems—which in these days of daily papers and telegraphs, shows a speed seldom excelled—in slowness. It should have been put in type in four hours, at the most.

☞ California Mail steamer Illinois arrived at New York, Friday, June 8, with 450 passengers, and $500,000.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

WIDOW BATCHELDER.

Our readers may call to mind, if they please, a suggestion of ours, made at the time of the Burns riot in Boston, that Mrs. Batchelder, the widow of the man killed at the Court House there, might not certainly receive all the money which was spoken of as being subscribed at the South for her relief or benefit.

In the Charleston Advertiser of June 2, there is the following official statement.

Messrs. Editors:—As the past week has brought to mind the sad occurrences of "Anniversary week" of last year, the return of Anthony Burns to slavery, and many inquiries have been made concerning the widow of the unfortunate Batchelder, whether promises to her then made, have ever been fulfilled, I take this opportunity to state what contributions have been received for her benefit.

Citizens of Jacksonville, E. Florida,	100.00

Respectfully Yours,
O. C. EVERETT, Att'y.
for MRS. E. J. BATCHELDER.
Charlestown, June 1st, 1855.

On this statement the Advertiser remarks:

The above brings forcibly to our mind the promises of Col. Suttle, the owner of Burns, when he said Virginia would take care of the widow of Batchelder. We have before reminded the Virginia gentleman of the promises he made, and as may be seen by the above figures, not without effect, for Charlottesville, the seat of the "University of Virginia," has come forward and gallantly donated from within her broad acres the sum of two dollars and fifty cents. This ample sum forwarded from the seat of learning of the State, rendered it unnecessary to make other contributions, and accounts for the silence of the remaining portion of the "Old Dominion."

Our remark is, that most men at the South, really despise the Northern men who aid in catching and sending back a slave; and that some of them, the very meanest, would not consider such a laboring man as Batchelder to be any better than a negro. If he happened to be killed, what need they care? All do not feel in this way—some are noble men—but such a feeling is not uncommon.

PAUPER EXTRADITION.—Doubtless there are hard cases; but they seem to be few,—and the whole business a small one. The Boston Courier copies an extract from the Report of the Massachusetts Alien Commissioners for 1854, as follows:

The Superintendent reports that "many destitute, friendless, aged and infirm persons, most of whom, having been here many years, applied for and received assistance to return to Ireland, and a few have been sent per order of the police Court."

"Many of them," he adds, "were taken from our almshouses, and all would have become inmates of these institutions had they remained in this country. It was no less a deed of charity to the applicants themselves than a great saving to the State, to send them home." The number sent in 1854 was one hundred and thirteen, and the cost to the State was four hundred and eighty dollars.

The Courier understands, that of these one hundred and thirteen—not six hundred, as stated elsewhere—foreign paupers, who were sent abroad in 1854, about one hundred went voluntarily and at their own request. They wished to die in their native land, Thirteen only were sent by the State authority.

ALMOST A SLAVE CASE—but not quite.—The Columbus, Ohio, Statesman, of May 29th. says:

On Saturday evening the following entry was made on the register of the American Hotel; "P. Ericon, three ladies, one child and two servants, New Orleans." C. Langston, colored man of this city, made application before Hon. Joseph Swan, that the "two servants," were unlawfully deprived of their liberty, and asked for a writ of habeus corpus.

On examination the servants said they were freed by their master in New Orleans, and were going with him and his family to France.

SAGAMORE HOUSE,

FROST'S POINT, 3½ miles from Postam. Depots.

THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 20th.

To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation.—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. Situated on a point of land on the Atlantic shore, near the Harbor of Portsmouth, the windows on three sides overlook the salt water. From the beach, the broad Atlantic, the Isles of Shoals, the beautiful Piscataqua, and the City of Portsmouth form a charming prospect, and in the background the green fields and leafy woods present a relieving contrast.

The House will be kept in the best manner, and every endeavor will be used to give satisfaction to its guests. The more effectually to do this, the proprietor has secured the services of MR. JOHN MACK, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, whose experience and skill in hotel keeping will be a sufficient guarantee to all who know him that the management will be all that could be desired. The Table will be supplied with all the seasonable luxuries of the sea and land, and every effort used to render a sojourn at the Sagamore agreeable.

A Coach, in charge of an experienced driver, will run between the Sagamore House and the City of Portsmouth, two or three times a day, during the season, connecting with the several railroad trains. Fare 25 cents. All orders left at WM. R. PRESTON'S, in Portsmouth, will receive prompt attention.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

METRODISM—ITS MISSION.—The National Magazine for June 1855, contains a letter by the editor, Rev. Abel Stevens, to Bishop Simpson. In this letter there are statistical comparisons, between the Methodist and other denominations, in New York City and elsewhere, which show that on the whole that denomination sustains itself as well as most others. There are also statements of the great proportion of non-attendants on churches and sabbath schools in the city, and of the scanty church accommodation. The article closes with the following appeal to Christians in general, and to Methodists in particular.

I know not how far our other cities can parallel these frightful facts; but it must be manifest to all observers that the great American cities are rapidly going to moral desolation, under the influx of foreigners and the bad policy (not the bad polity) of the Churches. It is not interior eclesiastical revolutions that we need, but exterior aggressions.—Methodism, especially, is responsible in these pressing circumstances; it has virtually assumed, before all its sister Churches, the chief responsibility for the neglected classes. It needs its old city itinerancy to be projected through these wards; its old working local ministry, (of which more hereafter;) its old willingness to delve in the moral mire of the world for the hidden gems—neglected souls. It must, of course, provide for its improved social position; it should step into every higher and accessible place; it may need, for other reasons, some ecclesiastical modifications, (of which also more hereafter;) but one thing should be understood, and everything else made subordinate to it; namely, that it is still to preach the gospel to the poor. Any effort to divert it from this mission is treason to its providential design, to its history, and to its honor.

☞ The Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company held their annual election in Boston, on Monday, June 7.

The annual election sermon was preached by Rev. George D. Wildes of Brookline. The text was from Nehemiah, chapter 4, verse 18;—

For the builders, every one had his sword girded by his side, and so builded.

The report in the Courier says—

We cannot give a detailed abstract of the discourse, but it was one which deservedly rebuked many of the fanatical notions of the day, and must have given renewed assurances, from the good and wise, of approval of the intelligent, law-controlled operation of a military system like our own.

At the dinner in Faneuil Hall, they had a high time. Col. J. H. Wright made a speech, in which, passing to a consideration of the recent attempt in the General Court to destroy the militia, he said he did not believe that the millenium had yet come when the lion and the lamb could lie down together. Rather, it seemed to him, the jackass and the hyena had got possession of the State House, and had banded together to destroy the fundamental institution of popular liberty. In the Providence of God the day might indeed come, when the lion, with his immense physical power, but at the same time generous nature, and the lamb with its confiding reliance on superior strength, might lie down together and a little child lead them. But now, and it would seem that the heels of the jackass and the snarling fangs of the hyena, were alike engaged to destroy the only means by which so blessed a state could be brought about.

[Colonel Wright must take care what he says. Our legislature, against whose democracy he must not wink, laid our militia on the shelf years ago. Wright must not call them hyenas and jackasses!]

Of the feast, the Courier's report says, no doubt truly:

The table spread at the hall was abundantly provided with the delicacies of the season, and we did notice that liquid comforts were not entirely ignored. In front of the Commander's post was the venerable punch-bowl of the company—well filled, by the bye.

Other liquids, in the shape of claret, champagne and sherry, were not wanting.

We presume not: the fanaticism of temperance has not yet reached the Ancient and Honorables.

In Portland, on Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Dakin went to church, leaving only a little girl at home. During their absence the house was visited by the police, who made a fruitless search for liquor, leaving things 'topsy-turvey.' When they returned, Mrs. Dakin ascertained that $26 had been abstracted from the pocket of one of her dresses. "Our houses are our castles!"

When we read this story in a Portland paper, the money part of it seemed to us "very like a whale;"—and it has not improved much since, in going the rounds. A woman, who kept a house of such a character as to invite a search, might tell stories which every body would not believe. And then, the probability of any woman's leaving money in a dress-pocket, with only a child for housekeeper, is rather small.

A citizen informs us, though, that the police did find liquor there, and seized it.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JUNE 11, 1855.

For the Chronicle.

NATIVES AND ALIENS.

Messrs. Editors:—The general constitution, embodying as it does a charter of inalienable rights, dispensing the high privilege of American citizenship, viewed, either in its essential attributes, or its purposes and objects, must ever stand an illustrious monument to the patriotism of the political fathers. It was intended, as the preamble announces, to secure liberty to themselves and their posterity.—And it would seem then sufficiently evident, from this authority, that native birth might well be considered an essential qualification for holding office, and twenty-one years of residence a suitable term for the naturalization of foreigners. There can be no objection, as a general rule, although there might be exceptions; but the exceptions are not worth quite so much as the rule.

Is not American rule the birthright of Americans? Does not their constitution imply this? Have they not a right to adopt their own system of policy? And, going back to the starting period, to the declaration of independence, what shall the free States now demand as the policy of this government? Shall it be longer slavery; or shall it be liberty? And if they decide to maintain justice against all opposition, will the South undertake to dissolve the Union? Suppose General Quattlebom should raise the standard of revolt in South Carolina, where is the star spangled banner? Do men like oppression and slavery more than they do justice and liberty? The controversy must be brought to this test. No time is to be lost. Was not the American declaration a protest against the corruptions of the Old World, political, civil, ecclesiastical, and most of all, that Papal despotism, which even now seeks to enwrap the globe within its folds of superstition, ignorance, idolatry and barbarism? Indeed, the Southern theory and illustration of the constitution, is no less a violation of truth and justice, than the Roman Catholic interpretation of the bible is a perversion of the aims and purpose of Christianity. And thus we are led to account for the alliance between Roman Catholicism and the present reckless administration. No wonder that Soule was selected to illustrate the foreign diplomacy of the United States; and Cambell to fill the post office department—one of the most important offices in the patronage of the president, the sentinel stationed at the public avenues of communication, holding the keys of knowledge, from and to the people.

PUBLICUS.

☞ The K. N. convention at Philadelphia, on Friday the 8th, decided not to introduce the Roman Catholic delegates from Louisiana; and the dispute between the Regulars and Wigwams of California was adjusted by the admission of Delegates from each body.—They probably organized on that day.

It is said, the Louisiana delegation admitted that they were catholics, but they belong to the Gallican Church, and are not Roman Catholics, inasmuch as they do not go to confession, and scout any and all claims to the Pope to temporal sovereignty over them.—They are natives, all—and there are some thousands of the class in Louisiana.

TWO DROMIOS, or more.—We have sometimes reported the brig Geo. Washington, Day, as going to or from Halifax, where she never went. On examination, we perceive that there is a brig Gen. Washington, that runs from Halifax along our coast, and that her captain's name also is Day. In the printing offices, the o and a, in the abbreviated George and General, are easily confounded.

This, however, is only one case of a large class. There are three American ships named Venice, distinguishable only by the names of their captains. There are, or were, belonging to this port, four schooners named Banner. And by the following paragraph from Boston papers, it will be seen there are two ships named Lady Franklin, Capt. Smith.

The ship Lady Franklin, Smith, which was off Dover about the 12th, was not the vessel of that name and master from Matanzas via Falmouth for Hamburg, which has not yet been reported to have left F., but was the Lady Franklin, Smith, from Bahia, which arrived at Hamburg 18th.

PORTLAND, June 8.—A new Coroner's Jury has been summoned by Gen. Wendell P. Smith, at the request of the committee of investigation, to enquire into the death of Young Robbins, and will commence their session to-morrow morning.

This is a movement in the right direction. Let it be thorough, searching and just. Do not let it evaporate in windy words; but follow up the verdict, whatever it may be, with a legal process founded upon it. A coroner's verdict without the subsequent legal action, appropriate to it, is of small consequence to any body.

WRONG DATE.—Our first page to-day bears the date of Saturday instead of Monday. The date under the editorial head is correct.

BABY SHOW.

The N. Y. Evening Post of Wednesday, says that the number of tickets sold that day exceeded 10,000, and the profits were over $3000.

From early in the morning the doors of the Museum were thronged with visitors, there being to-day even a greater preponderance of ladies than yesterday. Twins, triplets and individual babies under one year of age, constitute this day's attraction, and it would seem while writing as though it would be impossible to accommodate the crowds that besiege the entrances.

The 'census taker,' as he is termed by the matrons, is obtaining an accurate description of the babies, and information concerning their birth and parentage.

The second floor of the Museum is so thronged with persons as to be almost impassable. The babies occupy their old quarters, and are much more noisy than yesterday—one of the consequences of the denser crowd and the inordinate quantities of candies, oranges and cakes with which they have been imprudently stuffed to keep them quiet.

Passing upward into the gallery above the baby show, we find a raised platform, surmounted by a crimson canopy, and draped with material of the same color, over which is a placard—

THE PRIZE BABY.
To this baby was awarded $100, as the finest exhibited out of 143 children. June 5, 1855.

We have thus approached the throne of imperial baby-dom. The courtiers of the scene are mostly ladies, and the attentions lavished upon this successful specimen of infantile perfection, denote the interest with which he is regarded. Young and old ladies insist on kissing him, and the justice of the decision regarding his superiority over all other babies, is universally admitted.

Charles Orlando Scott, born in New York, and now in the fourth year of his age, is the fortunate competitor for the prize. He is a beautiful child, with dark lustrous eyes, which are large and expressive; regular features, remarkable for the soft harmony of their outline, and a form the very perfection of infantile grace. His hair, which is of a light color, curls naturally over a broad and well developed forehead.

The mother, a lady of remarkably fine appearance and much personal beauty, stands beside her child, and the group is regarded with interest and admiration by the thousands of visitors. The little fellow is tastefully attired in a black jacket with white facings, and a pair of petite buff trowsers. He is constantly smiling, and seems to enjoy his conspicuous position on the throne like a little prince.

'A beautiful child,' exclaims a young lady at our elbow.

'I've seen a thousand prettier ones!' returns another.

But the disaffected one finds no support among the audience, who publicly ratify by their observations the choice of the judges.

Attempting to descend to the first floor, we find the crowd has increased almost incalculably. The hum of voices and the shuffling of feet of this vast assemblage is continued, and the greater part of the babies are now endeavoring to increase the general uproar by squalling universally.

The confusion is indescribable; hats, bonnets, parasols, fat babies, giants, albino women and women with whiskers, are all jammed together in one dense mass, and it is perfectly impossible to obtain passage way. We have the assurance of Mr. Greenwood that, previous to 12 o'clock, between nine and ten thousand had visited the Museum.

At length, however, we reach the door, which is also jammed with visitors seeking egress.

'It's all a humbug,' says an elderly gentleman, looking daggers at the treasurer, 'it's a case of imposition.'

'No it isn't either,' retorts a lady, 'it's something worth looking at—beautiful babies.'

'Babies! bah!' and the old gentleman indignantly squeezes himself through the door.'

PERSONS OF LEGISLATORS.—The Concord, N. H., Correspondent of the Boston Times writes thus:

I can only speak of the Legislature generally. In physical appearance, its members need not blush to be compared with any equal number of men. The almost total absence of other than middle-aged men gives it a solid mental aspect. I should think the average age of the members would reach thirty seven years.

Specially speaking, Hon. Wm. P. Hailo, President of the Senate, is an experienced and very competent man to fill the position. The Speaker of the house is one of the ablest of its members, and has made a very favorable impression so far as the business has proceeded.

☞ After our paper was issued on Saturday, we received a note from the publisher of the Concord "Reporter," stating as the reason for his non-compliance with our request to furnish us with an early copy of the Governor's Message,—that His Excellency did not care to read much proof at midnight, and so the issue of his address was postponed till after he revised it on Thursday morning. It might, however, have been put in type before being read.

"RAREFIED MEN." The following appears as the closing paragraph to an article from the pen of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in the last number of the "Independent:"

Alas! that we should have so many rarefied men among us, who are so holy that they cannot quite touch the ground, and yet are not etherial enough to rise entirely up, and therefore hang in an unpleasant oscillation between earth and heaven, quite uncertain in their own minds to which their duties belong.

☞ Garrett O'Neal, of Boston, is in jail there for the murder of his wife Ellen. It is supposed the manner of the homicide was by beating and throwing the deceased down stairs. Both parties were of grossly intemperate habits.

LOCAL.

THE HARPIES.—From the first morning on which the frigate Constitution was anchored below our city, the Chronicle has been largely circulated among the officers and crew. And when we stated a few days since, that a flock of buzzards were after poor Jack's hard earned gold,—an order was given to exclude all strangers from boarding her, so that these "nice gents" should be stopped. That notice of ours, with our warning of Saturday, has elicited the following reply from those most deeply interested, which it gives us great pleasure to publish. Perhaps it would be full as well for all these watchful guardians referred to, to be leaving, while they can.

U. S. FRIGATE CONSTITUTION,
June 9th, 1855.

To the Editors of the Morning Chronicle, and the Citizens of Portsmouth:—The crew of the U. S. Frigate Constitution return their sincere thanks for the warning given to them in this morning's paper, concerning the land sharks, pimps, brothel keepers, &c. Some of these fellows paid this ship a visit, a few days ago, and they aroused our suspicions immediately. A glimpse of them was enough for us, and reading this morning's paper confirmed our opinion of them.

THE CREW OF THE CONSTITUTION.

☞ Two gentlemen, who claimed to be from New York, and who also claimed to be respectable men, called at the Chronicle Office on Saturday, representing themselves injured or aggrieved by our paragraph about the Vultures. These gentlemen said they were the only couple from New York who had come for sailors, and that they were no vultures. One of them stated that he had been fifteen years connected with an Episcopal Mission in New York.

To all which our answer was and is, that if they are respectable men, the vulture piece does not mean them; and accordingly we give them the benefit of their own denials.

Blacklegs are often mistaken for gentlemen. It is not strange, therefore, that gentlemen should sometimes be mistaken for blacklegs. This may be one of the latter cases.

We hope our whole community, landsmen as well as seamen, will look sharp on all strangers. This will do honest men no harm—and may do the dishonest some good, by bringing them to justice.

POLICE COURT.—Mrs. Emily Blaisdell and Adelaide Varney, were brought before Justice Parker, on Saturday forenoon, on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame on Pickering street. After a partial hearing, the case was postponed to Monday forenoon, and the respondents ordered to give bonds in $300 for their appearance at that time.

On Saturday afternoon, Stephen Seavey was arraigned for making a brawl and tumult in Penhallow street on Friday night; also for assaulting an officer who arrested him. The complaints were both proved, and the respondent sentenced to the House of Correction for 15 days, and pay a fine of $5 on each complaint.

☞ We would call attention to the advertisement of Mr. Ackley, in our paper of this morning. He is a gentleman of much experience in the optical business, and has lately devoted himself exclusively to the importation of Scotch Pebbles, which make the best of spectacle eyes, being so hard as never to become scratched, and also exerting a beneficial effect on the eyes by their cooling property. !!

MERITED SUCCESS.—Nobody drives a better team than Jackson & Co.'s Express—and nobody drives a team better than theirs is driven. Nobody does a better business than theirs—and nobody does a business better than theirs is done. They brought down from Boston, on Thursday, among their car-load of packages, a box containing the snug little sum of $108,000 in gold, which they conveyed to the Navy Yard on Friday, where it is to be distributed among the officers and crew of the Constitution.

We observe that they have just purchased a valuable and showy horse, for one of their wagons; which, with the splendid harness just made and fitted to him at Mr. Larrabee's saddlery establishment, in this city, is a team fit to haul loads of gold all the time. And nobody takes better care of horses than Mr. Tripp, who usually rides behind these.

DEATHS IN MAY.—Mr. Robert Bell's record of mortality in Portsmouth, for the month of May, is as follows:

Males, seven—aged 3 mos., 8 mos., 4 years, 7 years, 44, 68, 80.

Females, seven—aged 3 mos., 1 year, 25 years, 32, 59, 59, 85.

Total number of deaths, during the month, fourteen.

☞ Our old friend, Mr. David Tooke, recently of this city, has taken the carriage manufactory formerly occupied by Mr. Thomas W. Willey, at Newmarket, and will devote himself to the business in all its branches.—Those in need of his services will find him a good workman, as well as a thorough gentleman and an enterprising citizen.

The Portland State of Maine quotes from the Boston Journal, and describes that paper as being "friendly to the Liquor Law, and for a long time an organ of a temperance party."

It was such an organ, several years ago, under former editors and proprietors,—but not recently.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchitis, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes carefully and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only write it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

CONTESTED ELECTION.—Washington, June 7th.—The Anti-Know-Nothings have determined to contest the election of the new City Officers. Mr. Carlisle, late Corporation Attorney, Mr. Fendall, late U. S. District Attorney, and Mr. Lawrence, all eminent lawyers, have advised the present incumbents of the Collector's, Register's offices, to retain their positions till ejected by force or a new election is held.

A meeting of the Anti's will be held tonight to ascertain the number of votes that were registered.

Land warrants were plentiful at $1, 08 per acre. 275 were issued daily.

DISASTER TO STEAMER BENJ. FRANKLIN.—Norfolk, June 8th.—The steamship Benj. Franklin, from St. Thomas for New York, has put into this port in distress, leaking, and with yellow fever on board. Three deaths have already occured. Fifty of her passengers have gone on to Baltimore. The passengers had to work three days at the pumps to keep the vessel afloat. The steamer, it will be remembered, was bought by the Mexican Government while she was at St. Thomas.

CHICAGO, June 8th.—Recent returns completely turn the tables in regard to the Prohibitory Liquor Law. The figures from 23 Central and Southern Counties show over 10,000 majority against prohibition. The State, as far as heard from now stands 4340 against the law.

CHICAGO, June 8th.—Returns come in in a most perplexing manner. The 60 counties heard from now foot up a majority of only 30 for the prohibitory law. Strong apprehensions are felt that the law is defeated.

CLEVELAND, June 7th.—The National Industrial Congress met here yesterday and effected a temporary organization. In the evening John Sheldon, of Pensylvania, delivered an address. Today Convention was organized by the election of John Sheldon, President, and gentlemen from twelve States as Vice Presidents, with three Secretaries. Resolutions were passed advocating land limitation. New York was chosen as the next place of meeting in May, 1856.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Col. Kinney did not make his appearance in the U. S. District Court this morning, and the District Attorney said he had been informed that Col. Kinney had left the United States.

We understand that the late advance in the price of board in our first class hotels is found to be a losing speculation, and that the St. Nicholas and Colomore have already returned to their old rates.

Yes; but will their customers return also? They may possibly have found out, in the meantime, that cheaper board is as good or better than that for which they paid so much.

BETTING.—To such an extent did the rage for betting on the Virginia election prevail in Washington city, that one of the government contractors for the capitol extension, after putting up all the "rocks" he could raise, finally staked the marble blocks which were designed for the structure he was putting up. Luckily he bet on the safe side, and is reported to have won upwards of $50,000.

FACTS.—The Biddeford Union of Friday June 8, speaking of the late riot in Portland, says:

In connection with this matter we wish to state a fact which we have on the authority of a gentleman whose word cannot be questioned, which shows the intention of the persons composing the mob, and its originators.—This gentleman is a boarder in the Saco House.

On the morning of Saturday a person from Portland who came from that city that morning, said in the office of the Saco House, "that there was to be fun in Portland before night, and he was sorry to have to come away, that the liquor purchased by Dow was to be seized, they had got an officer, a Mr. Brady to seize it, and when it was being moved, the crowd were to destroy it."

This shows there was a concerted plan to create a disturbance, during which the crowd either availing themselves of the negligence, or what is more probable, an understanding with the officer, were to destroy the liquors.—One of these rumors which sometimes precede acts of this kind, that there was to be a row in Portland, was freely circulated in our streets on Saturday.

The Police Judge by giving the warrant to Deputy Marshall Ring to execute, frustrated the intentions of the rioters, and their instigators, and the firmness of the city authorities preserved the peace of the city. The shedding of blood is to be deplored, but in this instance, the responsibility of it is not on the city authorities, but upon the rioters and those who by inflammatory articles published in the papers, totally untrue, incited the disturbances.

We call attention to the above statements, which go to show that there was a conspiracy by designing men to get up a serious disturbance—which unfortunately turned out a little more serious than they intended.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The wide spread rumor that Col. Green of the Boston Post, will succeed Mr. Buchanan as Minister to London, is untrue.

Four gentleman of Horicon, Wisconsin, went over to Juneau to a ball, carrying with them several bottles of champagne, which they deposited in a box in a garret, and going to it afterward in the dark, drank part of a bottle of bedbug poison which was in the same box. Two of them, it was thought, might survive.

Prodigious! as Dominie Sampson says—that gentlemen should be drinking bedbug poison in a garret. Gentleman! Hmm!

The Arctic Expedition, which sailed on Thursday, is to be conducted on temperance principles. A store of spirits was put in, but none will be served except in cases of extreme emergency. If those men can live up there among the icebergs, without "a drop to take the chill off," the physiological necessity of spirituous liquors will be exploded.

ACCIDENT.—On the Thursday P. M. train of the Central road, the fireman, Mr. Robert Wallace of Henniker, put out his head, looking backward to the conductor's signal. In a moment it came in contact with the pipe of a water tank, which knocked him from the engine, insensible. He was taken up, and carried to his home, where he was lying, at last accounts, in a very critical condition.

76 State st., oppo. Kilby st., Boston.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to present advantages, in applying for Patents, superior to those offered to inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others,) will be remitted by him to the Patent Office to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal through him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments and all necessary papers and drawings, for procuring patents in this and foreign countries prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringement of patents.

Inventors can not only here obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, but can here avail themselves of the experience of 20 years' practice, an extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and correct accounts of patents granted in this and other countries; besides being saved a journey to Washington, the usual great delay there, as well as all personal trouble in obtaining their patents. Copies of claims of any patent furnished by remitting one dollar.—Assignments recorded at Washington.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

COL. KINNEY.—The Chicago Journal gives a minute but not flattering history of this individual. He is about 50 years of age, tall, and stoops, is retiring in his manners, especially with strangers, is ambitious and has a slim stock of honesty. He left Pennsylvania at an early age, and settled in Peru, Illinois, under the patronage of Daniel Webster, whose daughter Julia he courted, and to further the suit presented her father with a pair of cream colored horses, one stained to match;—they never been paid for. He then contracted for excavating the canal basin at La Salle, by which he extended his credit and procured a large stock of goods, with which he opened a smuggling or trading post near Corpus Christi on the Mexican side of the Nueces river, which he garrisoned and fortified so strongly as to defy the Government authorities. By treachery he was captured and taken into the City of Mexico just at the downfall of Santa Anna's dictatorship, and taking advantage of the confusion escaped. Through his exertions the Texan Congress passed a law annexing the country between the Nueces and the Rio Grande rivers, and he immediately got himself elected from the district. After getting into the Texan Congress he introduced and pushed through the resolutions providing for the annexation of Texas to the United States. The United States in fixing the boundary line, got into war with Mexico, and Col. Kinney was on hand with large herds of cattle, which he sold to the U. S. Government at enormous profits, and after the war he was again ready and purchased them back again for literally nothing. This completes the sketch up to the present time of a remarkable uneasy man, who had had a rare talent to make himself comfortable through the accumulation of wealth, but spoiled by an ambition to be greater than his Creator intended to make him.

This is the story of the Journal.

THE USE OF PIANOS PROSCRIBED.—A highly respectable Quaker in New York, has been disowned by the Hicksite Friends in that city, because he had purchased a pianoforte and had the same in his house in Madison street. The fact was not denied, but it was averred that the offending Friend had ever been an exemplary member of the society, and further, that the piano had not caused any visible deterioration in his religious zeal, piety or morality. He was disowned by the monthly and appealed to the quarterly meeting. There the decision was confirmed. He then carried the case up to the yearly meeting, with the same result. We quote from the report of the case in the New York Tribune:

The good character of the offending Friend was fully sustained by ample testimony. But there was the piano—a hideous contrivance when viewed through Quaker spectacles—still standing, and probably in perfect tune, in his parlor in Madison street, and the New York yearly meeting confirmed the righteousness of the decision of the inferior tribunal.—We believe that the piano is still standing there, but its owner has ceased to be a member of the society.

The decision is a very important one in its consequences. It seems that there are about 40 Friends in New York, who, with their families are liable to the same condemnation. most of them stand high in the Society in every respect except in entertaining a taste for the tabooed art. Among the number is at least one preacher. Under the decision of the yearly meeting, the monthly meeting of course will commence casting out the remaining offenders until the Society is purified of all music-loving persons.

Among the numerous honorable cases of conformity to the Liquor Law in Boston without compulsion, we are happy to be informed that Messrs. Codman & Parker, wine merchants, in State street have, since the law came in force, conformed strictly to its requirements, and intend to do so hereafter. Telegraph.

A diabolical attempt to throw the Express train from New York for Boston from the track, was made on Tuesday evening, about 2 miles below Worcester, is as supposed for the purpose of robberry, there being $800,000 in specie on the cars, designed for the steamer for Liverpool. Some half dozen stones were placed on the track, and the rails displaced upon a down grade, where the cars go at the rate of 40 miles an hour. The obstructions were seen in time to reverse the engine, but not much to check the speed, and consequently the train went off with such a crash that the report was distinctly heard 2 miles. The engine, at some distance, was thrown into a ditch, and the engineer and fireman somewhat injured. The baggage car, containing six persons and the specie, after rolling over, was broken to pieces but the men escaped with bruises, and the scattered specie was recovered. The forward car was badly smashed, but of the 150 passengers no one was killed, though there were plenty of bloody noses and sore limbs.

Danger has been apprehended of the intentional throwing the train on this road from the track, for the purpose of robbery, and watchmen have been employed to guard against it; and it would appear that robbery was designed now, not only from the money that might not be well guarded in the confusion and distress, but from the fact that an engine at Worcester was also found to have been tampered with to prevent aid to the disabled. If the perpetrators of this outrage are discovered, they ought to be hanged at once. —Newburyport Herald.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT
—IN—
otary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.
PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.
THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.
My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, crossgrained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.
My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.
Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,
JAMES A. WOODBURY.

TUESDAY, JUNE 12, 1855.

STORIES STRETCH.

We have observed that stories stretch as they travel, not only by word of mouth, but even in the newspapers.

We have before us the neat little Daily Patriot of June 7, printed at Concord, N. H., from which we clip the following paragraph:

How they make it pay.—The zealous Maine Law officers in Portland seem resolved to get pay for their services in searching private dwellings for rum, when no rum was found. The State of Maine says the police visited the house of Mr. Dakin in search of liquors, and stole $26 from the pocket of Mrs. Dakin's dress, while Mr. and Mrs. D. were absent from home.

Now we happen to know that the State of Maine did not say this; for we have also before us the daily paper of that name, dated June 2, printed at Portland, from which we cut the following extract:

What was found we do not know, but we are informed that Mrs. Dakin is very sensible what was lost, for on returning and seeing what had been going on, she looked into the pocket of her dress left hanging in the house, and found that twenty-six dollars (one twenty dollar gold piece) she had put there, had been abstracted in her absence. Where it had gone of course no one knows. In a man's house his castle in these days? We charge no one with this robbery; &c., &c.

Every person who can read the two paragraphs, can see the discrepancy between them. The State of Maine don't know what was found,—the Patriot says that no rum was found. We say, on good testimony, that it was found, and destroyed.

The State cautiously makes no charges against any one, only insinuates—but the Patriot says the police stole, and imputes the saying, as above quoted, to the State of Maine.

We have before us a file of the daily State of Maine for a good part of May and June—and also copies of most other important papers which have noticed the Rum Riot in Portland. We have read, carefully, all that has been published about it, in most of the dailies in New England, and in not a few weeklies.

Within the last fortnight previous to the rum riot, there appeared in the State of Maine near a dozen pieces of inflammatory matter, much of it of the character above quoted, directly calculated (we do not say designed,) to stir up a rum riot in Portland.

Several of these articles have been extensively noticed, copied, abridged and altered elsewhere,—somewhat after the fashion of the above extract from the Patriot. Then they have travelled the rounds, and with remarks, founded on these perversions, have found their way back again to Portland, and sometimes into the Portland State of Maine and Argus. Several of the same items, for substance, but varied in phraseology and form, have appeared in the Argus editorially.

This same process is still going on, since the riot, for what good purpose we are puzzled to see.

We will just now give but two specimens of it. The Argus of June 9 contains the following item:

That Mayor Dow acted hastily, with most intemperate zeal, and remarkable lack of judgment, his warmest friends are forced to admit. The feeling against him in consequence is very unanimous, and demonstration has been made of its presence among the people of Portland.—N. H. Patriot.

The New Hampshire Gazette of June 9th, says, in its editorial remarks:

One citizen was killed and several severely wounded, and Dow's liquor was preserved from the court process and the mob.

This is a very remarkable assertion. By all the accounts, even the one which the same Gazette copies from the Argus,—the liquor was preserved, not from the court process, but to it.

The liquor was at the time of the fight, not in the hands of Neal Dow, not in the hands of the city agent—but in the hands of the officer who seized it under warrant from the Court against Dow. The police were the keepers of it, for the Court,—and if the mob had not been fought off, they would have drank themselves drunker than they were, on part of it, and smuggled away or destroyed the balance. The Court would never have seen it.

Now we do not say that all or any of these perversions and inversions of the facts, are intentional, willful falsehoods,—but we do say they are very remarkable coincidences.

Massachusetts Law.—An opinion,—signed by Rufus Choate, Elias Merwin, Sidney Bartlett and Charles G. Loring,—touching some points of the liquor law, and pronouncing them irregular and unconstitutional, has been furnished to the wine merchants of Boston.

So says the Boston Courier, which publishes the document. The paid-for opinions of eminent lawyers are worth something; nev. [illegible] they are not decisions. But if the law has weak and vulnerable points, the sooner it is understood the better.

THE PRISONER'S FRIEND.

Rev. Charles Spear, who is well known as the editor of the periodical called the Prisoner's Friend, and who has made himself very useful personally as the friend of prisoners,—spent the last Sabbath in this city, and in the afternoon preached at the Universalist church, on the Causes of Crime—noticing some of the remedies which have proved most efficient. He is warmly in favor of Reform Schools, and expressed himself warmly in favor of such a school in New Hampshire, for various reasons. One of these reasons is economy. "If," says Lord Ashley, "if we would not consent to tax ourselves for the prevention of crime, we must be taxed still more heavily for the punishment of it. The expense of one convict for one year would educate more than one hundred children."

Mr. Spear thinks favorably of Gov. Metcalf's recommendations in regard to our debtor laws, and hands us the following paragraphs on this subject:

Imprisonment for Debt.—I perceive that the Governor of your State has called attention to the subject of imprisonment for debt. In 1832, I published a work on that topic, in which I embraced many facts, and gave the opinions of Mr. Webster, Edward Everett, and others. I am somewhat surprised to find your State, so enlightened in many other respects, so far behind in regard to imprisonment of poor debtors. The governor says, "I refer to the law allowing a prior lien by priority of attachments or writs of mesne process, a process that seizes the property of a debtor, and takes it from his possession before any debt is legally shown to be due, a process unknown to the Union, except in New England."*

In Massachusetts, the law of imprisonment for debt is to be abolished on the birthday of our national independence. I trust New Hampshire will stand side by side with the Old Bay State on our next fourth of July. It would be a grand triumph of humanity.

C. Spear.

*The State of South Carolina has a similar law, so that the Governor may be mistaken in confining his remarks to New England.

ROAD MAKING.

Messrs. Editors:—Among the propositions offered by a committee of the city government for amendment of the City Charter, I was sorry to observe that that for the abolition of the office of Surveyors of Highways, was not approved by the City Council. I cannot help thinking that if that subject was rightly considered, they would concur with the recommendations of their committee. I am as unwilling as any one to give up established usages, unless very decided advantages are to be obtained by the change.

As far as my information goes, those towns which have adopted such a mode of managing the roads as is contemplated by the proposed change, would not on any account go back to the old system, it being evident that one half the amount expended judiciously by a commissioner who would superintend all the roads, would go farther to keep the roads in repair, than the whole amount as now expended.

To do any work properly, but a moderate number of men and teams are requisite, and these to be properly proportioned; and this is especially true in work on a road. Now how do we manage? We appoint our best men as Surveyors, and those are selected, generally, who are thriving and industrious about their own concerns. But such men cannot afford to spend as much time on the road as would best economise the labor, consequently they order out the whole district, to satisfy the requirements of the law, and to get through the job as soon as possible; besides, the best time to work on the roads is the very time when farmers are most busy, and so the road making is put off to a more convenient season. I wish it to be understood that I do not herein intend to find fault with our Surveyors or any other persons employed on the road. They no doubt do as well as they can. It is against the system that I complain, and which I think the Common Council will abolish if they will give the subject their careful consideration. Viator.

On Saturday last, the Board of Aldermen in Portland, voted to request a large committee of gentlemen—fourteen or fifteen, to investigate and report upon the facts and circumstances connected with the recent riots in that city. Several of them have signified their acceptance.

☞ There is to be an Anti-Slavery meeting Concord, at Rumford Hall, on Thursday, June 21, to continue through Friday.

Among those expected to attend the Convention are William Lloyd Garrison, Stephen S. and Abby K. Foster, Wendell Phillips, and A. T. Foss.

Buffalo, June 9.—The steamer Buckeye State, early this morning, in a dense fog ran on the rocks at Point Albino, twelve miles from here. The passengers were all taken off by a steam-tug from the city. Should the present wind increase there is danger of the vessel's going to pieces.

LOCAL.

The Rockingham County Conference is to be held in this city to-day and to-morrow.—The services will commence this morning at half past ten o'clock in the Fleet street vestry.

This evening there will be preaching in the Unitarian church, (which was kindly offered by the wardens,)—services commencing at a quarter before eight o'clock. Rev. Rufus W. Clark will preach on the occasion.

Other public services will be held in the same church tomorrow. It is hoped that the citizens generally, will participate in these meetings.

☞ The Temple in this city was crowded on Sunday evening, by an attentive congregation, who listened to an eloquent Temperance Lecture by Rev. Rufus W. Clark, of Boston. The speaker contended for reformatory preaching on the Sabbath as well as on other days; desired to preach against the evils of to-day, rather than those before the flood; defended prohibitory law; showed great evils, calling for its uses; and eloquently depicted the evils of intemperance, drugged liquors, and other abominations.

Dramatic Readings.—by Miss Annie Senter.—It will be perceived that this talented and successful young lady, who has just completed several successful Star Engagements at the Boston Museum, is to give a Dramatic Reading in this city, at the Temple, on Friday evening next. Her performances are highly spoken of by those who have seen them; and we cannot doubt she will have a good house.

The Dramatic Company at the Cameneum continue to attract and entertain good houses, and to receive the applause of those spectators best qualified to judge of such entertainments. Spectator.

Police Court.—Mrs. Emily Blaisdell and Adelaide Varney, who were brought before Justice Parker on Saturday forenoon, on a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame on Pickering street, were further examined on Monday, when respondents were bound over in the sum of $100 each, to appear at the September term of Court of Common Pleas, to be holden at Portsmouth.

Hatch, County Solicitor—Towle for Defts.

☞ Ship Colorado, Haley, of this port, from Mobile for Havre, put into our lower harbor on Monday evening, to land the captain, he being sick.

Sticking to the Wreck.—We have derived considerable amusement from the calamities by fire, of our friend Larrabee, across the way from our window, within a year or two—seeing they have not resulted very seriously. Three times has he been stirred up by the too near approach of the devouring element—having twice cleared his shop; yet still his sign hangs over the door, and his jolly, good-humored self is to be found at his bench in the same old spot. First, fire took from the chimney in his own shop—next, in the Granite House, with but a wood partition between—and last, not least, in a rear room of the same building. This left him literally "without a roof over his head;" and the engines deluged his room; but though most of his stock and workmen are now turning out the best of harness work at his new shop in Daniel street, he sticks to the old place, and is not routed by a small shower. We see no immediate prospect of a repair of the building,—but Mr. Larrabee is certainly entitled to salvage if he does ride out the gale in the old dismasted craft.

Concord, N. H., June 8th.—The Senate this morning fixed upon Tuesday the 12th inst., for an election on their part of United States Senators.

In the House, the three claimants from Meredith were admitted to seats. Notice was given of a second motion to reconsider the vote, fixing on Wednesday the 13th inst., as a time for the election of U. S. Senators by the House. Both branches adjourned over to Monday afternoon.

Philadelphia, 11th.—The Know Nothings are making great preparations for a grand mass meeting on Saturday evening next, in Independence square. The platform now in preparation, it is supposed, will be adopted by that time, and ready for promulgation. The presence of an immense throng is anticipated.

"Told the Truth and shamed" himself.—The Newburyport Herald states that a loafer testifying in the Police Court in that city the other day, about a quarrel between a man and his wife, said the man did thus, and the woman so, "while I stood nuisance!"—We should like to know if all loafers dont "stand nuisance."

Installation.—On Thursday evening a very large audience assembled at the Second Universalist Church in Lynn, to witness the installation of Rev. Henry Jewell, as pastor of that church and society. Sermon by Rev. Thomas Whittemore of Cambridge; the installing prayer was by Rev. N. Gunnison of Gloucester.

ROCKINGHAM CO. CONFERENCE.

The Rockingham Co. Conference of Churches will meet at Portsmouth, (with Rev H. D. Moore's Church) commencing on Tuesday, June 12, at 10 o'clock, A.M. and continue two days. Preacher at the opening of the Conference, Rev. E. C. Cogswell primary, Rev. O. Holmes substitute; preacher before the communion, Rev. T. G. Brainerd primary, Rev. J. M. C. Bartley substitute.

Winthrop Fifield, Asst. Sec.

☞ Ministers and delegates to the Rockingham County Conference to be holden in Portsmouth, June 12th, will call at the Brick Vestry in Fleet street, where they will find persons in waiting to direct them to their lodgings. je6

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die early of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only wyile it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—A correspondent at Augusta, Mo., informs us that a large portion of the great Dam across the Kennebec river at that place, was swept away by the floods on Saturday night last. The river, swelled by the late rains, which also brought down against the dam large numbers of logs, made a breach of about one hundred and fifty feet in the centre. A few years ago, a similar accident occurred; and in the repairs, an extra front was built for about half the length, somewhat higher than the old Dam. This support was carried away on Friday night; and on Saturday night the inner wall gave out as above mentioned. The Kennebec Co.'s cotton factory, four large sawmills, and an extensive machine-shop, &c., depend upon this dam for motive power; and of course these must lie idle while repairs are being made—probably from four to six months. By this accident, from six to eight hundred persons, male and female, are thrown out of employment for the summer.

VIRGINIA ELECTION.—The Albany Journal, in some remarks upon the Virginia election, very pertinantly says—Northern Whigs could feel but little interest in the progress of the campaign. The candidates of neither party entertained views, on various vital questions, in harmony with the views and sympathies of the great mass of the party in the Free States. Both were the open and avowed apologists of Slavery and its whole catalogue of aggressions; and both claimed their election as essential to the overthrow of the "Free-Soil fanaticism of the North."—Hence the general indifference which the Northern-Whig Party have felt in regard to the intermination of this contest. The election of Wise may make the Democrats happy, but it can have no very depressing influence upon Whigs, whose aspirations are for the dawning of the day when, upon this continent, the sun shall not rise upon a Master nor set upon a Slave.

It is stated that thousands of Whigs voted for Mr. Wise, preferring him to the other candidate. Mr. Wise acknowledges himself his indebtedness to them on his score.

Whigs! Whigs? Who are they? We understood all along, that the Whig party was dead—some said buried.

KNOW-NOTHING NATIONAL CONVENTION. —New York.—In the Know-Nothing Convention at Philadelphia yesterday there were six ballots. The number of votes cast was 147. Barker received 56; Ricardo (of Maryland) 16; Colby (of New Hampshire) 23; Gardner 32; Bartlett 14; Dunnehower (of Illinois) 2. On the third ballot Gardner had 49, and on the 4th 58. On the 6th his friends united with those of Bartlett, of Kentuckey, giving the latter 4 majority and electing him.

C. D. Freeman, of Penn., was chosen Vice President, having 71 votes, to 22 for Ford, of Ohio; 16 for Sperry, of Conn.; and 27 for others.

C. W. Deshler, of New Jersey, was appointed Corresponding Secretary, last year the Recording Secretary, over Booth, of Conn.

The Rev. Harry W. Rugg, of Dennis, Mass., (Universalist) was chosen Chaplain, and Henry Crane, of Ohio, Treasurer.

The Committee on Platform are T. H. Ford, of Ohio; Colfax, of Indiana; Foster, of Massachusetts; Colby, of New Hampshire; Johnston, of Pensylvania; Lyons, of New York; Haughton, of North Carolina, and one from each of the other States.

They met at 9 A. M. to construct a platform.

THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure-seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 20th.

To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. Situated on a point of land on the Atlantic shore, near the Harbor of Portsmouth, the windows on three sides overlook the salt water. From the beach, the broad Atlantic, the Isles of Shoals, the beautiful Piscataqua, and the City of Portsmouth form a charming prospect; and in the background the green fields and leafy woods present a relieving contrast.

The House will be kept in the best manner, and every endeavor will be used to give satisfaction to its guests. The more effectually to do this, the proprietor has secured the services of Mr. JOHN MACK, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, whose experience and skill as a hotel keeping will be a sufficient guarantee to all who know him that the management will be all that could be desired. The Table will be supplied with all the seasonable luxuries of the sea and land, and every effort used to render a sojourn at the Sagamore agreeable.

A Coach, in charge of an experienced driver, will run between the Sagamore House and the City of Portsmouth, two or three times a day, during the season, connecting with the several railroad trains. Fare 25 cents. All orders left at WM. R. PRESTON'S, in Portsmouth, will receive prompt attention.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

HOMICIDE.—The Manchester Mirror has an account of a homicide committed in Hillsboro, N. H., on the 5th inst., at the almshouse of that town. It appears that Levi Johnson and Jesse C. Kendall, the former a pauper and the latter a hired man, were at work together. Kendall joked Johnson, who is represented to be a man of violent temper, irritating him to such a degree, that instantly raising a shovel with which he was at work, he struck Kendall a terrible blow upon the head, completely opening the skull from the forehead to the back part of the head. Kendall, at the last accounts, was alive, but no hopes were entertained of his recovery.

Some one has complained to Mayor Wood of New York, that he had a pair of fine patent leathers ruined by walking past the door of a champaigne manufacturer. The favorite beverage is enlivened it seems, by quantities of vitriol and marble dust, and the unfortunate gentleman stepped in some of the scatterings of these first principles of good wine, and thereby lost his boots. He is decidedly of opinion that a substance which will eat up leather, must make sad havoc with the linings of live men.

TALL RYE.—We have in our office a stalk of rye, cut in Farmington, Iowa, last Tuesday, by a gentleman arrived in Newburyport, that measures 6 feet in length, and which we are assured is a fair average of the extensive field from which it was taken. The head is well formed, and the grain would have ripened in 2 or 3 weeks. If it is a fair specimen of the growing crop of the West, as no doubt it is, there should be no wonder that flour declines in New York.—Herald.

LOST HIS BRIDE.—One Patrick Toomy got out a certificate of marriage to Honora Sullivan, a few days since, which he put in her hands for safe keeping. Next day she saw a "young fellow," "more suited to her mind," who took Toomy's name, and went and got married. Real Toomy congratulates himself on escaping matrimony with such a false one, but thinks it a mean trick.—Boston Bee.

A New Topographical Map

AND

OF

ROCKINGHAM COUNTY, N. H.,

BY J. CHASE, JR., CIVIL ENGINEER.

From actual Measurement, by Instrumental Surveys, throughout the County.

THE undersigned propose to publish by subscription a large and accurate Topographical Map of Rockingham County, from thorough and careful surveys, by J. Chase, Jr., Civil Engineer.

Every road to be carefully surveyed by course and distance, and the locations noted of all the Public Roads, Dwellings, Churches, Post Offices, Hotels, Stores, School Houses, Factories, Mills, Shops, Hills, Ponds, Marshes, Streams, &c.

The names of the property holders generally, carefully including all those who order for the work, will be engraved upon the Map, showing the exact location of each.

Extra Maps of Cities and principal villages will be engraved upon the margin of the Map. Also, a Table of Distances, showing the number of miles from each Post Office to every other throughout the County, together with the latest statistical information. A highly ornamented Border, containing Views of Public Buildings, Manufactories, Private Residences, Natural Scenery, &c. will surround the Map.

The Map will be Engraved by the most skilful Artists in the country, handsomely colored and mounted, and will be delivered (to those who order) for five dollars per copy.

We are now actively engaged in forwarding the work, and shall endeavor to give every property holder an opportunity of ordering a copy, and also of examining the work before its final completion, in order to make it satisfactory as to accuracy, &c.

The Map will contain all the information usually found in Town maps, for each of the towns in the County, and it is obvious that the most liberal patronage is needed to sustain us in producing a work of so great magnitude and expense. As it is evidently of such practical utility and interest to business men and citizens generally, presenting so minute and distinct a representation of the County, that even the child may readily acquire a correct idea of each town, village, &c. and their true directions and distances from each other, we confidently solicit and expect the hearty co-operation of the intelligent and enterprising citizens of Rockingham County.

SMITH & COFFIN, Publishers,

BOSTON, MASS.

Address care of IDE & DUTTON, Boston Map Store, No. 100, Washington street.

We, the undersigned, having examined the recent survey and draft of this County, also a Topographical Map of Hartford Co. Conn., published by Messrs. Smith & Co. take pleasure in recommending the Topographical Map of this County, which is very much needed, being of great practical utility to business men and citizens generally, and from the united testimonials and recommendations they have from distinguished gentlemen where they have made surveys and published County Maps, we feel confident they will furnish an accurate, reliable and useful map and directory well worthy of liberal patronage. We hope the citizens of this County will interest themselves sufficiently in this enterprise that the publishers may engrave upon the margin of the map extra plans of the city and principal villages on an enlarged scale. Considering the expense of such a survey of the whole County, (thirty-eight towns) being, as it is, entirely local work, we think they offer it very reasonable.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 13, 1855.

CORONER'S INQUEST.

PORTLAND, June 11.—The Coroner's jury have been in session all day, receiving testimony, but have come to no result as yet. Adjourned till to-morrow morning at half-past nine o'clock.

We have carefully read the testimony taken on that day, as reported in the State of Maine newspaper; it does not seem to change the aspect of the case in any important particular.

Dr. Lord thinks the deadly wound of Robbins was by a musket-ball,—and says "at the time he was shot, he was not probably standing upright."

Dr. Clay did not profess to know the difference between pistol and rifle or musket balls, by the wound.

Dr. Young agreed with Dr. Lord, in deeming it a musket ball,—but on further examination, he says he "don't remember to have had occasion to examine a gunshot wound before, in the human system—don't remember to have dressed, or assisted at dressing a gunshot wound. Have seen gunshot wound before. Can't tell when and where." Heard a report of what he judged pistols—afterwards of muskets.

James Crawford heard one discharge of firearms at the time Robbins fell, and but one at that time—either one piece, or more than one fired at once. Another discharge immediately after he fell. He helped carry the man away. He fell on about the middle of the sidewalk, and fell backwards, from the building. Don't know whether the discharge was in the building or from the walk.

Nelson Leighton, heard Mayor Dow order the Assembly to disperse, in the name of the State of Maine.

They did'nt disperse. He asked Mr. Green to order his company to fire. Mr. Green did'nt order them to fire, and he ordered them to fire himself They did'nt fire, and went away.

The next I heard of any firing, there was a company of men marching down Middle street into the building. They marched into the Agency shop. I went round the Market House, from Middle street, by the United States Hotel, and into Congress street. Did not hear any warning given the crowd assembled on Congress street side of the City Hall, after the men marched into the Market House, and before the firing.

Near an hour, I should think, after Capt. Green's Company left, before this man was shot. During that interval, did not hear any effort made publicly to disperse the crowd, nor any notice given to them that the military was again to be brought before them.—Did'nt hear any firing after Robbins was shot. There was the report of one single gun, I think, as the time Robbins fell.—Heard pistols discharged before this, but do not know how long.

Don't remember whether or not I heard any pistols fired the last time I went out of Butler's shop before the man was killed. I might have told some of my friends that they were going to fire privately, in conversation. Didn't tell any one publicly. Mr. Butler told me they were going to fire, and would fire balls, and I told my friends in conversation. I didn't beleive they would fire balls when Mr. Butler told me, and that was the reason I didn't sing out to the crowd. I informed my friend they were going to fire because I understood there was one man shot in the head. Don't recollect of hearing Sheriff Baker warn the people. Heard some one, and supposed it to be Mr. Dow, but wasn't near enough to tell who it was. I don't know what time it was when Mr. Dow ordered them to disperse, but it was about the time when Mr. Green's company came down. I didn't hear him, at first, there was so much noise, but I went near and heard him give the order to fire, I was within three feet of him when he gave that order.

This witness, Leighton, caught Robbins in his arms as he fell, and helped carry him away; his testimony to the death is,

Don't know by what means he came to his death, anything more than he was shot.—Should think from a musket by the report. The man was standing about middle way on the sidewalk, from the door to the street.—Wasn't doing any thing as I know of.

PORTLAND RIOTERS.—Augustus A. Raymond and Daniel Frazier, who were arrested for being engaged in the Portland riot, have been committed to jail, in default of $300 bonds, to appear for trial before the Municipal Court.

The Portland Advertiser says:—"John Robbins, the man who was shot in the mob of Saturday night, we understand from responsible men of the steamer Forest City, was in a row in Boston on the 1st of June, and left that evening to avoid arrest. He told Constable Hall of this city, who came from Boston at the same time, that he left Boston to avoid a prosecution."

The Boston Bee says this is "no reason why he should be shot." Very true, it is no reason; and we are far from supposing that he was the most guilty person in the crowd, and therefore fell. But he was certainly one of the foremost of the violent mob; and the statement of his fleeing from arrest for one row, would render it easy to believe he would rush into another, without great provocation. It would also go to show of what materials the mob was made up;—how likely they would be to yield to any words of warning, and what amiable people they were.

The Portland Argus of Monday contradicts the statement, says Constable Hall pronounces it inaccurate, and adds:

We learn from Mr. David Moxey, mate of the vessel in which John Robbins sailed, who states that he has made several voyages with him, that he seldom if ever saw him drink any intoxicating liquors, never to excess, at all, and that he was a steady, honest man, remarkable for his nature and peaceable disposition. He farther says that the above statement that Mr. Robbins had to leave Boston on account of getting into trouble there, as pretended in the Advertiser, is utterly false, a base slander. That he was in Boston when Robbins left there, and knows it to be false.

A current story here was, that Robbins had abused the sailors on board the vessel in which he sailed, was afraid of their vengeance when ashore, and therefore fled from Boston to Portland to avoid them. A professed creditor of his, who was here on Monday, did not give him quite so good a character as Mr. Moxey gives him in his testimony, which proves rather too much.

We do not place implicit confidence in any of the conflicting statements. But we do rely on the fact, proved and admitted, that he was shot down close to the building, in the midst of the attack on the door,—and we do not believe any sober, orderly, peaceable man would choose such a place at such a time.

For the Chronicle.

MRS. ANNIE SENTER.

Messrs. Editors:—We were much gratified to read in the Chronicle of yesterday, an announcement of a Dramatic Reading, to be given in this city on Friday evening next, by Mrs. Annie Senter. This talented and accomplished young lady has deservedly become a favorite with the Boston public. Possessing an attractive personal appearance, a clear, musical voice, a discriminating taste, and a charming simplicity of manner, we feel no hesitation in assuring the public that she will meet their highest expectations. During her recent successful engagements at the Boston Museum, we had the pleasure of witnessing her impersonation of one of the most difficult characters in the whole range of dramatic representation, requiring great versatility of talent, and taxing the highest powers of the artist, and throughout the whole, her success was certain and unquestionable. Fresh from the fashioning hand of that veteran elocutionist, W. H. Smith, Esq., of Boston, her faultless delineation of impassioned character, attests at once the talent and skill, both of pupil and teacher. We hope to see the Temple filled on Friday evening. A.

THE BLACK SIDDONS.

Our readers will see in our paper to-day the Advertisement of Mrs. Webb, to give her celebrated Readings, on Thursday evening, at the Temple.

Here follow two recommendations of Mrs. W.—one from Prof. Smyth, of Brunswick, Me., to Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe—and the other from Rev. Ephraim Peabody, of Boston, to a gentleman of New Bedford.

BRUNSWICK, June 10th, 1855.

My Dear Mrs. Stowe:—Permit me to introduce to you the bearer, Mrs. Webb, of whom you have doubtless heard. Mrs. W. has just given one of her Public Readings here, to the high gratification of one of the most intelligent audiences the place can afford. She is a lady of pleasing manners, of great refinement and intelligence. I think you will be interested in her, and, especially in view of its important relations, in her success in her profession. We have been much pleased with her here. Yours, truly,

W. SMYTH.

BOSTON, May 12, 1855.

My Dear Sir:—Will you allow me to introduce to you Mrs. Webb, who goes to New Bedford for the purpose of giving some readings from Shakspeare, &c. I do not suppose that you are in the way of attending such occasions in the evenings; but she is without acquaintances, and a good word might be of service to her; and I thought also that you would like to know one who has overcome the obstacles of color and caste, and who in spite of them is one whose whole manner is that of a refined lady, and whose reading, as I can bear witness, having heard her twice, is equal to any I have ever heard from any woman except Fanny Kemble.

With my best regards to Mrs. Swain, I am, very truly yours, E. PEABODY.

W. W. SWAIN, Esq.

MERCANTILE BIOGRAPHY.—Hunt's Merchant's Magazine, for the month of June, 1855, is ornamented with a fine likeness of the late Peter C. Brooks, and contains, as its first article, an excellent biography of the same gentleman, written by his son-in-law, Edward Everett. As described in this biography, Mr. Brooks was a noble and beautiful specimen of the class of conservative merchants—and like others of this class whom we have known, he was both more liberal and wiser than persons supposed, except those who knew him best.

This most pleasant biography alone, would make the number valuable beyond its cost: there are in it some valuable hints on lotteries, in Massachusetts, and on their suppression,—which would apply we believe, equally well, to liquor laws, and other similar statutes.

Mr. Brooks's example for economy, quiet, content, temperance and consequent happiness, is portrayed with great distinctness and beauty.

LOCAL.

ROCKINGHAM CONFERENCE.—This body of [Orthodox] Congregational pastors and lay representatives of churches, commenced its session in this city on Tuesday, at the Vestry in Fleet street.

In the evening public service was held in Stone Church, (Unitarian,) which was offered for the purpose, and Rev. Mr. Steele, of Stratham, preached to a good congregation, on the evils of skepticism.

The meeting continues this day, at the Vestry in the morning at 9 o'clock, and at the Stone Church in the afternoon, closing with the communion service.

KILLED BY RUM.—Edward Welch, a petty officer of the U. S. Frigate Constitution, being intoxicated, a few nights since, fell down the hatchway of the ship, a distance of 12 or 15 feet, and was so severely injured, that he died on Monday night. The liquor he drank was smuggled on board, it is supposed by some of the vultures we have before alluded to. Welch was an Englishman, and had no relatives in this country.

DRUGGED LIQUOR.—We understand that a trader in horses from Maine, who fell among the thieves that now infest our city, was treated by them on Tuesday with strong drink containing some stupifying drug. Under this influence he was relieved of about $170 in money, which has been devoured by the sharks.

MILITARY VISIT.—We are informed that the Union Guards, of South Boston, Capt. B. F. Russell, are to visit Portsmouth next week, and have already made their arrangements for stopping at the Rockingham House. They will come down on Monday, the 18th inst. and remain till Tuesday afternoon. The company numbers about fifty muskets, and are said to be a very fine corps of soldiers—and all Americans, at least in sentiment. They will be accompanied by Bond's Cornet Band; and will doubtless be volunteered an escort by some of our Military or Fire Companies.—Many of the proposed visitors are themselves firemen, and would of course be gratified with such complimentary notice from their "brothers in arms."

WINDOW WASHING.

It is very desirable to have clean windows, both for light and for appearance. But in a dusty time without, and with the smoke and steam within, to contend with, it is needful to wash the windows often, to keep them looking decently. This is laborious and costly, and often inconvenient, as commonly done by hand, or with great brushes on long poles.

But now we have seen a simple apparatus, costing so little, ($3.50) that every owner or occupant of a genteel dwelling house could make a saving by its use. The apparatus consists of a Sponge Washer, to the handle of which a Hose is attached, leading from a Fountain,—and an India-rubber Receiver, to catch every drop of water. With this apparatus, the window can be washed inside, without injury to curtains or carpets,—and outside with ease and convenience.

People in this city can see it for themselves, as an agent is here who will spend the week in exhibiting and offering them to families, and showing their practical operation and use.

☞ We have seen, in the hands of Mr. Joseph S. Towne, of New York, satisfactory letters from Rev. D. V. M. Johnson, Pastor of the Floating Church of the Holy Comforter, for seamen,—and from Mr. Thomas P. Cummings, Rec. Sec. of the Church Missionary Society for seamen. These letters show him to be the authorized keeper of the Seamen's Home of that institution,—and commend him to the favorable notice of Commanders of U. S. vessels.

POLICE COURT.—Under the auspices of our present City Magistrate our police court is a perfect burlesque upon a court of justice, and the welfare of the city and the safety of the community imperatively demand that it be reformed by the removal of the present imbecile magistrate and the appointment of one competent to the discharge of the duties of the office. The efforts of the police officers to preserve the public peace are of no avail at present, as any rowdy who can command the services of counsel may laugh at his captors, in confidence of an acquittal when brought before Justice Parker.

We understand the assistant marshals contemplate resigning in a body, convinced that while Justice Parker presides in the police court, it is useless for them to undertake to enforce good order. We hope they will not do so, but that a petition will at once be started for the removal of the present magistrate and the appointment of a suitable person as his successor, and presented to the present legislature. The public welfare demands it, and we are confident the petition would receive the signatures of order-loving citizens of all parties.—Bulot.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.—Concord, June 12th. At a caucus held last night, the Senate reconsidered the vote assigning 12 o'clock to-day for the election of U. S. Senator, and thus allow the House to take the initiatory steps. It is stated very confidently that the leading men have agreed on the terms of the election of James Bell for the long term and John P. Hale for the short term.

NEW SYSTEM OF RAILROAD TICKETS.—The new ticket arrangement on the Eastern Railroad was put into operation last week. All the old tickets and checks are dispensed with, and in their stead new tickets are issued daily, being stamped in the same manner as letters in our post office. Each conductor carries in his pocket a neat punch, with which he marks the ticket at every station. By this method thousands of dollars will be saved to the Company annually, as it will be utterly impossible to "rig," or get a second ride on a punched ticket.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

Price 25 cts. per Box—5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. THACHER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m jl d&w

ALBANY, June 9th.—On Thursday, the District Court of Ohio, in session in Cincinnati, granted a new trial to Wm. H. Arrison, of infernal machine notoriety, and convicted of murder, on the ground of misdirection in Judge Flynn's charge to the jury. The court has remanded his case to the court of Common Pleas, as so defective as to be null and void, and that Arrison therefore cannot be tried in that court; and that the District Court having adjourned to September next, the order cannot be amended. Should the act referred to be void, Arrison will probably be discharged on a writ of habeas corpus, and thus escape punishment.

NEW YORK, 11th.—Echerviarra was arrested in this city on Friday, charged with fitting out the Mary Jane Peck, which left this port in 1854, as a slaver. He was held to bail in $20,000.

A man, unknown, jumped off the Hoboken ferry boat last evening, in the middle of the Hudson. A so-called life-boat was immediately lowered, and the deck hands proceeded to the rescue. The boat proved leaky, and just after they had picked up the drowning man, the boat filled and sunk, and two out of the three were lost. The passengers on the ferry boat were highly indignant that the pilot did not keep near enough to save the unfortunate men; and he narrowly escaped lynching.

BUFFALO, June 8th.—Accident and Loss of Life.—On Wednesday morning a tunnel of the short line Cincinnati Railroad caved in, burying a dozen men who were at work.—The Gazette states that six of the men were completely buried in the ruins, and the five following were instantly killed: James Pierce, foreman of the gang, Dennis Dryman, John Collins, Phillip Devere and Patrick Hagerty. The sixth, named James Colman, was so badly injured, that he is not expected to live. The bodies of the killed were dreadfully mangled. An investigation into the cause of the accident is now going on.

STATE CONVENTION OF UNIVERSALISTS.—This body, which assembled at Lynn on Wednesday, adjourned on Thursday afternoon. The forenoon of Thursday was mostly occupied in discussing the resolution relating to Tufts College, one of which was in favor of opening the doors of the college to both sexes. This resolution drew out able and eloquent remarks from various persons, among whom was Mrs. Bruce, a graduate of the college at Antioch, Ohio. The resolution was amended so as to refer the matter to the Trustees of the College, and then unanimously passed.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 9th.—An anti-prohibition mass convention was held here today. It was very largely attended. The delegation from Berks county and the upper township of Lancaster county, was over a mile in length.

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 11.—At the election for city officers to-day, the Know Nothing ticket was carried by 35 majority, which is a great falling off since April last, when they had a majority on the State ticket of 400.

NEW POTATOES FROM BERMUDA.—The Boston Times says:

Bermuda potatoes are plenty now, at four dollars per bushel. As we counted one hundred and eighty-three potatoes in a bushel, they are a little over two cents each, a trifle dearer than eggs. Our hens ought to lay potatoes.

FATAL ACCIDENT AT ROXBURY.—On Friday afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock, a staging attached to the building of B. F. James, Washington street, Roxbury, gave way, and precipitated three men to the sidewalk, 25 feet fall. Michael Murphy, aged 35, was killed almost instantly, having his neck and one leg broken. He leaves a family in Eliot street in this city. John McIntire had his head badly cut and was fatally injured internally. He was brought to his family at East Orange street in this city, and died last night, aged about 30. Andrew Gardner was severely bruised and battered, but had no bones broken. J. M. Marston, a contractor for putting an additional story on the house, saved himself by catching hold of a spout.—The brackets of the staging were crossgrained and split off.—Transcript.

THE HAY CROP.—The prospect is good for a remarkably large crop of hay on our island the present year. We have already had an abundance of rain, and a little warm weather will now bring the grass forth rapidly. In some places the grass is already nearly fit to cut. Our people continue to make shipments of old hay to markets where it sells for a high price, in anticipation of a bountiful coming crop. —Nantucket Enquirer, June 8th.

Mrs. Hitchcock of Amherst, is slowly recovering from the effects of her recent fall, and the Amherst Express relates a remarkable connecting incident: "For three weeks, a set of four teeth, on a gold plate, which she swallowed unconciously at the time of the incident, were lodged in her throat, rendering swallowing very difficult, and producing severe spasmodic pains. After three weeks the teeth passed into her stomach, where they lay for a week, and then passed off.

SAGAMORE HOUSE,
FROST'S POINT, 3½ miles from Postem. Depots.

THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 20th.

To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation.—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. Situated on a point of land on the Atlantic shore, near the Harbor of Portsmouth, the windows on three sides overlook the salt water. From the beach, the broad Atlantic, the Isles of Shoals, the beautiful Piscataqua, and the City of Portsmouth form a charming prospect, and in the background the green fields and leafy woods present a relieving contrast.

The House will be kept in the best manner, and every endeavor will be used to give satisfaction to its guests. The more effectually to do this, the proprietor has secured the services of Mr. JOHN MACK, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, whose experience and skill in hotel keeping will be a sufficient guarantee to all who know him that the management will be all that could be desired. The Table will be supplied with all the seasonable luxuries of the sea and land, and every effort used to render a sojourn at the Sagamore agreeable.

A Coach, in charge of an experienced driver, will run between the Sagamore House and the City of Portsmouth, two or three times a day, during the season, connecting with the several railroad trains. Fare 25 cents. All orders left at WM. R. PRESTON'S, in Portsmouth, will receive prompt attention.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a competent more faithful and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

Morning Chronicle.

A HARD CASE.

The Boston Chronicle of Thursday, June 7, thus describes a hard case.

Sarah Gallagher, an Irish woman, was charged with selling gin to persons unknown. W. H. Perrin, Esq., who appeared as counsel in the case, stated to the Court that the woman was reduced almost to starvation, and was compelled to sell liquor to support herself and three small children. It was with her—sell, starve or steal. As it was, the family were nearly starved, and the women presented the appearance of the most abject poverty, and her husband would not do anything for her support. He asked the Court to dismiss the case, in order that the woman might go to her friends in Groton, who were willing to support her; she was desirous of getting away from her husband, who has treated her with extreme cruelty. County Attorney Cooley was sent for to see what action he would take, and he stated that he would not pros provided the Court was willing, and it should be shown that it would be a humane act towards the prisoner so to do. The Court reserved the decision till afternoon, when the case was again brought up, and Mr. Perrin renewed his request, but the Court sentenced her as usual. Justice Rogers subsequently revoked his decision and continued the case till next Tuesday, and in the mean time the woman is in jail. She appears of feeble health and has a nursing infant. If ever a hardship arose under this wicked law, this is one. The woman is honest and is well spoken of by the officers who know her condition and the circumstances of the case. It certainly looks like persecution and unnecessary cruelty. We trust for the sake of humanity, at least, that she will be bailed and have a fair trial or an unconditional discharge.

The Courier, in giving an account of the same affair, puts in this item:

Sarah Gallagher, the wife of a drunken and abusive husband, was charged with selling liquor at her shop in Ann street. The sale was proved; but her counsel pleaded, &c.

Now as the Boston Chronicle considers this one of the hardest cases under this wicked law, we would just look and see how hard it is.

She has a husband who is idle and leaves her to starve; he is abusive and beats her; but he is idle and abusive because he is drunken—and she keeps the Ann street grog shop which makes him drunk, and very probably makes a dozen other Irish or Yankee husbands as bad as he is—and makes their wives and children as wretched as she and her children are said to be.

For this reason the Court is desired to give her a discharge, or some humane person is desired to bail her, that she may keep on in her blessed work.

The reader will please to make his own comments on this hard case, considering at the same time that there are 1000 cases in Boston, only not all quite so hard.

JURIES AND THE LAW.—The Springfield Republican mentions the trial of the first liquor case presented to the jury in that county, under the recent enactment of the legislature giving juries a right to judge of the law as well as the fact. It was for a violation of the old liquor law by Henry McKinney, a former keeper of the Exchange Hotel. Judge Briggs charged the jury, that although they had the right to decide on the law, yet they should act with due regard to reason and their oaths, and said they would be wise to heed the instructions of the court. The jury retired, and soon returned with a verdict of guilty.

"THE STAR PAPERS."—In a notice of the series of essays under this title, by Henry Ward Beecher, the N. Y. Mirror says:

During Mr. Beecher's pulpit vacations, he has taken a run over to Europe, and let off the steam of his enthusiasm upon the consecrated banks of the Avon, and in other classic spots of England and France. His enthusiastic admiration of Shakspeare, and his susceptibility to the master works of art, will make him many friends among his hearers, who may have hitherto regarded him as too thoroughly imbued with the asceticism of orthodoxy, to feel the glow of genius, when reflected upon the painter's canvass, or burning in the poet's song.

But we have seldom met with a more contagious spirit of devotion to the beautiful in all its forms, than we find in these eloquent rhapsodies of our unlaced parson; and we would give more for a single copy of this off hand volume of fugitive "papers," than for all the sermons and all the prayers the whole race of Beechers have ever uttered. There is genuine human nature in it; and "one touch of nature makes the whole world kin." We are not at all surprised that Mr. Derby has great difficulty, with all his resources, in keeping the supply of the "star papers" within a row of apple trees of the demand.

We have not yet seen the "star papers" in a book, though we have read some of them with great pleasure in the Independent. But from the notice in the Mirror, we must infer that the writer of the notice has never heard Henry Ward Beecher preach, or has heard him but little. Those who have, know that he is any thing but stiff, or strait laced. He preaches like a live man.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT

IN

Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planer.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14, 1855.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—The Coroner's examination at Portland, on Tuesday, is reported in the State of Maine, four columns in length. It is admirably reported. Four military men were examined, including the captains of the companies. Their testimony agrees substantially with the accounts we have already published. And it also agrees generally, with the statements in the Mayor's Proclamation, which he has just issued, and which the Board of Aldermen have ordered to be entered on the city records.

We do not suppose these are any new facts, or even any new versions of facts, to appear on the matter. Nobody doubts that the mob ought to have been quelled: no one doubts that it was quelled by shooting down men by the police or armed force acting under the order of the mayor and aldermen. It has been doubted whether it was legal to give such orders, but the laws of Maine make it quite clear. If it were not so, Mr. Clifford would have had Neal Dow in jail before this time.

Fact and law, thus disposed of, only one more view need be taken, viz.: a moral view. Is it right? To answer this fully, we must settle another question, viz.: shall our state or national government ever use force, ever endanger the lives of men by using any weapon that can kill? This, simple as it seems, is the real question. We make it the duty of the police, of which the mayor is the head, to suppress riots. Now shall they use moral suasion only? Or shall they use force enough to accomplish the purpose? If we say yes to the last question, then we must needs leave the amountand kind of force to their discretion.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION.—The amount of money wagered all through the middle and southern States, on the result of the Virginia election, is said to have been enormous. The leading Know Nothings, confident of their success, bet high, with great odds, and many of them have ruined themselves and lost handsome fortunes. It is not impossible that this betting may have had something to do with the final result. In one of the democratic counties, Page, which with the counties of Shenandoah and Rockingham, used to be termed the tenth legion of democracy, the three giving a nearly unanimous democratic vote, and rolling up together a majority of several thousand; it is stated that sometime before the election, a majority of the voters were enrolled in Know Nothing Lodges, and upon the strength of this, heavy bets were made at Washington and elsewhere upon the vote of Page county. It is added, we know not, however, upon what authority, that a few days before the election, the Grand Sachem of Page called his lodge together to consider business of great importance; and when all had assembled, he remarked, in words of soberness, if not of piety—'We profess to be democrats, have always been democrats—but we are about making d—— fools of ourselves. Now I have a proposition to make to you—I propose that we burn our records and vote for Wise.' And this it is asserted was actually done.—Newburyport Herald.

The inuendo seems to be, that this worthy leader shared the gains of some great winner of bets.

If any thing could show up the folly of such bets, here it is. If any man relies very strongly on the virtue of any party or its leaders, let him look at all parties in that election, including the candidates.

FOURTH OF JULY.—At Lawrence, Mass., says the Sentinel, it is now generally understood that we are to have an old-fashioned, anti sectarian and anti-partisan celebration of the "Glorious Fourth." All that is essential to please and pacify the old and young, male and female, is provided, leaving no one an excuse for going abroad. John P. Hale is to pronounce the oration, and in case nothing occurs "up" in New Hampshire before that time to mar the general serenity and uniform good nature of Jack, he will furnish an excellent oration, pleasing and profitable to all.

☞ The Daily Patriot and Manchester American take exceptions to a little paragraph of ours in regard to the setting up of the Governor's Message. We can only say that we know the State Printer received the copy at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon. The editor of the N. H. Gazette was unable, he told us, to obtain a proof on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to take down with him in the cars. If we are correctly informed, the editor of the Manchester American took a part of the document in manuscript, having copied it himself.

DIVORCE CASE.—The Boston Traveller informs us, that several weeks since, the wife of one Goldermen, a tailor, petitioned the Supreme Court that her husband should advance the necessary sum to pay the preliminary expenses of a suit which she had commenced against him for divorce, and the judge ordered that he should pay into Court the sum of $75 within a given time. Wednesday morning, Mr. Golderman not having paid up, and the Court being satisfied of his ability, he was committed to the Suffolk County Jail.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

NEW YORK, 13th.—Steamship Atlantic, Capt. West, from Liverpool 3d inst., arrived this morning.

Her news is the most important since the battle of the Alma.

The Allies have gained three victories.

Desperate engagements took place on the nights of the 22d and 23d of May, before Sebastopol.

The French captured and still retain an important position of the Russian defence.—Eight thousand men were killed and wounded.

The Allies made a rapid advance, seized and retained the Russian lines on the Tchernaya, the Russians retreating to the hills.

The Allies took Kertch, and command the Sea of Azof.

France and England decline further conferences at Vienna. No hopes of peace prevail.

A despatch from Lord Raglan of the 30th, announces the destruction by the enemy of four Russian war steamers and large depots of corn.

The allied ships had succeeded in blowing up a magazine at Arabat, and in destroying about 100 merchant vessels; only one Russian steamer remained in the Sea of Azoff.

Five vessels laden with corn had run into Kertch, not knowing that the place was taken, and were captured.

The number of guns found by the allies exceeds one hundred.

A French account says the Russians burned thirty transports, as well as their four steamships, and destroyed 360,000 sacks of corn, 160,000 sacks of oats, and 100,000 sacks of flour.

COMMERCIAL.—Consols for money, 62 1-8a 92 1-2; for account, 93a93 1-8. Cotton market excited; advance half-penny. Sales of the week 150,000 bales. Breadstuffs dull.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—The delegates of the American Know-Nothing Convention visited Carpenter's Hall this afternoon. The delegates were welcomed by C. J. Wilber, and the welcome was responded to by Mr. McCall, delegate from Key West, Florida, who alluded very briefly to the platform which the Convention was about to form, in hopes of harmonizing all sections, and thus rendering the union perpetual. After his speech, Messrs. Seymour, of New York, and Morse, of Alabama, Alderman Freeman, of New York, and Jones, of Tennessee, were called upon, but there was no response, and the assembly quietly dispersed.

The debates in the Convention this morning were quite interesting until about noon, when the committee on the platform were called upon for a report. The Chairman then made a partial report on the portion that had been agreed upon, which gave rise to a debate so exciting that the session was protracted until long after dinner hour. No decision on a single issue of the platform has been reported. There was no regular session this evening, the time being devoted to caucussing.

PHILADELPHIA, June 12th.—The reports which prevailed this afternoon that a portion of the members of the Convention had succeeded, and that there was a prospect of the Convention breaking up in a row, are entirely false. The slavery debate was not resumed, the Convention being engaged in discussing the Naturalization laws, pending which the Platform Committee made their final report, which was laid upon the table, and it will not probably be taken up again until the Naturalization question is settled. The Convention is holding a session this evening.

The French government have recently purchased or contracted for 20,000 barrels of Pork, in New York, and 400,000 gallons of New England Rum, in Boston.

The first item is to support life and strength in the soldier—the second to stimulate him to deeds of death. We hope some French surgeons and physicians will give us accounts of the operation of this stuff on the soldiers' health and life.

☞ A black thief in Boston, entered the house of Joseph Hennessy, in Cooper street, on Tuesday afternoon, and stole a coat. Mrs. Hennessy missed the coat, and was told by her little child that a black man had carried it off, when she immediately gave chase and overtook the fellow in Endicott street, and caught hold of the coat. The thief struck her several blows in the face, but she maintained her hold of both him and the coat, till he was arrested by an officer. Anderson was brought before the Police Court, and sentenced to four months in the House of Correction.

☞ The United States Magazine, for June, contains, among many other articles, a treatise on Wheat, with cuts; an illustrated description (concluded) of Gutta Percha Manufactures. Published by J. Emerson & Co., New York.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—The wife of Mr Samuel Currier, formerly of Newburyport, now residing with her husband and children in Georgetown, California, was severely—though not dangerously injured, recently, by falling into a gold mine. She was walking on Marmeloke Hill, with Mr. Currier, and he was astonished at her sudden and unnoticed disappearance. The shaft into which she stepped was forty feet deep and three feet wide.

The canker worm and caterpillar are making fearful ravages in the orchards near Newburyport. These pests of the orchardists, require a great deal of attention. The canker worm dies about the 20th of June.

John M. Botts says that the Whigs elected Wise in Virginia, but the State will be all right in 1856. Botts is hopeful; he headed Capt. Tyler, but will find it difficult to head the "Tyler guard."

LOCAL.

ROCKINGHAM CONFERENCE.—This body closed its session in this city on Wednesday afternoon, when Rev. Mr. Mann, of Exeter, preached in the Stone Church, where the communion was administered.

There are connected with the conference, thirty-one churches, mostly congregational, one or two being Presbyterian. Twenty of these churches were represented in the Conference at this session, by 18 ministers and 20 lay delegates. Two or three of the churches not represented, are very small, but most of the others have regular preaching.

Rev. O. Holmes was moderator, and Rev. Winthrop Fifield secretary, of the conference.

DRAMATIC READINGS.—Mrs. Webb, the black Siddons, who is to give Dramatic Recitations at the Temple this evening, is highly spoken of by those who have had the pleasure of listening to her. The Philadelphia Repository says that Mrs. W. ranks professionally above any lady except Mrs. Kemble, who has ever read in that city.

☞ There is considerable effort, in certain quarters, to make political capital out of the recent case of so-called "assault and battery," by officer Willey, upon a drunken man who interfered in an arrest he was making. We think it will be hard to start the proposed suit against the officer, who probably did no more than the circumstances required. A few such salutary examples would make the rowdies, even if drunk, a little more cautious of interfering with officers in the discharge of their duty.

☞ We hear that the horse dealer whom we mentioned as victimized by the "vultures" on Tuesday, discovered his pocket-book with all its valuable contents, safe in his hat, on his head; after he had actually proceeded a considerable portion of his way home, to stop the payment of sundry notes contained in said pocket-book. Is it possible that a "brick" in the same receptacle could have caused his absence of mind? or that he, a part of whose business it is to file teeth, should need his own incisors sharpened?

☞ The crew of the Constitution are to be paid off to-day. Many of them, whose term of service has not expired, will be transferred to Charlestown, Mass.; the rest, of course, are to be discharged. There is a very large number of land-sharks in our city, waiting for them—probably seventy-five; but it seems impossible that they can all reap the harvest they evidently expect, from the sailors' hard earnings.

Marshal Hanscom has deemed it advisable to increase the Watch and Police force, while so many rowdies are prowling about here.

For the Chronicle.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

Messrs. Editors:—Much is being said at the present time in reference to the late riot in Portland, and of the young man that was killed while violating the law of the State; but nothing is said of the young men that die and are killed daily by the use of intoxicating drinks. It is strange that so many of our own citizens consider the law unjust, and the death of that young man a horrible thing, while so many of the young men of our city are seen reeling in the streets, and are going down to an early grave.

It was with feelings of sadness that I read your account of the death of one of those brave tars, who was killed though the influence of strong drink, on board the U. S. ship Constitution; and yet his death is hardly thought of by many, although he has sailed under the American flag, and has no doubt been ready at any time to defend that flag at peril of his life. His remains were followed, Wednesday, to their long last home, by his shipmates; and his death should teach them to shun intoxicating drink and the villains which our city is infested with at present, and who are ready at their discharge, to pounce upon and relieve them of their hard earned gold. S. W. C.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

Price 25 cts. per Box.—5 Boxes for $1.

BALLOT FOR SENATORS.

CONCORD, June 13.

The House this afternoon elected James Bell as Senator for the long term. The ballot stood as follows:

Whole number of votes cast,	311
Necessary to a choice,	156
John P. Hale,	1
G. W. Morrison,	2
Daniel Clark,	3
Harry Hibbard,	81
James Bell,	224

The House then proceeded to the election of a Senator for the short term, as follows:

Whole number of votes	307
Necessary for a choice	154
Daniel Clarke	1
Joel Eastman	1
J. M. Edwards	1
Geo W. Morrison	3
Edmund Burke	7
John S. Wells	82
John P. Hale	208

James Bell and John P. Hale were declared elected, on the part of the House.

CONCORD, June 12th, 9 P. M.—The Americans are in Caucus.—A speech has been made by Paul R. George, denouncing the grasping determination of the Free Soilers, and remonstrating against their disinclination to give to Americans and the other parties to the coalition their fair share of the offices. He made no objections to James Bell, but he declared that John P. Hale's election would be the dissolution of the American party in the State and nation, and 6000 Democrats in the State, he said, were with him in his opposition to Hale and abolitionism.

Joel Eastman is now speaking against a resolution to elect for the short term in the first place.

There is no prospect of any vote being taken the nominations this side of midnight.

The late rains have general and copious, and the growing crops in all those sections present the most promising appearance. The Columbus, Ga., Enquirer, speaking of a sample of new wheat, says it was a beautiful article and readily commanded $2.25 per bushel.

DROWNED.—Timothy, son of James McDonald, was drowned in the Merrimack river at Newburyport, on Monday evening. He was ten years of age, and was missed at about 9 o'clock, when search was made through the night, and next morning he was found in the dock at Brown's wharf.

DROWNED.—George F. Arnold, of the firm of Sill, Arnold & Leonard, of Boston, was drowned Sunday, while on a sailing excursion in his yacht "Startled Fawn." He was knocked overboard by the boom.

SAGAMORE HOUSE,

FROST'S POINT, 3½ miles from Portsm. Depot.

THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 20th.

To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation.—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. Situated on a point of land on the Atlantic shore, near the Harbor of Portsmouth, the windows on three sides overlook the salt water. From the beach, the broad Atlantic, the Isles of Shoals, the beautiful Piscataqua, and the City of Portsmouth form a charming prospect, and in the background the green fields and leafy woods present a relieving contrast.

The House will be kept in the best manner, and every endeavor will be used to give satisfaction to its guests. The more effectually to do this, the proprietor has secured the services of MR. JOHN MACK, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, whose experience and skill in hotel keeping will be a sufficient guarantee to all who know him that the management will be all that could be desired. The Table will be supplied with all the seasonable luxuries of the sea and land, and every effort used to render a sojourn at the Sagamore agreeable.

A Coach, in charge of an experienced driver, will run between the Sagamore House and the City of Portsmouth, two or three times a day, during the season, connecting with the several railroad trains. Fare 25 cents. All orders left at WM. R. PRESTON'S, in Portsmouth, will receive prompt attention.

"Cardinal virtues of the American people," ssid Mrs. Partington, as she dropped the paper she was reading, about three degrees, and looked over the top of it at some imaginary personage on the top of the buffet in the corner, as if she expected an answer. "Cardinal virtues of the American people, indeed!—What do we want of cardinal virtues when we have got enough of our own, that are preached by our own ministers? and if there ever was a virtuous people it is our own, where every vice is, thank heaven, put down by law. Though some say that where there is so much law there can be little grace, just as the woman that's always a washing is the dirtiest. Well, I don't know much about it, but at any rate don't let us have no cardinal virtues, if we don't have any at all." She felt her Protestant pride hurt at the supposed importation of cardinal virtues, but she treasured the little bead wax statue of the virgin and child that she had bought of a pedlar, because of the resemblance the baby bore to Ike, as sacredly as she did the picture of the burning of John Rogers above the mantel piece.—Post.

IN LUCK.—Albert Morgan, Esq., former proprietor of the Gloucester House and the Pavilion hotel, Gloucester, was informed on Thursday, by the British Consul in Boston, that he had left to him the nice little fortune of $125,000 by the death of a gentleman named Erskine, of Lancaster, England. It appears that the deceased was in Gloucester in 1849, boarding with Morgan, when he was taken with the small pox, and being deserted by the servants would have suffered but for the kind and personal attendance of Morgan and his wife. After he recovered he gave no evidence of his gratitude farther than presenting them upon leaving, a $100 note for additional compensation; but he was known to take the name of Morgan, and inquired particularly of his circumstances and prospects; and now Morgan is to leave immediately to take possession of the fortune willed him.

LIFTING WITH A SPIRIT.—One morning not long since we spent an hour at the rooms of Mrs. Kellogg, 625 Broadway, and witnessed some physico-spiritual manifestations through the mediumship of Miss Cora Morgianna Burns. The invisible agent present on that occasion answered by the name of John, and said that he was a Massachusetts Yankee, six feet high and well made. The education of John—or Jon, as he persisted in spelling his name—had, obviously, been greatly neglected while he was on earth, but he manifested much good feeling, a facetious disposition, and strong common sense. Mrs. Kellogg, who weighs one hundred and twenty-five pounds, was directed to sit in the centre of the table. She at once complied, and John then proposed to lift one side of the table if Mr. Brittan would raise the opposite side. We accordingly lifted our side and sure enough, John was as good as his word, for, without any visible cause, up went the other side to the same level. In like manner the table and Mrs. K. were raised not less than six or eight times, and they were repeatedly supported for ten or fifteen seconds. This occurred by daylight in the presence of six persons. When the Spirit was pleased, he generally responded affirmatively to questions by beating the time to "Pop goes the Weasel." He displayed uncommon freedom, and when on one occasion he was requested by Mrs. Kellogg to produce certain phenomena, he promised that he would do so, or, should he fail in the attempt, he would saw all her next winter's wood, whereupon the Spirit commenced imitating the sound occasioned by the use of the saw in the most perfect manner.

The above is from the Spiritual Telegraph, and is parallel to the story of the unbelieving gentleman, not a thousand miles from Boston, who, being at a seance of rappers, professed himself to be incredulous unless the spirits would haul off his boots. The feat was instantly accomplished, (as the tale goes,) whereupon the infidel was turned into a true believer. Some persons, however, will refuse to put faith in either of the stories.—Boston Courier.

DESTRUCTIVE FROST.—The severe frost of Saturday and Sunday nights extended West as far as Rockford, and South over one hundred miles. In Southern Wisconsin and Northern Illinois, no serious damage was done to the Corn or Wheat. The Corn was cut down, but as it was only a short distance above the ground, will grow up again; while Wheat was not headed out, and therefore not sufficiently advanced to be in danger. But vegetables, especially of the melon species, were entirely ruined, in Northern Indiana, and fifty or sixty miles south of this, where Corn was more advanced than hereabout, and where the frost will be very serious. We have known wheat badly wilted, and apparently ruined, by June frost, and yet turn out well; but Corn, after it has jointed, cannot recover from the effects of a severe frost, such as visited us on Saturday and Sunday nights.

A fact in reference to the late frost, in different localities, may be of some importance to such as want to buy farms. On the bottom lands, along the valleys of the Fox and O'Plain rivers, the frost was very fatal to vegetables, and even to the leaves of the trees; but on the high table land prairies, where currents of air prevailed, as they usually do in such localities, the damage was comparatively small. Even the Corn, in some places was not affected. A very slight depression in the prairie appeared to make a great difference.—Chicago Tribune, of June 8th.

DEATH OF THE RIGHTEOUS.—I met on the sea shore, said the esteemed poet Sadi, a pious man who had been attacked by a tiger and horribly mutilated. He was dying, and suffering dreadful agonies. Nevertheless, his features were calm and serene, and physical pain seemed to be vanquished by the purity of his soul. "Great God!" said he, "I thank thee, I am only suffering from the fangs of the tiger, and not of remorse."

AN ANTIQUITY AND NO MISTAKE.—There was an ingenious gentleman living in Boston something more than one hundred years ago, named Rowland Houghton. He had invented a theodolite for surveying, for the making and vending of which the General Court made him sole proprietor for divers years. About 1732 he turned his attention to fire engines—then called by their right name, water engines. Before Mr. Houghton directed his thoughts to these instruments, it is very difficult to understand what sort of things they were, and of what efficiency they were to extinguish fires. But in the year last named there appeared the following notice, which we find in Drake's History and Antiquities of Boston, page 592: "There is newly erected in the town of Boston, by Messieurs John and Thomas Hill, a water engine at their still house, by the advice and direction of Mr. Rowland Houghton, drawn by a horse, which delivers a large quantity of water twelve feet from the ground, which is the first of the sort in these parts." Hence to form a tolerable idea of what water engines were before 1732, is not very difficult.—Times.

"SWEATING THE JESUIT."—In Mr. Soule's letter to the National Intelligencer, that gentleman says of Mr. Perry's letter, that "this last production of his, sweats the Jesuit and the felon all over." It has been supposed that the verb here is a misprint, but it probably is a French use of the metaphor by which in English we might say, "it reeks with Jesuitism." The change is something like that of an intelligent foreigner, who said that Father Taylor preached with a great deal of ointment, meaning to use our common phrase of a great deal of "unction."—Boston Advertiser.

QUEBEC, June 9.—Up to this day the arrivals from sea are 262 less than at the same time last year, the deficiency in tonnage being 98,933 tons. The decrease in passengers compared with last year is 11,073. The quarter's deficiency at the Custom House is upwards of £20,000. Business very dull.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, JUNE 15, 1855.

B. B. French, Esq.—The Manchester Democrat says:

The "second Jackson" who fills the Presidential chair, "has been and gone and done it." B. B. French, late Commissioner of Public Buildings in Washington, joined the Know Nothings before the Virginia election. Afterwards he was very sorry for the imprudent step he had taken in thus doing, and hastened to ask pardon and absolution of the President for the past, and the smiles of executive favor for the future. But young Hickory smiled grimly on the kneeling suppliant, and decapitated his official head at a blow. Buckingham Smith has been appointed to fill his place as Commissioner, and Mr. B. B. can retire and muse on the fluctuations in politics, and the unhappy consequences of being obliged to take the back track. Served him right.

The New Hampshire Gazette says, French tried to twaddle, was detected and resigned. —And the Meredith Bridge Democrat says—

We hope all the dishonest old fuglers who left the democrats and joined the K. N's. in the hope of getting some paltry office, don't intend to come back and haunt our party again, in case they do not succeed to their minds. They did all they could to break the democracy down in the last election, and did succeed in bringing us into a minority—in payment for which, they left, thus purifying the party of a multitude of "old hacks." We doubt whether the democracy would not prefer remaining in a minority a thousand years rather than to suffer the infliction of taking these old intriguers back.

That's a great doubt,—and rather a long time for a party to wait.

A Dangerous Church.—The Boston Courier has a long article upon the question, "What is Unitarianism?" The conclusion arrived at is that abolitionism, socialism, and all sorts of isms, have crept into that religious order, and pervaded it so thoroughly that good and devout men, like the editor of the Courier, will have to leave it. This will be a melancholy event for the denomination, and in view of it, it behooves them to consider whether they will not retract. They are on the eve of a crisis. Let them choose wisely. It would be a dreadful thing to be cast off and excommunicated.

The Courier says,—speaking of "more than two, or even three congregations," we suppose in Boston:—

The strength and flower of these once vigorous and crowded congregations—are gone; many of them to the Episcopalians; some to the milder forms of Calvinism; others elsewhere; but all to churches less infected with the politics of the day, and less given to new and wild theories of social revolution; churches where, at least on Sundays, they can have peace, and be spared such appeals, &c. * *

This we do not call the old Unitarianism. It is a political as much as a religious denomination. We were not bred in it. We do not intend to live in it. We should be afraid to die in it.

Portland Inquest.—The State of Maine newspaper of Thursday, contains several columns of testimony, taken on Wednesday, and admirably reported—proving, clearly enough, that the mob was duly warned to disperse,—and then dispersed by ball and bayonet.

The Advertiser now states that the fire bells rung on the night of the riot were not ordered to be rung by the Mayor, but were ordered by two sham policemen, pretending to carry his verbal order,—doubtless to raise the mob.

Snuff Box at Auction.—The sheriff of the city and county of New York has seized, under process of law, for debt, a valuable gold snuff-box, mounted with brilliants, which was recently sent by Emperor Louis Napoleon to a gentleman of New York. The Emperor's cypher and imperial crown are upon the cover of the box, mounted with brilliants. The gentleman to whom the box was sent, has never seen it, owing to the sheriff's vigilance. This magnificent present was, on Wednesday, June 13, sold by the Sheriff at auction for $800, $300 in advance of its estimated value at the Custom House.

Effugnation.—The Boston Times informs us of its hearing that Alderman Washburn has declared that the liquor law is no law at all, and that he will resist it with all the means in his power, so far as right and safety warranted.

The same paper, speaking of Lewis Rice, Parson Stevens, and Harvey D. Parker, says:

It will be a long time, we imagine, before either of the gentlemen named will cease to contend against this odious and unjust law, and they are not very likely, either with or without counsel, to plead themselves into the House of Correction. And when either of these gentlemen go to that receptacle of felons, under this law, there will be a funeral somewhere.

Funeral? indeed! Thirty thousand men die annually of drunkenness, in the United States, it is said—but what does the Times mean to insinuate? Do these worthy men, or does the Times, mean to commit suicide, or to kill somebody about that time?

Conversion.—The Boston Bee says, it is rumored that Mr. Bancroft, the historian and ex politician, has "gone to Rome," that is, that he has been caught by St. Peter, the great fisherman, and has become a member of the Papal church.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

Tuesday, June 12.

Senate—Unfinished Business.—The Committee reported, and the following resolutions and bills were referred to their appropriate committees.

An act to incorporate the Rockingham Ice Company; An act to incorporate the Strafford Ice Company; and an act to incorporate the Milton Cotton Mills.

The bill to establish a State Reform School was referred to a select committee, consisting of Messrs. Parker, Sleeper and Clough.

Bills to incorporate the Manufacturers and Mechanics Bank, Pine River Bank, People's Bank, Bank of New Hampshire, Pittsfield Savings Bank, Great Falls Three Cents Savings Bank, Dover Five Cents Savings Bank, the Five Cents Savings Bank in Concord; in relation to savings banks; to increase the capital stock of the Great Falls Bank—referred to the committee on Banks.

House—Wednesday.—Petitions Presented and Referred—By Mr. Pendexter, of Portsmouth, of Charles M. Chase and others, for a bank in Portsmouth.

Bills Introduced—By Mr. Tullock of Portsmouth, a bill concerning the sale of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad by the trustees of the bondholders, read twice and referred.

By Mr. Dow of New Market, a bill to incorporate the New Market Bank, read twice and referred.

Mr. Wiggin of Dover moved the following resolution, which was adopted.

Resolved, That the committee on the Judiciary inquire into the expediency of providing by law that the property, in her own right, of every woman married in this State, may be retained for her sole use and benefit, independent of and uncontrolled by her husband, and in no case to be seized or taken in payment of his debts.

Temperance.—On motion of Mr. Hooper of Somersworth, it was resolved that that portion of the message of His Excellency the Governor, which relates to the liquor traffic, be referred to a committee to consist of one member from each county.

Notices of Bills.—The following gentlemen gave notice of their intention of introducing bills:

Mr. Emery of Portsmouth—a bill to repeal an act entitled "An act concerning the appointment of a Board of Insurance Commissioners."

Mr. Pendexter of Portsmouth—a bill to incorporate the Bank of New Hampshire.

☞ On Thursday, the N. H. Senate, in concurrence, elected John P. Hale and James Bell as U. S. Senators. Hale had 10 votes and Bell 11.

Comments on the Message.—The Dover Enquirer speaks thus of Gov. Metcalf's Message:

The Governor's Message has the common fault of prolixity. Aside from this, most of its suggestions appear to be well enough. On the two great questions of the day—Temperance and the Nebraska swindle—it is plain and outspoken; and whoever may have affected to doubt the opinions of the Governor on these topics, can doubt no longer. The Concord Patriot objects to the Governor's preaching on temperance that he did not practice it when a member of the democratic party. Then, it says, he always "indulged" when he could do so at another's expense!—If this is true, it shows that the democratic party have been in the habit of keeping tipplers in office, and it shows, moreover a commendable reformation in the Governor in now recommending a prohibitory law. If he was a suitable person, in the opinion of the Patriot, to hold important offices, when he was a hard drinker, he certainly is all the better qualified now.

The Meredith Democrat says:

Gov. Ralph goes in for the Maine law like a thousand of bricks. What a marvellous conversion from his former ideas on the subject! What a reformation, if he has reformed all through!

The Manchester Democrat says:

On all the great questions before the people of this State, the language of the Governor is explicit, decided and manly. No political friend or opponent can mistake his meaning. The views expressed in the Message will meet with the hearty approval of the great body of the voters of New Hampshire.

For the Chronicle.

TO SARAH.

Her eyes were blue, and softly bright
As morning glories wet with dew;
Her hair was like a cloud of night
That streams of moonlight struggle through.

Her cheeks were of the hue of shells
That ope their bosoms in the sea;
Her voice the chime of silver bells,
For ever ringing out a glee.

Her mien was modest as the droop
Of meadow lilies o'er a stream;
Her light step graceful as their stoop
When soft winds wake them from a dream.

A truth was in her earnest glance,
On which the heart could aye rely.—
Her every sigh inspired a trance,
As 'twere a whisper from the sky. P. B.

☞ The Boston Daily Mail has been purchased by an association of printers, and comes out under new auspices, with Timothy Bigelow, Esq., as editor.

An agitation had arisen for the introduction of a Maine Law in Great Britain, but without the remotest chance of success.

About as much chance as Wilberforce had, when he moved alone in parliament, to enquire into the Guinea slave trade.

The Lowell News announces Hiss's lecture in the following complimentary terms:—"The last kick of an aspiring jackass will come off to-night opposite the Merrimack House."

LOCAL.

CITY COUNCIL.

Tuesday, June 14.

Board of Aldermen.—The Appropriation ordinance, sent up from the Council, after an amendment by the addition of $300 for schools, was adopted.

The report of the special committee on Pilotage, sent up from the Council, was adopted.

The resolution from the Council, respecting the removal of the Police Justice, was laid on the table.

The application of Wm. Fielsted to give theatrical representations on Saturday evening, was rejected.

Common Council.—A joint resolution was adopted, providing for the appointment of a select committee to consider as to the best manner of procuring the removal of the present Police Justice.

The amendment to the Appropriation Bill by the Board of Aldermen, was concurred in.

Mrs. Senter's Readings.—We bespeak a good house for the lady, and an intellectual treat to those who attend the Readings and Recitations of Mrs. Annie Senter, the lady who made such a brilliant and successful debut at the Boston Museum a few months since. That she will fully sustain the character and representation given her by the press of Boston, during her several engagements there, we have only to see and hear her to be convinced. One of the best Theatrical critics says—"During the past week we have had the pleasure of listening to the private Readings of Mrs. Senter; possessing youth, beauty, genius, and one of the purest, clearest voices, we ever listened to—these qualifications, joined to an ardent enthusiasm for the profession she has chosen, an untiring industry, and a determined perseverance to overcome all obstacles, will ere long assuredly place her high in the list of American actresses." The pieces selected for This Evening's Entertainment are all excellent. "The Building of the Ship," by our own poet Longfellow, "The Seven Ages of Man," &c., &c., will form a most interesting programme;—we hope to see a good house to-night.

Attention! Battery!—A Nut for the K. N.'s.—On the morning of the 2d of June, 1855, when the Frigate Constitution anchored off Fort Constitution, Portsmouth, N.H., the booming of a national salute from the Fort was reverberated over the granite hills of New Hampshire, and was promptly answered by gallant old Ironsides. No outsider would have supposed that the fort was garrisoned by one man—Mr. James Davidson, the Ordnance Sergeant, who fired the salute alone.

For the information of the Know Nothings, (or know no-things, or no no things,) it should be stated that Mr. Davidson is of foreign extraction—and what is still worse, of "foreign birth!" He has served his adopted country most faithfully for over thirty-eight years.—"Put none but Americans on guard to night."

The above is from the Boston Pilot, of this week, and is correct in its statements. Sergeant Davidson has been the only soldier in either of our forts for a long time—and yet we are just as safe, for aught we know, as if we had a thousand men there; though a company stationed here makes good business for some of our stores, and we get attached to some of the officers and men.

The political and national bearing of the squib is fair and obvious, but not of much consequence.

Beautiful.—The Laburnum dill now in full bloom in front of the residence of A. H. Hill, Esq., on State street; and the scarlet Cactus, loaded with flowers, in Albert Laighton's store window.

There is a rumor about the streets of Portland, that an Irishman was buried on Sunday without an inquest, who is said to have been killed by a brick thrown by the mob on the 2nd of June.—Advertiser.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

BATTLES.

By the last arrival we had a brief announcement that the French had driven the Russians from a strong position of defence, or "Place Darma," before Sebastopol. This occurred during the nights of the 22d and 23d, and was a most sanguinary affair; the place being defended by nearly the whole garrison. The total losses on both sides in killed and wounded is set down at 8000. Gen. Pellissier says the Russian loss was enormous, and that of his own troops considerable, though much less. The French retained their position.

Prince Gortschakoff's account of the affair is this:—"Yesterday evening, seventeen battalions of the enemy, with reserves, attached our trench of counter approach commenced the day before in front of bastions Nos. 5 and 6. The combat was sanguinary, and lasted during the night. Our twelve battalions lost nearly 2500 men in driving back the enemy."

Gen. Pellissier telegraphs under date of the 25th, 10 P. M.:—"Today we have occupied the line of the Tchernaya. The enemy, who were not in force, offered little resistance, and retreated rapidly, into the hills. We have definitely established ourselves in the works carried during the nights of the 22d and 23d.

An armistice was agreed upon for burying the dead, and we were able to form an estimate of the enemy's losses; they must be about 5000 to 6000 killed and wounded."

May 29th, 9 A. M.—The expedition to Kertch and Yenikale has been attended with complete success: the enemy fled at the approach of the allies. They blew up their powder magazines, destroyed their batteries and burned their steamers.

Lord Raglan telegraphs as follows:

May 27th.—We are masters of the Sea of Azoff without casualty. The troops landed at Kertch on her Majesty's birthday (24th), and the enemy fled, blowing up their fortifications on both sides of the straits and destroying their steamers. Some vessels and fifty guns have fallen into the hands of the allies.

Lord Raglan further telegraphs that, "on the 25th General Sir George Brown had reached Yenikale, having the previous day destroyed a foundry at Kertch, where shot, shell, and Minie ball were manufactured. In an advance the French were on the right, the English on the left, and the Turks in reverse.

A RESCUE.—The Newburyport Herald states that on Wednesday afternoon a person whose name is unknown, in endeavoring to get on board schooner Hezron, fell into the dock, and would have drowned, being unable to swim, but Mr. J. R. Ireland, who happened by accident to be present, at imminent risk of his life sprang into the stream, after divesting himself of a part of his clothing, and succeeded in reaching the shore in safety. This is the third life Mr. Ireland has been instrumental in saving during the past twelve months.

RAILROAD ACCIDENTS.—The cars on the Erie railroad, New York, ran off the track near Sloatsburg, on Tuesday. James Nelis, oilman, had his arm broken, and a sister of the Episcopal clergyman at Goshen, name not given, had her back broken, and cannot, it is supposed, survive.

On Monday, a train on the New York Central Railroad ran off the track near Whitesboro', in consequence of the breaking of an axle of the locomotive. Three cars were destroyed, and passengers were sent out of the windows and through the bottom of the cars, but no one was seriously injured.

A remarkable instance of escape from death by a fall and drowning, occurred at Manchester, N. H., on Wednesday week. A little boy but twenty three months old, fell into a well twenty five feet deep, and apparently was uninjured! No one saw him when he fell, but he was missed, and found reclining upon his back, with both hands clinched firmly hold of two lead pipes that lead to the water, keeping his head out—composed, and not crying at all.

SAGAMORE HOUSE,
FROST'S POINT, 3½ miles from Postam. Depota.
THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 20th.
To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation.—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. Situated on a point of land on the Atlantic shore, near the Harbor of Portsmouth, the windows on three sides overlook the salt water. From the beach, the broad Atlantic, the Isles of Shoals, the beautiful Piscataqua, and the City of Portsmouth form a charming prospect, and in the background the green fields and leafy woods present a relieving contrast.
The House will be kept in the best manner, and every endeavor will be used to give satisfaction to its guests. The more effectually to do this, the proprietor has secured the services of Mr. JOHN MACK, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, whose experience and skill in hotel keeping will be a sufficient guarantee to all who know him that the management will be all that could be desired. The Table will be supplied with all the seasonable luxuries of the sea and land, and every effort used to render a sojourn at the Sagamore agreeable.
A Coach, in charge of an experienced driver, will run between the Sagamore House and the City of Portsmouth, two or three times a day, during the season, connecting with the several railroad trains. Fare 25 cents. All orders left at Wm. R. PRESTON'S, in Portsmouth, will receive prompt attention

a8 JOSEPH L. GOVE.

DR. SAMUEL JOHNSON.—In the public prints of September, 1854, it was stated that by the then recent death, at Richmond, of Miss Jane Langton, aged 77, a god-daughter of Dr. Samuel Johnson, the only survivor of all mentioned in Boswell's Biography, had passed away. This is a mistake. There is still living, at No. 5 Minerva place, New Cross, near Deptford, five minutes' walk from the station, another survivor, Miss Anne Elizabeth Lowe. Her brother (who died unmarried in 1821) and herself are mentioned in the Doctor's will as his god-children, the son and daughter of Mauritius Lowe, painter, who obtained the first gold medal at the Royal Academy. Miss Lowe has several pieces from his pencil, as well as several articles of furniture formerly belonging to the great moralist.—Among them are the deal desk at which he composed the whole of his grand dictionary; another more commodious desk, which he afterwards procured; and a book cupboard with glass doors, in which he kept his literary treasures. The Doctor, on his death bed, entrusted her (then about four or five years old) to the care of Sir Joshua Reynolds, with whom and with his sister she often resided.—London Daily News.

CORRECTION.—A paragraph has been going the rounds, accusing Rev. Mr. Chase, of Brunswick, N. Y., near Troy, of absconding with another man's wife. Mr. Chase is a Methodist minister,—and the presiding elder of his district publishes a card, contradicting the statement, and correcting the error. He says:

Brother Chase is the same good man he has been during all the years of his Christian profession. He is doing his work in all purity and faithfulness, not having absconded at all, nor taken any man's wife. He did allow his own daughter to return to his house, after long effort to live with her husband, of whom I will not now speak particularly.

THE VICAR OF BRAY.

In good King Charles's golden days,
When loyalty no harm meant,
A zealous high church man I was,
And so I got preferment:
To teach my flock, I never missed'd,
Kings are by God appointed,
And damn'd are those that do resist,
Or touch the Lord's anointed.
And this is Law, I will maintain,
Until my dying day, Sir,
That whatsoever King shall reign,
I'll be the Vicar of Bray, Sir.

When Royal James obtained the crown,
And popery came in fashion,
The penal laws I hooted down,
And read the declaration.
The church of Rome I found would fit
Full well my constitution,
And had become a Jesuit
But for the Revolution.
And this is Law, &c.

When William was our King declar'd,
To ease the Nation's grievance,
With this new wind, about I steer'd
And swore to him allegiance;
Old principles I did revoke—
Set conscience at a distance;
Passive obedience was a Joke—
A jest was non-resistance.
And this is Law, &c.

When gracious Anne became our Queen,
The church of England's glory,
Another face of things was seen,
And I became a Tory;
Occasional conformists base,
I damn'd their moderation,
And thought the church in danger was
By such prevarication.
And this is Law, &c.

When George, in pudding time, came o'er,
And moderate men look'd big, Sir,
I turn'd a cat in pan once more,
And so, became a Whig, Sir;
And thus preferment I procur'd,
From our new Faith's defender,
And almost every day abjured
The Pope and the Pretender.
And this is Law, &c.

The illustrious house of Hanover—
The Protestant Succession;
To these, I do allegiance swear,
While they can keep possession;
For in my faith and loyalty,
I never more will falter,
But George my lawful King shall be,
Until the times do alter.
And this is Law, I will maintain,
Until my dying day, Sir,
That whatsoever King shall reign,
I'll be the Vicar of Bray, Sir.

SEA OF AZOFF.—The Sea of Azoff, which the news by the Atlantic informs us is now completely occupied by the Allied squadron, communicates with the Black Sea by the narrow strait of Yenikale. It is not more than 200 miles long, and its greatest breadth is perhaps 100. It is shallow and encumbered with sandbanks, having in no place more than seven fathoms of water. Its shores are generally marshy, and its commerce, which is trifling, centres at Taganrog, which is at its N. E. extremity. Kertch, which is said to be in the hands of the Allies, is a small town on the strait of Yenikale, of not more than 1,000 inhabitants, but with a good harbor. It had a small fort; but contained, as is said, foundaries for making shot and balls, and powder magazines, from which Sebastopol drew most of its supplies.

LEON D'ORO.—Somebody has complained to the mayor of New York, that Mr. Grieve keeps on his sidewalk large coops of fowls, ducks, pigeons, &c.; also goats, monkeys, dogs and ponies, tied to his awning posts, and a lion in his cellar, which keeps up a constant howling and roaring all night.

The philanthropic Miss Nightingale has been laid up with fever, but is recovering.

SATIN AND STATISTICS.—A contemporary who is somewhat posted up in satin and statistics, talks as follows:

"While the business men of America proverbially live poorer, dress shabbier, work harder and many more hours, than in any other country in the world, their wives and daughters are ten times more idle, more extravagant, and more useless."

It strikes us there is some truth in that extract. Mr. Brocha, of the house of Brocha, Buchram & Co., toils from 12 to 16 hours per day. Brocha last year made $22,000. What became of it?—$10,000 of the same were spent by Mrs. Brocha for new furniture, "to spite the Maxwells," while a large portion of the balance was expended on "Blanche and Sarah," so that they might go to Newport and "show the Fantadlings" that there were other diamonds in New York, besides those which were inherited from a great grandfather, who found in India, a princely fortune and a diseased liver. Brocha has been in business since 1840. He does a large and lucrative business. People who have never been in his parlor and kitchen, imagine that he is worth a quarter of a million dollars, while those who have been in, wonder how he dodges the sheriff. Brocha is still toiling, and taking money, and yet if he should die to-morrow, it is questionable whether his assets would equal his liabilities. He will probably end his days by testing the virtues of a shilling's worth of strychnine. Should we be one of the jurors to sit upon the body, we should bring in the following verdict: "Died from the visitation of an extravagant wife and two senseless daughters."

The Presbyterian Church in Baltimore, formerly Dr. Duncan's and more recently under the care of the Rev. Stuart Robinson, D. D., have made a unanimous call upon the Rev. Hugh S. Carpenter of State St. Church, Portland, to become their pastor. The opinion prevails that he will not accept.—Argus.

SATURDAY, JUNE 16, 1855.

K. N. COUNCIL UPSET.

At a late hour of the night of Wednesday, 1 o'clock A. M., the know-nothing council in Philadelphia adopted the majority report in favor of the Kansas-Nebraska measure, by a vote of 80 yeas to 50 nays. A division of the council ensued, and on Thursday a meeting of northern delegates was held.

Hon. Henry Wilson of Massachusetts was appointed chairman. Great unanimity of feeling was expressed, and a determination to appeal from the Council to the people in behalf of the right principles. The following address was submitted, signed by the delegates present, and ordered to be published to the Nation.

To the People of the United States. The undersigned citizens of various states, assembled at Philadelphia on the 14th of June, 1855, feel constrained under the existing state of affairs, to affirm the following principles:

First—The unconditional restoration of that time honored compromise, known as the Missouri Prohibition, which was destroyed in utter disregard of the popular will, a wrong which no lapse of time can palliate, and no plea for its continuance can justify, and that we will use all constitutional means to maintain the positive guarantee of the compact, until the object for which it was enacted, has been consummated by the admission of Kansas and Nebraska as free states.

Second—That the rights of the settlers in Territories, to free and undisturbed exercise of the elective franchise granted to them by the laws under which they are organized, shall be promptly protected by the National Executive whenever violated or threatened, and that we cannot conscientiously act with those, who will not aid us in the correction of these national wrongs, and who will not even permit their fair consideration and their full discussion.

Third—We further declare our continued and unalterable determination to use all honorable efforts to secure such a modification of the naturalization laws, aided by such an elevation of public sentiment, as will preserve the true interests of the nation, and will guarantee the three vital principles of a republican government, "spiritual freedom, a free Bible, and free schools," thereby promoting the great work of Americanizing America.

Fourth—That we invoke the arm of legislation to arrest that growing evil, the deportation by foreign authorities of paupers and convicts to our shores, and that as our national constitution requires the chief executive of our country to be of native birth, we deem it equally necessary and important that our diplomatic representatives abroad should also possess no foreign prejudices to bias their judgment, or influence their official action.

Here follow the signatures of the delegates from all the Northern States, except Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. Although it is thought New York will be the only Northern State submitting to the platform adopted by the council.

Thus they have dissolved the Union—of the K. Ns.—between Slavery and Freedom.

A Rich Witness.—At the Portland Inquest, on Wednesday and Thursday, one J. C. Begg testified at great length, and among other things, he thought that two or three influential men might have dispersed the mob by words. He testified also that he had seen a great crowd in another place dispersed by two men, with words only.

In what town or city had you seen so large a gathering dispersed by two men?

At Salmon Falls.

Who were the two men, and what was the time.

They were officiating policemen. It was eight or nine days before that—the day I left here, or the day after.

[He had before testified, that he had been absent nine days, and returned to Portland on the Saturday of the riot.]

What was the occasion of the gathering at Salmon Falls?

The occasion of the crowd at Salmon Falls was instigated by myself. I was vending an article. A great number gathered around—I was ordered away, as they could not have a crowd in the street—the crowd said don't go away, and I didn't till I was taken away. The crowd got very ferocious—did it was illegal, &c. When the crowd were told that I was to be liberated, they dispersed. Firearms were going to be resorted to, but kind words dispersed them.

This is what we call a piece of rich testimony. Our readers at Salmon Falls, especially, will be astonished at the great excitement up there, and delighted at the eminent success of moral suasion in their midst.

Mr. Lafayette Lyman, a soldier of the Rifles, who threw away his flint after he had marched with his company from the Armory to the Agency, before the firing, testified to a dense crowd.

State if Alderman Carlton marched down the steps at the head of the company to the city Agency, and if so, whether he had a musket?

There was such a crowd that I could not see to the head of the company. I could not tell whether he went down or no.

Rev. Mr. Lovejoy.—The Lowell Christian Era renews (we presume from absolute knowledge) the statement that Rev. Mr. Lovejoy, who spoke against the liquor law, is a Methodist minister.

Frederick Douglas is preparing a new life of himself, entitled "My Freedom and Bondage."

LOCAL.

Arrest of Tirrell and Watson.—On Friday morning, complaint was made by a sailor of the Constitution, that he had on Thursday night been swindled out of $150 by Albert J. Tirrell (of Maria Bickford notoriety) and Benjamin Watson. A warrant was made out and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Towle, who found the rascals near the Spring Market. Watson was arrested, and Tirrell took to his heels. As he threaded his way around Church Hill, followed by the Sheriff, the alarm was given, and by the time he reached Water street, hundreds were in pursuit. He turned into Charles street, slipped into the house of Mr. Job Woodsum, and was there arrested. There was much cheering by the crowd as he was carried over Market Square.

POLICE COURT.

Friday, P. M.

Before Justice Parker—Albert J. Tirrell, Benj. Watson, and John Livingston, were arraigned for gambling and betting on a game, whereby they received $100 from one John Livingston. Albert J. Tirrell and Benjamin Watson plead not guilty. John Livingston plead guilty, but afterwards retracted, and plead guilty of gambling, but not of winning money.

Mr. Hatch, the Solicitor, being unable to attend, desired, through Mr. Hackett, a continuance.

The counsel for the defence were Messrs. Goodall and Towle. Mr. Goodall objected to the continuance on various grounds, the most important of which was, that as one of the prisoners had plead guilty, he was probably the only guilty party, and the others were innocent.

The Court continued the cases to Monday, at 12 o'clock, and required each of the prisoners to give bonds in the sum of $200, with two good sureties in 100 each.

Not being able to obtain the requisite bonds, they were put "where moth and rust doth not corrupt, nor thieves break through and steal," viz., in the county jail, under charge of Capt. Towle.

Tirrell and Watson are well known, and need no particular notice here. Livingston was a sailor of the Constitution, and in this gambling business was a mere stool pigeon, having borrowed the money of another sailor to make the bet. The money, it is supposed, was taken care of by the keeper of one of our rum and gambling holes, who is just now out of sight.

☞ The watch house door being open on Friday morning, we followed the Marshal to the slate and the lock up doors. On the slate the Watchmen of the previous night had recorded, "Two strangers, found dead drunk in the streets." Two of the cells contained an Irishman in each. One of them said he had a wife and children in Portland, and that he came to this city a few days ago, because he could not get anything to drink there! Now we ask our readers if that is not a most atrocious law in Maine, which drives drunkards from Portland, and makes us pay a rum tax for them in this city? Something must be done about it.

P. Y. M. C. A.—The third Anniversary Lecture before the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association, will be delivered by Rev. Mr. Lamson, to-morrow evening, at the Temple. Services to commence at half-past seven.

☞ Rev. Mr. Angel, of Medford, will preach at the Universalist Church, to-morrow.

☞ Elder J. Couch will preach at the Advent Chapel to-morrow.

Capt. Stehendsohn's Lecture.—A gentleman bearing this Hungarian name, has lectured in Portland—and now proposes to lecture here,—as per advertisement—in the Temple, next Tuesday evening, on Jesuits. The Portland papers spoke highly of his lectures there on other subjects. His lecture here is to be Three Months in a Jesuit Cloister.

The Black Swan, who will visit us next week, is thus spoken of by the Quebec Morning Chronicle:

The Black Swan's Concert last evening was a most wonderful display of vocal genius; and she was greeted by a very large audience. Her voice is the most penetrating and powerful we have yet listened to in Quebec; and besides a purity of intonation, and distinctness of utterance that cannot but impart the greatest enjoyment to all who appreciate refined musical talent, she possesses a marvellous ability to sing in two voices,—to change in an instant from the highest soprano notes to deep baritone. She was rapturously encored in almost every song. Her second and last concert to-night will doubtless be equally well attended.

Change of Hours.—The morning train from this city for Boston, on and after Monday, June 18th, will leave this city at 7.15—and the evening train will leave at 6.35.

☞ On and after Monday, June 18th, the morning train on the P. & C. Railroad will leave Portsmouth at 6.40 A. M., instead of 7.10 A. M.

The City Liquor Questions.—In Board of Aldermen—Thursday evening, the session was prolonged till midnight, the principal subject engaging the attention of the Board being the enforcement of the liquor law. Ald. Rundlett, Senter and Wendell advocating a liberal system of licensing, and Ald. Dearborn, Wilson and Yeaton, (Ald. Wherren retiring before the subject was taken up) and the Mayor supporting the appointment of agents and the enforcement of the law. Ald. Rundlett thought our city would compare favourably with any other for good order, and that there was no necessity for waging war upon as good and respectable citizens as any others because their business happened to differ from that of members of the Board.

The subject was finally disposed off by voting to license Messrs. W. Bodge, B. Carter, B. Hutchings, J. H. Thacher, John Harrat, Lafayette Laighton to sell agreeably to law, upon the payment of $250 each, and the Mayor was authorised to enforce the law when one or more of the persons licensed shall accept the license.—N. H. Gazette.

☞ It will be seen by an advertisement in another column, that Mr. Pearson commences a Term of his Juvenile Singing School, this afternoon.

CHARADE.

On many a field in 76
My first was left by heroes bold,
From Quoddy Head to the Sabine,
Where Hessians fought for British gold.
At Lexington, at Bunker Hill,
At Yorktown, Bennington—where not?
While shouts and groans the air did fill,
Stern bravery then stood on the spot.
And later still at New Orleans,
Where Jackson stood, my next to save,
There warriors flush from Waterloo,
In a deep ditch soon found a grave.
Go read of old Elisha's time,
When he was threatened by the King,
My whole was in Samaria's clime—
It shows what judgments God can bring.

GOOD MEDICINES.
It is estimated that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchits, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only wyile it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

UNITED STATES SENATORS.—The election of James Bell as one of the United States Senators, will no doubt be satisfactory to the people of this State. There is probably no man in New Hampshire in whom the American party have more confidence—whose ability, integrity and fidelity are so universally regarded; and his election to that high and responsible office will be satisfactory to all parties throughout the State. While Mr. Bell is to-day one of the most popular men in New Hampshire,—in the opinion of those who know him best and are abundantly able to judge, there is not one man in the State better qualified and adapted to fill the office and discharge the duties of a Senator in Congress. It is quite apparent that while the American party, now the ruling party in New Hampshire, have chosen and elected him, yet he is obnoxious to no party, and all parties will regard him as a safe, able and honorable man, in whose hands the honor and interests of the State and country may safely be confided. Mr. Bell is well known to the people of New Hampshire, a thoroughly educated man, always a gentleman, modest and unassuming,—yet firm, strong, clear headed and talented. New Hampshire has not his superior in all that makes a man; it would be hard to find an individual better fitted and more able to represent this State in the Senate of the Union.

We think we are safe in saying that with such men as James Bell and John P. Hale, no State in the Union will be better and more ably represented in that body than New Hampshire. S. W. C.

☞ Hugh Collins, an Irishman, 25 years of age, died at the Centre Station of the police in Boston, on Friday. He leaves a wife and two children. On the morning of the day of his death he left home, stating that she was going to seek some employment, and since that time, his wife, who has been confined with child, had learned no tidings of his whereabouts. She called at the Centre Station, Tuesday, and by her description of her missing husband, the officers recognized the deceased as the person. Since his decease, it has been ascertained that a man saw him early on Friday morning, drinking from a barrel of alcohol on one of the wharves. This, no doubt, was the cause of his death.

WHY THE KINNEY EXPEDITION WAS ABANDONED.—In giving the reasons for the abandonment of the Kinney Expedition, Washington correspondent says:—

"It was simply from the want of money—the want of ready means to defray the current and immediate expenses. To equip, provision, support and keep in battle array a thousand men by mere promises, is out of question. War and fillibustering would be be perpetual and unceasing if mere promises are the sinews by which they could be kept in motion. Half a million of dollars would have been the cost of the expedition for six months; and without half that amount Col. Kinney would not be willing probably to enter upon it. He was, it seems, disappointed in making that pecuniary negotiation which was essential to the prosecution of this enterprise.

INDIA AND CHINA.—The details of the Oriental news had reached England.

Intelligence from Burmah was unfavorable to the prospects of peace.

There is nothing further from Persia.

Trade had undergone no material improvement.

At Shanghae on the 9th of February, all was quiet, the troops having been withdrawn towards Canton. In the interior matters had assumed an unfavorable change, and the insurgents were making such advances as led to the fear that they might stop the exports of Shanghae.

Insurgents along the coast had been attacking foreign flags. A British expedition had consequently destroyed twenty junks, with most of their crews, and the remainder were killed on shore.

Famine threatened the people of Canton, and food riots were apprehended.

A British fleet of eight vessels was to rendezvous at Japan, and afterwards proceed to the Russian settlements in the north.

The U. S. ship J. P. Kennedy was at Canton, the Vandalia at Whampoa, and the Powhattan at Singapore.

The American clipper ship Challenge had rescued part of the crew of the British ship Countess of Seafield, wrecked on the Pralas. Capt. Adams, U. S. N., proceeded homeward by this mail with the ratified Japan treaty.

SAGAMORE HOUSE,

FROST'S POINT, 2½ miles from Portsm. Depots.

THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 20th.

To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation.—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. Situated on a point of land on the Atlantic shore, near the Harbor of Portsmouth, the windows on three sides overlook the salt water. From the beach, the broad Atlantic, the Isles of Shoals, the beautiful Piscataqua, and the City of Portsmouth form a charming prospect, and in the background the green fields and leafy woods present a relieving contrast.

The House will be kept in the best manner, and every endeavor will be used to give satisfaction to its guests. The more effectually to do this, the proprietor has secured the services of Mr. JOHN MACK, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, whose experience and skill in hotel keeping will be a sufficient guarantee to all who know him that the management will be all that could be desired. The Table will be supplied with all the seasonable luxuries of the sea and land, and every effort used to render a sojourn at the Sagamore agreeable.

A Coach, in charge of an experienced driver, will run between the Sagamore House and the City of Portsmouth, two or three times a day, during the season, connecting with the several railroad trains. Fare 25 cents. All orders left at Wm. R. Passon's, in Portsmouth, will receive prompt attention.

THOS R. CLARK, Proprietor.

A VERY GOOD MOVE.—We understand that the Executive Board of Brown University have determined to furnish rooms in the college buildings, free of charge, to candidates for the ministry, of all denominations, and such other deserving young men as the President may select. Some measure of this kind has long been desired by all the friends of the Institution. The cost of residence in college will then be materially diminished to those whose circumstances require it, while those whose means are ample will easily provide themselves with rooms in private families in the city.—Providence Journal.

DEPRECIATION.—We stated a few days ago that the Pontalba property, consisting of stores and dwellings situated in the Second District, and mostly within the business limits—was sold under the hammer for $93,000. These buildings were appraised 15 years ago at $340,000 and were rented at $34,000 a year. The property now rents for $16,000. The difference between the appraised value and the amount at which it is sold, is nearly 75 per cent.—N. O. Delta.

MONUMENT TO WASHINGTON.—The board of Councilmen in New York have granted a petition of certain persons for a circular plot of ground, 200 feet in diameter, in Central Park, on which to erect a building as a Washington Monument. The plan is of a structure designed to answer the purposes of a Washington Monument, a grand national monument, a museum of arts and sciences, and other purposes of a utilitarian character.

TOM THUMB.—The New York Post contradicts "by authority" that the distinguished Mr. Tom Thumb is married, and says that the Miss Vinton to whom rumor had assigned the unspeakable felicity of a union with the little man, has merely been engaged to take charge of him and attend to his wardrobe.

SPLENDID PIANOS.—The German Trio, Henry Jungnickel, Carl Hause, and Carl Gartner, of Boston, gave a chamber concert at the piano rooms of Hallett, Davis & Co., on Saturday evening last. Mr. Hause was the pianist, and the musical editor of the Boston Herald thus speaks of the instrument used on the occasion:

The instrument exhibited such qualities that all ears were gratified. The piano was manufactured by Messrs. Hallett, Davis & Co., and having listened to it both in the concert with a powerful accompaniment, and at a private trial, we must confess that we have never heard its equal for power, brilliancy, sweetness of tone, and facility of action. We understand that this piano was manufactured for one of our citizens, at a cost of $1000. It is a grand piano, 7 1-3 octaves. The workmanship is of the richest and most costly character. The case is rosewood, carved in chaste and beautiful designs, and the interior is ornamented with papier maché finely inlaid with mother-of-pearl. A liquid and bell-like tone is produced in this instrument by means of the suspension bridge, an improvement secured to Messrs. Hallett & Davis by letters patent. The lower notes are remarkable for their immense volume and distinctness, while the upper ones are like globules of melted gold dropped into a crystal spring. The effect of the instrument is exceedingly beautiful, and we look upon it as a triumph of American skill.

THE FREEMAN'S JOURNAL, the organ of Archbishop Hughes, seems to be in a tight place. With all the immense influence of the Bishop, the Journal drags heavily. The editor talks as follows:

"We are perfectly in earnest, therefore, in saying that we want the question solved now, at the present crisis, as to whether we shall continue the Freeman's Journal, or give it over. Now is the right time to decide. If the Freeman's Journal as at present conducted, is not wanted in these times, we look forward to no time when it will be wanted, and by the deeds not the compliments, of Catholics, we desire to know now whether we are to continue in the public service of the Catholic cause, or whether, taking care of our own soul, we shall embrace a present opportunity of setting to work honorably to 'making money' and building up a good name among our fellow citizens in another region of country—in a way certainly not inimical to Catholic interests, but in no way connected with them."

Well, we think the world could get along without the Freeman's Journal, and, we hope the editor will go "to work honorably to making money," as he says, for editing such a paper is a most dishonorable way of making it.—Christian Era.

THE SEVASTOPOL ENGINEER.—The head engineer at Sevastopol is thirty two years of age. His parents are poor shop keepers in Riga. When the siege commenced, Prince Menschikoff, it is said, asked the then head engineer how long it would take to put the place in a state of defence. He answered "two months." A young captain, named Todleben, stepped forward and said he would undertake to do it, if he had as many men as he required, in two weeks. He did it in twelve days, and was made Colonel. Since that time he has had the direction of everything in the way of building batteries, &c. The other day the Grand Dukes called upon his wife, who is residing at St. Petersburgh, to congratulate her upon her husband's promotion, for he is now General and Aid-de-Camp to the Emperor.

Is anything more wanted to explain the painful discrepancy between what has been done by the Russians and by the Allies? The former will be bound by no ties of seniority or class; they take the man that will do his work the best, and they get the best done.—Boston Mail.

The Boston Telegraph has an article on the death of a young French sailor, who died on Sunday night, after having been wounded in a duel on Saturday afternoon.—The victim died at the break of day, Monday morning, unattended save by his opponent who occupied the same cell, and watched him with devoted care. After a night of intense agony, failing gradually, at the close he said, "kiss me again my friend, I suffocate," —and died.

One friend, killed by another, and then watched by him till death! They must have been both half drunk or half crazy, when they challenged and fought.

KENTUCKY.—The Louis Courier states that Thomas F. Marshall will be a candidate for Congress in the Ashland district, upon the old Whig platform. He is now opposed to the Know Nothings, although a few weeks ago it was generally understood he was in their favor. The Know Nothing candidate is his brother, Dr. Marshall, who was recently very much opposed to "the order." It would be well for them to take the stump against each other, to show up each other's inconsistencies.—Boston Conr.

Editing a newspaper is like making a fire. Everybody supposes he can do it "a little better than anybody else." We have seen people who doubted their fitness for making apple pudding, driving oxen, or counting laths; but in all our experience we never yet met with the individual who did not think he could "double the circulation" of any paper in two months.—Exchange.

An old stove belonging to a district in Cornish, N. H., discarded for its imperfections, and worth in itself less than a dollar, is the bone of contention between two pugnacious individuals, and the costs of the lawsuits arising from it amount already to over five hundred dollars. The defendant was charged with taking the stove without leave.

Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, JUNE 18, 1855.

INSINUATIONS.—The Portland State of Maine speaks of the Chronicle as prominent among certain papers, which have insinuated with more or less distinctness, that we (the State of Maine) in the last few weeks published articles calculated to stir up a seditious spirit in Portland.

Our insinuations, if they can be so called, are pretty distinct.

We said, June 12—

Within the last fortnight previous to the rum riot, there appeared in the State of Maine near a dozen pieces of inflammatory matter, much of it of the character above quoted, directly calculated (we do not say designed,) to stir up a rum riot in Portland.

The Dakin piece, alluded to above, was a specimen of the articles; and they issued over most beautifully towards the law breakers, while they represented the police and the law they were enforcing, in the most contemptible light possible. We said, at the same time;—

Several of the same items, for substance, but varied in phraseology and form, have appeared in the Argus editorially.

We said these things plainly; and we were sorry to say them; but they were true. We made the remark to a friend in our office, on the Saturday before the mob took place in the evening:—These pieces seem as if they were written to make a rum riot.

For the Chronicle.

HIGHWAYS AND EXPENDITURES.

Messrs. Editors:—"Vistor," in your paper of June 12th, suggests the propriety of having a Street Commissioner, instead of Surveyors, to superintend the making and the repairs of highways and common sewers in this city.—We advocate a change, because there is no danger that it would be for the worse. While there is an annual appropriation of nearly four thousand dollars, for roads, streets and sewers, it is certainly worthy of consideration, whether we cannot have better roads than we now have, and at the same time save half, at least a fourth, of the present expenditures? To make good and permanent roads, requires skill and science, and proper machinery. A commissioner, properly qualified, having the superintendence of the whole, would be more beneficial than half a dozen ordinary Surveyors. He would so construct the roads that they would not require frequent repairs, and he would use labor saving machines, such as are used in many other places. He would have a machine (the cost about $25) called the "scraper." Two hands with that machine, a plow, and a yoke of oxen, can do more service in a day than twelve or fifteen hands with shovels, excepting, of course, in paved streets. The scraper is in common use in this and other States. We need not point out how good roads should be made, as intelligent persons will agree that a Commissioner, or an officer vested with full authority, should thoroughly understand the business committed to his charge. A CITIZEN.

MATRIMONIAL TROUBLES OF A CATHOLIC PRIEST.—The Chicago Tribune of the 11th inst., gives a curious account of the marriage of a Catholic priest, Nicholas Stamber, of that city, to a young German girl, and her desertion of him. The marriage was performed in private by a Catholic priest, according to the rites of the church, excepting the wedding ring and witnesses. Both priests were then in orders, and continued to be up to the time of the wife's desertion. The married priest and the officiating one have been deposed from office since the affair has become known. And now the husband brings a suit in chancery for the recovery of his wife. The wife is brought into court, and interrogated by the presiding judge, to whom she reveals the above facts respecting her marriage, and also her reason for deserting her husband—that she did not consider the marriage legal or binding, because her husband was a priest, and that she had been educated in the belief that she could never go to heaven if she lived in marriage with a priest.

The court assured her that her marriage was perfectly legal; but left her free to choose between her parents and her husband; and she resolutely chose her parents, refusing to listen to the earnest entreaties of her disconsolate and forsaken spouse.

This discloses a single case of perverse education in the Roman church, which is doubtless general, and exceedingly corrupting.

The girl herself, when going through the ceremony, regarded it as a sham, but supposed the priest could pardon her sin,—or that she could escape by some sort of dodge,—after she had lived with him for a time.—What ideas of moral obligation!

The decision of the Court amounts to this, addressed to the young woman:—your marriage is quite legal,—yet if you please you may break every promise you made in that marriage covenant.

THE PURCHASE OF CUBA.—The Washington Union denies that Mr. Soule was authorised to make an offer for the purchase of Cuba, but affirms that he was empowered to recommend to the Spanish government to acknowledge the independence of Cuba, on the property holders of the island paying into the treasury of Spain a fair equivalent for the pecuniary sacrifice the mother country would make.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

FRIDAY, 16th.

In Convention, for State Printer, Amos Hadley had 171, votes William Butterfield 73, scattering 2.

For Secretary, Pattee 177, Hadley 76, scattering 1.

For Treasurer, Wm. Berry 102, Walter Harriman 80, scat. 7.

HOUSE.—Mr. Tullock of Portsmouth presented the annual returns of the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad; and Mr. Huntress of Somersworth, also presented the annual returns of the Great Falls and Conway Railroad, which were referred.

Mr. Rix of Haverhill offered the following resolution;

Resolved, That a Committee, consisting of one member from each county, be appointed by the Chair, to take into consideration the expediency of re-modeling the present Judiciary system, with instructions to report by bill or otherwise; which was agreed to.

Bills introduced and referred.—To the Committee on Railroads.—By Mr. Rollins of Somersworth, a bill relating to the Great Falls and Conway railroad.

To Committee on Incorporations.—By Mr. Whittemore of Portsmouth, a bill to incorporate the Mercantile Library Association at Portsmouth.

The Speaker announced the appointment of the following named gentlemen as a Select Committee to take into consideration that portion of the Governor's Message which relates to the traffic in spirituous liquors, and report thereon—Messrs. Kittredge of Canaan, Marsh of Exeter, Hooper of Somersworth, Shackford of Barnstead, Tilton of Sandwich, Flanders of Wilmot, Wadleigh of Milford, Wheeler of Claremont, Twitchell of Milan, and Hubbard of Sullivan.

The House adjourned to Monday P. M.

MASONIC.—The R. W. Grand Lodge was held in Concord, on the 12th inst. The following officers were elected:

Ichabod G. Jordan, M. W. G. M.; Alfred Greely, M. W. G. M.; Geo. H. Hubbard, G. S. W.; Moses Paul, J. G. W.; John Knowlton, G. Treas.; Horace Chase, G. Sec. D. D. G. Masters—Albert R. Hatch, Hosea Fessenden, Aaron P. Hewes, Lewis Woodman, Christopher Whitney. Grand Lecturers—Israel Hunt, Barnabas C. Peters, Amaza Alexander, Jared J. Williams, Henry S. Wilson. Grand Chaplains—Dyer H. Sanborn, Sam'l Kelly, B. H. Tillotson, Solomon Laws, Richard S. Rust, Sullivan Holman, Charles Butterfield, G. S. D., C. M. Fiske, G. J. D. Grand Stewards—Z. S. Wallford, W. H. Wyman, Parker Webster, Ivory Harmon, John Wilder and John Hosley. Grand Marshal—Jesse A. Gove. Grand Tyler—Isaac Eastman.

OFFICERS ELECT OF THE R. W. G. CHAPTER OF N. H.—John Christie, M. E. Grand High Priest; T. T. Abbott, E. Dep. G. H. Priest; Samuel Kelley, G. King; Philemon Tolles, G. Scribe; Hosea Fessenden, G. Treasurer; Horace Chase, G. Sec'y, Thomas J. Greenwood, G. Chaplain; Josiah B. Edgerly, G. C. H.; A. B. Currier and C. W. Harvey, G. Stewards; Wm. Carr, G. Tyler.

PIANO FORTES.—On our first page will be seen a "first rate notice" of one of Hallett, Davis & Co's. grand pianos, from the Boston Herald. Respecting this, the editor of the Hetald says, next day:—

An anonymous correspondent cavils rather impertinently at the praise bestowed by us upon one of Hallett, Davis & Co.'s grand pianos which we chanced to hear. We may have expressed our meaning in an enthusiastic manner, but if our correspondent can find a better instrument, or one as good, he may praise it in as much better style as he pleases. In regard to the suspension bridge, we never inquired whether it was invented by Messrs. Hallet, Davis & Co. or not. We were informed that they possess the patent right, which must be a very valuable one, as the implement imparts a tone to the piano superior to any we have listened to. Having heard, recently, two grand pianos of this kind, we noticed that they produced at the pleasure of the player tones powerful and brilliant, or soft and "natcy" full and resonant, or liquid and sweet—in a remarkable degree. We took the liberty to express our admiration of them, although we did not feel competent to describe their merits as fully as we wished.

The New York Musical Review of last week, says that one thousand pianos per year are manufactured at the above establishment.

☞ We are under obligations to Messrs. L. Johnson & Co., type-founders, No. 6 Sansom street, near the State House, Philadelphia, for a copy of their new specimen-book. It is a large and handsome volume, containing innumerable specimens of types, cuts, rules, and all the varied articles needed by the printer, many of which originated at this excellent establishment. We have used materials from this foundry, and find them equal to any.

FISHING.—Speculators in mackerel, hang back, and buy sparingly, in anticipation of there being a great catch the present season. Small 3's are quoted at $3, and large 3's at $6,50 per bbl. At these prices, they are usually stored. We had accounts from the Southern fleet, yesterday, which state that the catch will be comparatively small. The bay fishermen will probably do an average business. Our Labrador fleet comprises twelve vessels, all of which have sailed.—Last year we had sixteen vessels in this pursuit.—Newburyport Herald.

STRANGE ARTICLE OF EXPORT.—The ship Sunny South cleared on Monday for China, with a freight of seventy dead Chinamen. The Herald says that a company of Chinese are at work in San Francisco, who make profitable wages in disinterring the dead bodies of those Celestials who have died here, and sending them to their friends in China.—Placer Times, San Francisco.

LOCAL.

THE SAILORS.—We have great pleasure in recording the fact, that the crew of the Constitution, who have been paid off and discharged within a few days, and most of whom have now left the city, have, as a general thing, conducted themselves with great propriety. The exceptions to this remark are neither numerous nor flagrant, so far as we are informed; though they were surrounded by temptors and temptations.

Their conduct, as exhibited in the streets, would compare favorably with any other crew of a large public ship, which has been paid off here for many years; and they have made less noise in a week, than we have known the crew of a privateer to make in a single day and evening.

We cannot say much in favor of the harpies who came hither to fleece the sailors; and who doubtless have carried off some of them to their spiders' parlors to fleece them at leisure; but even they, under the watch of a double police, and indeed of the people generally, have for the most part kept within bounds.

In the meantime, the sailors have liberally patronized clothing stores, stables, &c., the benefit of which is distinctly seen and felt among the various trades.

ST. JOHN'S DAY.—The Committee appointed by the Masonic Fraternity are busily engaged in completing their arrangements for the celebration of this Masonic era, on the 23d inst. Appearances now indicate that the number of strangers who will visit our city on that occasion will be larger than ever before congregated here for a similar purpose.

There have been great changes of opinion in the public mind about Free Masonry. It was flourishing and increasing up to about 20 years ago, and then was cried down and greatly depressed for 10 years; since when, and now, it has been and is rising in numbers, strength and influence.

Masons from the interior of New Hampshire will probably visit us in large numbers, as the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad will bring them down and return them for one fare.

The Portland Brass Band, which has been engaged, is one of the best in New England. They will gratify the lovers of music in this city, by giving a grand concert at the Temple on Friday evening next.

THE BLACK SWAN.

We have not yet heard this musical prodigy.—but our citizens are to have that privilege next Wednesday evening. The New York Herald gives the following description of her powers:

The most remarkable effect produced on those who listen to her for the first time, is of unqualified and almost bewildered astonishment. We have yet to see the first man or woman who did not leave her concert room in a state bordering upon amazement. They go expecting to hear something "pretty good," because they do not exactly doubt all they have heard in her favor; but they retire with the consciousness that they have been listening to one who ranks professionally with the Malibrans, the Sontags, and the Jenny Linds of the age. Lost in delight, from the effects of her delicious vocalization, they forget at first to criticize, and when they attempt to exercise that propensity, they are then astonished to find that she is less obnoxious even to criticism, than any of those whom they heretofore elevated to the position of goddesses in the temple of music. Consequently, wherever she is heard for several consecutive nights, her success is almost beyond a parallel.

Of her voice itself, we may remark that it is the most wonderful on record. It embraces with perfect ease thirty-one distinct notes, being within one of four full octaves. Over these she has the most perfect command, and oscillates with infinite grace, and with no apparent effort, from the deep sonorous bass of Rossi or Bonoventano, to the exquisitely defined bird warblings of Jenny Lind. And when it is known that this is the natural compass of her voice, and that her tones never degenerate into falsetto, it will be seen at once that she possesses an organ unrivalled in its capacities.

☞ The splendid steamer "Silver Light," will commence her regular trips between Portsmouth and the Shoals, next Monday, June 25th. For the accommodation of strangers who may be in the city to attend the Masonic Celebration, it is contemplated to run the steamer to the Shoals, on a pleasure excursion, on Saturday, the 23d.

The Congregational Church in Seabrook, N. H., was forcibly entered during last week, and a number of windows and blinds stove. The rascals obtained access to the belfry, unhung the tongue of the bell, and carried that away. This is the third time, within as many months, this church has been robbed.—It will be recollected a short time since, that we noticed the robbery from this church, of the pulpit sofa, chairs, carpets, &c. The next depredation that we shall have to chronicle, will probably be the loss of the bell itself.—It is supposed by some in that locality, that the ladies might have had a hand in this outrage.—Newburyport Herald.

SUDDEN DEATH.—On Monday, Mr. Joseph Smith, of Fisherville, died almost instantly in the depot at New Hampton. He had purchased a ticket, had just put up his wallet, was seen to falter, was placed in a chair, and immediately expired. He was accompanied by his wife.—Concord (N. H.) Statesman.

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchitis, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

THE AMERICAN SYSTEM OF KIDNAPPING SEAMEN.—At an inquest held at Liverpool, before Mr. Curry, the Coroner, a most shocking system of kidnapping and cruelty, which is practised at some of the American ports, was disclosed. The inquest was on the body of Daniel Smith, an American citizen, belonging to Georgetown, South Carolina, who died at the Northern Hospital recently, and the evidence was contained in a deposition made by Smith before Mr. Nathaniel Hawthorne, the United States Consul at this port. The deposition stated that he went on board the ship George A. Hopwood, at the port named, on the 31st of January, to assist a person in bringing his chest ashore, and was detained on board the vessel, and brought to Liverpool against his will.

During the voyage he was repeatedly kicked and beaten with a belaying pin, and other things, by the mates and the captain, who charged him with having received $20 advance, and shipped himself as an able seaman, when in fact he never had had the least intention of going to sea, nor had he received, as he expressed it, even "a red cent." The poor fellow afterwards worked as well as he was able, until the vessel arrived here, when he was taken by a police officer to the Northern Hospital, where he remained under the treatment of the house surgeon. When taken to the hospital, it was ascertained that he had one of his ribs broken, several contusions on his body, a wound on the thigh, and that abscesses had formed under the eyes, all of which the surgeon had no doubt were the result of violence.

Under skilful treatment, however, he gradually improved, and left the hospital on the 27th of March; but he returned at the beginning of the present month, suffering from congestion of the lungs, of which he died on Friday evening. As disease of the lungs was thus proved to be the immediate cause of his death, the jury returned a verdict—"That the deceased had died from natural causes." In the course of the inquest, it was stated that this system of kidnapping men to man ships, is, unfortunately, too commonly practised by crimping shipping masters on the other side of the Atlantic.—Liverpool Mail.

HORRIBLE AFFAIR—EFFECTS OF RUM.—Our friend and correspondent, Mr. A. B. Wilkinson, of Cynthiana, writes that on the 15th inst. Dr. M. P. Morgan, residing near the edge of Armstrong township, in this (Vandenburgh) County, came home about noon under the influence of liquor, and went up stairs to bed. His wife and children then went to a neighbor's. In about half an hour some boys in a neighboring field discovered Dr. Morgan's house on fire, but before assistance could be rendered the house and contents were destroyed, Dr. Morgan being burned to death as he lay in his bed. On the following day his bones were gathered from the ruins. Our correspondent says:

"It was the most awful sight my eyes ever beheld to see his charred bones and liver and entrails and heart burnt to crisp like cinder.—The deceased was about sixty years of age and leaves a wife and three children. When sober he was a good physician, a kind friend and an estimable citizen. His widow is a daughter of A. W. Douglass of Gibson County, who will take care of her.—Evansville (Ind.) Jour. 31st.

HARTFORD, June 14.—A man named Willis North, a gun-smith at Sharp's Rifle Factory in this city, was instantly killed this evening. In cutting off a piece of iron at the anvil, a small piece flew and penetrated his heart. He belonged in Middletown in this State, and leaves a wife and two children.

On the top, which is flat, Irons are heated admirably, if required, and kept clean. THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 30th.

To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation.—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. PHRENOLOGY IN THE PULPIT.

The Phrenological Journal for June, just published by Fowlers & Wells, of New York, contains some testimony from Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, in favor of the science of Phrenology, from which we make an extract.

If a man wishes to know practically what he is made up of, if a man wishes a knowledge of human nature for definite practical purposes, there is no system which will aid him in acquiring that knowledge like the system of Phrenology; not interpreted too narrowly or technically, but in its relations to physiology and the structure of the whole body. And I may say here what I have never said before in the pulpit, that the views of the human mind, as they are revealed by Phrenology, are those views which have underlayed my whole ministry; and if I have had any success in bringing the truths of the gospel to bear practically upon the minds of men, any success in the vigorous application of truths to the wants of the human soul, where they are most needed, I owe it to the clearness which I have gained from this science. And I could not ask for the members of my family, nor of a church, any better preparation for religious indoctrination, than to put them in possession of such a practical knowledge of the human soul as is given by Phrenology.

I have avoided the use of the nomenclature of Phrenology in the pulpit as far as possible, because I did not wish to seem to be a mere teacher of a philosophical system, while I was a minister of the truth as it is in Christ; but I have now been so long with you, that I am justified in making this statement.

I may say, in regard to the objections sometimes urged against Phrenology, its tendency to materialism and fatalism, that the same objections may be made to any other system of mental philosophy. I do not think that such objections belong to Phrenology any more than to any system of intellectual science which you can possibly construct. Men's mere logical and speculative reason will always strand them upon the sands of fatalism or materialism; and it is the practical sense, the consciousness of actual liberty, that redeems us from a belief of the one or the other. Such doctrines dwell in the head, but never in the hands.

A HEN NURSING CATS.—We saw at the house of F. F. Parker, Esq., yesterday, a large Shanghai hen, that has been setting several weeks upon her eggs, has three small kittens also under her protecting wing, of which she thinks quite as much as she does of her chickens, a part of which have broken their way out to day-light, and commenced their journey upon the "peeping" stage of life.—The old cat, who is a general favorite among the hens, made her accouchments with the Shanghai, and for days they have dwelt together in harmony, except when pussy came late at night—then her majesty, Shanghai, manifests a little jealousy, that the kitten portion of her charge is to be called for, and taken by the unknown. Can any professor in Zoology, or Catology, give a Shanghai ological or Catigorical explanation of the matter. —Detroit Daily Adv.

A FREAK OF GENEROSITY.—One of the most penurious of bachelors this afternoon after attending the opera, was guilty of making a gift under circumstances somewhat original. He entered a millinery store and accosting a very pretty attendant, inquired the price of a hat he saw in the window.—She took it out, and in order to show its beauties, placed it on her own head, with just pitch enough to make it taking. The old bachelor admired it, and pulling a ten dollar bill from his pocket book, concluded to buy it. The attendant took the money, and with pencil in hand, inquired where she should [illegible] "Wear it yourself, my dear," was [illegible] reply as he left the store.—Gazette, [illegible]

THE BIBLE.—Dr. Cahill, of Ireland, a noted Roman orator, fears that the United States and British Colonies cannot prosper, because they read the Bible too much. In one of his letters he says:

"I would prefer that a Catholic should read the worst book of immorality rather than the Protestant Bible."

This is the sentiment of the whole popish priesthood, and yet there are men who tell us that it would be no evil to have this church prevail in our land. All we are, we owe to the Bible, and yet Rome would dash this light to the earth.—Christian Era.

The Athens, Georgia, Banner contains a long letter from Gov. Cobb, in reply to the proposition of the Columbus meeting, to cut off all connection with the parties of the north, and to unite as one people for the protection of southern institutions. Gov. Cobb takes ground against the movement: he is unwilling to sever his connection with the northern democracy.

THE CROPS.—The Augusta Banner says: "Maine never had so much seed in the earth before at one time, and the prospect is most promising for bountiful crops."

SPIRITUAL!—At a Sunday school celebration in Milwaukie, recently, 53 barrels of lager beer were consumed.

FALLING OFF.—Statistics show that there is a decrease of over one half in the number of emigrants landed at New York this year.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, JUNE 19, 1855.

THE LAW OF FORCE.

The Chronicle, of this city, a paper which repudiates all constitutions and laws that do not square with its own ideas of right and wrong, and tacitly, if not openly, justifies their violation, now sustains Dow's action on the ground that the amount and kind of force to be employed by an officer in suppressing a riot, must be left to his own discretion. This is about as fair an apology for the murder at Portland as we have seen; yet it would justify an indiscriminate slaughter, when in the discretion of an intemperate and excited officer, such a sacrifice became necessary. It would put the lives of the people in complete possession of the authorities, to be disposed of at the slightest disturbance of the peace.—N. H. Gazette.

That is exactly where our lives are; we, the people, have, by our votes, clothed our magistrates with just such power as the Gazette describes in this last sentence. If they abuse this power, we have our remedy in civil and criminal suits at law, in the newspapers, and at the ballot box. If we choose to take the risk, and go into the mob, all the kicks and cuffs we get are on our own account.

The Gazette is rather fast about our sustaining Neal Dow's action. We call upon its editor and any body else who chooses, to find one word which we have published editorially, about him, since the riot, which any impartial judge might not say, if Neal Dow were on trial before him for murder!

We have condemned the mob—not because it was a mob, for some of the best assemblies on earth have borne this name—but because it was in the wrong, being misled and deluded by the men who raised it, and who were mostly out of harm's way. We have contradicted some current falsehoods, and corrected a few of the wide spread errors, which helped to make this riot, and which helped to apologize for it after it was made.

We have read, carefully and critically, every report of the matter in all the Portland dailies, within a few hours after their publication.—Had the editor of the Gazette done this, he could not so flippantly have decided the case, as he does in the following strong sentence.

"We believe that a parallel to this outrage and cold blooded atrocity cannot be found upon the records of civilized society, in the history of the last century."

This does not read much like the calm review of the matter in the Portland Transcript, written on the spot, last week, which describes the mob as formidable, violent and dangerous, and deems it a good deliverance to have it put down. But it does read like F. O. J. Smith's speech and some others at the great indignation meeting.

Now let us say, that we deem poor Robbins, the man who was shot and died, not only a victim, but a martyr. He was a victim to the malice and craft of a knot of men in Portland, who seized upon what they took to be a technical error, as a mere pretext, by which to raise a mob, and break down at once a law which they dreaded and a man whom they hated. But this victim himself, as most of such men are, was also a martyr to a principle, as really as was the revered and idolized Warren, who fell on Bunker Hill. Warren believed the tyranny of Britain to be insufferable,—this belief made him a rebel, and this rebellion made him a martyr, as he fell before the king's troops.

Robbins believed what certain papers had told him, and what he had learnt in the grog shops, that the glorious liberty to sell rum and to get drunk, was invaded by the new law, and that every sacred right was violated in its execution, by a man whom the N. H. Gazette styles

"Neal Dow, the would-be czar of Portland."

The same shops had taught him that Dow was not a real Czar, but only a would-be,—that there was not police enough in Portland to resist the mob that would rise,—and that when the police fired, they only fired blank cartridges. Thus emboldened, he ventured, fought and fell;—and then the mob, satisfied that the Czar was no sham, but a reality, and that the cartridges were not blank, disappeared, and did not come again that night.

The instigators of the riot now turn round, and to cover their own retreat, charge the mayor, the chief of police, with murder,—and the charge is re-echoed over the country and across the Atlantic as if it were proved and even admitted.

But it remains to be proved!

The "Citizen's meeting" really put him on trial before the people, with enormous charges, so great, that if a quarter of them were true, he should have been arrested and indicted long before this time, to come before a Court and Jury!

And when Mr. Clifford's committee called their new Coroner's Jury, we supposed they had really found something on which they could ground an action. But we see no signs of it now;—it rather looks as if the committee were preparing to back down, making all the political and rum capital they can out of the occurrences, but making no prosecution whatever, in the courts of law.

They have not even called on the mayor to resign, so far as we see by the papers.

They are taking a vast deal of testimony before the new inquest; but much of it is contradictory, confused and irrelevant—and any decent judge would sift away nine tenths of it before they would begin to call it evidence.

One of the Portland papers, against Dow, told us, a day or two since, that any person who chose, could go in and give his testimony before the jury. We presume this is right.—Accordingly several of the mob, pretty swift witnesses, too, have been in, and their testimony is published,—and some of it is copied abroad. We have copied some rich items from it.

Unless some other evidence comes up, to overturn what has been published, the mayor, or Czar, made a legal rally of the armed police, and a legal warning to the crowd to disperse. The only remaining question is moral and prudential: viz., shall the Mayor be a preacher or a Czar? He must be either a non-resistant or a resistant. A Maine jury must settle this question, when it comes before them. If Mr. Clifford don't bring it there, it will be simply because he thinks his side of the question will break down.

We shall shortly have two extra-judicial reports, grounded on the same events. One from the new coroner's inquest, which will bear the moral impress of Messrs. Clifford, Poor, and F. O. J. Smith,—and the other bearing the impress of Wm. Willis, Rev. Mr. Dwight, and other men of like character.

When we get them, the public will choose between the two.

NATIONAL CONVENTION OF KNOW-SOMETHINGS.—A dispatch from Cleveland states that the Know-Somethings, or Anti-Slavery branch of the American party, met in convention in that city last week. Every Free State is fully represented, also Kentucky.—Charles W. Slack and ex-Governor Boutwell,* with thirty delegates, represent Massachusetts. Charles W. Slack was chosen temporary chairman. The Convention was permanently organized by electing three Vice Presidents and three Secretaries. A committee of nine was appointed to draft resolutions, and will report to-day. It is said the Platform they intend recommending will embrace: 1st, distinct and determined hostility to the encroachments of Slavery; 2d, a demand for the restoration of the Missouri Compromise; 3d, internal improvement under the authority of the General Government; 4th, protection to American Industry. The question of Temperance will be left to the action of the individual States.

* Boutwell was not there.

SCOTTS' NEW NOVEL.

From Fetridge & Co., publishers, New York and Boston, via J. Shores, jr. of this city, we have received a copy of the new novel, ascribed to Sir Walter Scott as a posthumous work. The title is Moredun, a Tale of 1260. The following account of the concealment and discovery of the MS. and of its claims to be genuine, is condensed from the preface.

The genuineness of this work has been doubted, but the most eminent critics of France and principal literary gentlemen of England, who have examined the documents, have expressed themselves unanimously and decidedly that it is by Sir Walter Scott.—M. Philarete Chaselles, who was a personal friend of Sir Walter Scott, and is one of the most distinguished writers of France, says, after having examined "Moredun," that it is so rich in humor, rapid and brilliant in its descriptions of scenery, and so attractive, that no mind but Sir Walter Scott's ever conceived it.

The history of this work is rather curious. It seems a German merchant living in Paris had a mania of possessing manuscripts of distinguished modern writers, applied to Sir Walter for a manuscript, and finding it more difficult than he expected, and being refused, his mortification was such that he fell ill. A second application received the same fate, which caused the German to become much worse. Finally, through the influence of Ann Scott, Sir Walter's daughter, he (Scott) consented to give the maniac a manuscript—it was "Moredun." He probably thought no more of the matter. Time wore on, and the German died. The manuscript fell into the hands of M. Cabany, who has made its existence and history known to the public.

WARLIKE PREPARATIONS AT MARSEILLES.—A letter from Marseilles says: "The activity displayed in this port remains unabated. The great park of artillery, which has been of late lying on the quay, is being placed on board the Great Republic and the Queen of Clippers, by means of a beautiful apparatus moved by steam, which raises every piece, whatever may be its weight, to the dock of vessel, and lowers it into the hold with an exactitude truly marvelous. Crowds of persons assemble each day to witness this curious operation."

A gentleman who professed to be thoroughly informed on the subject, says a Cincinnati paper, states that more than two thirds of all the Catawba wine sold in that city, is made of water, sulphuric acid, and honey, with a dash of Catawba wine to give it the flavor.—The fact will be interesting to those who repudiate adulterated liquors, but to go for drink in that excellent article, pure Catawba.

A witness in a liquor case in the Boston Police Court, on Tuesday, testified that he went to the store, said to be kept by defendant, and called for some gin; that he got something and tasted it, but he could not swear by the taste that it was gin, as there was very little good going now-a-days.

LOCAL.

SPECIE STOLEN AND RECOVERED.—Much interest and anxiety was occasioned here on Monday, by the report that Jackson & Co.'s Express had been robbed of $5000, in gold, in Salem, on its way to Boston. The money was in a bag, one of six bags, which were left from the payment of the Constitution's crew, and was taken from a trunk. By the return of the express in the evening, we learn that the money was found in Boston, at the office of T. Smith Robinson, who was engaged in counting it. He was forthwith arrested for the theft, and the money all recovered.

The money was missed in Salem; and the cars were searched without effect, on their way to Boston. Mr. Akerman then returned to Salem to search there; and there it was suggested to him that Robinson was seen in Salem to leave the baggage car. Mr. Akerman returned to Boston forthwith, and went, officer Ham following him, straight to Robinson's office, where he saw him above stairs with his head in the desk, counting the gold. R. closed the desk and tried to escape, but A. seized him, and with the officer's aid, secured him.

Mr. Robinson has for years occupied posts of trust on the Eastern Railroad. This fatal error will be a severe blow to his family and friends in this city.

POLICE COURT.

Before Justice Parker—The case of Tirrell, Watson and Livingston, came up by adjournment from Friday.

J. E. Nolan, the complainant, testified that he did not know that he ever saw Tirrell before the arrest.

The justice stated that the offence charged in the complaint, is not punished as a crime, but that a penalty is recoverable by action of debt. He therefore discharged the prisoners.

Benjamin Watson was then arraigned for assaulting John Manahan with a knife, with intent to kill, on the 15th. Manahan, the complainant and only witness, not appearing, the court discharged Watson.

Edward Tobey complained against Daniel H. Willey, for assault on Jeremiah Leary, with a piece of iron sometimes called a billy, on the 17th of June.

Willey is a police officer, and arrested one Donovan, who was in the same room with Leary, both D. and L. being half drunk. L. resisted the officer, who then knocked him down with the billy.

Hatch, County Solicitor, for the prosecution—Claggett, City Solicitor, for the defence.

The Justice bound Willey over in the sum of $200, to the next term of C. C. P.

MILITARY AND MUSICAL.—The Union Guards, Capt. Russell, of Boston, arrived in this city on Monday afternoon, and were received and escorted about the city by Capt. G. W. Towle, of the City Greys. The Guards mustered upwards of forty muskets, and appeared well. Their uniform is dark, and very neat.

They were accompanied by Bond's Cornet Band, who played in their usual excellent style. The band gave a concert at the Temple on Monday evening, but owing to the very short notice given, were not greeted by so large a house as their performances merited.

At the close of the concert the Band honored Capt. Geo. W. Towle with a serenade; in acknowledgment of which, they were invited into his house, and bountifully entertained by the Captain. No one of our citizens understands better than he, how to conduct military matters.

ONE OF THE EXCEPTIONS.—An old salt has just told us of a man from the Constitution, who received about $300 in solid cash, on one day; on the next he bought various new things, including a beautiful new jacket for which he paid $8;—and on the next morning, finding his pocket empty, and being very dry but not very sober, he sold or gave his new jacket to a Portsmouth shark, (not an imported one) for a single glass of grog.

NAVAL.—The U. S. School Ship Preble (sloop of war) attached to the Naval School at Annapolis, sailed from that port on the 15th inst, for this port, and may soon be expected. The Preble is manned mostly by midshipmen, who thus learn seamanship, and will cruise on the northern coast through the season.

APPOINTMENT.—We are informed that John H. Mugridge, of this city, has been commissioned as Master Caulker on the Navy Yark at Portsmouth, in place of John Mugridge, resigned. The new appointee is son of the recent incumbent.

☞ The Black Swan is to sing at the Temple in this city on Wednesday evening.—Only one concert, probably, unless by some special desire. See advertisement.

A communication in the State of Maine, from a gentleman in Montreal, says:

"The Black Swan gives her sixth concert to-night. She had met with better successes than any cantatrice that ever visited this city. You may expect a rare musical treat."

CITY COUNCIL.

MONDAY, June 18.

COMMON COUNCIL.—Special Meeting.—The plans proposed for the new High School were approved—the estimated cost is $16,000.

The plans were concurred in by the Board of Aldermen.

A joint resolution for the issuing of City Scrip to meet the expense of building, was read a first time and referred.

A preamble and resolution sustaining officer Willey in the execution of the duties of his office was offered and laid on the table, being objected to, as too sweeping and comprehensive.

ALBERT J. TIRRELL.—The recent visit of this notorious individual to our city, has not resulted so successfully as he probably expected. He was generally known and closely watched by our citizens and police—up to the time he was arrested by Sheriff Towle and others, on Friday last, on a charge of gambling and winning money from a sailor. And from that time till he took the 1 o'clock train for Boston on Monday, he was escorted in all his movements to and from the Court House, by a large crowd of men and boys, with a few sailors. When Justice Parker discharged Tirrell at noon on Monday, for want of evidence against him, he at once proceeded to the City Hotel, and entering a carriage in the yard, was driven to the depot, "largely attended." It required considerable exertion on the part of Marshal Hanscom and some of his assistants, to keep the crowd from doing him serious injury. Tirrell took refuge in the ticket office, then in the ladies' room, and finally escaped to the forward car, when the train had arrived. Thus he made his exodus, having been considerably beaten in the melee, it is said. "The way of the transgressor is hard," and this small city of Portsmouth is rather too small for the residence of distinguished rascals.

SIGNOR JEREMY DIDLER, THE FOREIGN DANCING MASTER.—About a couple of years ago, two strangers passed a few months in Portsmouth, in teaching the calisthenic art—and finally "stepped out" with the advance tuition fees of a large summer class in their pockets, before the term had half expired. Since that time we have had a good dancing teacher resident among us, and one or two attempts to introduce some boasted stranger, have been looked upon with distrust by the "sore" ones. A month or two since, however, the friends and patrons of one "Signor Didler," succeeded in getting up large afternoon and evening classes, which he was to come from Boston twice a week to instruct. He demanded half the pay from the afternoon class, and the whole of the evening scholars' tuition, in advance—and actually expelled from the former, the children of those parents who had been bitten on the occasion before mentioned, and now refused to pay the first cent "down."

Since receiving his money, Signor has not been at all punctual in his attendance on his classes here, and for the past week has not been heard from at all; and similar complaints have been made respecting him in Newburyport and Portland. Many of the parents think they have been "sold," and those who were active in introducing the foreign teacher, feel especially chagrined.

Mr. Lamprey has a good class at Rechab Hall, as usual; though he does not practice the step (out) above named, being known to be worthy of patronage—as we told our readers before either school was opened. We make these remarks at the suggestion of an aggrieved individual, who requested us to "blow up" the erratic dancer—though we are not very sorry that those who would pass by a worthy citizen and excellent teacher, to patronise an unknown man, have been "bit" a little.

SUMMER RESORTS.—It will be seen that the popular Highland Cottage at Stratham, is now open for the reception of visitors, under the charge of Mr. J. H. Diman, as usual. The first strawberries of the season in this region, will be served up at the Cottage today. The Portsmouth & Concord Railroad runs near, and the ride by carriage is delightful.

The Sagamore House, under the direction of Capt. Thomas R. Clark, with Mr. John Mack, formerly of the Rockingham in this city, as assistant, is also ready for receiving boarders or transient visitors. A coach runs twice a day each way, between this city and the Sagamore, three and a half miles, at the low rate of 25 cents per passenger.

The Appledore House has also opened its doors, and the old and well-known landlord invites all to enjoy the sea-breeze on the Shoals. The steamer Silver Light, and good sail-boats, will run to accommodate visitors in this direction.

And also the spacious Ocean House, still under the charge of the original proprietor, Mr. Job Jennes, advertises to accommodate all old friends and new. Travellers by railroad should stop at Greenland Depot of the Eastern Road, where they will find a coach belonging to the Ocean.

LOST—On Sunday afternoon, at the Temple, a feather FAN. The finder shall be suitably rewarded, on leaving it at this office.

LOST—A small gold CROSS, set with Garnets. The finder will be suitably rewarded on leaving it at No. 2 Livermore street. jel6*

AT THE TEMPLE.

THE BLACK SWAN,

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchitis, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

Price 25 cts. per Box—5 Boxes for $1.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Lowell, Ms., and sold by every respectable Druggist in New England.

Agents in Portsmouth, W. R. PRESTON, J. H. THACHER, and D. KIMBALL, and sold by the Druggists throughout the United States. 2m jl d&w

SAGAMORE HOUSE,
FROST'S POINT, 3½ miles from Postsm. Depots.
THE Proprietor of the above House respectfully announces to the pleasure-seeking public that he will open for the season on WEDNESDAY, June 20th.
To those familiar with the locality of the Sagamore House, not a word is necessary in regard to its beautiful and healthful situation.—To strangers seeking rest and recreation by the seaside it affords attractions unequalled. Situated on a point of land on the Atlantic shore, near the Harbor of Portsmouth, the windows on three sides overlook the salt water. From the beach, the broad Atlantic, the Isles of Shoals, the beautiful Piscataqua, and the City of Portsmouth form a charming prospect, and in the background the green fields and leafy woods present a relieving contrast.
The House will be kept in the best manner, and every endeavor will be used to give satisfaction to its guests. The more effectually to do this, the proprietor has secured the services of Mr. JOHN MACK, formerly of the Rockingham House, Portsmouth, whose experience and skill in hotel keeping will be a sufficient guarantee to all who know him that the management will be all that could be desired. The Table will be supplied with all the seasonable luxuries of the sea and land, and every effort used to render a sojourn at the Sagamore agreeable.
A Coach, in charge of an experienced driver, will run between the Sagamore House and the City of Portsmouth, two or three times a day, during the season, connecting with the several railroad trains. Fare 25 cents. All orders left at WM. R. PRESTON'S, in Portsmouth, will receive prompt attention.

IMPORTANT IMPROVEMENT
—OF—
Rotary Planing, Tonguing and Grooving Machines.

PATENTED NOVEMBER 21st, 1854.

THIS Improvement has been thoroughly tested and found to possess just what is necessary to perfect the rotary planing machine.

My machine will plane very much faster and better than any other now in use. I would particularly call the attention of those in want of machines for nice work, or for planing very thin, cross-grained or knotty material, to these machines, as it is impossible for them to tear or throw out loose knots.

My Clapboard Machine will plane and joint as fast as the clapboards can be put into the machine, and perform the work without sorting them so as to plane with the grain, upon any quality of clapboards, in a very superior manner, without tearing the thin edge.

Applications for rights and machines, or for further particulars, can be made to the Patentee,
JAMES A. WOODBURY.

Morning Chronicle.

HARMLESS, YET ABOMINABLE.

Nothing is more pleasant in the line of disputation, than to meet one who differs from us in something, who will state his premises fairly, and present his argument in good language, with good temper. Such an one we have now before us, in the editor of the Lowell Christian Era. So let us have a friendly dialogue.

Era.—"We have seen in a few years past, many indications of increasing worldliness in many of our churches. Instead of revivals, they are having fairs, festivals, and all sorts of gatherings, which, though innocent in themselves, are abominable when carried on by Christian churches. Not long ago, one of the churches—one of the Orthodox churches—advertised a frolic," which was made up of dances and tableaux.

Chron.—"There is an apparent, we think a real inconsistency, in speaking of a practice as harmless in itself, and at the same time abominable in a Christian church."

Era.—"It does not appear so to us. A thing may not be positively injurious or sinful in itself, but may become so by attending circumstances."

Chron.—Quite possible—but we do not see any such circumstances in the Era's statement of the case.

Era.—The sale of doves was in itself laudable and proper, yet when the doves were taken into the temple, and the house of God was converted into a mart of commerce, the sale became an abomination, and Christ drove the traffickers out with a whip of small cords.

Chron.—The illustration is a good one for the position the Era now takes, but does not exactly cover the case as before stated. We do not learn that the dancing and tableaux came into the church building, that they were performed on Sunday, or that they were considered in any sense a part of the church worship or instruction. They were merely part of a frolic, got up and attended (in some dancing hall, we suppose) by the church people,—and the profits of the frolic went to the church. No holy building was desecrated. It was the place to dance, if not the time.

Era.—The church is a religious organization, instituted by Christ for one purpose, and that a holy purpose. When the church is wrested from its real design, and made the patron saint of festivity and frolicking, it is no longer what Christ intended it should be, but it is a monstrous departure from the real purpose of its founder.

Chron.—If the festivity and frolic are intemperate and wicked, truly it would be so; but not so, when they are as the Era says, innocent in themselves.

Era.—Of course the thing in itself is the same, when done by the church or a troup of stage actors, but the actors make no profession of holiness—the church does, and the church is more guilty than the actors, to just the extent of its light and information.

Chron.—We do not object to this at all. The actors are guilty of doing things innocent in themselves, because they don't know any better, and don't profess to be too holy to do innocent things. And the church is more guilty of doing innocent things, because it does know better than to do them, and because it professes to be too holy to do things which are yet innocent in themselves.

We do not exactly believe in two laws and two gospels, one for saints and the other for sinners,—neither do we believe in works of supererogation. We have no doubt that many lawful things may be quite inexpedient, for certain times, places and persons. But the dialogue has not yet shown us how innocent actions can be abominable.

BAPTISTS IN LOWELL.—We doubt whether any city in the Union, can tell a better story for Baptist increase than Lowell. Thirty years ago there was not a Baptist on the ground: we have now, three large churches, numbering some 2,000 members. Our population is about 40,000. Boston, with a population of 140,000, has 13 churches, with a membership of about 4,000 souls. Salem, with a population of 20,000, has 2 churches, with a membership of 692 persons. Worcester, has 3 churches, with 568 members; the population is about 20,000. Cincinnati has 180,000 inhabitants and 6 churches including Welch and colored. Buffalo has only 2 churches in a population of 62,000 souls.—We need in this city at the present time, a new church in one of the destitute portions of the city.—Lowell Ch. Era.

CURIOUS LAW SUIT.—In the year of our Lord 1455, in the seige of Bouvignes, the Duke de Brabant made prisoner a nobleman named Legrain; but instead of taking his life, as he was entitled to, the duke consented to spare it on condition of receiving all his estates and property. Legrain made over all he possessed, but stipulated that at the end of four centuries it should return to his family.—The duke made no objection. The four centuries expire in July next, and already a great many persons representing themselves to be descendants of Legrain are preparing to claim the property. It is foreseen that the claims will give rise to numerous law suits in Belgium.—London Ledger.

CURIOUS—that a descendant of Oliver Cromwell, is now a clergyman of the church of England, in Canada; while the last lineal descendent of Martin Luther was, a few years since, received back into the Romish Church.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 20, 1855.

THE GOOD OLD TIMES.

"O, dear! O, dear! I grieve, I grieve,
For the good old days of Adam and Eve."

Some people who would not sing this old song, yet say, or groan, something like these two lines. The editor of the Newburyport Herald is not one of this class. On the contrary, he says, much more truly:—

One of the reasons given for urging the enactment of Prohibitory liquor laws, is that intoxication is on the increase. Probably there is nothing farther from the truth. There are more people every year to drink, and more cases of drunkenness come before the courts, since formerly no notice was taken of such affairs. It is within the memory of young men, when drinking was as common with clergymen as any other class, and more common than now with the loafers even, and though habitual drunkenness was considered a weakness, and sometimes was dealt with in the church, yet no one esteemed it a crime, and the sellers of intoxicating liquors were selected for their good morals—more frequently being the deacons and elders, than anybody else. Within twenty five years we have seen a clergyman very joyful at a wedding; and we remember about that time, a lady being insulted by a clergyman's refusal to drink, when she offered him wine, which, she said, had never been refused before in her house for thirty years. They never had a meeting house raising, a hundred years ago, but half the parish was drunk; and that was one cause of so many accidents at raisings. Then, when the dedication came, they were drunk again; and the same happened when the 'parson' was installed. It was as common to have liquor stands then, on such occasions, as it is on muster fields now; and when at a dedication in the south part of this city, but a few years ago, one, surnamed Nathan, kicked over Archibald's cart—in the last days of furnishing liquid refreshments—and turned the colored beverage on the earth, it was thought to be an outrage, though it was only anticipating the action of the Maine law. It was not a hundred miles from here, where a committee being once sent to deal with a Christian brother who too often indulged in his cups, were invited by the transgressor to take some of the 'good creature' before they entered upon business, and all of them left the house late in the evening, not knowing whether the admonition had been given or not.

So it was in the good old days of the fathers—the better and more abstemious days, as some would have us believe—when every body drank a little. Compare those times with these, and see if we have grown worse, and if the temperance reform has moved so slowly that there is need to abandon all old measures and resort to law alone. But fifty years ago, with the wealthy, the cellars were lined with flowing liquor casks, and the poorest would have been ashamed not to have had his rum or whiskey when a neighbor called; now they seize the liquors in your cellars, and if there is bare suspicion of there being any in the house, when 'company' calls, we go into apologies. Among the pious Puritans that came to this country for a pure worship, twelve barrels of beer was the annual allowance to the minister; now the selling of one glass sends the seller to the House of Correction. Rev. Mr. Porter preached in Ipswich, in 1745, and eight barrels of cider was a part of his salary; now his successor can't get a pint to put into mince pies. We refer to the clergy because they were probably the most temperate, but it was the same all through society. The selectmen of Newburyport used to have their tavern bill, as the records of the old Wolfe House, signed by that worthy publican, Davenport, abundantly testify; and training days in New England were like the carnival in Rome—nobody expected to go home sober. This whining about the good old times that are past, saying that to-day is worse than yesterday, declaring that the children are more depraved than their fathers, and so high has the tide of evil risen that we must stay it by stronger hands, or we shall all be swept to destruction—is total humbug, as it was in Solomon's day, when he told the grumblers—"thou dost not inquire wisely concerning them."

To this, we add but a word, viz., that the religious, moral, and legal efforts of the last 25 or 30 years, have made so much of a change for the better. It has not been brought about by the let-alone policy.

PURE LIQUORS.—The Eastern Argus has received a letter throwing discredit on the genuineness of the liquors in the Portland Agency. The Argus says:

Under these circumstances, it will be wise for our people at least to inquire what sort of liquors Mr. Dow has provided for their medicine. It will be unfortunate indeed if it shall turn out that the liquors are but a poisonous decoction, unfit for any useful purpose, after having cost the city so much in blood and reputation.

Very unfortunate indeed. We advise all sick men in Portland to use the water cure, and not the rum-cure. We hope Mayor Dow's medicine will last a thousand years.

A BURNING.—The Portland Argus informs us that Mayor Dow has examined into the rumor about an Irishman killed by a brick and buried privately—but finds it without foundation.

NEW FEATURE.—The New York Independent has a new and valuable department, viz. news, by correspondence, of the Season and the Harvests, from all parts of the country.

Amos Lawrence during his life, gave $700,000 for benevolent and charitable purposes.—The inscription on his pocket book was—"He is not rich who lays up much, but he who lays out much."

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY, 18th.

HOUSE.—Bills Introduced.—To incorporate the Mechanic Five Cent Savings Bank at Manchester.

To amend the act establishing the City of Concord.

Relating to bowling alleys and billiard saloons.

To amend the act incorporating the Equitable Mutual Fire Insurance Company, approved July 9th, 1846. All read a first and second time and referred.

Notices of Bills.—By Mr. Flint of Lyme, a bill for the suppression of intemperance.

By Mr. Emery of Portsmouth, a bill in amendment of the Pilot Laws.

On motion of Mr. Benton of Lancaster, the House adjourned at 4 o'clock, in order to give use of the Hall for an exhibition of the Blind, from Dr. Howe's institution at Boston.

THE WATCHMAN.

This is a new American book, founded on home scenes and characters, just published by H. Long & Brothers, New York, and for sale in this city by Mr. J. H. Foster. The following notice of it is from a descriptive circular,—and from a cursory examination of the book, we think it may be relied upon.

It is a book that has been written with a good purpose in view, and we trust that it will effect its object.

The wealthy and prominent members of society find biographers and adulators in abundance; but it is rarely that the virtues of the honest poor find a faithful chronicler. Yet there are those among the lowly, whose virtues have as powerful an influence for good, as those of persons holding a loftier station. Like the modest violet which diffuses its fragrance unperceived, so their example has an influence upon all with whom they come in contact.

Joseph Carter, the Watchman, was one of these. In his own person he represented the type of Burns, the poet of humble life. He sang

"An honest man—the noblest work of God."

There are persons now living who will remember the good old man, and who admired and respected his character.

Ellen Carter is also a living character, and the author has not exaggerated her modest excellencies.

In George Hartley, the career of a well-known and highly respectable gentleman, now doing business in Wall street, has been represented, and with more or less adherence to literal facts. Most of the remaining characters have been drawn from real life.

Henry Selby, alone, is purely an imaginative creation, and in depicting him, the author has endeavored to show, that in this country there are none so low, but that, by means of industry and integrity, they may rise to a respectable position in society, and even to wealth and honor.

The old sailor, Jack Jenkins, is a character in his way; but the quaint humor of the old man will be recognized as typical of the sailor of the old school—now fast disappearing. The death-bed scene is literally correct in its details.

The Watchman, we believe to be a book that may be read with advantage, alike by the old and young, and that will afford amusement and instruction to all. It is highly moral in its tone.

☞ The new book entitled New Hampshire as it is, is at once a History, a Gazetteer, and a Biography of distinguished men, in whom this State abounds, and of whom she has sent abroad not a few. This book, so convenient to all classes, and so necessary for many, is sold only by subscription. An agent is now in the city, canvassing for the sale of the book, and will soon visit other towns in the neighborhood. The New Hampshire Patriot says:

We have not had time to examine the book particularly, but it appears to have been compiled with care, and we doubt not with as much accuracy as could be expected in a book embracing such an amount and variety of matter; and it must be a valuable work, interesting to all, convenient for reference, and containing a vast amount of information in regard to the history, progress and present condition of our little State.

THE HARD CASE—SOFTENED.—The Boston Journal says:

The case of Sarah Gallagher, who has been confined in jail since her sentence, in default of bail to prosecute an appeal, came up again, a request having been made to the Court to allow her to withdraw her appeal and be discharged. The District Attorney, to whom the matter was referred, not wishing to take any action in the matter, the jurisdiction of of the case fell upon the shoulders of the Police Court, by which she received a discharge, on condition that she would leave the city of Groton, a town she had previously expressed a desire to proceed to. It appeared in evidence, that Mrs. Gallagher was a quiet and peaceable character, and was forced by a drunken husband to pursue a traffic in liquor in order to support her children.

TOO POPULAR.—The Eastern Argus says: a comical farmer friend of ours writes us as follows:

I am again one of the town officers. I was chosen selectman, overseer of the poor, assessor, school committee, (which I declined) treasurer, collector, constable, and two other offices which I will not mention. As a candidate for each office named, I received every vote in town, from which circumstance there seemed to ring in my ears, the words, "Woe unto you when all men shall speak well of you." I didn't feel quite right about it until several days after, a man called me a liar, because I was protecting the town against imposition. After that I felt better. The denunciation of Scripture was no longer applicable to me.

Some one called Richard Steele the "vilest of mankind." He replied with proud humility, "It would be a glorious world if I were!"

LOCAL.

P. Y. M. C. ASSOCIATION.—The third anniversary of this association was held on Sunday Evening at the Temple. The President, Lewis W. Brewster, presided. The services were opened with singing, after which prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Peabody. The annual report of the Society was read by the Secretary,—showing the Association to be in a flourishing condition. Rev. Mr. Lamson delivered the address, which was a very finely written discourse; and although it occupied an hour or more in its delivery, it was listened to with marked attention, and we doubt not will have its good effect on the Young Men of the Association.

The lecturer disowned and contradicted the well-worn complaint that the world is waxing worse and worse; and asserted that, in our part of the world at least, though there may be and has been within fifty years a positive increase of evil things and evil doings, yet there has also been much more than a correspondent increase of good things and blessed deeds.

This led him to the announcement of his subject, which was, The Advantages and the Responsibilities of the Young Men of our Nation and our Day.

It is not our intention to offer any synopsis of the discourse; but rather to commend it to the notice of similar Associations of Young Men elsewhere, as a lecture, at once pleasant and practical; valuable for its literary merit, and much more valuable for its moral effect.

FIVE CENT SAVINGS BANK.—A friend to good institutions and good order, earnestly desires to see the Portsmouth Five Cent Savings Bank in operation. We are not able to say precisely what peculiarity there is in this kind of Bank, to distinguish it from other Savings Banks—or whether there is any, except the reception of a smaller sum or deposit.

We suppose no one doubts the utility of our present Savings Bank, unless it may be some one who does not understand it. We invite some intelligent friend of the Five Cent institution, to give his views briefly, in favor—and an objector, if there be one, to state the objection in few words.

☞ The South Boston Union Guards, with Bond's Band, left our city in the noon train on Tuesday, for Newburyport, where the Cushing Guards were to receive them as guests. They expressed themselves as highly pleased with their visit here. We are indebted to Capt. Russell for an invitation to dine with the company and guests at the Rockingham—which business prevented our accepting.

AN ANCIENT PATTERN CARD.—We have seen, at the store of Mr. S. H. Simes, a card of English Broadcloths, which was imported by William Pepperell, (afterwards Sir William,) of Kittery, in 1720,—and by which he doubtless ordered such cloths as he desired, for years afterwards. Pepperell was then a young man, about five and twenty years old; and from the 48 patterns of as many different colors and shades, he selected such as he supposed most graceful for his adorning. The patterns are in excellent preservation.

THE SPECIE ROBBERY. — The Boston Transcript of Tuesday evening, says Robinson was brought before the Police Court this forenoon, but waived an examination, and was held in $5000 for trial in the Municipal Court in July.

BOUND TO SHINE.—This seems to be the motto of everyone now-a-days. This result is sure to be obtained if you use the Croton Blacking, for sale by John Buzzell & Co.,—particularly if it applied with a new brush, to be obtained at the same place.

CONCERT OF THE BLACK SWAN.—This celebrated cantatrice, who has delighted so many persons in all parts of the Union and Europe, will sing at the Temple this evening.

The Portland Advertiser, in a notice of her concert in that city on Monday evening, says:

We dropped into this concert last evening with no very high anticipations, but were soon astonished and delighted. The lady has a voice of wonderful compass, of great richness and melody. And then she goes through the most difficult passages with perfect ease and facility. Our readers well know that we are not given to musical phrenzy—but we must say that the Black Swan is the best female vocalist we ever heard in Portland! She was rapturously applauded. If there is the accredited musical taste among us, Deering Hall will be crowded to-night.

She will probably give but one concert in this city.

On Thursday evening last, a train of six passenger cars passed through our city, from Portsmouth. Two of the cars were filled with discharged seamen from the frigate Constitution, which arrived at the above port, last week. We believe this vessel has been absent some three years, which would give the 'tars' some four hundred dollars each. In anticipation of her arrival, lewd women from Boston, and some even from New York, have been flocking to that port, to prey upon the hardy sons of the ocean, and rob them of their hard earned toll. In one instance a she devil, whose card bore the address of Madam Williams, distributed some hundred of her business cards on board of this vessel on her arrival. We shall no doubt, hear of some instances of those sailors being drugged and robbed at some of the subterranean passages, to which their attention will be called, after their arrival at the metropolis. The amount paid to the crew of the Constitution was about $100,000.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ The Universalist Society in this city, Tuesday evening, unanimously invited Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Girard, Penn., to be their pastor.

But of Divine effect, he culled me out."

GOOD MEDICINES.

It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchitis, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.

Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.

Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.

These are no mere random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.

Try them once and you will never be without them.

CROPS AT THE SOUTH.—An intelligent and observing correspondent of the Charleston (S. C.) Courier, 14th inst., who has spent some time in Upper Georgia and East Tennessee, informs that paper that "the crops generally were unusually promising, and the extent of culture beyond former years. The wheat harvest had commenced in Georgia, and will soon be ready in Tennessee. A gentleman, well qualified to judge, estimates that one county of Georgia alone will yield 100,000 bushels of wheat, and there is every prospect that the leading provision staples in that great grain region will at no very distant day settle at the old prices."

The Georgia and Alabama papers mention the rise of the rivers in those States since the late rains, and the increasing receipts of cotton.

The New Orleans Cresent says, "copious rains have fallen everywhere throughout Louisiana, fertilizing the earth, and giving promise of future abundance. Although fall crops are not to be expected, as a general thing, still our planters' labors and anxieties will not have been in vain. In Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama, Tennessee, Texas, in fact almost everywhere throughout the South, we hear of copious showers. We have good news from most of the tributaries of the Mississippi, at all important to New Orleans.—Red River is rising; the Onachita is rising; the Arkansas is rising; White river is rising; and rains, heavy rains—which will fill the lakes, bayous, swamps, ect., at the fountain heads are reported from all quarters of our lower country."

CROPS IN MARYLAND.—We saw on the Corn and Flour Exchange, a sample of wheat brought from the farm of Thomas T. Owens, West River, Anne Arundel county. It was taken promiscuously from a field of forty acres, and it is said to be a fair exponent of the entire field. The stalks are nearly six feet in height, with large full heads, beautifully developed. It is certainly a superb sample, and speaks well, not only for the wheat crop in that region, but for the agricultural proclivities of its producer. The gentleman who brought this specimen to our city, has just returned from a tour on the western shore of Maryland. He asserts, without fear of contradiction, that the wheat, other growing crops, and vegetation of all kinds, present a luxurious aspect. If no unforeseen event should occur, in his judgement there must be an unusually abundant harvest—the most fruitful known in that vicinity for many years. —Baltimore Patriot.

CROPS IN TENNESSEE.—A letter from Knoxville, dated the 6th inst., says: "We have recently had copious rains, and our crops in East Tennessee, except oats and hay, will be very abundant. Wheat is very promising indeed, and will be gathered in two or three weeks. The crop will be two or three times larger than ever before.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—It was rumored that the President intended leaving this morning, on a visit of several days to a personal friend in Virginia. He will, however, be prevented from doing so, in consequence of the illness of Mrs. Pierce.

SHOCKING ACCIDENT.—At Manchester, on Monday afternoon about 2 o'clock, James Robinson, a Scotchman, who has charge of the paper engines at the Blodget Paper Mill, got caught in a belt, and his right arm torn off smooth at the shoulder! A short belt that runs over the shaft of the main pulley broke, and was winding around the shaft, and he was attempting to throw it off, when his hand caught. His arm was twisted around the shaft and torn off in an instant.

Dr. Buck and Tewsbury were called, and the wound dressed. The man was somewhat bruised otherwise, but no apprehension was felt that the injury was fatal.—American.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.—On Saturday morning, the building No. 10 Maiden Lane, New York, occupied by Robbins & Duncan, dealers in fireworks and fancy goods, and by Salisman & Co., jewellers, was destroyed by fire. Philip Demarth, a nephew of Mr. Salisman, while trying to close a safe containing jewelry, was suffocated and burned to death. The loss of Messrs, Robbins & Duncan is about $20,000, insured for $40,000, and that of Salisman $40,000, with an insurance thereon of $10,000. The adjoining buildings, occupied by Bortsmann, Bros. & Co., military and fancy goods; J. G. Davidson, importer of watches, and others, were badly damaged by water. The New York papers have long accounts of this fire, which from the nature of the combustibles burnt with a fury seldom witnessed.

FREEDOM REGAINED.—A slave named Eliza Crawford, and her five children, recently sued for their freedom in the Botetourt Circuit Court, Virginia. It was proved on the trial that although the father of Eliza was a colored man, her mother was a white woman of Georgia, and that therefore she could not legally be held in servitude. The case was decided in favor of the plaintiff, and they were all freed. Eliza was 35 years of age, and had been a slave for upwards of 15 years. Query—Would not an action for damages or for services rendered be valid?—Salem Jour.

A CLERICAL ANECDOTE.—It is said that an eccentric minister of a Congregational Church in Massachusetts, who, in refusing to join the order of Know Nothings, had resisted the force of the example of so many of his clerical brethren, was last Sunday preaching from the story—as it comes to us—that Saul, while in search of the lost asses of his father, found a kingdom.

Having at considerable length endeavored to enforce the idea that in the simple pursuit of every day duty was oftener found a greater good fortune than in a wandering search for it, he closed the sermon with the introduction of the following epigram:

When Saul, the handsome son of Kish,
Was seeking for his cattle,
He found a kingdom, which he won
Without a single battle.
In Boston now the thing's reversed,
(This age the old surpasses,)
We, seeking for a government,
Find legislative asses. R. G. P.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—Yesterday was a grand fete day in the Catholic church, and the two main towers of the French cathedral were decorated with flags. One of these being a lengthy pennant, and the wind being occasionally high, the extreme point of it got wrapped firmly around the peak of one of the turrets. In this state it remained for several hours, the wind keeping the flag tugging at the turret all the while. At length, about 10 o'clock, the topstone of the turret, weighing 183 pounds, and 36 inches in length, in the shape of a sugar loaf, gave way, and was precipitated 250 feet, down among the crowd in front of the cathedral. The remarkable point in the accident is, that the stone fell among the people without killing any one; all the mischief it wrought was smashing a lad's foot.—Montreal Pilot.

In Norfolk, Va., a few days since, a drayman by the name of Sales was arrested for endeavoring to bribe a ship master to convey a slave to the North. Six fugitive slaves, whom he was assisting to escape, were also captured, and the Norfolk Beacon says that the developements which have been made on the examination show the existance of an organized society of slaves in Norfolk, for the purpose of aiding negroes to escape from their owners.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT!—According to the Paris fashions, every gentleman should wear a fancy silk cravat with a large bow, and his morning pocket hankerchief should be of the finest linen cambric with a small vine in a delicate color, gray, pink or blue, running under the hem of the handkerchief!

In consequence of the removal of the newspaper stamp duty, in England, new journals and weekly papers are springing up in every direction in that country. In Manchester, where, a year ago there were no daily papers, and only three of any kind, there are now going to be five daily papers, and several weekly and semi-weekly ones.

Rev. Mr. Talbot, a Roman priest in England, says that the heart of the holy father is moved with profound grief, to think that for every convert made in England, more than ten of the children of the church are lost for want of the essential means for the salvation of their souls.

BOSTON THEATRE—The receipts at the Boston Theatre this season have been but a fraction short of one hundred and seventy thousand dollars.

A woman in Lyons, a glove maker by trade, lately made and won a bet that she would fast for seven days.

Recently the democratic press have shown an inclination to name Gen. Pierce for re-election.

A Board of School Directors in New Orleans, lately had before them a proposition to abolish corporal punishment. Very singular, considering the latitude of New Orleans.

An engine is running on the Worcester Railroad, with good success, using Cumberland coal for fuel.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JUNE 21, 1855.

DIALOGUE ON THE TIMES.

Boston Times.—They [the principal retailers of Boston] are not very likely, either with or without counsel, to plead themselves into the House of Correction. And when either of these gentlemen go to that receptacle of felons, under this law, there will be a funeral somewhere.

Portsmouth Chronicle.—Funeral? indeed? Thirty thousand men die annually of drunkenness, in the United States, it is said—but what does the Times mean to insinuate? Do these worthy men, or does the Times, mean to commit suicide or kill somebody about that time?

B. T.—It is the intention to hang all temperance jackasses that shall come in the way—and it will be the part of prudence for the editor of the Chronicle to stay at home.

P. C.—The Times is getting quite complimentary. A jackass it seems is to be sacrificed as a peace offering to Bacchus—the gentleman who edits the Times officiating as high priest. This is an improvement on the established worship, which has been to offer human victims as a burnt offering to the drunken god, accompanied by the howl of delirium tremens, and the wail of the widow and the orphan.

But the new victim is to be a temperance jackass. Truly all quadrupeds know enough to drink water. What a pity that some of their biped brethren had not as much wisdom as the beast with long ears! Go to the donkey, thou drunkard; consider his ways, and be wise.

THE PORTLAND INQUEST.—The investigation of the Coroner's jury in Portland, on Saturday last, was confined to a further examination of the city marshal, Mr. Worthy C. Barrows, who commanded the police who remained in the agency building through the evening. He represents the assemblage before the agency as noisy and turbulent.

Monday's examination fills five columns of the State of Maine newspaper. All the testimony is to be printed, as that paper informs us, in a pamphlet,—entitled The Death of John Robbins, to be issued as soon as the case is closed.

The testimony on Monday, though not very important, is rather interesting. Jane Hudson, (Robbins' girl,) testified that she did not go to his funeral, and that she changed the ribbon on her bonnet, at the request of Chas. Q. Clapp, Esq.

There was also some testimony, of no great consequence, about ringing the bells.

The State of Maine newspaper, June 19th, says, speaking of its own statements about Mayor Dow, before the riot:—

We will therefore say frankly that, had we written out the conversation in full, instead of giving only the replies and inferences therefrom, perhaps a different impression would have been conveyed.

The conversation as it subsequently appeared from the examination of Alderman Ring, was not in precisely the words which we supposed. * * * * * *

Of course, nobody doubts or has doubted, that Mayor Dow "procured or bought the liquors for any other purpose than on account of the city and their agency." We did not doubt it at the time when this conversation occurred. The only question was, whether he had any business to do so.

This is a clumsy paragraph, but its meaning is obvious.

Yet three great men went and made oath, that they believed quite the contrary! No man of common sense, who has read the thing carefully, can fail to see that they meant to make a riot—and that they succeeded in getting up something more serious than they bargained for.

The testimony given on Tuesday, fills four columns in the State of Wednesday. It is chiefly that of Butler, a police officer, who was among the crowd, gave repeated warnings of firing, and made arrests.

PLATFORMS.

The National K. N.'s have two planks in their platform, viz., a sort of slavery and nativism.

It is stated that the last hours of the council were spent in modifying the ritual. The injunction of secresy over most of their proceedings has been removed, and hereafter "the order" is, like other parties, to do its main business in public. Nearly all the mystery has been taken away. There is now but one degree to be taken, and no probationary term required. A person wishing to join the order, can be initiated in one night, and it is not necessary, says one writer, that his grandfather, or even his father, shall have been born on American soil. The Catholic clause is, in effect, retained.

As to the K. S.'s or Know Somethings, at Cincinnati, we have also some information.

The ritual adopted is said to be simple, a pledge of honor, twenty-one years of age and a citizen of the United States, and not a Roman Catholic, being the only tests.

Two of the officers of this organization are men of foreign birth.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY, 19th.

SENATE.—Read a third time and passed.—A resolution in favor of James Goodrich. A bill to incorporate the Flume and Franconia Hotel Company. A bill relating to the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad. A bill to incorate St. Paul's school.

Messrs. Herring, Hobbs and Sleeper were appointed committees, to whom was referred the question of concurrence with the House in the passage of an address for the removal of Daniel Patterson from the office of Sheriff of Grafton county.

HOUSE.—Petitions presented and Referred.—By Mr. Massure, of Edward T. Buckman and 47 others, for a prohibitory liquor law. Referred to the select committee on that subject.

By Mr. Hatch of E. Holmes and others, for the removal of the Sheriff of Rockingham County. On motion of Mr. Benton, referred to a select committee of one from each county.

Reports of Committees.—By Mr. Christie, from the Judiciary Committee, a resolution that it is inexpedient to legislate on the subject of a meridian line. The resolution was adopted.

Inexpedient to legislate in regard to amendment of Chap. 41, Sec. 2 of the Compiled Statutes. Adopted.

Mr. Emery of Portsmouth introduced a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to report a bill repealing all laws imposing individual liability on stockholders in corporations. Adopted, after remarks by Messrs. Emery and Flint.

On motion of Mr. Upton, the Judiciary Committee were instructed to inquire whether any change of the law in relation to lotteries is necessary.

On motion of Mr. Burnham of Rindge, the Judiciary Committee were instructed to inquire into the expediency of repealing the act of 1854, in relation to marriage.

Mr. George of Plymouth, introduced an address for the removal of Daniel Patterson, sheriff of Grafton county, which was passed without division.

Notices of Bills.—By Mr. Roberts of Rochester—bill in relation to Poll taxes.

By Mr. Berry of Hebron—Bill to reduce the salary of the Adjutant and Inspector General.

By Mr. Harvey of Epping—Bill in favor of the bondholders of the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad Company.

The Speaker announced Messrs. Clark of Manchester, Edwards of Keene, Herbert of Rumney, Christie of Dover, Tullock of Portsmouth, Eastman of Conway, Clifford of Gilmanton, Tappan of Bradford, Brown of Lancaster, Leavitt of Grantham, as the select committee on re-modelling the Judiciary system.

On motion of Mr. Edwards of Keene, the message of the Governor in relation to a State Reform School, and the accompanying documents, were taken from the table and referred to a select committee of one from each county.

Bills read a third time and passed.—Bill in amendment of the charter of the Breed Pond Company.

An Act to incorporate the Milford Bank.

While the Milford bank was on its 3d reading, Mr. Wadleigh of Milford, made a brief statement of the business, and present business accommodations, of the town of Milford, with the history and circumstances of the passage of previous bills for a Bank in that town, by one branch of the legislature.

Mr. Roberts of Farmington introduced a resolution instructing the Committee on Education to inquire into the expediency of providing by law for the supply of school books for the common schools of the State.

The resolution was adopted.

Voted that the use of the Representatives Hall be granted to the Legislative Temperance Society, every Wednesday evening, during the session of the Legislature.

Mr. Herbert of Rumney introduced a resolution that the House ask the Senate to return the address for the removal of Daniel Patterson, Sheriff of Grafton County. The resolution was advocated by Mr. Herbert and opposed by Mr. Kittredge of Canaan, and was adopted without division.

A NATIONAL KNOW NOTHING.—In the great K. N. mass meeting at New York, which took place after the anti-slavery element had been purged out at Philadelphia,—

Col. McCall of Florida, argued in favor of the nationalities of the party; spoke of his observation of foreigners at the West where he resided; observed that the President was an honest man, but that a cursed "kitchen cabinet" had ruined him. He spoke of the vitiation of our courts by foreign influence; complimented the few foreigners who espoused American principles in order to protect their offspring against the paupers and criminals of foreign lands, and opposed Catholicism and Protestantism equally, when allied with, the state or interfering with politics. He spoke of certain abominable measures of the Massachusetts Legislature, and observed that they emanated from Presbyterian clergymen, whom he equally condemned with the Catholics.—Mr. McCall's speech was loudly cheered throughout.

We have yet to learn that the legislature of Massachusetts contained a single Presbyterian clergyman, though there might possibly be one. There were ministers of most other denominations. Probably the gentleman means Congregationalist—but they were not predominant there, by any means. He is not well posted up in sects—but gives his opinion of them off hand, as he does of the president and cabinet. On the whole, it is a rich nugget of a speech.

MRS. PRENTISS WHITING, of Uxbridge, who committed suicide last week, is the fourth of the same family who have destroyed themselves. She was the daughter of Capt. Ephraim Willard, of Charlton, Mass., a man of the highest respectability, who committed suicide at 67 years of age. Three of his children have followed him to the grave in the same manner. This is a remarkable illustration of hereditary suicide.—Woonsocket Patriot.

LOCAL.

☞ The performance of the Black Swan at the Temple on Wednesday evening, was such as not only to justify the notices we had previously copied from other papers, but also to make them appear inadequate.

Miss Greenfield's voice is one of remarkable sweetness and purity, and of wonderful compass and power. She gave, not merely a few notes, but a whole song in a baritone voice that would make any man's fortune who could use it in that fashion—then others in as clear a soprano as could be desired, and about as strong as could well be imagined, in any woman—and in other pieces she used both, apparently with equal ease.

In one word, she is a wonderful singer, destined, if her powers endure, of which there is fair promise, to extraordinary success in her profession.

☞ The military company which visited our city the present week, is the Union Guards of East Boston, not South, as we have before stated. The Pulaski Guards is the only military corps in the latter place.

NEWBURYPORT ITEMS.—The Herald of Tuesday morning says:

William Scahill, of this city, who was convicted a short time since for selling liquor, and gave bonds to prosecute his appeal, has stepped out on his bondsmen. He was seen on Friday last in New York, en route for Pennsylvania.

His bondsmen will probably not subscribe again.

The Police Court on Monday morning, had too much business for these temperance times, and would seem to indicate that the law is not strictly enforced. Among the cases were the following, all from the same cause.

Peter McMinee charged with assault and battery—it was only a bit of a row—a family jar—and Peter was discharged.

Next came on two more of the same countryman—Wm. Donnihy and Daniel Dineen, who were engaged in the Greek revolution in Temple street, on Sunday night, all about a quart of poor brandy—the worst fight we have had in this city for some time, requiring our entire Police force to suppress it, where nobody was killed, but all the combatants were terribly bruised. One of the parties in Court, could show many a scar; and the principal witness was too unwell to leave the house, for which cause the case was continued to Thursday, at 10 o'clock. The witness referred to, Timothy Lines, as we learn from Marshal Brown, is in a wretched condition—his face terribly mangled, and his breast, by one of the parties jumping on him, as he lay on the floor, putting his boots into his face and breast with the utmost force. He cannot see out of his eyes, cannot shut his mouth, and is devoid of most of his teeth by the fight, and was unable to speak for twenty four hours after the affray. His internal injuries may be of a dangerous character.

These rum crazy Irishmen are precisely the men among whom Police Officers in all our cities have to go, when their domestic broils are at fever heat. Of course the drunken rascals, though at war with one another till the policeman comes in, form a coalition instantly and knock him down if they can.—But if he should happen to knock them down, then look out for a howl and a lawsuit,—for a legal quotation from Shakespeare, for great sympathy for the drunkard who has been kilt intirely, and great indignation by the court at the cruel policeman who invaded the poor man's castle.

Answer to Charade in Chronicle of June 16th.

Behind the trees, the farmer's wall,
The sturdy Yankees took their aim,
They give a scar, the red coats fall;
Loud shouts of freedom men proclaim.

When Packenham got in the ditch,
While Andrew stood with his brave few,
They were sent down to Powel's Switch,
Ere yet the City came in view.

When females were obliged to eat
Their offspring, at Samaria's gate,
Methinks a Scarcity of meat
Did reign with horrid, horrid fate.

DIVIDEND OF THE BOSTON AND MAINE RAILROAD.—We understand that the Boston and Maine Railroad has declared a dividend of three per cent., payable July 2d, to stockholders, at the close of business hours on the 16th. The road has earned somewhat more than three per cent. in the last six months, which are the poorest of the year, but the losses by the floods of last winter, and the two fires at Lawrence, together with the general depression of business on all roads, has prevented their earning enough to pay four per cent., and the directors took the conservative course of not drawing on their surplus.

The falling off of their receipts is on freight, and not on passengers, and is owing to the present depression in business.—Boston Jour.

PUTNAM is the name of the new town which has been constituted by the present Legislature of Connecticut. It is taken from the towns of Pomfret, Killingly, and Thompson, and includes the flourishing village of Quinnebaug. The voters in that village have heretofore had to go to three towns to vote. The new town contains 8310 inhabitants.

ARREST.—Officer Dunn has arrested in Boston a man named Frederick Emerson, belonging in Henniker, N. H., charged with stealing harnesses, robes, &c., in Hopkinton, N. H., in January, 1854—nearly eighteen months since. Emerson was delivered to High Sheriff Perkins Gale, of Concord, N. H., where he will be tried for the crime.

CONCORD, N. H.—The Committee it is said, have refused instructions from the State Temperance Association as to the adoption of the law approved of by that body, and will report a bill more consonant with the public feeling.

THE LOCUST TREES.—The season is not so much behindhand, in some respects, as most people suppose. Last year the locusts were in full blossom on the 16th. On Saturday last, the 16th, the blossoms were just beginning to open—being only a day or two later than last year.—Salem Register.

GOOD MEDICINES.
It is estimated that AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL AND CATHARTIC PILLS have done more to promote the public health, than any other one cause.—There can be no question that the Cherry Pectoral has by its thousand on thousand cures of Colds, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Influenza, Bronchitis, &c., very much reduced the proportion of deaths from consumptive diseases in this country. The Pills are as good as the Pectoral, and will cure more complaints.
Everybody needs more or less purging. Purge the blood from its impurities. Purge the bowels, liver and the whole visceral system from obstructions. Purge out the diseases which fasten on the body, to work its decay. But for diseases we should die only of old age. Take antidotes early and thrust it from the system, before it is yet too strong to yield.
Ayer's Pills do thrust out disease, not only while it is weak, but when it has taken a strong hold. Read the astounding statements of those who have been cured by them from dreadful Scrofula, Dropsy, Ulcers, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Internal Pains, Bilious Complaints, Heartburn, Headache, Gout, and many less dangerous but still threatening ailments, such as Pimples on the face, Worms, Nervous Irritability, Loss of appetite, Irregularities, Dizziness in the head, Colds, Fevers, Dysentery, and indeed every variety of complaints for which a Purgative Remedy is required.
These are no random statements, but are authenticated by your own neighbors and your own Physicians.
Try them once and you will never be without them.
Price 25 cts. per Box—5 Boxes for $1.
